Department of Economics Course Offerings – Fall Semester 2013

College of Arts and Sciences — One University Blvd., 408 Social Sciences Building, St. Louis, MO 63121-4400, 314-516-5353

The department of economics is pleased to be offering the following courses during the summer semester 2013. Please note that all students must contact an advisor before registering for classes. Students will also need an advisor's signature for courses requiring special consent and to be admitted to "closed" sections. Some courses also require prerequisites that must be met prior to registration of said course (see The Bulletin at http://www.umsl.edu/bulletin/as/economics.html for more information).

A minimum grade of C- is necessary to satisfy any course prerequisite. Also, seniors with an overall GPA 3.25 may enroll in 5000 level courses; however, a special permission form signed by the Director of Graduate Studies is required.

ECONOMICS

Course		CR-HR	REF	DAY	TIME	ROOM	INSTRUCTOR
1000	Introduction to the American Economy
		3	10654	MW	5:30-6:45	LH 100	SORENSEN
		3	10655	TR	12:30-1:45	CH 100	FLOWERS
1001	Principles of Microeconomics	3	10660	ARR	ARR		ROGERS
		3	10656	MW	9:30-10:45	CH 213	KOSNIK
		3	10659	MW	11:00-12:15	LH 100	FEIGENBAUM
		3	10658	TR	11:00-12:15	CH 100	ROSE
		3	14935	TR	2:00-3:15	SSB 410	ROSE
		3	13978	TR	5:30-6:45	CH 213	SANDERS
1002	Principles of Macroeconomics	3	10661	MW	2:00-3:15	CH 206	BLACK
		3	10663	TR	11:00-12:15	LH 200	ROGERS
		3	10662	MW	9:30-10:45	CH 206	ALLISON
		3	10664	TR	5:30-6:45	CH 413	EDWARDS
1003	Microeconomics in the News: A Virtual	1	10665	ARR	ARR		FEIGENBAUM

This course uses a virtual chatroom to host one-hour discussion weekly about current events with microeconomic content. News articles will focus on business, public policy, and individual choices that can be understood within a microeconomics framework. Chatroom can be accessed from any location - on or off-campus - with internet access.

1004	Macroeconomics in the News: A Virtual	1	10666	ARR	ARR		FEIGENBAUM

This course uses a virtual chatroom to host one-hour discussion weekly about current news events with macroeconomic content. News articles will focus on macroeconomic phenomena - e.g., interest rates, the global economy, the Federal Reserve and public policy decisions - that can be understood within a macroeconomics frame work. chatroom can be accessed from any location - on or off-campus - with internet access.

2610	The Economics of Professional Sports	3	14658	TR	9:30-10:45	SSB 205	SORENSEN
2800	History of American Economic Development	3	10667	MW	9:30-10:45	SSB 334	HAYEK
3001	Intermediate Economic Theory: Microeconomics	3	13376	MW	2:00-3:15	SSB 332	FEIGENBAUM
3002	Intermediate Economic Theory: Macroeconomics	3	10668	TR	2:00-3:15	SSB 411	DIBOOGLU
3200	Money, Banking, and Monetary Theory	3	10672	MW	12:30-1:45	SSB 216	SPEICHER
3100	Economic Statistics	3	10671	MW	3:30-4:45	SSB 205	ALLISON
3320	Economic Development	3	14659	MW	11:00-12:15	SSB 201	GREENE
3400	Labor Economics	3	14660	TR	11:00-12:15	SSB 131	WINKLER
4130/5130	Business and Economic Forecasting	3	14661/14663	MW	3:30-4:45	SSB 134	KRIDEL
4100	Introduction to Econometrics	3	10673	TR	12:30-1:45	SSB 131	WINKLER
4040	Analysis of Business Cycles	3	14662	MW	12:30-1:45	SSB 201	ALLISON
4150	Mathematical Economics	3	10674	MW	5:30-6:45	SSB 334	SPEICHER
4980	Special Readings	1-3		TBA	TBA		STAFF

Prerequisite: Special consent form required. Independent study through readings, reports, research projects, and conferences.

4990	Internship in Applied Economics	2-6		TBA	TBA		STAFF

Independent study involving work with an appropriate private firm or public agency. A max. of six hours may be earned but only three may be applied to your economics degree. To qualify for the program, you must be an undergraduate student with a junior standing and a GPA>3.0. You must also have completed Econ 3001 and have a faculty reference as well as the permission of the faculty coordinator, Professor Donald Kridel (krideld@umsl.edu)

5980	Directed Readings	1-6		TBA	TBA		STAFF

Prerequisite: Consent of the instructor. Independent study through readings, reports, research projects, and conferences.