Teaching & Learning Menu

- COE HOME
- TEACHING AND LEARNING HOME
- FORMS & DOCUMENTS
- MISSION
- UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS
- GRADUATE PROGRAMS
- ONLINE MASTERS IN ELEM. ED WITH AN EARLY CHILDHOOD EMPHASIS
- PROGRAM POLICIES
- COMMITTEES AND MINUTES
- 3 YEAR COURSE SCHEDULE
- FACULTY & STAFF
- CONTACT US

COE Divisions
Teaching and Learning

Mission Statement

The Division of Teaching and Learning at the University of Missouri-St. Louis 21st Century College of Education, as part of Missouri's public, metropolitan, land-grant, research University, will be a leader in developing educators for instructional, leadership, research and other roles in PK-12 schools and other learning communities. The Division is a collaborative teaching and learning environment for educators and is committed to significantly advancing the quality of teaching, learning, and research as it serves a dynamic, technologically advanced and diverse metropolitan community.

The Division adopted the COE Mission Statement & Strategic Plan, in 2004, as well as the Knowledge Base Statement

DIVERSITY, COMMUNITY, EXCELLENCE

Copyright(c) University of Missouri - St. Louis • One University Blvd. • St. Louis, MO 63121-4400