CIAE Mission Statement

The Commission of International Adult Education (CIAE) of the American Association for Adult and Continuing Education (AAACE) provides a forum for the discussion of international issues related to adult education and adult education in various countries around to globe. The following purposes summarize the work of the Commission:

- To develop linkages with adult education associations in other countries;
- To encourage exchanges between our association and ones from other countries;
- To invite conference participation and presentations by interested adult educators around the world; and,
- To discuss how adult educators from AAACE and other nations may cooperate on projects of mutual interest and benefit to those we serve.

The Commission holds its annual meeting in conjunction with the AAACE Conference.

Preface to the 2004 CIAE Pre-Conference Proceedings

This is the first year the CIAE has published a Proceedings of their Pre-Conference. We are delighted that we have seventeen [17] papers to publish. Most of these papers were presented at the CIAE Pre-Conference in Louisville, Kentucky, November 1-3, 2004. The Table of Contents lists the title of each paper, authors, and page number where the beginning of each paper is located in the Proceedings. Page numbers in the table of contents correspond with the numbers in a circle at the top right hand corner of each page. Copyright of each paper is held by its author(s). For additional copies of these Proceedings, contact:
