Gerontology Graduate Program

133 Bellerive Hall, 1 University Blvd., St. Louis, MO 63121

<http://www.umsl.edu/~socialwk/Gerontology/index.html>

Prospective students and those in need of academic advising should contact Dr. Meuser by e-mail to set up an individual appointment.

All new MSG students are admitted on Track 1 (below). Those wishing to pursue Track 2 must declare this to the Program Director by the first month of their second enrolled semester for plan of study purposes.

Program Learning Objectives

Students will gain:

- A detailed appreciation for the aging process with respect to successful aging, health status, physical functioning, cognition and capacity, psychosocial involvement, diversity, cultural influences and competence, and public policy.
- An ability to integrate theoretical perspectives on aging with the practical needs and concerns of individuals in various living environments.
- An ability to interpret and appropriately utilize research findings to inform daily practice, especially with respect to screening, assessment, intervention, and referral activities.
- Professional competence in the areas of ethical practice, participation in multidisciplinary teams, communication with clients and families, assessment and intervention.

Graduate Certificate in Nonprofit Management & Leadership (GCNML)

The GCNML is built into the Track 2 plan of study. All of the following courses (9 credits total) must be completed in order to graduate with the MSG+GCNML combination. The decision to join Track 2 is made in cooperation with the Program Directors of both units. A meeting with Dr. Meuser is necessary to start the process.

- P P ADM 6300 – Management & Leadership of Nonprofit Organizations (Fall & Spring)
- P P ADM 6310 - American Philanthropy & Nonprofit Resource Development (Spring)*
- P P ADM 6311 - Staff Management Issues in Nonprofit Organizations (Fall & Spring)
- P P ADM 6312 - Legal Issues in Managing Nonprofit Organizations (Fall & Spring)
- P P ADM 6313 - Financial Issues in Managing Nonprofit Organizations (Fall & Spring)

 It may be possible to substitute a new special topics class in grant writing for this.*

Programmatic Track (2):

- Program Administration – Intended for students wishing to pursue a career in aging services administration (e.g., nonprofit administration with a focus on aging, long-term care administration, program coordination). The 9 elective hours are applied to the Graduate Certificate in Nonprofit Management & Leadership as defined above. Both practicum placements also must be in management settings.

Programmatic Track (1):

- Service & Care – This MSG plan of study is outlined in the boxes above. Intended for students wishing to develop competencies as a generalist gerontologist for the purpose of working with older adults in various service and clinical care settings, including long-term care, community-based care, hospice, etc.

Advising Guide for MSW Students Pursuing the Graduate Certificate in Gerontology

Prepared by

Tom Meuser, PhD, Program Director (meusert@umsl.edu; 314-516-5421)

Admission to the MSW Program qualifies a student to also be admitted to the Gerontology Graduate Program to pursue a Graduate Certificate in Gerontology. This is a separate, wall-hanging credential (referred to by the acronym "GCG") which prepares the student for a career as a "Gerontological Social Worker."

The 18-credit hour GCG may be completed within the footprint of the 60 credit hour MSW degree plan of study, so it is like earning two degrees for the price of one!

To become part of the GCG Program, the student must send an email to Dr. Meuser declaring his or her intent to pursue the certificate. Dr. Meuser will invite the student in for an advising session during which time the certificate requirements are discussed and classes are mapped out. Future advising is through the primary SW advisor, unless there is a question.

Most students that pursue the GCG also choose to be part of the Gerontology Concentration in Social Work, but this is not required. It is possible to have another concentration and also earn the GCG, but it may require taking an additional 3-6 credit hours.

The Advising Guide (attached) is designed to cover both the Master of Science in Gerontology (MSG) and the GCG options. The GCG involves taking 15 hours from the Core Curriculum in Fall or Spring. The Gerontology Program does not offer core courses in the summer. The GCG also counts one of your practicums to complete the 18 credits. When it comes time to graduate, you will submit an M1 and G10 for your certificate.

The MSW+GCG student must take one of the two Policy classes, one of the two Health-related classes, one of the two Sociocultural classes, and two of the four clinical & Psychosocial classes as shown below:

Fall Semester (Core)		Spring Semester (Core)
POLICY (3 credits for MSG & Grad Cert)		POLICY
Health Care Policy (6443)	←→	Seminar in Public Policy & Aging (6444)
HEALTH (3 credits for MSG & Grad Cert)		HEALTH
Aging & Health Behavior (6441)	←→	Epidemiology of Aging (6470)
SOCIOCULTURAL (3 credits for MSG & Cert)		SOCIOCULTURAL
Advanced Social Gerontology (5361 / 4361)	↔	Cultural Aspects of Aging (5440 / 3215)
CLINICAL & PSYCHOSOCIAL (6 credits)		CLINICAL & PSYCHOSOCIAL
Gerontological Assessment (6450)		Interviewing & Life Review (6130)
Psychopathology & Aging (5376 / 4376)		Theory and Practice with Adults (6120)

Students who are part of the Gerontology Concentration in Social Work must take Health Care Policy (6443), Gerontological Assessment (6450), and Theory & Practice with Older Adults (6120). These are required courses of the Concentration. Students in other concentrations are not bound by this.

The baby boom generation is changing the demographics of the US. The growing older adult population will require expansion of existing social services, as well as the development of new services and products. This is an exciting time to enter the field of Gerontological Social Work. If you enjoy working with older adults, whether in the community or across the continuum of long-term care, then the GCG may be a degree for you!

If you are interested in pursuing your GCG or simply want to discuss your options, feel free to contact Dr. Meuser at any time.
