Advanced Credit Program

Turning Quizzes into Rich Discussions

Presented by: Keeta Holmes, Director of Learning Innovation & Design

Change your in-class quizzes into action-packed, game-like discussions that encourage debate, conversation and competition. Participate in a TBL (Team-Based Learning) format to explore group application exercise questions. We'll begin with a TBL activity, then analyze the structure, process and essential characteristics of an effective TBL activity. Leave the workshop with an action plan on how you might convert a class session into a TBL exercise that enhances team cohesiveness, student accountability, and meaningful learning.
