This tentative schedule is subject to change based on availability of instructors to teach specific courses and on actual needs.

Day courses are generally starting up to 330pm but some may start at 4pm depending on scheduling needs.

Evening courses are generally starting at 530pm but some may start 330pm or 4pm depending on scheduling needs.

A course scheduled for E or D can also be additionally offered D/E but the listed here designation is what should minimally be offered.

Additional core and electives will also be offered based on availability and needs - see individual semester schedules.

Additional summer courses will be offered, including some required and elective courses - see individual summer schedules.

When taking 4xxx courses - ensure the course can be used toward your specific program of study.