Presented by Robert Saunders, of Tennessee.

[Handwritten text not legible due to poor image quality and handwriting style.]

Washington, May 20th, 1825.
as Congress met, with it is done before The General.

The Armored fleet sailed at what I was surprised was a loss.

The Members, faithfully, of the Republican, lost ground by acting on their consciences.

In 1840 most of them were glad that the Army bill was passed without the Masses. The Armored bill saved something however by the Federal of the bill — but not enough to make it more useful any longer.

The Tillman law has one in all haste.

From Turkey

B. Culle

Wolfe Combes, Esq.
My

I shall have to remain for a week to get mixed with some business matters.

The local 1st. Minister and Majors. The first I shall be a week at my coal mines
when I can read home.

J.B.