Finland: Helsingin Yliopisto (University of Helsinki)

Website: www.helsinki.fi/english/courses

Excellent website. Many courses - multiple subjects offered under the Faculty/Department headings. Some of the subjects are offered in both sessions and some are particular to either Autumn or Spring. PLEASE check on the clear and comprehensive web page for each faculty where I have not indicated the term in which the subject is taught.

There is also a Helsinki Summer School (www.helsinki.fi/summerschool).

Academic year 2008-2009

The Web page for Helsinki reads as follows:

This page is a starting point of access to information about the courses that are offered in English at the University of Helsinki.

These pages deal not only with courses taught entirely in English, but also with courses that are taught only partly in English or that may be offered in English if demand arises. It also covers language courses particularly designed or suitable for international students. The courses have mostly been organised according to faculty and subdivided according to discipline. When any of the course details have not been indicated, contact the appropriate department or the International Affairs Co-ordinator of the faculty for more detailed information.

In the majority of cases non-degree students (scholarship holders and exchange students) have non-restricted access to courses within their own subject and most of the other courses given in English, but sometimes restrictions may apply when the student attempts to take courses in subjects other than their own. More detailed information concerning the rights of exchange students and other non-degree students to participate in courses is best obtained from the International Affairs Co-ordinator at the appropriate faculty.

Economics & Governance and Science.

University College Utrecht (UCU)

Roosevelt Academy (RA)

The international honours colleges of UU are also open to exchange students if GPA is (at least) 3.0 or more.

Areas of study that are not available to exchange students are Medicine and Veterinary Medicine.

Courses are listed by Faculty and exchange students are strongly advised to check the level and entry requirements of the course they choose.

Netherlands: Hogeschool voor de Kunsten (Utrecht School of the Arts)

Website: <http://sscweb.hku.nl/exchange>

Students who apply MUST send a (digital) portfolio of their work. The course leaders decide on acceptance based on the application together with the portfolio.

Following is information from the Utrecht School of the Arts regarding admission of AEN exchange students to the School:

The Faculties of Music, Art, Media and Technology, and Visual Arts and Design are open to AEN students. However there are some departments where it is more difficult to accept exchange students due to the high level of interest from both Dutch and foreign students. These departments are marked with "restricted".

Most courses of the Faculty of Visual Arts and Design/Art, Media and Technology have one or two semesters in which course modules or projects are most suitable for exchange students. Please check <http://sscweb.hku.nl/exchange> for detailed information or e-mail the contact person for incoming students Charmaine van der Heijden (e-mail charmaine.vanderheijden@central.hku.nl)

The courses in the Faculty of Theatre and the Faculty of Art and Economics are not open to students who do not speak Dutch as the language plays too important a role in the education process. In addition, the School of Design Management is not open to exchange students.

Faculty of Medicine - Comenius University in Bratislava

The Faculty offers the study in the six-year full-time medical programs general medicine and dental medicine. The Faculty offers also the three-year full time and the four-year part time education at the first level in the following bachelor's study programs: nursery, public health care, obstetrics assistance, laboratory examining methods in health care, physiatry, balneology and therapeutic rehabilitation.

Graduates from these bachelor's study programs can continue at the master's level (except for the obstetrics assistance program).

After 6 years of study and successful passing of four state exams (internal medicine, paediatrics, surgery, obstetrics and gynaecology) graduates are conferred the title of 'Doctor of Medicine' (Medicinae Universae Doctor, MUDr.). This degree enables the holder to practice medicine in other countries. The Faculty of Medicine is recognised by the World Health Organisation (WHO) and by other institutions such as the GMC of Great Britain and the ECFMG of the United States.

The quality of medical education at the Faculty has attracted international students from all around the world for decades. From 1991, applicants may choose between two equal alternatives - they may either join the English Language Programme or study in the Slovak Language Programme together with other Slovak students (for which fluency in Slovak is requested).

Qualified high school graduates are eligible for entrance to the first year of the medical curriculum. Competence in the English language, oral and written, is a part of the entry requirement to the English Programme.

Faculty of Pharmacy

The Faculty of Pharmacy as the only one in Slovakia offers a high-quality pharmaceutical education, competitive with any similar education abroad. The scientific and educational activities of the Faculty are oriented to the fields of drugs and medicines. The study at the Faculty of Pharmacy takes five years and is unified and differentiated internally. Inner differentiation means that the subjects are divided into:

a) compulsory

b) optional, but at which attendance is compulsory, once chosen. These choices give students the possibility to choose the orientation of their future profile, either that of pharmacy and therapeutical practice, or that in research, production and evaluation of the medicament quality.

The Faculty offers the following two full-time study programs: the three-year bachelor's study program medical and diagnostic tools and the master's study program pharmacy. The high-quality of research and educational processes is guaranteed by many experts, oriented in their research work on medicaments and drugs.

Facilities of the Faculty consist of two pharmacies, where students get acquainted with comprehensive provision of citizens with the pharmacy services.

The Faculty of Management belongs to the one of youngest Faculties of the University; nevertheless, with respects of its orientation, it belongs to the most attractive ones. The Faculty offers the three-year full-time and part-time bachelor's study programs management and international management; and the two-year full-time and part-time master's study programs management and international management. Graduates from the bachelor's study programs can continue in the respective master's study programs. The graduates work in managerial posts at all levels of management in state organizations and private business. In cooperation with American universities, the Faculty offers the study program for the top and middle management WEMBA (Weekend Executive Master of Business Administration), in the form of interactive lectures in English language. Graduates are conferred the academic diploma "Master of Business Administration" (MBA), without an interruption of their careers.

The Faculty of Social and Economic Sciences is the youngest Faculty of the University. It was founded in the year 2002, as a response to the social-economic needs of Slovakia in the integrating Europe. The Faculty offers the three-year full-time and part-time bachelor's study program social anthropology; the two-year full-time and part-time master's study program public policy; the two-year full-time and part-time master's study programs social and labor psychology, European studies, and applied economy; and the two-year full-time master's study program cognitive sciences. The structure of the programme fully matches „Public Policy“ study programmes at major foreign universities and comprises basic courses as Public Policy, Economic Aspects of Public Policy, Law and Public Policy, Public Finance, Instruments and Implementation of Public Policy, Analytical and Research Methods (Quantitative and Qualitative) etc. The study programme includes courses specialized in different sectors of public policy chosen by each student e.g. Education Policy, Social Policy, Healthcare Policy, Economic Policy, Agricultural Policy and Rural Development etc.

Jessenius Faculty of Medicine in Martin

The Jessenius Faculty of Medicine in Martin is an internationally acknowledged Faculty. It has outstanding facilities for education of theoretical and pre-clinical subjects, as well as the clinical education basis in the Martin Faculty Hospital. Similarly to the Faculty of Medicine in Bratislava, it offers the six-year full-time medical study program general medicine. The Faculty offers also the following three-year full-time and the four-year parttime bachelor's study programs: nursery, public medicine, obstetrics assistance, dental technology, radiological assistance, laboratory examining methods in health care and physiotherapy. Graduates can continue in the respective master's study programs, except for the obstetrics assistance program. The Faculty offers 14 Ph.D. study programs. Applicants must have completed the secondary education, and may sit for the entrance examinations which are written tests in biology, chemistry and English.
