The Center for Teaching and Learning sponsors professional development programs for faculty, graduate students and academic leaders. The CTL creates opportunities for all who work with students to learn and to support one another's efforts.

Our programs are planned to engage faculty, graduate students, staff, and administrators in campus-wide discussions about teaching and learning, civic engagement, diversity, and other emerging issues. Many programs are co-sponsored with campus partners. Our programs focus on:

- Serving faculty and graduate students
- Supporting research
- Integrating technology
- Improving learning
