

China Reference

TITLE:	TYPE OF MATERIAL:	COPYRIGHT:	GENERAL DESCRIPTION:	AREA:	CODE:
A Brief Introduction to Investment in NanJing	disk (2) & guide		Introduction to Nanjing's industry, agriculture, communication, infrastructure, science and education, tourism, international trade & economic cooperation, international relationship, commerce and finance to investors. With two disks.	asc	274
a brief introduction to the republic of china	literature	1995	A brief introduction to China. The land, people, language, religion, educating, public health and tourism are few of titles covered.	asc	224
A Chinese View of China	supplementary student reading	1973	This book spans 2500 years, beginning with the rise and fall of the great imperial dynasties and through the Cultural Revolution. All documents are translated from the Chinese and remain valid and useful (despite the book's publication date) as a	asc	129

			"Chinese" view of China.
A Collection of Geography Materials	teacher reference		Includes information on teaching resources, lessons, maps and essays. Particularly useful is the photo essay "Faces of China: Unity in Diversity" which explains important factors that divide China's people.	asc	170
A Collection Of Writings By Chang Kuo-Kan	Literature (IN Chinese)		Chang Kuo-Kan's memories of his days as a high-ranking official during the Northern Warlords Period in China as well as some of his notes, correspondence and poems.	ASC	244
A Daughter of Han	Literature	1967	This story reveals one woman's struggles of poverty, social ills and chaos of 19th century China. Describes holidays, weddings and funerals especially as these and other old Chinese traditions clashed with newly imported ideas from the West.	asc	80
A Day In the Life of China	Periodical	1989	Some of the world's foremost photographers capture 24 hours of the world's oldest	asc	115

			living civilization, from a fleeting kiss in a Guangshou restaurant to timeless landscapes in distant provinces to the beginning of the student protests against the government.
A Geography Of Chinese People	Curriculum unit, TEACHER REFERENCE BOOK			ASC	243
a-All Under Heaven, b-To Taste a Hundred Herbs, c-Small Happiness	3 videos	1984	All Under Heaven: "The camera captures the color and diversity of a community caught between a past full of tradition and rapidly changing present."-Library Journal Small Happiness: "A small classic, which people will be watching with as much interest in ten or twenty years as today."-Orville Schell To Taste A Hundred Herbs: "A captivating, ethnological study of a rural physician and his family...Ideal for courses in sociology, technology, and medicine."-Science Books and Films	asc	125

All Different, All Equal: Life Series	video 24 min	2000	This video looks at progress in achieving greater equality for women - five years after the Beijing Conference on Women. Government delegations in Beijing pledged themselves to tackle increasing violence against women. With contributions from women filmmakers in Brazil, Britain, Fiji, Ireland, Lithuania, Mexico, Scotland and South Africa.	ASC	279
All In The Family: China Old and New	7 slide set			asc	91
along the silk road: people, interaction and cultural exchange	curriculum unit, 37 1/2 minute VHS video	1993	This curriculum unit with a video from slides presents the rich history of the Silk Road through people like Marco Polo and Xuan Zang who lived and traveled along its trade routes. It also draws on many primary sources and encourages student's participation via drama, readers' theater, art activities, journal writing, small	asc	195 group activities, and games. An adaptation of the popular cross-cultural simulation Heelotia is included.

Ancient China	Activity book	1995	This engaging activity book introduces children to the culturally rich and mythic world of ancient China. Children learn about Chinese decorative arts, paper making, the silk road, and festivals by making five fun projects: bronze vessel, paper lantern, landscape painting, embroidered book cover and lion mask.	asc	22
Ancient China: Great Ages of Man Series	supplementary reading	1967	A beautifully illustrated book of picture essays with many full color photos. Topics deal with the Bronze age, warriors and peasant, Buddhism, woven, printing, painting and poetry.	asc	41
Ancient China "Then and There Series"	supplement student reading	1969		asc	43
Army Nurse	video, 95 minutes		This unusual piece of subjective filmmaking by one	asc	203

			of China's foremost women directors, deals in a remarkable way with issues of sexuality, duty and conflict between the private desires and public loyalties of a career army nurse.
Art and Archaeology in China: An Introduction	30 slides with cassette tape		This excellent slide/tape program, based on the exhibit of the Archaeological Finds on the P. R. China that toured the U. S. in 1975, presents art objects from the Neolithic Period through the Yuan Dynasty, 14 th century A. D. The taped narrative, which provides an overview of traditional Chinese history, is well written for comprehension by students. Include glossary.	asc	19
Asian Studies Inquiry Program	supplementary student reading, 8booklets	1969	Uses the inquiry method to present primary source material in an engaging manner. East Meets West (B), Confucianism and Taoism (C), Chinese Popular Fiction (d), and Chinese Painting	asc	141

			(G).
Asian Studies: U. S. Policy Toward China's Reunification	background reading		China Scholar Martin L. Lasater presents origins of the "Taiwan" issue, the U. S. policy towards it in the past half-century. He concludes that the current policy best serves U. S. interest. Taiwan's future relationship with the mainland is for the Chinese themselves to decide.	asc	110
Barbarians in Peking	supplemental student reading	1979		asc	44
Because They Are Worth It: Life Series	video 24 min	2000	Internationally, the definition for absolute poverty is living on an income of under $1 a day. But the Chinese government has a lower threshold: 66 cents a day. Out of a total Chinese population of 1.3 billion, there are 42 million Chinese who are poor. This episode of Life looks at a scheme which is helping poor people break out of the cycle of poverty and ignorance - by providing them with small loans, basic health	ASC	278 information, education...and hope.

Beijing Review	periodical; reference for teachers and advanced students		A magazine which reflects the views of the Chinese government on major domestic and foreign issues. A good source of information for teachers or for research by advanced high school students.	ASC	2
Big Bird in China	video, 75 min	1987	Big Bird and Barkley the dog travel to China to find the legendary Chinese bird-the phoenix. Along with their new Chinese friend, they visit the Great Wall and the Ming Tombs and travel through some of China's most beautiful landscapes. They also visit with Chinese school children, watch a tai ji demonstration, learn some Chinese words and songs and meet the mischievous Monkey King, a traditional Chinese children's hero.	asc	186
Big Parade	Video,103 minutes		With the 1984 military parade on Tiaianmen Square	asc	204

			as its setting, this film portrays the heroic spirit and the strong will of the Chinese People's Liberation Army solidiers by focusing on the lives of six soldiers in the airborne division.
Bright Clouds	children's literature from China	1974	Children's literature from P. R. C.	asc	152
Bright Red Star	children's literature from China	1974	A story about a boy who struggled and overcame many hardships and difficulties to become a brave liberation army fighter.	asc	154 can china and u. s. pull together? (world press review)	literature, periodical	1999, August	"Like feuding partners in a high-wire act, China and the United States risk disaster- and not only for themselves-if they can not learn to cooperate. But China has worried for months about U. S. tendencies to "hegemonies", and NATO's bombing of the Chinese embassy in Belgrade, followed by a congressional report accusing China of stealing U.S. nuclear secrets, touched off an anti-	asc	223

			American tempest. Can the queasy relationship be repaired?"--WorldPress
Canal Boat to History: Meishu: Travels In Chinese Art Program I	video, 55 minutes		Frist in a three-part video series that combines art history and travelogue, this program delves into the problems of communication caused by China's vast size and diversity of landscape, and shows how this has been reflected in Chinese art through the ages. Explored are the Bronze Age, the Han Dynasty, and the Tang Dynasty and their distinctive artistic achievements.	asc	207
Cat and Rat : The Legend of the Chinese Zodiac	children's literature	1995	"According to Chinese legend, the twelve animals of the zodiac were selected by the Jade Emperor after he invited all the animals to participate in a race. This is the story of that race, and why cat and rat will always be enemies. "--Shen's Book	asc	293
Center For Teaching About	catalogue		The Center for Teaching about	asc	20

China Catalog			China, which is a division of the U. S. -China People's Friendship Association, publishes a 22-page mail order catalog featuring a variety of books, curriculum materials, and videos about China. Well annotated list.
Central Themes For A Unit On China	teacher resource guide; Reference book	1989	This book contains curriculum resources in designing units on Asia.	asc	8
Ch'ing Games; History and Simulation, The	simulation game	1972	A novel approach in teaching, the Ch'ing Game introduces students to traditional Chinese history through participation in the simulated society and government of the Ch'ing Dynasty (1633-1922). Complete handbook for players and guidebook for supervisors. Sophisticated and appropriate to advanced level or to classes devoting a significant portion of time to the study of China.	asc	28
Changing Face of China's Youth	curriculum unit, video, poster,			asc	178

	slide unit
Changing Images of China	activity book	1983	Using a personalized approach, these activities supplement regular text materials with primary sources, role plays, and case studies. Includes lessons on perspectives and stereotypes , Chinese one-child population policy and how to update classroom materials to reflect post-cultural revolution changes. Imaginative teaching strategies but not intended to provide core content about China. A note to teacher: use material selectively. Some of the information in this book are outdated.	asc	26
Chen Village: The Recent History of A Peasant Community in Mao's China	student and teacher reference	1984	Documents the changes in the lives of the people of a South China village over the past two decades.	asc	76
Children's Art From China	pictures		Beautiful 25-piece collection of original children's art from Nanjing, St. Louis's sister	asc	94

			city in the PRC. Attractively mounted and ready to hang. Includes large pieces and must be picked up and returned to the Center for International Studies.
Children's Literature Lists				asc	100
Children's Palace: Ideas for Teaching About China, A	Activity Book	1986	One of the best available lesson and activity books on China for the elementary level. Includes many units to supplement a school text with chapters on artifacts, language, literature, geography, the abacus, cooking, inventions, crafts, games, and physical fitness exercises. Each chapter can be a self-contained unit with goals, evaluation, vocabulary and references. Also contains pages for reproduction and map transparencies. With a few adaptations, the book can be used with middle school students.	asc	10

China	map	1991	Two sided plastic, wall map (22" x 29'). One side is a political map. Second side presents thematic maps (populations, agriculture, and industry) and historical maps. Historical maps accompanied by a timeline up to 1989.	asc	45
China: A Book of Activities	activity book	1984	Developed by Seattle teachers, this booklet introduces students to ways in which Chinese Americans celebrate the joyous and colorful holiday of Chinese New Year Includes information about the history and customs surrounding the holiday, instructions for making showcase display of New Year's objects and a dragon display, and classroom activities on zodiac signs, calligraphy, games and numbers.	asc	21
China: A Cultural Resource Book Our Global Village Series	activity book	1992	The books in this series present hands-on activities and resources to	asc	66

			help children appreciate cultural differences and also learn that people everywhere are much the same. Begins with important basic facts about China (size, population, etc) The book is a rich source of concisely presented information on topics including history, language, the Chinese family and festivals. Activities include making pictographs, cooking Chinese dishes and using chopsticks, calligraphy, paper cutting, the Chinese zodiac and games. Provides list of additional teaching resources.
China: A Culture Area In Perspective	supplementary student reading	1974	"This book differs from other available materials in three important respects: 1. It is a product of the nationally known World History Project at Northwestern University, which was organized to develop new methods and materials for the	asc	149

			teaching of world history. 2. It is supplemented by the above-mentioned volume, readings in World History, which is available in inexpensive paperback as well as in cloth binding. 3. Its utilization of the flashback technique."-- China: A Culture Area In Perspective
China: A Historical Chronology	poster (maps & timeline)	1973	A very comprehensive wall chart with a timeline (22" X 30") of China's dynastic history up to 1949. Includes simultaneous events in Western world. Poster also provides historical maps of dynasties. Small print requires viewing up close.	asc	47
China: A Multimedia Guide	resource book	1982	"China: A Multimedia Guide brings books, pamphlets, and periodicals (including government publications and ERIC documents), audiovisual products, maps and atlases, and	asc	97

			sources fro further information to the attention of teachers an students. Each is described in sufficient detail to enable readers to make informed decisions about its potential uses. Brief references to additional materials within the text of numbered entries, and listings of art and historical museums, and of China Council affiliates bring the total sources to over 650. "--China: A Multimedia Guide
China: A New Look	video for 25 min		A highly recommended introductory overview of China today. Reviews the new policies of the 1980s against a background of China's history. Begins wiht U. S. - China geographical comparisons and uses archival footage to review China's 20th century history up to 1949.	asc	86
China: A New Revolution?	supplementary student reading	1990	With concise, readable short	asc	24

Hotspots Series			chapters and color photos, covers China's modern history, beginning with why the Communist Revolution succeeded. Following chapters describe China under Mao(his successes and failures), Deng Xiaoping's modern faction reforms, and the "democracy crisis." Includes useful "fact files" on China's political system and economy, maps, a chronology and glossary.
China: A Teaching Workbook	Supplement lesson	1991	A high quality selection of resource listing, activities, and units on Chinese geography, language, arts, traditional and modern history, culture, U. S. - China relations and more in a large loose-leaf notebook. Extensive section of lessons on contemporary society including women, agriculture, population, families, education	asc	27

			and the political system. include two student readers on China's gifts to the west (ideas and inventions)plus a large wall chart of Chinese history with a time line and historical maps. Workbook materials could be used individually or provide basis for an entire curriculum. Valuable well annotated resource listing are integrating though workbook by topic. The 1991 edition adds a highly useful thematic approach designed to leave students with an image of enduring patterns in Chinese history. Themes include; national identity and China's culture tradition; agriculture dilemma in China's moderation; family and state-- hierarchy and paternalism in the ordering of society; the perfectibility of man and the moral role of
--	--	--	---	--	--

			government; relationship between the individual and society; commercial development in place of industrial development.
China and the World: MeiShu: Travels in Chinese Art Program II	video, 55 minutes	1988	Second in a three- part video series that combines art history and travelogue, this program explores how China's geographic, cultural and political isolation has allowed her to develop great and distinctive traditions in art.	asc	208
China and The Yangtze River	Lesson plans		This is a unit about China and how a great civilization has been developed along a river system. The unit is divided into strands. The strands are history, geography, economics, civics, culture and contemporary applications.	asc	217
China And World Economy	magazine (bi- monthly)	2001	The journal aims to provide objective, analytical and up- to-date account of problems faced by china in the process of	asc	272 economic reform and opening to the Outside world.

china at the crossroads: reform after tiananmen	literature	1992	This book talks about the aftermath of Chin in relation to Tiananmen Square. There have been major trends in China since the Tiananmen Crisis in 1989. It is discussed how these trends have deeply influences American public policy and policy makers.	asc	225
China At The Crossroads: Reform After TianAnMen	Teacher reference book	1992	The author analyzed the major trends in China since the Tiananmen crisis in 1989 and also discussed the implications of these trends for American policy.	asc	267
China Briefing	teacher reference	87, 90, 91, 92, 94	A series of annual reports on developments in China written by teaching national China scholars. Chapters on politics, economics, foreign policy and culture. The books also provide chronologies, glossaries of names and events and suggested reading lists. An	asc	49 excellent, accessible reference tool.

China Civilization: A Survey of Its History, Arts, and Technology	Student text	1975		asc	64
China Connection, 1985	video/textbook, comprehensive curriculum	1985	The 1985 edition of this flexible classroom resource package includes student reference book (readings), supplemental teacher resource binder, activities (participatory activities including a travel agent simulation and unit on Chinese New Year), a video with teacher' s guide and a teacher's planning guide to the entire package. Student reference book provides excellent geography content and is very attractively illustrated with photos, maps, charts. Enhanced by use of teacher resource binder. Creative, high interest activities. The two video programs (25 and 27 min) follow an American family in China. Comes highly	asc	6 a-f recommended by scholars and teachers.

China Connection, 1985	video/textbook, comprehensive curriculum	1985	The 1985 edition of this flexible classroom resource package includes student reference book(readings), supplemental teacher resource binder, activities(participatory activities including a travel agent simulation and unit on Chines New Year), a video with teacher's guide and a teacher's planning guide to the entire package. Student reference book provides excellent geography content and is very attractively illustrated with photos, maps, charts. Enhanced by use of teacher resource binder. Creative , high interest activities. The two video programs (25 and 27 min) follow and American family in China. Comes highly recommended by scholars and teachers.	asc	6(a-f)

China Council Briefing Packet- Information on Mao Tse-Tung	biography of Mao Tse-tung		biography of Mao Tse-tung	asc	145
China emerges: A concise history of china from its origins to the present		1973	Sets political events against a background of art, philosophy, literature and economic development. Narrative does not include Tiananmen Massacre, but appendixes include a statement from a leading student demonstrator and speech by Dang Xiaoping giving student and government views of the event.	asc	128
China:Emerging Powers	Documentary video,Resource material,	2002	China is poised to become a major superpower in the 21st century. Examine this rapidly growing nation and its exciting future.	asc	283
China faces changes - scholastic update v. 125, n 2 sep'92	periodical	sep 18, 1992	Begins with an essay on the Tiananmen Massacre of 1989 and includes a bio of Deng Xiaoping and articles on the future of Hong Kong; US policy toward human rights abuses in China; teenagers and school life; the reemergence of	asc	183 bride selling, and economic reform and growing inequalities.

China: Foreign Trade Reform	reference book	1994	The 334-page report was compiled by World Bank staff in Beijing and Washington with collaboration from Chinese researchers to provide a detailed look at China's trade regime and reform agenda.	asc	269
China From Manchu and Mao (1699-1976)	Student Reading	1980	A lively, engaging and politically well-balanced account of Chinese history that focuses on colorful and important characters, including emperor kang xi, Sun Yatsen, Mao Zedong and Chiang Kaishek. Well illustrated with photos. Good material for student projects, research or book reports.	asc	62
China: Global Perspectives on Current Events			Magazines and articles on global, current events.	asc	233
China: Global Studies Series	teacher reference	1984,1995	An excellent reference book that covers the PRC, Taiwan, and Hong Kong. Short, concise	ASC	3 background essays on history, politics, economics and current problems are supplemented by articles from the world press.

China Guidebook 1991-1992, The	guide book	1991	This book endeavors to provide travelers to China with the most useful and comprehensive information possible in portable format.	asc	112
China: History, Culture, Geography	student text	1987	An overview of China past and present with emphasis on geography and history. Strong on maps and charts. Includes "case inquiries" and critical thinking activities to break up the narrative that presents solid content in a rather unimaginative way. A highly structured text.	asc	33
China in 1906	60 black / white slides with text	1975	Made from photographs taken in 1906, these slides illustrate farming, transportation, irrigation, city scenes and famine. Useful as an introduction to the social and economic	ASC	15 problems at the end of the Ch'ing dynasty when China was beset by famine and unrest internally and by foreign encroachment on Chinese soil.

China In Maps	reference	1968	A good collection of maps, physical, historical, climate, agriculture and industry. Tables on population and trade art dated.	asc	166
China in Revolution: 1911-1949	video, 115 min	1989	This very detailed history brings the story of the Chinese revolution to life with a wealth of excellent archival film and interviews with survivors from this period, including many who played important roles. Includes moving stories of pre-Revolutionary peasants' exploitation by landlords and of the hardships of the Long March.	asc	188
China: Internal Market Development And Regulation	reference book	1994	The report was compiled by World Bank staff in Beijing and Washington with collaboration from Chinese researchers to provide a detailed	asc	270 look at China's market development and regulation status.

China, Japan, Korea - History, Culture, People	Student text	1975	.	asc	63
China Mosaic: Multidisciplinary Unit For the Middle Grades	lesson book	1988	This book's purpose is to encourage teaching about China not only in the social studies and language arts, but also in art, science and math. Lesson topics include" the Qin Dynasty," "Monkey Tales," "Chinese Shadow Puppets," and " Confucius."	asc	89
China: NingXia Hui Autonomous Region, 1958-1998	REFERENCE BOOK	1998	NingXia Hui Autonomous REgion is one of the five minority-inhabited regions in China. The book gives an overview on this region's land, resources, history, religion, economic development, ethnic culture, etc.	ASC	17
China on the world statge: weighing the u. s. response	teacher reference		The unit considers the global impact of China's economic growth, social transformation and international involvement. Focus on U. S.'s evolving	asc	181 relationship with the emerging East giant.

China Passage by Rail	Periodical	1988	A changing people and changeless landscapes come into view as Paul Theroux travel the railways to the world's most populous nation.	asc	144
China Reader: Communist China	teacher reference	1967		asc	60
China Reader: Imperial China, The	teacher reference	1967		asc	58
China Reader: People's China	teacher reference	1974		asc	61
China Reader: Republic China/Nationalism/ War and The Rise of Communism	teacher reference	1967		asc	59
China:Reading On The Middle Kingdom	background reading	1973	Legends, letters, poetry and politics are all included in this wide-ranging exploration of China, old and new.	asc	102
China Readings	supplementary reading	1973	Though chapters on contemporary China are out-of date, the pre'49 history chapters are useful. Large print and easy to read.	asc	138
China: Redefing the Revolution		1989		asc	117
China Reource Notebook VOL V: Contemporary Chinese Literature	literature curriculum	1987	This collection of short stories and poetry (8 pieces in '85 Ed. And 11 in	asc	73

			'87 Ed.) Depicts changes in Chinese politics and values since 1976, when the Cultural Revolution ended and Mao Zedong died. Lessons use the inquiry method to explore universal human problems and compare American, Chinese and socialist cultures.
China Resource Notebook VOL. IV- Topics In Modern Chinese History	Supplementary curriculum unit	1985	Presents a wealth of materials and strategies that help students understand Chinese perceptions of major events in imperial and modern Chinese history. A comprehensive and flexible curriculum that covers that collapse of imperial China's dynasty system, the Chinese family (traditional and modern), Opium Wars and Western imperialism in China, the Chinese Civil War and Cultural Revolution.	asc	72
China Resource Notebook Vol. VI: China and The U. S.	supplementary curriculum unit		This unit is designed for use in American	asc	74

: Comparing Economic Systems			government classes to improve student understanding of the U.S. economic system by comparing it with China's.
China Resource Notebook Vol1: An Introduction To Chinese Folklore	language art unit	1985	The unit uses children's literature, art, and Chinese character writing to help children understand how values are taught through literature and learn to illustrate and enhance a story through art and authentic Chinese characters. Included are designs for paper cutting and exercises for Chinese character writing.	asc	69
China Resource Notebook Vol2: We Do Not All Eat From the Same Rice Pot	supplementary curriculum unit		This unit introduces students to economic reform in the PRC, focusing on changes both in agriculture and industry. Student simulation of a factory producing flags show how the responsibility system diverges from socialist ideals and rewards individual	asc	70 enterprise. Encourages comparison of U. S. and Chinese economic systems.

China The Bamboo Culture		1993	A slide tape lesson opens this imaginative 5-7 day unit that focuses on the role of bamboo in Chinese culture. Those lessons incorporate economics, geography, history, literature, and art use a variety of teaching strategies.	asc	180
China: The Land, The People, The Culture	Book	2001	"Discover 20th century China and its early history. Tour the streets of the city and survey the farming communities. See how children dress, play and go to school. Learn about the language, the food , the game. Then celebrate the festival."	ASC	250 a,b,c
China: The Uncertain Future	Teacher reference			asc	52
China Today (Formerly China Reconstructs)	Periodical ; teacher s and advanced students		Illustrated with lots of good photos, many of them color, this magazine presents articles on culture, society, the economy and current issues in	asc	4

			the PRC. Originally titled China Reconstructed, the magazine changed its name in 1990 to CHINA TODAY. A publication of the PRC government.
China Tourism Pictorial	supplementary student reading	1991	A very attractive tourist magazine with an abundance of full color photos and articles on Chinese culture.	asc	137
China's Demographic Dilemmas	reference	1992	Examines the development and consequences of China's current population, planning measures and assesses the role of population growth in shaping China's future.	asc	187
China's Unresolved Issues: Politics, Development and Culture	teacher's background reading	1992	An excellent analysis of the tensions between China's goals - i. e. to realize socialist values (equality), to modernize the country and to sustain Chinese culture and values. Highly conceptual and requires knowledge of Chinese history.	asc	77
China-A Geographical Sketch	reference		Revised edition of Geography of China-a-asc-167	asc	168
Chinese American	resource	non-profit	"Chinese	asc	231

Forum	Periodicals	quarterly cultural magazine	American Forum (in English) was established to facilitate open communication between Chinese Americans and the American public. It has been dedicated to promoting mutual understanding among all Americans since 1985. CAF has published articles on many topics including culture, philosophy, history, traditions, and heritage, as well as Chinese Americans affairs, accomplishments, and life experiences."-- CAF
Chinese And Americans: Mutual Perceptions: Looking For China: American Images, Looking for America: Chinese Images	cassette, slide unit	1980	Looking for China: American images, 50 slides with 18 minute tape. Looking for America: Chinese images, 52 slides with 16 minutes tape. A slide/cassette tape program that uses newspaper cartoons, magazines, movies and other media to present American images of China from Fu Manchu to Deng Xiaoping	asc	13 a, b and Chinese images of America from the first Yankee traders to normalization of diplomatic relations. Excellent teaching resources that gives both a good history of US-China relations and a valuable examination of Chinese perceptions.

Chinese ARt	slide kit	1989	This slide kit presents a culture with a highly refined history of art production dating to late Neolithic times (2,500 B. C.). These slides presented cover a time range from pre-history to the 20 the century. Art was chosen from among several important and traditional forms: bronzes, ceramics, paintings, and sculpture. In addition, the kit includes white jade pot, as well as a box of elaborately carved lacquer work.	asc	298
Chinese Clipart		1989	Computer program using 3.5" diskettes and 5.25" floppy displaying	asc	238

			ancient Chinese clipart and designs using modern technology.
Chinese Cultural Artifact Kit	Multimedia		The kit contains items representative of daily life of children (toys, school material, clothing), items that depict aspects of traditional culture(folk art, folk tales and music), and a selection of the best print and multimedia material for teaching about China (lesson and activity books, slide sets, maps, etc).	asc	98
Chinese Cultural Artifact Kit	Multimedia		The kit contains items representative of daily life of children (toys, school material, clothing), items that depict aspects of traditional culture(folk art, folk tales and music), and a selection of the best print and multimedia material for teaching about China (lesson and activity books, slide sets, maps,	asc	99 etc). At the secondary level, kits are most useful for displays and students projects.

Chinese Culture	Resource Material		It includes various Chinese traditional topics, which include: Chinese chronology, Peking Opera, Confucianism, religion, art and archaeology	asc	176-f
Chinese Democracy	literature, textbook	1985	The author explains the changes in the political system in China. He analyzes democracy in China with a combination of idealism and realism that is impressive.	asc	226
Chinese Festivals	poster set		Each poster illustrates the significance, customs, special foods and contemporary celebrating of a different festival, eg. New Year, Ching Ming, Dragon Boat Festival and Mid-autumn moon. Short background essays includes in the package.	asc	68
Chinese Festivals and Customs	curriculum and slide unit	1980	The major festivals discussed are traditional	asc	87 holidays, the dates of which are figured on the Chinese lunar calendar, which predates the Western calendar's first year AD by 2698 years.

chinese folk art: the small skills of carving insects	activity sheets	1986	Developed to enhance viewing of a Chinese folk art exhibition. Can be used independently as a useful tool for helping students understand concepts of "folk art," and the meaning of common motifs and symbols in Chinese art. Includes directions for making shadow puppets.	asc	210
Chinese For Children	textbook, cassette tape	1995	This is an elementary textbook designed especially for preschool age children to learn Chinese. This set of books will enable children to acquire a basic knowledge of the Chinese language (pronunciation, a 340-character vocabulary and some basic sentence patterns) and thus prepare	asc	266 a-f them for future study of the Chinese language. 3 volumes with cassette tapes chinese identity, the Meishu: travels in chinese art program I I I	video for 55 minutes	1988	Last in a three-part video series that combines art history and travelogue to create a remarkable journey through China. In this part, viewers travel to locations that embody the real and instinctive character of the country and the symbols that represent the unique spirit reflected China's art.	asc	209

Chinese Language And Culture Curriculum	curriculum unit, teacher guide	1995	"}The student activity book and teacher guide include many stories, songs, descriptions and activities to help readers learn about the Culture of Chinese speaking people in many places in the world. Also learn how to speak, read and write the language that is used for those special events and customs."	asc	273 a, b
Chinese Language	curriculum unit		A collection of K-	asc	113

Lessons			12 Chinese language lessons. Includes step-by-step instructions for writing simple characters and an explanation of the origins and development of Chinese pictographic and ideographic script with an exercise in which students decipher Chinese characters.
Chinese Literature VOL 3, 1978 & May 1982	literature	1982	This periodical, published in the P. R. C., features short stories and poems literacy criticism by contemporary writers and also articles about graphic and performing artist.	asc	108
Chinese new year celebration box	kit	1993	Chinese New Year, held in late January or early February, is a time for families to rejoice for the past year of good health and fortune and prepare for another good year to come. Chinese New Year is a good topic for helping students makes connections between Chinese and Chinese American cultures. This kit includes a	asc	185 teacher's guide with classroom activities, an attractive student book about how Chinese American children celebrate the holiday, a New Year banner, a dragon finger puppet, miniature paper lantern, Chinese zodiac, animal sponges for making headbands and other items.

Chinese New Year For Kids	children's literature	2002	""Chinese New Year for Kids" is a full color paperback book with beautiful, authentic Chinese illustrations. This is a hands-on workbook for parents and teachers, written for children from ages 3 to 12 years old, for use in the classroom or at home. Children will enjoy the party ideas, dragon parades, lion dances, art projects, and zodiac games. The art projects are designed to be easy, as well as inexpensive to reproduce for large groups. All the activities in this book have been	asc	295 thoroughly tested in the classroom, with very successful results, and have elicited lots of enthusiasm from children and teachers alike. Music, physical movement, art, and food all add to the ambiance of taking an imaginary trip to China during the Chinese New Year. "--Amazon

Chinese Poems	poems		Old Chinese poems translated by Arthur Waley.	asc	121
Chinese Power: Military And Security Policies at Century's End	teacher reference	1995, September	A comprehensive working paper about china's military and security policies. Include resource lists, figures, maps, tables etc. Topics include: -China and regional security -Potential conflicts -Military Modernization -China and Proliferation -The Role of the PLA in the Economy, Politics and Society	asc	268
chinese thought from confucius to mao tsetung	background reading	1953	"In no technical language, the author introduces us to a China of unending poverty, oppression and	asc	132 war, a China searching for a way to live with other people without being irritated by them, without being swallowed by them. Taking us behind the great philosophies that helped mold the thinking of the largest mass of mankind in the world, the eminent Far East scholars shows us the mistakes that lost for us the friendship of a proud and sensitive people."

Chinese Today	2 videos	1994		asc	111
Chinese Way: Life in People's Republic of China, The	Supplementary student reading			asc	65
Chungking Express	video,102 minutes	1996	"Chungking Express tells two stories loosely connected by a Hong Kong snack bar. In one story, a cop who's been recently dumped by his girlfriend becomes obsessed with the expiration dates on cans of pineapple; he's constantly distracted as he tries to track down a drug dealer in a blond wig (played	asc	287

			by Brigitte Lin, best known from Swordsman II and The Bride with White Hair). Meanwhile, another cop who's recently been dumped by his girlfriend (Tony Leung Chiu-Wai, from John Woo's Hard-Boiled and A Bullet in the Head) mopes around his apartment, talking to his sponge and other domestic objects. He catches the eye of a shop girl (Hong Kong pop star Faye Wang) who secretly breaks in and cleans his apartment. If you're beginning to suspect that neither of these stories has a conventional plot, you're correct. What Chungking Express does have is loads of energy and a gorgeous visual style that never gets in the way of engaging with the charming characters. The movie was shot on the fly by hip director Wong Kar-Wai (Happy Together, Ashes of
--	--	--	--	--

			Time), using only available lighting and found locations. The movie's loose, improvisational feel is closer to Jean-Luc Godard's Breathless than any recent film-- and that's high praise. Quirky, funny, and extremely engaging, Chungking Express manages to be experimental and completely accessible at the same time. "-- Amazon editorial reviews
Communicating with China	teacher reference	1983		asc	50
communist china-communal progress and indivical freedom	supplementary student reading			asc	136
Community Resources on China	resource portfolio		A compilation of information about St. Louis Community resources, including grocery stores, restaurants, educational institutions, non-profit organizations.	asc	232
Comrade Editor: Letters to the People's Daily	student reading	1980	A fascinating collection of letters, replies and editorials originally	asc	29

			published in the People's Daily, the official newspaper in the People's Republic of China. Various aspects of both city and country life are included -- student life, cultural life, work style, class struggle, the cadres' use and abuse of power. An excellent primary source that reveals the problems of life from a Chinese perspective.
Contemporary China: Daily Life in The People's Republic	slide unit (182) text	1979	Excellent set of slides with a good accompanying script that gives important concepts and supports them with facts. Covers geography and demography, state and society (structure of local and national government), family life (Strong depiction of roles, relationships, etc.) health and education, economics (good coverage of all sections of economy), tourism (historical and cultural site popular with foreign and	ASC	12

			Chinese tourists). Some slides need updating of information. Useful material for making your own slide show. (182 slides with text)
Contemporary Chinese Societies: Continuity And Change	CD- Rom	2001	This dynamic CD-ROM features 3000 images, 600 linear pages, 89 main maps and special presentations, 65 separate topics with an equal number of assignments and quizzes, 28 hours of video, 12 varieties of orientation markers and 5 large encompassing, hyperlinked websites. A multimedia presentation of the diversity of modern china with the context of its traditional roots. Suitable for students, business people, or anyone planning to travel to china.	asc	277
Contemporary Family Life in Rural China	slide unit	1982	A good teaching unit with high quality slides of a south China village and a representative	ASC	11

			peasant family that has lived in the village for several generations. The unit is based on a field observation of families in the Xing Zhai village, located in fertile Pearl River delta of Guangdong province in Southeast China. Materials teach about rural lifestyle, roles of family members, socialization of children, and cross-cultural comparisons. Adaptable for upper elementary or senior high.
Cultural Exchange - China & World	periodical	51 xizhimennei street, west	This bimonthly magazine focuses on both traditional and contemporary Chinese culture with articles on film, regional cultures, dance, traditional music and literature, architecture, etc. Little attention given to impact of Western on Chinese culture.	asc	182
Current History: A World Affairs Journal	periodical		Articles by scholars focus on contemporary economic and political issues. Also contains	asc	172 useful reviews of recent books and a chronology of important events worldwide for the preceding month.

Curriculum Review: Special Feature, China Studies	periodical	1981	Though published in 1981, many of the reviews found in this issue on China remain quite useful, especially reviews of items for which new editions have been published.	asc	109
Daily Life on the Eve of the Mongol Invasion: 1250- 1276	student and teacher background reading	1962	By focusing on a small fraction of Chinese history, and one city Hangebon, the capital at that time, the author impacts the full flavor of life in 13th century China. A rich depiction of daily life in traditional China.	asc	81
Demystifying The Chinese Language	Lesson Plan, TEACHER REFERENCE BOOK	1995	This unit provides an introduction to written language and tools needed to "demystify" written Chinese. Students will create their own symbols to communicate concepts, words, and ideas to others, learn some contemporary and historical Chinese characters, and	ASC	249

			apply their knowledge as they read a story written in English and Chinese.
Doing Business in China	video (4)	1999	Discover the secrets for success in the China market. The video set has four parts: -Understanding China -Partnering and Staffing -Adding Value -Marketing and Living	asc	276 a-d
Dragon's Village	literature	1980	Insightful historical novel about the period of land reform in China. Autobiographical in nature, it tells the story of a high school graduate in Shanghai who goes to the countryside in the early 1950's. Sensitive and rare descriptions of the character of and problems confronting the Chinese peasants. This book engages students personally while giving them a firsthand account of how the revolution developed.	asc	30
Dreams of China: Power in th Pacific	video, 60 minutes	1990	An excellent survey of	asc	196

Series			America's relations with Asia that focuses especially on China and ends with the 1989 massacre of Tiananmen Square. Combines archival footage with interviews with former state department officials and military leaders.
Dynamic Taiwan: ROC Heading For the 21st Century	video, 24 minutes		" A home that combines oriental tradition with Western thinking, democracy, liberalization, pluralism, and prosperity is the Chinese ideal. With goal in mind, the 21 million Chinese people in Taiwan have accomplished a series of peaceful political and economics reforms--the Republic of China's "quiet revolution". This film reviews and analyzes the key experiences of these many years of peaceful metamorphosis, growth and political transformation in the ROC, and documents the	asc	214 manner in which the people of this land have worked together in bettering their home."

East Asia At Yale: A Catalogue of Resources, Organizations and Materials At Yale University	teacher resource guide	1993	This catalogue is a comprehensive guide to the variety of resources on East Asia available through the Yale University outreach program for teachers. It also contains a detailed list of audio-visual materials, which are available on a national level through the resource center. Gives information on how to reserve and borrow the films, videocassettes, slide sets, multimedia units, and records and tapes, and artifacts kits housed in the center.	asc	92
Eat Drink Man Woman	Video,124 minutes		This is not a movie to see on an empty stomach. Writer-director Ang Lee's 1994 Oscar nominee tells a family story about a chef and his three daughters through the meals the chef prepares and serves his	asc	285

			family. This touching, dryly funny story of a family coping with personal lives and the way those lives intersect with the family relationships captures a shift in generations in Taipei. The father, a famous chef who has lost his taste buds, still cooks, though he draws no pleasure from eating. His daughters, meanwhile, deal with both the disappointments and surprises of daily living and the way their adult lives compare to the expectations the widowed father had for them. A subtle, amusing--and mouth-watering--comedy of impeccable manners."-- Amazon editorial reviews
Echoes of China	teaching units	1984	This is a wonderful compilation of self-contained teaching units for grades five and up. Unit include: Ø Jia: Chinese American Families Ø China and Her Land	asc	114

			Ø Travels with Marco-Polo: Life in 13th Century China Ø Fina and Folk Arts of China Ø Chinese Celebrations Ø Chinese Architecture Ø Chinese Games
Economic Choices: China After Mao	curriculum unit; slide set	1988	Examines free market and planned economic systems and China's effort to supplement its planned economy with market mechanisms. Includes slides, source and background materials, handouts and exercises to familiarize students with the use of statistics.	asc	39
Economics in China	Resource Material		A collection of teacher resource materials on Chinese Economic reform and trading. It also includes a lot of current periodical reading on Chinese economics.	asc	176-e
Education in China	Resource Material		A collection of teacher resource materials on Chinese education system. It also includes K-12	asc	176-b lesson plans, classroom activities.

education of chinese children in britain and the usa	reference & teacher reference	1992	This book analyses some major academic and psychological problems of school children of Chinese origins in Britain as a result of culture shock and the lack of understanding from parents and appropriate support from school.	asc	147
Eearly American Trade With China	Curriculum Unit; TEACHER REFERENCE BOOK	1999	Lessons explore trade routes, the economics of the trade, Chinese and American views of trade, and life on merchant ships.	ASC	263
Empire of the Sun	video,154 minutes	1987	"Roundly dismissed as one of Steven Spielberg's least successful efforts, this very underrated film poignantly follows the World War II adventures of young Jim (a brilliant Christian Bale), caught in the throes of the fall of China. What if you once had everything and lost it all in an afternoon? What if you were only 12?	asc	286

			Bale's transformation, from pampered British ruling-class child to an imprisoned, desperate, nearly feral boy, is nothing short of stunning. Also stunning are exceptional sets, cinematography, and music (the last courtesy of John Williams) that enhance author J.G. Ballard's and screenwriter Tom Stoppard's depiction of another, less familiar casualty of war." --Amazon editorial reviews
Empire of the Sun	literature	1984	"Shanghai, 1941-a city aflame from the fateful torch of Pearl Harbor. A young British boy searched in vain for his missing parents. Imprisoned in a Japanese concentration camp, he is witness to the fiercer white flash of Nagasaki, as the Bomb bellows the end of the war...and the dawn of a blighted world"	asc	105

Environment in China	Resource Material		A collection of teacher resource materials including human population, modernization and other impacts on environment. It also introduce environmental law and policy in China.	asc	176-a
Execution of Mayor Yin and Other Stories from The Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution, The	Literature	1978	Eight short, thought-provoking stories written by a returned overseas Chinese woman based on personal experience during 1966-68. They deal critically with oppressive aspects of daily life during the Cultural Revolution. Students will be moved by these stories about the excesses of the Cultural Revolution.	ASC	16
Faces of China: Unity in Diversity	photo essay for students & teachers	1982	A highly valuable, concise and readable essay on the issues and phenomena hat divide China. Starr explains the divisions between rural and urban(the most important), regional differences, generational, class difference, "cosmopolitan vs	asc	150

			xenophobes" and innobative vs conservative. Recommended teacher background on issues many of which have also been historical problems facing the Chinese state.
Facing China's Limits (State Of The World '95)	reference book	1995	This report taken from the book "State of the World 1995" a Worldwatch Institute report on progress toward a sustainable society, provides an analysis of China's economic and environmental future.	asc	197
Fact Sheet From Information Office Of The State Council of PRC	TEACHER REFERENCE	1997	China's socio-economic development since 1978. Human Rights condition Foreign Trade of economic cooperation China's stand on nuclear, non-proliferation and export controls Policy towards US Election TaiWan Issues New moves to improve access to market and service industry	ASC	265
Falun Gong	Resource		A collection of	asc	176-i

	Material		teacher resource materials including introduction to FalunGong(not as a religion), its influence around world, and current events happening in China on Falun Gong.
Fanshen: A Documentary of Revolution In A Chinese Village	background reading	1966	A classic in the study of modern China. One of the best documentary accounts of land reform as it was carried out in Chinese villages by the Communists. Excellent for giving students insights into the Communist rise to power.	asc	106
Farewell My Concubine	VIDEO 157 MINUTES	1993	"The complex story of passion and political intrigue won the Best Film Award at Cannes and is an ambitious historical epic of China in the 20th century. It follows the enduring friendship between two opera stars in old Beijing. As they prosper, the political upheavals of war and revolution take their toll. When a young prostitute	ASC	275 threatens their professional and personal union, it becomes just one of many trials which test the enduring strength of art and love that bind these two men. " Chinese with English subtitles.

favourite chinese stories-more favourite chinese stories	children's literature from China	1979-1969	Easy-to-read folktales.	asc	162
favourite stories from Hong kong	children's literature from China	1980	Easy-to-read folktales.	asc	163
Favourite Stories From Taiwan	children's literature from China	1979	Easy-to-read folktales.	asc	161
Flag of People's Republic of China	flag, 4" X 6"			asc	134
Foreign Affairs in China	Resource Material		A collection of teacher resource materials on current China's open policy and its relationship with other countries. It also focus on how Chinese people's has changed their ideas on Chinese modernization, westernization and democratization.	asc	176-d
Free China Review	periodical; Teacher Reference		A stunning photo magazine which "displays modern Chinese life with affection for the heritage which	asc	7 shapes it." Strong emphasis on Chinese culture with articles on theater, art, dance and music. For teachers and high school students.

Freedom of Religious Belief in China	government report	1997	This report discussed the present conditions of religion in China. Legal protection, government supervision, and management were also covered.	asc	34
From Mao to Money	Documentary video, Resource material, video for 30 minutes	2002	"This is a colorful, ironic look at Chinese society as it is being transformed by burgeoning capitalism. After Deng Xiaoping first allowed private enterprise into new industrial zones, untold wealth has accrued to those who once followed Mao's dictates. We meet a former Red Guard who has become a billionaire, and a family in an old Mao commune which is now quoted on the stock exchange and provides each resident with an	asc	282

			income without working. Once undreamed-of luxuries are shown off with pride. What does one call the new system? Market communism or communist capitalism? One thing is certain -- there is a growing gap between rich and poor. The super rich worry that the government will raise taxes, while the poor worry about how to feed themselves, get health care and an education for their children. As capitalism spreads from Beijing and Shanghai to the provinces, entrepreneurs strive for the greatest profit." -- Asian Educational Media Service
Frontline: China After Tiananmen	video, 60 min		Did the massacre at Tiananmen Square kill China's democratic reform movement? Frontline reporters visit cities and portray a China at the crossroads of economic reforms	asc	174 and generational conflict.

Frontline: Dangerous Straits	video 60 min	1999	The Frontline and New York Times explore the tension between the U. S. and China and the troubles the relationship presents for president Bush.	asc	205
Gathering Mushrooms	children's literature from China	1977	Children's literature from P. R. C.	asc	156
Geography of China	reference		A concise and readable booklet divided into chapters on natural resources, minorities, coasts, islands and harbors, rivers and mountains.	asc	167
Girl from Hunan	video, 95 minutes		An award - winning adaptation of Shen Congwen's novel XiaoXiao- about a teenage girl who enters into an arranged marriage with an infant boy-this film is a powerful critique of the cruelty of Chinese society and tradition, and of the individuals who perpetuate the cruelty towards themselves and their loved ones.	asc	202
GIS- This Is Hong Kong	video,10 min		Production by the Hong Kong	asc	120

			government.
grandfather tan's story: a tale told wiht tangrams	children's literature	1990	Grandfather tells a story about shape-changing fox fairies who try to best each other until a hunter brings danger to both them causing them to help each other. Attached are special directions and samples for making and playing with tangrams.	asc	227
Great Chinese Revolution: 1800-1985, The	teacher background	1986	A narrative history of modern China, but without the formality of a textbook, this masterful account is the result of lifetime of teaching and research. Fairbank sees and communist revolution as the outcome of forces at work in China for nearly 200 years. His book is person, provocative, and always interesting. Selected by Library Journal as one of the best book of the year.	asc	54
Gung Hay Fat Choy "Happy New Year)	student reading	1982	This volume in the "Festivals and Holidays" series depicts in lively, full color	asc	25

			photographs, the celebration of Chinese New Year in the Chinatown of a large U. S. city. Explains the significance of Chinese New Year and shows the holiday as a time of rejoicing, gift giving, family reunions and feasting.
han dynasty	backgroundreading in magazine	2004	"As mighty in the East two thousand years ago as the Romans were in the West, the Han emperors- brilliant, cunning and cruel- left a mark on China that endures today."--national geographic society	asc	300
Health Through KungFu	video, 28 minutes		"This film introduces viewers to the philosophy and origins of Chinese Kungfu, as well as to some of the more than 300 forms of ancient Chinese martial arts. An expert in Chinese calisthenics also demonstrates five popular movements in a stretching exercise. The film exposes the fallacious and make-believe Kungfu that is	asc	216 shown in the movies as the true meaning of Chinese Kungfu is in fact, to counter violence with benevolence and to win with the practice of Chinese virtues. The film makers hope viewers will develop a better understanding of the truth of Chinese Kungfu and its suitability for promoting fitness and well-being in young and old alike."

Heart of The Dragon	3 videos with viewers guides	1985	It is an extraordinary series of one-hour films about life in the P. R. China. "Remembering" (b) examines the significance of Imperial rulers in Chinese history. "Living" (c) captures other aspects of peasant life through a tour of a 30-member, four generations household: visits to a school, a clinic, and a small factory, and scenes of work on construction sites and in the rice fields. (because of economic reforms,	asc	124

			this episode reuses updating.) "Trading" (d) sketches the history of China's business contacts with the West, from its beginning along the overland Silk Route through the opening of China's ports after its defeat in the Opium Wars with Britain. For a century, trading flourished out of such as strongholds of foreign influence as Shanghai. After the revolution and throughout Mao Zedong's regime China's doors were firmly closed again.
Hero	video, 98 mins	2002	A touching story about the attempted assassination to the first king in "Qin" dynasty.	asc	194
Hibiscus Town		1990	The complex story of love and enmity in one village during the ten-year period of the cultural revolution. Reflects touchingly and with humor the devastating and unpredictable effects of political	asc	201 changes on personal lives.

Hibiscus Town			The complex story of love and enmity in one village during the ten-year period of the cultural revolution. Reflects touchingly and with humor the devastating and unpredictable effects of political changes on personal lives.	asc	211
Highly Recommended Audiovisual Resource on China	resource list	1991	A highly selective, thoughtful and short list of video tapes. Well annotated. Gives prices and publishers addresses.	asc	93
Homes in China	curriculum unit, slides	1993	As an introduction to contemporary China, this 6 lesson unit focuses on the home, comparing urban and rural lifestyles.	asc	179
Hong Kong (National Geographic)	literature, periodical	1991	The articles talk about the future of Hong Kong in 1997.	asc	222
Horse Thief	video (99 min)	1987	A visually rich and exotic film about the simultaneous social censure and psychological consolation found in the religious beliefs of a Tibetan man, Rorbu,	asc	23 driven by poverty to steal a clansman's horse.

how the foal crossed the stream	children's literature from China	1981	Children's literature from P. R. C.	asc	158
How to Feed A Billion People	supplementary curriculum unit with slides	1985	This unit integrates teaching about science and society and demonstrates the role of science in the solution of world problems. In a role-play, students assume the roles Chinese villagers and learn about the economic and ecological conflicts China faces in trying to feed over one billion people. Students predict the significance of China's agricultural modernization strategy for the global food crisis. Includes experiments and worksheets specifically for science classes.	asc	71
Human Rights in China	reference	1991,1995	A brief account of China's basic position on and practice on human rights.	asc	122
In Search of Old NanJing				asc	139
In the Name of the		1995	Weaving together	asc	199

Emperor			rare footage of the Japanese occupation, diary entries from American witnesses, and the eyewitness accounts of surviving Japanese soldiers, this video documents the "Rape of NanJing" and raises questions about the Japanese governments' refusal to acknowledge responsibility for the incident.
information on china audiovisual materials	resource guide		A useful collection of information on a wide range of China audiovisuals, including videos, slides, films. Includes annotated resource lists.	asc	165
Instructional Resource From AskAsia.com	Curriculum Units, TEACHER REFERENCE			ASC	242
Island of Vitality	video, 26 minutes		"This film provides an up-to-date introduction to the innovative, high-quality goods manufactured in Taiwan, the Republic of China. Highlights include an overview of Taiwan's sports goods, electronics,	asc	215 shipping, and aerospace industries. This film is appropriate for business groups, entrepreneurs and those interested in the ROC's metamorphosis into an economic powerhouse."

jade mountain: A chinese anthology, the	poems	1957	An anthology of the best poems of the Tang Dynasty(619-906).	asc	104
Journalism from Tian An Men		1990		asc	14
Journey Into China	reference book	1982	Numerous photographs and descriptive text present a portrait of the geographic and cultural diversity of modern-day China.	asc	190
Journey to china: activities for elementary students	slide unites (12), curriculum unit		Ten activity-based lessons in different elementary subject areas explore Chinese road signs, games, intentions, food, money, proverbs, names, paper cuts and daily life.	asc	206
Journey to the East: Tales of China and Japan	audiocassette		Spagnoli, who has spent 6 years in Asia collecting and performing stories, tells 6 stories on this tape. Accompanied by music played on	asc	95 traditional Asian instruments.

Land and People of China, The	text	1989	This well illustrated text, authored by a China scholar, brings a fresh approach to the traditional survey of Chinese history, geography and culture. Begins with an excellent chapter on "What does it mean to be a Chinese?" that addresses the concept of China as the Middle Kingdom the role of language, food, the importance of family, and citizenship and identity in the PRC. Also particularly valuable are the chapters on : key themes in Chinese history; the structure of traditional Chinese society; science and technology; and daily life. Special "boxes" that use primary sources, literature and charts enrich and enliven the book. Recommended also for its comprehensive coverage and	asc	40 lively prose.

Lee Teng-Hui: The Road To Democracy	Literature	1999	Chang Kuo-Kan's memories of his days as a high-ranking official during the Northern Warlords Period in China as well as some of his notes, correspondence and poems.	ASC	245
Letters from ChengDu	supplementary student reading		The East Asian Resource Center at the university of Washington compiled this series of lessons written by teachers who participated in a Fulbright-Hays summer seminar in China. The "letters" are written as if they were from an eleven-year old boy living in the city of ChengDu. Xiao-li writes about many topics, including home and family, animals, stories , paper cuts, Chinese New Year and a visit to Beijing. These high-interest activities can be a springboard to further study or an enrichment of the textbook.	asc	38
lon po po: a red	children's	1989	A traditional story	asc	236

riding hood story from china	literature		from China in which 3 sisters staying home alone are endanger by a hungry wolf that is disguised as their grandmother. Caldecott award-winner.
Made in China: Ideas And Inventions From Ancient China	Children's literature; TEXT BOOK	1996	Explores ancient China's scientific discoveries and technology in this lively account of people, ideas and social changes.	ASC	257 management in chinese cultures	video, 30min color	1998	"As Western companies become more interested in networking and partnering, doing business in the Chinese way may become the next big thing in corporate methodologies. This program describes key elements of modern Chinese entrepreneurship, such as teamwork, harmony, deference to authority, and guanxi- a system of interpersonal relations that stresses covenantal rather than contractual agreement- that differentiate it from the	asc	284

			traditional Western model. The strengths and weakness of both systems are weighed by the chairman of DHL International Ltd, and others, providing a balanced analysis of business in both the Asian- Pacific region and the global market-place. "--Films for the humanities & sciences
Managemjent in Chinese Cultures	Documentary video,Resource material, video for 30 minutes	1998	"As Western companies become more interested in networking and partnering, doing business the Chinese way may become the next big thing in corporate methodologies. This program describes key elements of modern Chinese entrepreneurship, such as teamwork, harmony, deference to authority, and guanxi—a system of interpersonal relations that stresses covenantal rather than contractual agreements—that differentiate it	asc	281

			from the traditional Western model. The strengths and weaknesses of both systems are weighed by the chairman of DHL International Ltd. and others, providing a balanced analysis of business in both the Asia-Pacific region and the global marketplace. (30 minutes, color)" --Asian Educational Media Service
Mao Tse-Tung: An Anthology of His Writing		1972	This anthology of Mao Tes-Tung's essential writings covers almost 50 years-from Mao's coming-of-age amid revolution and civil war to his position as supreme leader of over one-fifth of humankind. In this selection he gives his views on revolutionary strategy and protracted guerilla warfare; his opinions on the value of coalition governments; his theories of political, social, and economic	asc	101 development.

Map of China	map	1997	This official 22" X 29" political map shows provinces in different colors and includes surrounding countries. Place names in pinyin organization with index to former English spelling.	asc	169
Map of The People's Republic Of China	Map	1986		ASC	261
Map of the People's Republic of China	map		"Where is Maoming? Your daughter may ask. With this big colorful wall map of China, you'll be able to answer her question by pointing your finger to the exact spot. This PRC map identifies all the major cities in each province and also shows geographical features, roads and railways. In English. You can hang it on any wall, whether it's at home or in a classroom. Paper, 41.3" x 57.9" -- ChinaSprout	asc	297
Maps and Facts: China	map		The richly detailed, full-color 23' by 35' map of present-day China	asc	5 shows provincial borders and autonomous regions, capitals and major cities, with an insertion of Hong Kong. On the back, outline China's five major regions, document the history of Christianity in China and detail basic economic statistics.

Missouri, Kansas Bi-State Chinese Yellow Page	DIRECTORY	2003		ASC	264
Misty Mountains And Mountain Movers: Using Art And Literature In Teaching About Old And New China	slide unit (29 slides with short student readings), teacher reference book		This interesting unit uses slides of painting and excerpts from philosophical writings to introduce the main ideas in Confucianism and Taoism. It also encourages the students to contrast ideals with the prevailing trends of thought and values in the People's Republic of China today.	asc	9
modern china: the making of a new society from 1939 to the present	supplementary student reading	1972	This is a compact and readable study of the Chinese people, setting Mao's revolution in historical context. Interesting for its sympathetic (though dated)	asc	130 view of the Cultural Revolution.

Modern Chinese Stories	literature	1970	This collection of 20 stories by China's best writers of this century span a period of 50 years, with most written in the period 1949-1966. A valuable medium for understanding modern China.	asc	78
mooncakes and hungry ghosts: festivals of china	students' resource book	1991	This book unlocks the mystery of Chinese festivals. Richly illustrated with drawings, photographs and woodblock prints. Highly recommended. (Consider using in combination with the Chinese New Year Festival Kit available in the resource library.)	asc	230
Mooncakes & Hungry Ghosts	supplementary student reading,	1991	A traditional Chinese story about MoonCakes	asc	142
Mulan	Video, 88 MIN	1993	Disney cartoon movie based on the famous Chinese ancient story.	ASC	248
nagel's encyclopedia- guide china	teacher & advanced student referece	1979	A very comprehensive and small-print encyclopedia that includes the topics geography, population,	asc	127 language, history, minorities, religion, literature, art, the economy and modern culture.

NanJing Landscapes	slide unit		Slides of: A. Qixia Hill, B. Tomb Stone Carving of the Southern Dynasties. C. Zhanguan Garden	asc	119
NanJing: Our Window on China	slide lessons/cassette		This lesson uses Nanjing, St.Louis' sister city in China, to teach about important issues in contemporary China (e.g., overpopulation) and acquaint with many aspects of daily life.	ASC	1 a,b,c,d
NanJing Scenes	literature		A picture album of over 200 color pictures, illustrations and articles that describes the history, landscapes and other areas of the city. The book is both informative and aesthetically pleasing.	asc	218
New Shanghai Circus: The Incredible Acrobats of China			A video about the traditional Chinese Acrobatics. Sponsored by Dr. Y. S. Tsiang Professorship in Chinese Studies, Center For International	asc	291

			Studies, University of Missouri-St. Louis and St. Louis Chinese-American News, Chinese Culture and Education Foundation, Organization of Chinese Americans, and St. Louis Chinese Accociation.
North Carfolina's China Connection	a slide- tape presentation	1981	In their own words, North Carolinians-from missionaries to businessmen, from soldier to educator-convey their experiences of living and working China, 1840-1949. "Sights and sound of a China past."	asc	164
Observation Post 3	children's literature from China	1972		asc	160
Opposing Viewpoints: China	supplementary curriculum unit	1989	Excerpts from speeches and press articles present opposing viewpoints on the questions: Ø How should China modernize? Ø Is China's Economic Reform significant? Ø Does China guarantee human rights? Ø What should U.S. policy be toward China?	asc	75

			Ø Is China a World Power?
Origins of The Chinese Revolution 1915-1949	teacher reference	1971	An excellent comprehensive study that traces the Chinese Communist path to power. Addresses the major problems and controversies of the Chinese Revolution in a broad , sweeping analysis.	asc	57
Peasant Painting From Nanjing	slides			asc	143
People in China	Resource Material		It focus on the population, Chinese Youth, Chinese Women, and Chinese family. It also give a brief introduction on Chinese minority and the impacts of urbanization to the people.	asc	176-c
People's Republic of China: A Basic Handbook, The	teacher reference	1984	Covers many areas of life in conetemporary China, with valuable information on urban and rural life, education and historical background> Many charts, graphs, and chronologies and short bios on political figures. (asc	48

			1979 and 1982 editions also available for borrowing)
People's Republic of China / The People's of China, The	map	1991	This large, two-sided wall map presents on one side a topographical and political map and, on the other, pictures and geographical locations of China's 55 minority peoples. Very attractive and especially recommended for elementary and middle school classrooms.	asc	46
Personal Voices: Chinese Women in the 1980s	supplementary student & teacher reading	1988	A collection of readings that analyze the position of women in the PRC. Chapters on sexuality, courtship, marriage, divorce, work and more. Including many short interviews with Chinese women.	asc	79
Perspectives On Contemporary Chinese Women Through Literature	teacher's reference	1994	Understanding Chinese women's contemporary situation through several Chinese women writers' literature.	asc	189
Play Chinese Games	games	1985	Descriptions and directions for	ASC	67

			making 10 common games, both physical and board or table games. Learning that a number of their own games come from China, will help demystify China for the students. Explains how to make a "Chinese games kit" to be kept in the classroom for future use.
population & other problems	reference	1981	A Chinese government publication on family planning, housing, employment and juvenile delinquency.	asc	133
Publication of the China Council of The Asia Society	publications		A: China's Agricultural Reform: Background and Prospects B: Energy in China: Paradoxes, Policies, and Prospects C: US-China Relations: Basic Document D: Chinese Families and the Four Modernizations E: Media Source Guide on //////////us-China Relations	asc	123

Quotations From Chairman Mao Tsetung		1972	The Little Red Book is a compilation of Mao's teachings that became popular during the Cultural Revolution.	asc	131
Rabbit in the Moon: Folktales From China and Japan	folktales	1995 revised	Features eight Chinese and Japanese folktales that explain the origin of things teach a lesson or relate an adventure. Unit can be used to investigate cultures, identify universal themes in folktales, and practice reading and writing skills. Includes discussion questions, glossary and activities. A set of supplementary slides cost $44.95.	asc	84
Rebels of the Heavenly Kingdom	children's literature	1983	Master story teller Katherine Paterson has woven a powerful and compelling epic tale of the Taiping Rebellion in 19th China. It is a drama of adventure, love, war and hope.	asc	212
Recommended Resource On China	teacher resource guide	1993	These resources are designed to provide a basic list of materials,	asc	198 including both classroom curriculum units and more general resource for class or school libraries.

Red Eggs And Dragon Boats: Celebrating Chinese Festivals	CHILDREN'S LITERATURE	1994		ASC	260
republic of china: marching toward the 21st century	literature	1995	This is an overview of the natural beauty of Taiwan. The pictures are colorful and there is a brief sections covering the geography, climate, education and major topic about Taiwan.	asc	219
Republic Of China: Tibet Series	Text Book		Series of articles printed and published by the Chinese government to promote progress and to advertise recreation in Tibet.	ASC	239
Resource List and Publisher Catalog	Resource Material		It includes a lot of audial-video, books, and periodicals list for China.	asc	176-h
Rural Development in China	curriculum unit	1987	Introduces China's post-1949 rural development experience. Explores the role of agriculture in developing countries, China's recent history and	asc	36 development strategies. Four lessons examine and distribution, the commune system and the present contract responsibility system.

Search for Modern China, The	teacher background	1990	An epic 400 year history of China by one of American's most imminent China scholars. Spence's work is known for its "readability" by non-experts. Begins with the end of the Ming Dynasty and includes the 1989 repression of pro-democracy demonstrations in TianAnMen Square. Depicts China's struggle to define herself as both Chinese and modern.	asc	56
ShangHai: the new chinese way	video, 52min color	2000	"A beneficiary of post- Maoist economic reform, Shanghai has been modernizing at a remarkable rate as foreign investment pours into that venerable city. This program tracks the progress of Shanghai's makeover through the diverse voices	asc	299 of its citizens-children of modernity, swept up in the economic revolution, and elders who have witnessed the evolution of Chinese communism over the course of 20th century. Will Shanghai succeed in its bid to become the new financial and cultural capital of Asia? "--Films for the humanities & sciences

Silk Road Encounters	classroom kit		A comprehensive educational program combining primary source materials and multimedia tools for schools and families across the world to enhance a greater understanding of the rich and dynamic history of the Silk Road. The source book has six thematic sections: Geographical setting, historical background, belief systems, arts, travel of ideas and techniques, and music of the silk road.	asc	292

Sino-American Relations After Normalization	teacher reference	1986		asc	51
Social Change: The Case of Rural China	student text & teacher's guide	1971	The book presents Chinese social issues after 1949 in an unusually lively way. Through stories, letters, personal accounts, etc. The concept of social change is examined in discussions about land reform, the family, communes, health and technology. The teacher's guide suggests a series of activities that effectively involve the student. Though written in 1971, this remains an outstanding unit for teaching about the Chinese revolution. Teacher's guide and set of 17 students books may be borrowed.	asc	32 a-c
Social History of Tibet, China	reference book	1994	This book shows the beautiful, mysterious and enchanting Tibet. It also illustrates briefly, the historical relations between Tibet and the Central areas of China.	asc	221
Son of The Revolution	Literature	1984		asc	35

Source of Chinese Tradition Volume I	background reading	1960	The traditions represented range from Confucianism and Taoism to Buddhism. The volume contains a chronological table of Chinese history beginning with 2852 B. C. up to A. D. 1849.	asc	107
spotling on china: traditions old & new	curriculum unit	1997	Divided into four major sections, The Classical Tradition, The Popular Tradition, Assault on Tradition, and the New Tradition, the objective of this curriculum unit is to help teachers and students contemplate the sweep and range of Chinese histories from 500 B.C to the death of Deng Xiaoping in 1997.	asc	229
Studying China in Elementary and Secondary Schools	teacher reference booklet	1975	A comprehensive teaching aid which offers sequencing of China study for elementary through secondary levels. Suggest key themes as well as activities and resources. A practical, concrete guide.	asc	31
Taipei Review	Periodical	April 2000		ASC	241
TaiWan(Republic of China) Teacher	Teacher Resource Guide			ASC	240

Resource Notebook
Tales Of The Great Wall	Reference book	1997	An interesting book about the Great Wall. A combination of historical narrative, a discussion of cultural artifacts and legendary tales.	ASC	246
Teaching About A Changing China	teacher resource guide		It provides teachers an excellent analytical framework for understanding current events. Including a very useful timeline of Chinese policy changes, 1949-85, a checklist for selecting materials and resource list. Highly recommended.	asc	83
Teaching Chinese History : A Resource Manual	teacher reference	1983		asc	53
The 8th Five-Year Plan: Agriculture, Light Industrial Sector, Township Enterprises : Chinees Business Guide	video (2)			asc	280
The Ballad of Mulan	Children's Literature			ASC	255
The Blue Kite	Video, 138 MIN	1993	Chang Kuo-Kan's memories of his days as a high-ranking official during the Northern Warlords Period in China as	ASC	247 well as some of his notes, correspondence and poems.

The call of the fledgling and other children's stories	children's literature from China	1974	Children's literature from P. R. C.	asc	155
The Cambridge Handbook of Contemporary China	teacher reference	1991	Presents up-to-date information on politics, eminent contemporary figures, China's economy, minorities, education and culture. Includes a chronology since 1900, a gazetteer and many charts and tables.	asc	175
The China Business Guide	teacher reference	1994	The U. S. Department of Commerce has provide a guide of major China trade contacts, the Chinese office in the U.S. and a brief explanation of Trade in China.	asc	220
The Chinese	1,2,3,10,11,14,15,26 each 29 min, videos with books	1991	The Chinese is an outstanding series of video programs that re-package for classroom use and update the Heart of the Dragon Series originally broadcasted by PBS in 1986. This colletion includes, of the 26 programs available, those most appropriate for secondary	asc	118

			students. Remembering, (#2 and #3), provides a good historical overview focusing on the importance on Imperial rule and the legacy of Mao Zedong. Marrying, (#10 and #11), examines tradition and changes in the role of women since 1949, marriage and childrearing. Mediating (#14 & #15), looks at enforcement of the one-child policy and at the importance of putting the group and the family before the desires of the individual. #1 and #26 are highly valuable for teacher background but not recommended for students. #1 Reform in Crisis: The Aftermath of Tiananmen, is an excellent articulation by renowned China scholars of the dilemmas facing China today, i. e., the debate between modernization and westernization; the winners and losers
--	--	--	---	--	--

			in the new economic reforms; and partial reform as the trigger for the Tiananmen demonstration. #26, Facing the Future: China Approaches the 21st Century, focus on the problems of orderly succession, population, the brain drain, the growing divide between rich and poor, rural nad urban. The scholars interviewed describe these possible future scenarios for China. The textbook expands on the themes of the video series with an array of readings on contemporary China, articles by leading scholars, historical documents, stories and poems. Over 100 pages of photos and illustrations. Challenges students to develop their own conclusions.
The Cock Crows At Midnight	children's literature from	1973	Children's literature from P.	asc	157

	China		R. C.
The Concept of Order in Ancient China	Lesson Plan & Tape		A lesson plan to teach students about ways people have tried to create social order during Han Dynasty of China. Small group activities explore how the Chinese created unity through music, philosophy, politics, agriculture, and language.	ASC	251 a, b
The Cultural Contrasts of the Chinese World	video for 43 minutes with book	1991	"This is one of the volumes of International Business Etiquette. The speaker is John Brahm, Partner at Foley & Lardner, an international law firm in Milwaukee. He has served as an advocate in international arbitrations supervised by the International Chamber of Commerce, the Japan Commercial Arbitration Association and the London Court of International Arbitration. Brahm has drafted and negotiated joint ventures, licensing, manufacturing and acquisition	asc	288

			agreements worldwide. You should: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Understand the cultural similarities and diversity of the Chinese world. 2. Identify five practical tips on doing business with the Chinese." -International Business Etiquette
The Culture Connection-China	teacher & advanced student referece			asc	146
The Dancing Dragon	children's literature	1996	"The Chinese New Year is about to begin. There's lots to do--tie strings of firecrackers outside, hang up red scrolls, bake special cakes, and sing New Year's songs. And when family and friends are gathered together, it's time for the parade to begin. This book folds out to reveal all the color and excitement of a traditional Chinese New Year celebration, complete with dancing dragon! Full color. "-- Amazon	asc	294
The Dragon New Year: A Chinese Legend	children's literature	1999	"Set in the words of a wise grandmother passing her	asc	296 traditions on to her adored granddaughter, this enticing tale of a monstrous sea dragon, a mother's sorrow, and a magical Buddha is THE story of how the Chinese New Year came to be. "- Shen's Book

the dragon's gate: exploring oriental art	activity book	1976	This is a wonderfully creative activity book that involves students with Chinese art and is an exploration of values, attitudes and feeling- the artists' and their own.	asc	135
The Face of China As Seen By Photographers and Travelers, 1860-1912	photo essay	1978	A wonderful photo essay book based upon an exhibition of the Philadelphia Museum of Art powerful conveys Chinese society of the time with photos of everything from Buddhist monks to criminals awaiting execution, government officials to improvised peasants.	asc	85
The Genius of China	advanced student and teacher reference	1986	A description of 3000 years of science, discovery and inventions in China. Eye-	asc	177 opening reading about iron plow and seismograph and rockets.

The Ginseng Maiden	children's literature from China	1980	Children's literature from P. R. C.	asc	159
The Historical Status of China's Tibet	TEXT BOOK	1997	This book expounds upon the close relations between the region of Tibet and ancient China making use of rich historical material, especially those showing that Tibet has been a part of Chinese territory since Yuan Dynasty.	ASC	258
The History and Culture of China	curriculum unit		An outstanding, two-week unit on China by a St. Louis teacher. A variety of creative teaching methods, including many group activities. Provides maps, readings, quizzes and black line masters for transparencies. Covers geography, philosophy and religions, the arts and history.	asc	126
The Last Emperor	video for 164 min	1987	This spectacular film won nine Oscars including best picture. Tell the true story of Pu Yi, China's last emperor, from the	asc	88

			death of the Empress Dowager up to his death in 1967. Extraordinary in its re-creation of Imperial China and the Forbidden City. Should be previewed, as the film includes material that may be objectionable to some teachers, students or parents. The video assume some knowledge of Chinese history, so advance preparation may be useful. Come with a teacher's guide.
The Making of Monkey King	Children's Literature		Based on a 16th century classic, "Journey to the West", a monkey sets off on a journey to find the secret of immortality.	ASC	256
The Mao Years	video for 120 minutes	1994	This 2-hour documentary uses spectacular archival footage and superb interviews with witnesses to depict the history of China under the rule of Mao Zedong. A largely critical view of Mao and the suffering his "perpetual	asc	191

			revolution"inflicted on the Chinese people. Wrenching images and stories of the famine caused by Mao's Great Leap Forward, estimated to have killed 30 million people. A lengthy and comprehensive treatment that "humanizes" Chinese history but provides little analysis, eg, fails to ask why the Chinese people accepted Mao's dictatorial rule. For high school, the video should be shown in excerpts, giving students the discussion questions provided, or used by advanced students for individual projects.
The Moon Lady	supplementary student reading	1992	The Moon Lady is the first work for children by the critically acclaimed author- Amy Tan. The story begins in modern day America, when Ying-ying hears her granddaughters clamor about their wishes on a rainy afternoon with nothing to do.	asc	148

			Thinking back to a time when she had many wishes, too. Ying-ying tells them a story from her childhood in China. At the Moon Festival, Ying-ying discovered the nature of wishes-where they spring from and how they are fulfilled...
The Mouse Bride	Children's literature		Set in 19th century rural Taiwan, a father mouse goes to the sun, clouds, wind and a wall in search of a suitable son-in-law.	ASC	253
The Private Life of Chairman Mao	special report	1994	Mao's physician paints a chilling portrait of a dictator and his court.	asc	200
The Seeds and Other Stories	children's literature from China	1972	The fourteen stories included in this book were all written during the Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution. Most authors are young people who took part in the incidents they describe.	asc	151
The Story About Ping	Children's literature	1970	"Ping is a little duck who finds adventure on the Yangtze River. Readers will be anxious to see how	ASC	252 his individuality shines through."

The Year of the Panda	children's literature	1990	It tells a story how Lu Yi nurses the helpless giant panda back to health, and devotes his life to the research of giant panda.	asc	213
The Young Skipper and Other Stories	children's literature from China	1973	This is a collection of four short stories published during the Cultural Revolution. Written by workers in different fields, these stories are characterized by clear-cut themes and a fairly wide range of subjects.	asc	153
Three Monks No Water	Children's Literature		Based on a popular Chinese expression, the story tells about three monks live in the mountains, each believes that he is not responsible for hauling water up the steep slop until a fire breaks out.	ASC	254
Three Ways of Thought in Ancient China	teacher background reading		Poetry, legends, and parables fro the writing of Confucianists, Taoist, and Realist philosophers present the three conflicting points of view that had been developed in	asc	42

			China by the fourth century B. C.
Through Chinese Eyes	text book	1988 revised	Each volume contains a selection of materials written by Chinese which, along with bibliographies and lesson plans, are designed to promote an understanding of Chinese values and modes of thinking. Includes fiction, autobiographies, newspaper and magazine articles and historical documents. Post-Mao materials focus on ongoing political and economic debates within China. Recommend for its approach, accuracy, breadth and depth.	ASC	18 a, b through the legal looking glass-reflectings of peoples and cultures	handbook			asc	184
Tiananmen: The China crisis, June, 1989	Resource Material		It describes the Tiananmen, China crisis June, 1989 from different views.	asc	176-g
Tibet			A three-ring binder containing a collection of materials on Tibet including	asc	171 magazines from China and readings about Tibetan demands for independence.

Tibet Materials from the P. R. C	for student research and teacher reference		Materials (booklets, magazines, articles, etc) about Tibet published by the government of the P. R. C.	asc	237
To Live	video (2 hrs, 13 min)	1994	The video follows a contemporary family across the turbulent face of modern china from the Japanese invasion through Mao's great Leap Forward and the Cultural Revolution.	asc	271
Traditional China: A Teaching Unit	teaching unit	1972	Begins with a valuable teacher background reading on the nature of Imperial Chinese society, i.e. Social structure and the dynastic cycle. Follows with lessons and readings on Confucius, the civil service and literature that illuminate traditional values.	asc	140
Traditional Chinese Celebrations: Continuity and Change in TaiWan	16 slides		Introduces four important Chinese celebrations: The Lantern, Tomb Sweeping, Dragon Boat, and Moon	asc	116

			Festivals. Encourages recognizing commonalties and differences between American and Chinese cultural traditions.
Traditional chinese culture in taiwan			A boxed collection of 21 short brochures on topics including food, folk arts, painting, tea, festivals, kung fu and more. Beautiful full-color illustrations.	asc	173
traditional chinese culture in taiwan	teacher & student resource	1994	Series of descriptive pamphlets about various aspects of Chinese culture in Taiwan.	asc	235
Two Coasts of China: The Asia & The Challenges of the West	video, 60 minutes with guide	1992	With scenes from Mongolia, China, Japan and Southeast Asian, this program traces current economic and political issues to their roots in Asia's distant past, focusing on the tension within China between an insular mainland vision and a cosmopolitan coastal vision. It recreates China's complex past, sometimes glorious and other times humiliating,	asc	192 through a dramatic documentary portrayal of the Mongol invasions in the 13th century, the Opium War in the 19th century, and the modern reemergence of the entrepreneurial dynamism of China.

Two Years in the Melting Pot	student reading	1988	A Chinese journalist, on a scholarship to study in the U. S., recounts his experiences and changing impression with candor. A wonderful adventure in cross-cultural education will give students insight into both Chinese and American cultures.	asc	90
Understanding China in the 21st Century	Cassette, Curriculum units, Activity cards	1995	This unit introduces students to the historical legacies of Japan's military involvement in China during the 1930's and the Tiananmen Square Incident of June 4, 1989; describes China's political situation and economy in transition; explores issues related to	asc	234 human rights and security. It introduces concepts related to Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation.

United States and China, The	Teacher reference	1979	4th edition. The single most authoritative overview of China's modern history and her evolving relationship with the U. S. by one of the founding scholars of the field of Chinese studies.	asc	55
Unofficial China: Popular Culture and Thought in the People's Republic	teacher's background reading	1989	A fascinating exploration of a wide range of previously unexamined topics, from divorce and the problems of urban housing to movies, Catholicism in China and the problems faced by the nation's new class of peddlers.	asc	82
Values in Conflict: Literature on China's Youth	curriculum unit	1988	Explores the value orientations of Chinese youth in the late 1980s. Eight lessons feature a lively collection of biography, short stories and plays by Chinese writers and American	asc	37 teachers.

West To East: A Young Girl's Journey To China	CHILDREN'S LITERATURE	1996		ASC	259
When Cultures Collide: China and the U.S. in the 21st Century	Video, 20 minutes	1998	"It explores China's role as a growing world power. The video looks at China's communist government and its modern history and then explores U. S. relations with China, focusing on China's human rights policies and U. S.- China trade." --Newsmatters Teacher's Guide for this video	asc	290 who will feed china? wake up call for a small planet	worldwatch environmental alert series	1995	"In an integrated world economy, China's rising food prices will become everyone's land scarcity. And water scarcity in China will affect the entire world. China's dependence on massive imports, like the collapse of the world's fisheries, will be a wakeup call that we are colliding with the earth's capacity to feed us." -Worldwatch environmental alert series	asc	228
Why and Its power: a study of the tao te	supplementary student reading	1958		asc	103

ching and its place in chinese thought
Women in China	supplementary curriculum material	1980	This curriculum includes two books of student readings, Women in Traditional China and Women in Modern China and a filmstrip and audiocassette with teachers guide, Women in China. This material uses primary sources, anthropological data, folklore and art to document the roles played by women in Chinese history and today.	asc	96
Yellow Land		1984	This contemplative and controversial film about the harshness of rural life on the banks of the Yellow River in the 1940's signaled the emergence of the "New Wave" of Chinese filmmaking and a renaissance of sorts in Chinese arts and literature.	asc	193