Join the Gateway Writing Project as we explore Ferguson. Travel down the City Walk, a stretch of Florissant Road that is the heart of this great community. Use the city’s sites (including an art gallery, unique shops, and a micro-brewery) to spark a fire in your writing pen, or get your inspiration from a self-guided walking tour of Ferguson’s historic homes. After you explore, find your way to a relaxing spot (like a café or the brewery) and write. After writing, we will gather and share (or just listen to) the words inspired by one of St. Louis’s great places. Before we leave for the day, we will talk about ways to transfer this writing event into a powerful experience for your classroom.
