Search for Full Text Articles Using Journal Citations

On the UM-St. Louis Libraries homepage http://www.umsl.edu/library, click on the Journals by Title tab.

- When you have a:
  - Journal citation
  - Digital Object Identifier (DOI)
  - PubMed ID or MEDLINE Unique Identifier (UI)

Use Journals by Title to look for the article full text in an UMSL library database or in print in the UMSL Libraries.

Enter the title of the journal from the citation (JAMA) and click the Search button. Note: enter the title of the journal, not the title of the article.

A quicker way to find an article is to search by the:
- Digital Object Identifier (DOI),
- PubMed ID (PMID), or
- MEDLINE Unique Identifier (UI) when available.
Reminder: Look for the date range for each database containing full text.

Once you have linked to the database, search procedures may vary. Look for a link to an Archive or to All Issues.

Generally, seek the year, volume, and issue number for your citation.

Finally, look for the article title. Then look for a PDF or HTML link or click on the ARTICLE Linker button.

For additional help, ask at the Reference Desk or call us at 314-516-5060. You can also request a Research Consultation from the libraries’ homepage.