Rash of Resignations After Revision Move

By Bob Fick, Current Reporter

Resignation has followed resignation in the movement for constitutional revision and improved student government on the UMSt campus.

Governmental reorganization and constitutional change have been considered throughout the year and especially in recent weeks. However, the resignation of Mike Hughes as Student Association president at an emergency meeting of the Senate on February 20 brought the entire situation into the open. At that time Hughes, who resigned his post because he felt that under the present constitution he could not operate effectively, presented a petition to the six senators present.

The petition, initiated by Hughes and signed by 560 students, called for a revision of the constitution and student government in general.

At the all-school meeting Wednesday, February 21, a group of students, including one student from each of the student organizations, presented the petition. Richard Galusky, student council president, and Richard Gillingham, student body president, both student government organizations, presented the petition. The petition was signed by 560 students, calling for a revision of the constitution and student government in general.

The meeting itself dealt with the proposed constitution, which was written by students and presented to the Senate. The Senate then decided to accept the proposed constitution. The officials of the student association were charged with the task of drafting the constitution, which would be presented to the Senate for approval. umsl current the second issue of the current that i do not read an editorial or other article critiquing apathy on the umsl campus. the student body, student government, faculty or administration are continually condemned for their general lack of interest in campus affairs, which some consider undesirable for the school.

i feel this view about apathy is totally incorrect. contrary to the belief of many, it is disinterested which keeps umsl running. without it the entire campus would come to a grinding halt. student government meetings would be discontinued for lack of a suitable topic for discussion. the current would not be printed because of a news shortage. the student body would become lethargic without the exciting topic of apathy to keep its conversations bubbling with enthusiasm. with no goal to work toward (the elimination of apathy) the faculty and administration would become confused and ineffective.

thus, this is the lot of apathy on the campus which has made our university what it is today.

Various Aspects of War Examined in Vietnam Week Lectures, Discussions

Speakers representing a wide range of political views highlighted "Emphasis: Vietnam '68". On Monday evening, February 19, Rev. Paul E. Schief, Professor of New Testament theology at Eden Seminary, declared that the clergy can bring a "moral dimension" into discussions about Vietnam.

"America says it has broken international law because Vietnam is not a�试 international law," he explained, "but the way to combat evil is not with evil." "America has broken international law that has set moral standards for the conduct of the war and the treatment of criminals," he said.

"If America disobeys this law, can we expect the citizens of America to obey its laws?"

Reverend Schief represented clergy and Laymen Concerned about Vietnam, an interfaith group that recently discussed the war with Congressmen.

Panel Discussion

Tuesday evening a panel discussion, "Communism vs. Nationalism," was the scheduled event. The speakers, however, felt that the assigned topic was too vague. Dr. Charles Just, M.D., traced the development of the war from the era of Franklin Roosevelt. He condemned the terror tactics of the Viet Cong and quoted several prominent American military men to the effect that we should escalate the war.

Dr. C. A. Ancheta, a Filipino exchange professor at Southern Illinois - Edwardsville, attacked the discussion on two occasions: Shall we pull out of Vietnam? Shall we stop the bombing? Dr. Ancheta attempted to outline the results of these actions. His message generally followed the so-called "domino theory." Dr. Ancheta also cautioned that to "attain perpetual peace is impossible."

"America should speak directly to the people in the domino theory," he said. "If Vietnam were to go to the Communists, Cambodia would immediately go next.Actually, I believe that the U.S. is waiting for the second generation of leaders to take over in Vietnam. These leaders, hopefully, would be more bureaucratic and less aggressive."

Former Diem Adviser

Dr. Raymond DeJamegis, a former adviser to President Diem, spoke Thursday night. His main thesis was that the Chinese Communists are an aggressive people determined to over-run Vietnam and Southeast Asia. He stated that the Americans are deceiving the people by saying that the U.S. is the aggressor. He further stated that the Koreans, Vietnamese and other Asians, who have realized the nature of Chinese aggression for years, support the Americans and believe further emphasis is the Vietnamese love of freedom that has grown up through years of foreign domination.

Friday's scheduled speaker, the Burmese-Buddhist monk U Htut Hlan, was unable to participate.

Delta Zeta To Install Chapter

On March 2, Delta Zeta, the largest sorority with a Greek name, will initiate its 175th chapter at UMSL. Formerly Delta Theta Kappa, the first local was organized on campus, and the newly-formed Tota Xi chapter will have achieved the goal toward which they have been working for the past two years.

As a chapter of Delta Zeta, the members will be able to extend their services to the nationally-sponsored philanthropies; Galen's Hospital for the Blind, and the Children's Hospital for Victims of Poisoning.

Following the traditional initiation ceremony, a formal banquet will be held at Ramada Inn to honor the newly installed sorority and attending national officers of Delta Zeta. Chancellor James L. Begg, Jr., will be the principal speaker, and Dean Harold Eickhoff will accept the charter on behalf of the school.

Dancing the weekend's activities will be a tea and reception Sunday afternoon from 4:00 to 5:30 in the Student Lounge in Benton Hall. The public is invited to attend.

Candidates for degrees from College of Arts & Sciences who have not yet filed a Degree Application and submitted a Degree Program for evaluation should do so as soon as possible, if they plan to graduate in 1965 or 1969. Forms are available in Room 221, Benton Hall.
UNDERTOW
by Mordecai Rivers

In the first several weeks of every semester, college students across the nation are likely to notice quite a few unfamiliar faces dotting their campuses. In the fall semester everyone knows that these new people are called freshmen, and that they are usually quite different from the sophomores, juniors, and seniors, who are almost assuredly not firstsemester freshmen. Who are they, then, and what do they want of us? (7)

Their sudden presence this semester is sensed at UMSL, just as it is at any university. They are not taken indifferently, for the entire group of them might very well be a list of passersby, persons, or at least some of these people could have illimitative names.

Needless to say, the Current, being concerned with the welfare of the administration and student body alike, is quite a few members of these unidentified foreigners and has come up with some very astounding information (sounding enough for a fourth page feature article).

W.T.A.H. -- Normandy Chapter of the National Association of Transfer Students Who Left Their Previous College or Colleges Willingly Or Under Duress And With Or Without Permission; The Bishop's Children and Their Teachers; And Now Intent To Look Over This Here New School That They Transferred Into (Perhaps Without Having Previously Been Particularly Familiar With The Place) and Hope To Benefit By Their Studentship (Should anyone ask). While They Are Here -- sometimes known as Pi Pi Pi Pi, the National Transfer Student Association). Interestingly enough, the entire group is otherwise known as N.C.O.T. (Normandy Chapter of The).

Shockingly enough they have been moneyed about this campus (taking notes as they moose) and giving us an all-revealing sometimes painful, cut-throat evaluation. Gertrude Schwartz, spokeswoman for the group, had this to say: "Get ees woek, lid i swaid dat i was drainn be for aril mah life as tear after gisfort or dip godmenner as simply as ven, two, tree. Warren Bellis, under whose direction the UMSC Concert band has become a success.

Concert Band, Under Bellis, Has Many Possibilities

by Mike Olds

UMSL is a young, growing campus. As such, the byword has necessarily been understimulation: wait and see. However, this school’s University Concert Band has shown what a little dedicated leadership and membership effort can do to help an organization grow faster than the University’s “master plan” would expect.

Under the direction of Mr. Warren Bellis, the Concert Band has grown to a present membership of forty-eight. The Pep Band, a fifteen member offspring of the Concert Band, entertained at several Rivermen games this season. The success of the Pep Band seems to have led the way to the formation of yet another adjacent to the band, the Stage Band. Mr. Bellis explained that the Stage Band would play in the Glenn Miller, popular music style, much in favor at school dances in recent years.

While membership in the Pep and Stage Bands is restricted to the Concert Band members, it is not necessarily to be a music major to win a position in the band. Mr. Bellis explained that the band offered not only professional training for those interested in going into the business, but served an activity as well. He pointed out that this is an advantage shared by few other school organizations. The Band also has a definite leaning toward serving as a Public Relations medium for the University, thus benefitting all in an indirect way.

Senior’s Gift To Library

The Senior Class of 1968 has recently announced plans to present a bronze copy of the University of Missouri seal to the library to be embedded in the floor of the building upon its completion this spring.

According to Senior Class President Bill Zimbaldi, pledges from members of the class are still urgently needed to make the purchase of the seal possible. Although pledges of up to $20.00 have been made, the average contribution from class members has been about $5.00.

Pledge cards for the gift may be obtained in the Student Association office, room 210, Administration building. Class officers request that the cards be filled in and returned to the SA office as soon as possible.

U. Players Announce Cast

The cast has been chosen and rehearsals are underway for the University Players’ Spring production which will be John Osborne’s controversial and history making drama, Look Back in Anger. Osborne’s, whose later successes include The Entertainer, Luther, and Indissoluble Evidence, triggered the trend of “angry young man” plays which has been so prominent in the English theatre since Anger first appeared a decade ago.

The cast for this production, which is probably the U. Players’ most ambitious effort to date, will include John Niemen, Nancy Lary, Tammy Layton, Stephen Heist, and Walter Ruixting. It is being directed by Robert Macek and will be presented on April 6, 7, and 8.

Breaks Two Records

Stemmer Scores 40 as Cagers Win

by Marty Hendin, Sports Editor

Jack Stemmer broke two USML scoring records as the Rivermen won their first road game of the season on Friday, February 23 when they defeated Illinois College at Jacksonville, Illinois 88-70 in their last regular-season game of 1967-68.

Stemmer pumped in 40 points to set new single-game and season-scoring records. The old records, both of which were set by Ron Woods last year, were 37 total points and 37 in one game. Stemmer finished the regular season with 460 points in 20 games for a 23.0 average, the exact same average that Woods compiled last year in 19 games.

The junior from University City hit on 16 of 28 field goal attempts for a .571 percentage and 8 of 12 free throws for 66.7. Stemmer scored his 18th and 19th points of the game with 5:00 left in the first half to establish a season scoring record. His 38th and 39th points, scored with 2:50 remaining in the game, gave him the new single-game high.

Stemmer scored USML’s first eight points in the game and did not stop scoring. He scored in 24 points to lead the Rivermen to a 48-36 halftime advantage. USML took the lead for good with almost fourteen minutes remaining in the first half. Their eighteenth point victory margin was their biggest lead of the game.

In addition to Stemmer’s heroics, the game was memorable in many other ways. Verle “Doc” Holtton scored a varsity career high of 33 points as USML’s two guards combined for 63 points. A spirited group of USML players outplayed the home crowd, and, according to the players, contributed a lot to the USML victory. For seniors Terry Reiter and Ron Clark, the game marked the end of their varsity careers, except for post season competition. Reiter scored six points and blocked several shots, while Clark contributed seven points and ten rebounds.

The Rivermen finished their second season of intercollegiate ball with a record of 13 wins and 8 losses for a .615 percentage. Their two year record is 25-15, a .625 mark.

JV Ends Season

Pending the outcome of Wednesday’s varsity game against Rockhurst College, the JV varsity, now 7-1 on the year, will end their season Saturday March 2 when they take on St. John’s College at Concordia. If the varsity defeated Rockhurst, they will play Drury College in the start of a playoff for the NAIA Tournament. The Jayckees’ scheduled game against the Jayckees for varsity on February 24 was cancelled due to a lack of players for McKendree.

VOID after March 14, 1968
Girls' View of Basketball
by Carol Pratt and Linda Doctez

Near the cornfields of Jackson-vilie, Illinois, the Rivermen of UMSL (and not UMSL as stated in the IC programs) met the Illinois College Blueys last Friday night for the last game of the regular season.

Setting out at 5:00 p.m., Rivermen fans braved not only the chill
wind and the uneventful Illinois scenery, but also the grand prix manuevering of their bus driver, "Pershell Jones." He shrugged off his unshackled stop at the Jacksville Junior High with a nonchalant, "Whoa about it!" and was able to finally locate the College gym with minimal difficulty.

The fans arrived a little after seven o'clock. The gym was empty except for the program hawker, and the ticket seller who had arceded hairline that made you Bryner look like he needed a haircut. For some strange reason, skinhead admitted everyone without making them pay the fifty-cent admission. When he finally realized his non-profit sale blunder, he very boldly told a small group of shy, unassuming UMSL con-coats that they had to pay or they could not get back in the gym.

After collecting $2.50 from them,
he failed to press the issue further.

Game time was eight o'clock.
Seven bouncing charmers pledging a local fraternity were ridicuously dressed for the occasion as overbearing cheerleaders. IC's regular cheerleaders, all looking like Xerox copy machine products, may have needed help, but certinly not from the parading "Flora-dora" girls.

IC's cheering section surrounded that of the UMSL fans who parked themselves right under the secction of bleachers. UMSL fans out-cheered IC's and won overwhelmingly in laryngitis cases. The fans broke up in wild laughter as they watched the seven frat pledges cheer their team on to a smashing defeat.

The shiny pink head returned on the scene and crept upper under the skin of UMSL fans as he demanded that the rhythmic beating of the Newman Club's drum be stopped immediately. It caused a bad echo, even over-echoing the IC brass and percussion pep band.

After giving him the UMSL box, the fans continued beating the drum.

Don't spend it running around to pay your bills or purchase money orders. A mere $10 will deliver your check. Your cancelled check is your receipt. Your check book will help you manage your money more wisely and help prepare you for business or homemaking in the near future.

the results of the game were not available for publication in this issue of the Current.

The Rockhurst Hawks finished the season with a record of 12-14
but were entitled to play UMSL
because of their national reputation and their 77-70 victory
over SouthWest Baptist on Febru-

The Hawks' leading scorer is jun-

of an injury. The Kansas City team also boasts two other St. Louis of Mercy High and junior Mike McEvoy of DeBourg.

The winner of Wednesday's game
will face MCAU champions Drury College of Springfield, Missouri
in a two-of-three playoff to deter-
