HHH To Become Chancellor

Will Bring Academics of Joy

by Richard Dagger

Humberto Horatio Humphrey, former Vice-President of the United States, will become Chancellor of SLUM July 1, 1969, the Chancellor Search Committee announced today.

"I'm proud as punch to be appointed to this important position at SLUM," Humphrey told a press conference. "It certainly is a step-up from the Vice-Presidency." Humphrey, who won the appointment after a hotly-contested campaign in which he was the only candidate, reiterated his pledge to bring the "academics of joy" to SLUM. "My first official act," he said, "will be to appoint a new Dean of Student Affairs -- Hugh Hefner."

The Chancellor-elect stated that he will further implement his "academics of joy" program by granting the food service concession to Anheuser-Busch, Inc. "This should bring the cafeteria issue to a head," he said.

Other planks of Humphrey's joy platform include erection of student unions, boards on Bugg Lake; construction of a drive-in theater for student parking on the back lot at night; increased medical benefits for students suffering from ptomaine disease; and a three-year contract, terminating in the summer of 1972.

General Education Courses Expanded

At a recent meeting of the Faculty Committee on Curricula, the decision was announced that general education requirements in the fields of mathematics, science, history, psychology, and sociology would be expanded to meet those of the language department.

A spokesman for the committee stated that the argument presented by the language faculty in defense of their requirements convinced other faculty members that the need existed for increased study in their respective areas.

The committee agreed that the growth in "adequate" knowledge of a particular subject one should take at least 14 hours of study in each academic year to fulfill the requirements.

As a result of the committee decision, it will take at least six full academic years to fulfill the general education requirements necessary to obtain a bachelor of arts degree.
