Chancellor James L. Bugg, Jr., submitted a four-point proposal to the Senate Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate last Monday, which proved a win on “presenting to the faculty an amendment to the By-laws which would substitute for the thirty faculty additions another thirty student members.”

Three other points of the proposal proved highly received by both critics and the public alike. In 1965, Mr. Gilroy has written a straightforward, realistic play that wears its simplicity of gesture, that very nearly opens the door to an unexpected--but most plausible--poetry.

The New York Times, shortly after opening night, reported, “Mr. Gilroy...has written a straightforward, realistic play that wears its simplicity of gesture, that very nearly opens the door to an unexpected--but most plausible--poetry.”

The question of student representation on the Faculty Senate lies many a faculty member open for conviction, in the words of Dr. Charles Dougherty, chairman of the English department. The Chairman cited a “number of reasons” for making the recommendation, which include the success with which similar programs have met with other campuses, and that “it is inevitable that student participation in policy-making will increase rapidly in the next few years... it is better for faculty and administration to recognize the forces in advance of the students, in the door before they face demands that this be done.”

J. B. Bugg, chairman of the Senate Executive Committee, told the Current that the committee discussed the proposal at the April 7 meeting, and added “The committee is going to endorse the idea of student representation on the Senate in a meaningful way.”

Dr. Primm stated that as far as he knew, there was “no discussion among faculty members to adopt the Chancellor’s proposal without some modifications. The proposal will serve as a study document, from which we can begin considering allowing students on the Senate,” he said. “The next Executive Committee will propose to the Faculty Senate that it elect five faculty students to study the entire question and make recommendations as soon as possible.”

The meeting of the Faculty Senate was Thursday afternoon, but the Current went to press before the meeting was to be held.

By Adrienne Beaudoin

Frank D. Gilroy’s The Subject Was Roses will be presented by UMSL’s University Players this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 11, 12 and 13 in the 250-seat Benton Hall. Curtain time will be 8:00 p.m. Tickets are $7.75 for students and faculty, $12.25 for general admission. They will be available at the box office, the door before all performances.

The building will contain classroom and office building have been approved by the University Board of Curators.

No unofficial notices are allowed on department boards. All announcements on the calendar boards should be on 3 by 5 inch index cards.

The seven committee members are assisted by 25 subcommittee members. “The problem of communication cannot be solved only by a committee,” Miss Kettering said, “but it must comply with President Weaver’s statement on “ILIT.””

No unofficial notices are allowed on department boards. All announcements on the calendar boards should be on 3 by 5 inch index cards.
Students and the Faculty Senate

Chancellor Baggs' proposal to the Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate that students be allowed as voting members is praiseworthy and timely. UMSL is young, and hopefully it can avoid many of the errors of the past. The opportunity to participate in the area of cultivating and integrating student opinion in vital administrative decision-making processes. It is not difficult to see that a primary cause of such campuses' failure has been a lack of contact between a university's administration, faculty and student body. The Current feels that the Chancellor's proposal is a giant step toward bringing these three groups closer together at UMSL.

A second consideration is, how many students should be seated and how should they be chosen? The Current believes that the process should not be too hasty. Faculty by-laws will have to be revamped, student government must be stabilized, and many technical problems will have to be met. It will also be of considerable importance in the setting of precedence at UMSL. If substantial procedural details can be worked out in the next semester, the incorporation of students could begin next Fall and be completed by the beginning of the Winter semester, next year. The process should be done with caution and deliberation.

White Man's Challenge

One year ago last Friday, America lost one of its greatest leaders, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. His death, the result of a white man's bullet, came at a crucial time in the development of civil rights protest in the United States; Dr. King, a 1965 recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize and the chief exponent and symbol of peaceful social protest, died when his philosophy of non-violence was on trial.

That changes in the social structure in the United States are both badly needed and overdue is obvious. But such changes cannot be set so low that their presence be viewed as mere tokenism. The question of how they are to be elected and what their qualifications should be must be answered. Finally, this process must be considered carefully. When should students assume duties and responsibilities on the Senate? The Current believes that the process should not be too hasty. Faculty by-laws will have to be revamped, student government must be stabilized, and many technical problems will have to be met. It will also be of considerable importance in the setting of precedence at UMSL. If substantial procedural details can be worked out in the next semester, the incorporation of students could begin next Fall and be completed by the beginning of the Winter semester, next year. The process should be done with caution and deliberation.

Letters: Separatism, Search and Suppression

Dear Editor,

The recent letter in the Current penned by ABC protesting the naming of the new so-called integrated college campus.

In the last five years the character of UMSL's campus has changed radically, but the university has been entirely too slow in allowing the black student to share in the same benefits the white student now has. That is to say he was a member of the black bourgeoisie, claiming so affinity with his black brother in the ghetto. His only goal was to get his sheepskin, become "Olin' nigger V.P." at General Motors, and become the first Negro resident of a theretofore lily-white neighborhood in the suburbs. He was, consciously or unconsciously, striving to become white.

Witnessing the failure of integration, the young black student in this disillusionment searching for an answer, was a ripe audience for infiltration of the "new militant" ideas.

This changed student now presents any attempt to transform him into a middle-class American. He guards his blackness ferociously, rejecting almost all things white. Along with this rejection of "white" has come a demand for a knowledge of black history and culture which has been debated and ignored for centuries. Equipped with this knowledge, the young black has come to the realization that what is relevant to the life of white America is not necessarily relevant to the life of black America. He is now saying, "Your heroes are not our heroes, why should black people revere Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, why do we not revere that Marcus Garvey or Malcolm X?''

What the black student wants is an education relevant to his life and heroes, as well, relevant to his history. This problem can only be reconciled by establishing a separate black school for study of African and Afro-American studies for blacks only, such as the one that exists on the Antioch campus.

Dear Editor,

A number of students have been complaining about the guard who checks books and briefcases at the exit of the library. They claim that it is an infringement on their rights and their integrity. I can see that point to a certain extent. It is irritating at times and also a nuisance.

However, I wonder how many of these people have considered the rights of the University to expect that its property would be respected. The library loses a number of books every year that cost as much as and perhaps more than those $8.95 to $12.00 textbooks we are forced to buy each semester. Whose property is it that they claim to be taking from the students? Do these skiers have valid points?

It is my opinion that the library is the party whose "right" should take precedence because it stands to lose more by a long shot than the individual who can't say, really, that he's lost a great deal by submitting to the check. You don't lose your integrity by doing that, and if you say it's insulting to have your integrity questioned on that ground, why wait to be questioned? Show your integrity by presenting the material that must be checked before you asks for it. I think a lot of people have the wrong attitude. Everyone talks about his rights these days, which is just fine, and in a great many cases it is valid. But what ever happened to the old rule of give and take that is necessary for life to go together? Everyone's got to give a lot more than he wants, to get along. If everyone egotistically demands his rights and tries to receive them without ever giving anything, what a hell this world would be.

Nominate and assert your idealistic views, but be a little generous too and don't make a fuss over situations where others may have more rights than you.

Name Withheld by Request

Dear Editor,

While visiting your campus on March 26, I picked up a copy of your Current. My first impression was of a paper well constructed until I read your editorial entitled "Separation of Expressions." Perhaps your readers should be aware that the four students accused of selling "obscene" literature were not just individuals, but members of the radical group known as The Students for Democratic Society and that those four students along with the entire SDS chapter had refused to heed the warning by Dr. Weaver to stop distributing the literature on campus.

It is my belief that if after all...

(Continued on page 3)
And More Letters: Obscenity, 'Bons Mots at Twenty Paces', and Serendipity Day

Dear Editor,

The article "Suppression of Expression" which appeared in the March 20 edition of the UMSL Current raised a few thoughts in my mind that I would like to share.

The article opened, "On March 19, four students of the University of Missouri-Columbia were scheduled to appear in Magistrate Court on the charge of selling "obscene" literature." Later in the article you ask whether university officials or any other officials have the right to judge anything as being obscene or not.

In answer, I would say no. University officials do not have the right to judge anything as being obscene or not. But as long as the state of Missouri has laws against obscenity publications, they, and everyone else, "does" have the right to charge a person with breaking the law. It is then up to the courts to judge. It is these officials that have been vested with the right to judge.

With this in mind, I propose that the question is not "Do university officials have the right to charge?" but rather, "Do University of Missouri students trust the officials not to abuse this right?" And in the same breath, "Have the students any reason not to trust them?"

Sincerely,
Steven Culitis

---

Is it possible to be passed by at 30?

Absolutely. If you're a 30-year-old engineer who's failed to keep up with the latest developments in his field.

Because Western Electric's an acknowledged industrial leader in graduate engineering training, that's one worry engineers don't have. Our nearby-completed Corporate Education Center near Princeton, N. J., for instance, will have a resident staff of over 100. More than 310 engineering courses will be offered, and about 2,400 engineers will study there in 1969. It's the most advanced facility of its kind.

Ask around. You'll find that when it comes to anticipating change, Western Electric is way out in front. And we make every effort to keep our engineers there too. See our recruiter or write College Relations, 222 Broadway, New York, N. Y. 10038.

A lot of study, and hard work, never hurt anyone.

---

Dear Editor,

Just about the time I have convinced myself that there is no such thing as two cultures, along comes a social scientist-like Professor McKenna to puncture my idealistic balloon. And so I will be most willing to take a course in economics provided that the professor will take at least one in the humanities.

I am afraid, however, that the economics course I elect will have to be one that is a little less theoretical and far more pragmatic than the one he proposes. It will have to allow for the harsh realities of present-day life, such as the mysterious black bags that budget-makers - academic and governmental alike - always seem to have available for a necessity.

And I assume that the student suitor-vey was just such a necessity; hence the haste to enact it. This economics course must also be one that stresses that when you buy steak, you get steak and not below; so when you pay for a survey on student attitudes toward student activities, you get just that and not a potpourri of sociological data. Let the Sociology Department budget pay for that, if it wants to, not the student activity fee.

Granted that my economic sense is deficient, my ethical one is less so. I had no desire to forfeit part of Dr. McKenna's salary or all of mine to pay for the survey. His competence is beyond question, as is his right to his salary, and I can only hope that mine is not totally ridiculous. However, if Dr. McKenna insists, I would be willing to provide him with a list of those salaries which could have been sacrificed in order to finance the survey.

There is one matter on which both Dr. McKenna and I would certainly agree. We have taken too much of the Current's space with our debate, and so I would propose to end it once and for all with a duel on the left bank of the lake; the weapons: bons mots at twenty paces. Last Dr. McKenna consider the challenge an unbalanced one -- an assistant professor of English pitted against a full professor of economics. I would be willing to give him any odds he might desire. En garde, Professor McKenna.

Very sincerely,
John T. Onuska Jr.
Assistant Professor of English

Dear Editor,

A very large thank you to the Alumni Association for its Second Annual Serendipity Day. All the comments from prospective students and their parents were filled with praise. The entire program was exceptionally well organized.

The students who helped host the reception and the guides, both student and alumni, certainly deserve the thanks of the University for their services. The large number of faculty members present helped to make the day a roaring success.

Again, many thanks to all those who helped.

Sincerely yours,
Harold Eckhoff
Dean of Student Affairs
Clark Kerr, former president of the University of California, told an UMSL audience March 26 that higher education will face many serious problems in the 1970's. He noted the large strides that higher education has taken since 1959, especially providing highly technological society with skilled graduates, but also warned that "failure has followed from success, and from the progress that has been made, many problems have emerged."

"The single greatest problem," Kerr said, "is to bring greater equality of opportunity for a higher education to more people. The of society and the available facilities, "because a pluralistic framework provides many different forms of services." While university enrollments have been constantly increasing, we have not been facing the problems of internal structure. A university is a very complex community. It is at once a market, a guild, a democracy, a bureaucracy, a permanent corporation, and a religious order, all of which present a problem in governing.

The UMSL History Club, received temporary recognition March 25. Christine Schillinger, a member, said the goals of the group are three-fold: 1) to further academic purpose and the goals of the students at the University of Missouri -- Saint Louis; 2) to recognize student excellence in publications through the University of Missouri -- Saint Louis; and 3) to provide for better faculty-student relationships in the department of history.

The officers' titles are appropriate for a history club, David Singer, a European History major, is the club's shogun (president); Gig Gwin, an Asian History major, is vice-regent (vice-president) and ambassador to the Central Council; Miss Schillinger, an English major, is club scribe (secretary); and Bob Horton, another European History major, is chancellor of the exchequer (treasurer). The club mascot is Luzhin, the Royal Hound. Miss Schillinger told a Current reporter, "Luzhin is the shogun's permanent escort to all club social activities."

Miss Schillinger is also chairperson of the publicity committee. Vince Schoenholz is chairman of the social committees. An American History major, Peter Franz, heads the publications committee, which is intended to publish a quarterly magazine containing the best articles submitted by all departments.

"Chancellort Bagg is a charter member of the History Club. Other members include Doctors Burns, Primm, Rhode and Toohill; Professor Lyle Doretti, and Hal Sears, winner of a Danforth Foundation Fellowship. The club's faculty advisor is Dr. Boucher.

The History Club, not restricted to history majors, is seeking members. Any interested party may contact any officer. Dues are $1 per month. There are fifty paid members, since the club's first two meetings.

According to Miss Schillinger, the club is broadening its horizons; not only are reports on the History Club have entered a basketball team in the intramural list. What is the team called? The 1848 Revolutionists, what else?

College Students, Preferably married Two Evenings and Sat. Earn $50.35 per week Apply 8600 Delmar, Suite 11, 10 a.m. Sat.

IS THIS YOU?

I am opposed to the Viet Nam War (and any such war that is not based upon defense of our country). Please send me application to the Ministry of your church, as well as information as to its beliefs and membership throughout the world.

It is my understanding that if I am accepted to the ministry of your church, I can not conscientiously participate in any military involvement not directly concerned with the defense of our country or its possessions. I further understand that training will not interfere with my normal work or academic schedule, and I can choose my own location of service to God and humanity.

Enclosed is $1.00 to cover clerical expenses and cost of mailing.

NAME______________________________AGE
ADDRESS____________________________
CITY____________________STATE____ZIP

Mail entire ad to: Church of the Humanitarian God; P. O. Box 13236; St. Petersburg, Florida 33733.

ASK ABOUT THE NEW
Eurobus Pass
GOOD FOR UNLIMITED TRAVEL IN EUROPE
GROUP AIR FARES ALSO AVAILABLE
Telephone AX 1-4055
TRAVEL DESIGNS
393 NORTHWEST PLAZA
ST. ANN, MISSOURI 63074

Sunday, April 13 . . . Pass it on Pizza Eating Contest!

WATCH THE BATTLE OF THE BIG MOUTHS -- SUN. AT 8 PM.
You'll see the following BMOC's competing in the first heat of our pizza eating championship,
Tom Wootz of APO
Doug Sutton of Current
Steve Heit of University Players
Gary Kiefer of TGI
Gerry Girinder of Sig Pi

Biola Club

Come on in ... root for your favorites ... join the fun.

SHAKESY'S
Pizza Parl or &
Ye Public house
10427 St. Charles Rock Road in the St. Ann Shopping Center
WANT TO EAT AND COMPETE? Your club or group can be represented in the next heat ... and possibly win the grand prize. Call Paul Bange (Current Office) and enter now.

"Roses" (Continued from page 1)

the hearts of three decent people and discovered, by letting them discover, the feelings that divide and join them. Although it is deceptively quiet in its reserve, The Subject Was Roses never loses a beat in its building of mood and conflict. It knows where it's going. It makes every line and gesture work and convey meaning. "It's its externals, The Subject Was Roses is the simplest of your ads; you are inclined to wonder at the beginning just how much strength can emanate from merely three characters and a single set. How far can you go with that? To the most profound depths of the human heart; that's how far Gilroy takes us. Along the way he blends the humor and poignancy of family relationships into a play as beguiling as it is honest," New York World-Telegram.

The University Players' cast includes Mary Lacey as Nettie, Sam Jack as John and Michael Jones as Timmy. The production is under the direction of James Paul, former director at the Gateway Theater and Harvard University.

Free Mixer

The Activities Planning Committee will sponsor a free mixer Saturday, April 19, starting at 8 p.m. at the Administration Building. The dance will be headlined by two bands, Soul Society and The Soul Tree. Free soda, potato chips and pretzels will also be provided. The dance is funded by student activity fees.
Playtex-invents the first-day tampon™
(We took the inside out to show you how different it is.)

Outside: it’s softer and silky (not cardboardy).
Inside: it’s so extra absorbent...it even protects on your first day. Your worst day!
In every lab test against the old cardboardy kind... the Playtex tampon was always more absorbent. Actually 45% more absorbent on the average than the leading regular tampon.
Because it’s different. Actually adjusts to you.
It flows out. Fluffs out. Designed to protect every inside inch of you. So the chance of a mishap is almost zero.
Try it fast.
Why live in the past?

Playtex*invents the first-day tampon™

Time Ad Promotes Urban University
A one-page advertisement promoting UMSL as an urban university appeared in the April 4 issue of Time magazine distributed to nearly 45,000 metropolitan St. Louis area subscribers.
Joe Finnegan, assistant director of the Office of Public Information, said Time Inc. offers free advertising space to universities. He said OPI had prepared the copy and layout in conjunction with Gardner Advertising Company of St. Louis, which gave free advertising. A spokesman for the agency said such an advertisement normally costs $810.
"The sole purpose was to bring attention to the campus," Finnegan said. "Our purpose was to solicit funds...since there are certain definite restrictions placed on a state university in that area."
The advertisement was placed full and submitted to Time in November. The magazine informed Chancellor James L. Bugg Jr. of the publication date in a telegram Thursday, March 27.

Foreign Language Courses Limited in Summer School

By E. R. Roland

The needs of students taking one of the University's four foreign languages may not be satisfied by the courses offered in summer school this June. Nine day courses and one six-week course in Spanish are presently offered.
Department chairmen have chosen courses in Spanish, French and German almost entirely on the basis of past summer enrollment figures. No courses are offered in Russian. The selections were made without reference to the number of potential registrants or the number of students who may need particular summer courses to meet graduation requirements.
Dr. Edward Costello, acting associate dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, said potential registrants for summer school language courses have never been polled or surveyed. Dr. Costello, who is in charge of summer school appropriations, said such a survey might not be administratively feasible because it would be time-consuming and expensive.
"What we do is largely guess," he said. "We try to match the courses with the budget."

"Test" Survey

The inquiry by a Current reporter into summer school course selections has led to a "test" survey of potential registrants for German courses to be offered in the summer semester. Several students have questioned the selection of German II (104) which is aimed at biology, chemistry, and physics majors rather than German II (102) which is required for all students who wish to complete their fourteen hour language requirement. However, science majors may substitute Scientific German for the final three-hour course.

It is also hoped the survey will determine how course selections will affect graduation dates for seniors. All German classes will eventually be surveyed to determine potential registrants for day and evening offerings.

Dr. Noble has agreed to reconsider changes in the summer schedule if the survey indicates that such changes would accommodate student needs better.
Professor of history, feels that student representation is established. "If I sit in on three or four of these faculty positions on issues in the continued, channels in the workings of university governing bodies are to be split cleanly into the workings of university relations between the administration and the faculty. On the other hand, I doubt there would be a large enough percentage of students sitting in back and throwing in a few words per meeting." Mr. Paul has refused to update Rose 1 and 2 as all in 1 is conducting the discussions. "The three actors have had no intellectual difficulty in understanding their characters. After only the first reading, I was already pleased with their grasp of the psychology behind the characters."

Asked about future of theater at UMSL, Mr. Paul emphasized it would be a good investment. "I feel it's unwise to make any final decisions now. As far as I can see, there's no point where they come together. On the other hand, I can't see much merit in the student representation if it comes from the student body."

Dr. Alan G. Krenzler, chairman of the department of psychology, recommended. "Open meetings of the faculty council will be held in any meeting in the campus community may attend, with the actual vote limited to members of the Senate. "You are not in this alone. As an individual, you don't have any voting rights in the Senate."

According to Mr. Paul, a small theater is a much better training ground for young actors than a theater seating 400-500 people. "In a smaller theater, you have a reasonable run where the actor learns to sustain a role and develop depth. Three nights is hardly long enough to really feel a character in relation to an audience."

James Paul, Director of "Subject Was Roses", Talks About Theatre

Your last check from home just bounced?

Think it over, over. coffee. The Think Drink.
Netmen Lose First Matches

UMSL's tennis team started their 1969 season on the wrong foot April 2 when they faced a tough squad from Washington University and lost 8-6. The Rivermen continued their poor start April 7 when they lost to St. Louis University 8-1.

The Rivermen will be trying for revenge Saturday when they will face Parsons College in a home match starting at 10:00 a.m. UMSL lost to Parson 6-0 last year in their 2-7 campaign.

UMSL Coach Dr. Carl Brummett is counting on four returning lettermen, Stuart Lerner, Don Brindley, Mike Lehman and Kevin Lerner, to help the Rivermen this season and is serving as Brummett's assistant.

Following is the remainder of the 1969 tennis schedule:

APRIL
12 Parsons Home
14 Millikin Away
18 Westminster Away
22 Concordia Away
25 Drury Away

May
1 Millikin Home
6 Concordia Home

Jack Stenner Named Honorable Mention NAIA All-American

UMSL basketball star Jack Stenner was recently named as an honorable mention NAIA All-American. The 6-3 guard averaged 24.3 points per game this season and ended his three year UMSL career with a school record 1258 points.

Others named as Missouri honorable mention all-stars were Carl Cook of Rockhurst, Tom Spohr of William Jewell, Tony Robertson and Lance Rogers of Culver-Stockton and Roland Schultz of Drury.

High Point College guard Eugene Littles was one of ten players in the country to be named to the All-American first team. Drury's Virgil Fredrick was named to the third team.

Basketball star Jack Stenner is shown with the trophy he won as the most valuable player of the heart fund game played March 29 in Springfield, Mo. Stenner scored 15 points in the game which matched outstanding senior basketball players from Missouri, and held William Jewell star Tom Sponcil scoreless in the second half.

In final NAIA nationwide statistics, UMSL was 15th in the country in offensive output with 95.9 points per game and 21st in field goal percentage with .509. Stenner's 24.3 average placed him among the top 50 scorers in the country.

Golfers Compete In Florida

April 2 marked the opening of the 1969 Varsity Golf Season, as a six-man team traveled to Cape Coral, Florida, to compete in the Gulf American Intercolligate tournament. The tournament, consisting of forty teams from sixteen states, held play for four days with some of the top Eastern college teams contending for the title. The University of Florida took honors as they captured their fifth consecutive title.

Tom O'Hare, junior, led the UMSL squad as he stroked a 329 for the par 72 course. The tournament consisted of four 18-hole rounds as junior Dennis Solliday finished with a 334. Dennis Chester, junior, and Don Marks, freshman, both recorded a 347. Junior Tom Cradick tallied a 349 and Kent AufderHeide turned in a 352 card.

Following is the remaining 1969 golf schedule:

APRIL
11 Westminster & Greenville Home
13 St. Louis U. & Wash. U. Away
17 St. Louis U. & Wash. U. Home
22 Southeast Mo. State Away
29 St. Louis U. & Wash. U. Away

MAY
5 III. Col. & Rose Poly Away
9 SIU-Edwardsville Home
13 Principia College Away
23-29 Urban Alliance Mt. Away

June 10-13 NAIA National Championships Away

WANTED:
Film Scripts or Short Stories
Company to produce a film. Material will be returned. Send to Neil Senturia, 8 Little Lane, 63124.

EDITORIAL ASSOCIATES
* Copy Editing
* Indexing
* Proofreading
* Typing
* Manuscripts
* Thesis Revision
Write
P. O. Box 569
Edwardsville, Illinois

Hubbell Jewelry
No. 21
NORMANDY SHOPPING CENTER
Complete Selection of Charms and Gift Items
Watch and Jewelry Repair
CO 1-2806
Baseballers Hurt by Rain

by Mike Olds

"The Rivermen will get their feet wet, so to speak, in a game with St. Louis Post Dispatch, March 30, 1969. How's that for famous last words, sports fans? Sure that Mr. Tuthill did not intend that his words be taken so seriously. Last weekend's rains ran the Rivermen aground on mud.

I'm sure that Mr. Tuthill did not intend that his words be taken so seriously. Last weekend's rains ran the Rivermen aground on muddy Forestwood Field Saturday in their scheduled season opener.

The rainout was anything but welcome to UMSL Coach Arnold Copeland. "Everyone else is way ahead of us," he said, emphasizing UMSL's late start. Copeland went on to point out that the fledgling Rivermen needed the experience that can only come in game action. The situation was worsened because the team's practices were put off for a time due to Copeland's duties as assistant coach of the district champion basketball team.

The team that took the field at Greenville last Tuesday sported a baseball schedule:

March 28:
- St. Louis Post Dispatch, March 30, 1969.
- UMSL's baseball Rivermen also boast of the Metal Office Building.
- The three teams in the women's basketball league will play April 16-18 to decide their champion.
- Teams can start signing up for men's, women's and co-ed volleyball which will begin after five man basketball ends.

The team that took the field at Greenville last Tuesday sported a baseball schedule:

March 28:
- St. Louis Post Dispatch, March 30, 1969.
- UMSL's baseball Rivermen also boast of the Metal Office Building.
- The three teams in the women's basketball league will play April 16-18 to decide their champion.
- Teams can start signing up for men's, women's and co-ed volleyball which will begin after five man basketball ends.

The situation was worsened because the team's practices were put off for a time due to Copeland's duties as assistant coach of the district champion basketball team.

The team that took the field at Greenville last Tuesday sported a baseball schedule:

March 28:
- St. Louis Post Dispatch, March 30, 1969.
- UMSL's baseball Rivermen also boast of the Metal Office Building.
- The three teams in the women's basketball league will play April 16-18 to decide their champion.
- Teams can start signing up for men's, women's and co-ed volleyball which will begin after five man basketball ends.

The team that took the field at Greenville last Tuesday sported a baseball schedule:

March 28:
- St. Louis Post Dispatch, March 30, 1969.
- UMSL's baseball Rivermen also boast of the Metal Office Building.
- The three teams in the women's basketball league will play April 16-18 to decide their champion.
- Teams can start signing up for men's, women's and co-ed volleyball which will begin after five man basketball ends.

The team that took the field at Greenville last Tuesday sported a baseball schedule:

March 28:
- St. Louis Post Dispatch, March 30, 1969.
- UMSL's baseball Rivermen also boast of the Metal Office Building.
- The three teams in the women's basketball league will play April 16-18 to decide their champion.
- Teams can start signing up for men's, women's and co-ed volleyball which will begin after five man basketball ends.

The team that took the field at Greenville last Tuesday sported a baseball schedule:

March 28:
- St. Louis Post Dispatch, March 30, 1969.
- UMSL's baseball Rivermen also boast of the Metal Office Building.
- The three teams in the women's basketball league will play April 16-18 to decide their champion.
- Teams can start signing up for men's, women's and co-ed volleyball which will begin after five man basketball ends.

The team that took the field at Greenville last Tuesday sported a baseball schedule:

March 28:
- St. Louis Post Dispatch, March 30, 1969.
- UMSL's baseball Rivermen also boast of the Metal Office Building.
- The three teams in the women's basketball league will play April 16-18 to decide their champion.
- Teams can start signing up for men's, women's and co-ed volleyball which will begin after five man basketball ends.
Sports Calendar

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Event</th>
<th>Location</th>
<th>Outcome</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Thurs. Apr 10</td>
<td>Baseball vs. St. Louis U.</td>
<td>Home</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fri. Apr 11</td>
<td>Golf vs. Westminster &amp; Greenville</td>
<td>Home</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fri. Apr 11</td>
<td>Baseball vs. Harris</td>
<td>Away</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mon. Apr 14</td>
<td>Golf vs. Southeast Mo.</td>
<td>Home</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mon. Apr 14</td>
<td>Tennis vs. Millikin</td>
<td>Away</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tues. Apr 15</td>
<td>Baseball vs. Principia</td>
<td>Away</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thurs. Apr 17</td>
<td>Golf vs. St. Louis U. &amp; Washington U.</td>
<td>Away</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Thurs. Apr 17</td>
<td>Baseball vs. Concordia</td>
<td>Away</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fri. Apr 18</td>
<td>Tennis vs. Westminster</td>
<td>Away</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sat. Apr 19</td>
<td>Baseball vs. McKendree (2)</td>
<td>Away</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

"Meet my 63¢ dinner date."

Dear kids, McDonald's is right there at place. Sheek's a lot of fun! Why don't you stop by after school to get a cheeseburger, a bag of fries, and a drink? And don't worry about the price - it's only 63¢!

McDonald's is your kind of place.

The Thirst Slacker

SLAKE-EM RIVERMEN

Falstaff Brewing Corp. St. Louis, Mo.

Hendin's Headlines

Even though the basketball season has ended, UMSL coach Chuck Smith is a very busy man. When not playing games, he spends time recruiting junior college and high school players.

So far Smith has come up with five players who have expressed a verbal commitment to attend UMSL next year. Foremost among these is guard Chedrick Bell from North Platte Junior College, Nebraska, who was mentioned in this column several weeks ago. Three freshmen prospects are Gary Dunlap, a 6-5 forward from Mercy High School, and Steve Dix and Mike Martin, a pair of 5-10 guards from Normandy. Smith said that Dix and Martin were "probably the two best guards in the North St. Louis area."

A surprising recruit is Concordia's Steve Ploch. He is a 6-2 forward who had been recruited by many other schools.

The Subject Was Roses

Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, April 11, 12 and 13 in room 105 Benton Hall

Curtain time 8:00 p.m.

River Queens Meet Friday

A newly formed girls pep section for basketball games will hold its first meeting Friday, April 11 at 2:40 in the Administration Building. The organization, named the "River Queens," is led by president Nan Smith, shown above.

The University Players present Frank D. Gilroy's 1965 Pulitzer, Tony and N.Y. Drama

Critics award winning play

FREE TRAVEL GUIDE

FEATURING
KIBBUTZ HOLIDAYS IN ISRAEL and Optional Archeological Dig

COLLEGIATES 1969

100 Days Israel, Italy, Greece, Spain $999
45 Days Grand European Tour (12 Countries) $1250
22 Days Mediterranean Cruise $699
51 Days India & Ceylon $699
34 Days Ceylon $999
33 Days Ceylon $999
23 Days Ceylon $999
11 Days Ceylon $999

RATES INCLUDE
ALL TRANSPORTATION MEALS ACCOMMODATIONS SIGHTSEEING TRANSFERS & MORE

Mail this coupon today or OR SEE YOUR FAVORITE TRAVEL AGENT

RATES INCLUDE
ALL TRANSPORTATION MEALS ACCOMMODATIONS SIGHTSEEING TRANSFERS & MORE

Mail this coupon today or OR SEE YOUR FAVORITE TRAVEL AGENT

EASTOURS, Inc. 11 West 42nd St. New York, N.Y. 10036

Without cost or obligation, please rush free Collegiate Travel Guide on

Name
Address
City, State, Zip
Welcome to LUMS....
the restaurant with an old fashioned family flavor

Roast Beef As Jus
Choice Top Round served with bread & sauce... and served in a glass with a Tangy Egg Roll...
Served it's dinner with crisp French Fries and a Dessert...

Sandwiches
LUMS FAMOUS HOT DOG - seasoned in boys...
.......
2.75
Well done, dressed. Sauerkraut...
.....
2.75
CHILI DOG - Our famous hot dog...with Chili...
...
2.75
DRIED CHILI DOG - Our famous hot dog...with Chili...
...
2.75
Tomato, onion, chili, cheese...
...
2.75
LEMONADE - Delicious...
...
1.00
In our own soft, light & easy seats...
...
1.00
COLD BEER...
...
1.00
INFUSED MILK LAND SAUS - Hot or Cold...
...
1.00
with Cheese...
...
1.00
AMERICAN CHEESE...
...
1.00
FRESH BREAD SANDWICH - Stuffed hard boiled, sauerkraut, and dressing served on a fresh roll...
...
1.00
MIXED-UP - Served in a bowl...
...
1.00
FRIED AVOCADO - Served in a bowl...
...
1.00
TUNA TARTARE SANDWICH - Our famous hard boiled of the best meat of tuna...
...
1.00
and delicate seasonings with lettuce & tomato...
...
1.00

Salads
Your choice of fresh vegetables, dressed hard boiled, fat, cheese, or fat free dressing...
...
45
DINNER SALAD - A large bowl...fired with a lemon...
...
45
CREAMY CHILE SALAD - A large bowl...mixed with a lemon...
...
45
Tomato, onion, chili, cheese...
...
45
STRAWBERRY BOWLE - A large bowl...mixed with a lemon...
...
45

Shrimp and Clams
FRESH SHRIMP and Clams - Cooked and served with our own
...
95
FRESH CLAMS - The best served...special with a lemon...
...
95
Serving our own Shrimp and Clams...including our own French Fries and...
...
95

French Fries...
...
35
Onion Rings...
...
35
CARRY-OUT
ORDERS

ADDED ATTTRACTION

Old Time MOVIES

Featuring such well-known and loved personalities as these:

W. C. FIELDS
LAUREL AND HARDY
CHARLIE CHAPLIN
HARRY LANGDON
ZAZU PITTS
ABBOTT AND COSTELLO
BUSTER KEATON

and service to match...

CONTINUOUS EVERY TUESDAY NIGHT

About one mile east of Northwest Plaza Shopping Center - just west of Woodson Road in the Breckenridge Hills Shopping Center, behind McDonalds.

Look for the Candy Striped Awning