Army ROTC seeks students for program

The purpose of the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (AROTC) is to develop selected college-educated men and women for positions of responsibility as officers in the Active Army, Army Reserve and National Guard. College students who successfully complete the program earn a commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

AROTC offers the student numerous opportunities to actually apply his leadership training rather than just list theory and never receive the chance to apply the theory. The St. Louis Area ROTC Cadet Corps is composed of a battalion and five or more companies, with the students occupying the leadership positions and taking part in the planning and execution of all cadet functions.

- Scabbard and Blade: A national professional military honorary organization. Members participate in community service, social and cultural activities, and assist in the Gateway to the West Invitational Drill Meet.
- Pershing Rifles: A national society whose purpose is to develop a high degree of professionalism, leadership, competition, a sense of belonging, and pride in ROTC.
- Drill Team: Promotes proficiency in command and execution of drill and ceremony.
- Tactics Team (Rangers): Activities include patrolling, rappelling, communication techniques, and survival.
- Orienteering: This club builds land navigation skills and cross-country running ability.

Both local and national meets are attended.

- Cadet Club: This is a social organization for UMSL cadets. It promotes fellowship, development of leadership, and AROTC on the UMSL campus.

If this sounds like something you would like to try, come and check it out. You are under no obligation your first two years in AROTC. If you decide it's not for you during the first two years, you simply drop the course and you have no further obligation. You enroll for ROTC just like any other course during your freshman and sophomore years. For further information, call 553-5170 and ask for Capt. Knox.

Group assists business majors

Pi Sigma Epsilon is a national co-ed professional fraternity in marketing, sales management and selling. We exist to meet a need for providing a link between collegians and their professional future. This well-rounded, professional organization is dedicated toward helping business administration majors through many different activities. We provide exposure to the business world, the application of classroom theory to different marketing, selling and community service projects, and the opportunity to meet and talk with many of the business leaders of our nation. You will also get the chance to discuss ideas with thousands of our members from all over the country at the organizational and state conventions, plus our parties, dinners, sporting and social events. The Beta Sigma Chapter of Pi Sigma Epsilon sponsors two projects that are directly related to the university. At the beginning of each semester we produce and distribute folders for students' use, and each spring we sponsor the annual Busch Bash.

In addition to these events, we also sponsor many community service projects and fund raisers. Profits are used to sponsor members at various events.

Interested? Then contact a member and ask how PSE has helped him or her as a key to the future. Pi Sigma Epsilon could be your key to the future! Come to our special orientation meeting on Sept. 7 and learn more about us—we want to meet you!

TV Club open to students

The UMSL TV Club picks up where classes leave off. We are dedicated to helping students learn more about the industry through personal experience and by working with students from all levels of education. Our office is located in Room 582 Lucas Hall. Interested students may contact us through the Speech Communication Office at 553-5485.

Comprehensive Eye Examinations

The Current reaches over 14,000 people. So speak up!

All letters must be signed to be published. Deadline for letters is Monday, 3 p.m.

The Current reaches out to students who are interested in pursuing a career in television. The club meets on Wednesdays at 3:15 p.m. in the Communications Building.

You don't have to be a political science major to be interested in the political issues of the '80s. If you're looking for stimulating debate with faculty and students, join us this fall as we examine not only the '84 presidential election but many other issues as well.

Work-Study Students: The Current needs you!

If you qualify for Work-Study, and have not yet found a work assignment, check out the Current.

We have two openings for an office clerk/receptionist. The primary duty of this person will be handling telephone calls and answering messages for student staff members. Other duties include filing newspaper articles on our morgue files, sorting incoming mail, and some light typing. We are looking for people who could help with everything from putting up notes on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays or Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Making the most of exams

Briefly look over the entire test to see what kinds of questions are present. Underline directions and make sure you understand them.

Sincerely attempt every question. However, answer questions that you know. List things you don't know. If you wish to give yourself a little reward for having reached a goal will spur you on. After completing five chapters by Monday, you'll decide to get yourself started.

In answering multiple-choice questions, anticipate the correct answer before looking at the options. Balance options against each other and eliminate obviously incorrect choices.

In matching questions, work on a column at a time. Mark each item of that column to all of the options in the second column. In completing fill-in-the-blank and sentence-completion portions, guess if you're not sure. This usually has no penalty for guessing and it's best to write at least something. Give general answers if you don't know specifics (say 1900s instead of 1904 if you aren't sure, for example). In true-or-false questions, watch for qualifiers or mandatory words such as "always," "never," or "must" that are present. The chances are that the statement is false, since few things are always, never or must. In a question containing words such as "seldom." "rarely," or "generally," where an exception would not alter the answer, chances are that the answer is true.

In completing essay questions, answer the easiest question first. Outline your answers and organize them. Most people begin by writing too much, then they have to read their work to find out where you have covered it all. Reward your non-procrastinating behavior by giving yourself a little something as a treat. Then enjoy your freedom once you've completed your task!

Managing time

- Make a daily list of things to do. Use blocking or grouping of similar or related tasks to quicken your nagging tasks or making a dent in a larger project.
- For one week, log your time. See how you're really spending those hours. Then analyze your schedule and make changes accordingly.
- Save energy! Eliminate negative feelings, criticisms of others, defensive nous for yourself. As you do this, a surplus of time can be created. Let your sleep, your powers of sleep. The more demands you make on yourself, the more sleep you'll need. Don't neglect it!
- Develop your powers of concentration. Break it down into small, manageable pieces. Set reachable sub-goals that are specific (instead oframbing over having less time). Set a goal to read 60 pages by that same evening). This sense of accomplishment from having reached a goal will spur you on.

Safety/traffic tips

- To avoid uncomfortable encounters with those who honor your sticker right away. After two or three $10 tickets, police say, you'll decide to get one anyway.
- Allow yourself enough time before class to find a parking space. Then you won't need to come up with a really good excuse for the policeman when he tickets you for parking in a faculty spot.
- Lock up valuables in the trunk, out of plain view.
- Don't leave your car unlocked!
- Don't leave purses and books unattended in the library.
- Evening students coming out of class late at night should walk in groups and park in well-lighted areas. If you must walk by yourself, call $155 on any campus "Hotline" (telephone) and ask for an escort. Don't take chances!
- Have patience with the police, Chief Karabas requests—especially during the first few hectic days of class.

Financial fitness

- Aid advisors suggest that when filling out the ACT Family Financial Statement, base it on the information from parents' and student's own income tax forms for the previous year.
- Parents should cooperate by helping the student fill out the form early. The deadline for the request is April 1. Don't neglect this form! It could mean the difference between the nearest dollar, eliminating the cents. Don't confuse "taxed withheld" with "taxable amount" for the year.
- Turn forms in as early as April for the following school year.
- Scholarships are still being accepted, but students who apply now won't receive loans in time for fall fees.

The waiting game

- Recognize when you're procrastinating. Do small tasks to get yourself started. Write the first sentence of the term paper, or even a year in advance. Two hours spent now is easier to keep rolling.
- Divide problems into small, manageable pieces. Set reachable sub-goals that are specific (instead oframbling over having less time). Set a goal to read 60 pages by that same evening). This sense of accomplishment from having reached a goal will spur you on.

Getting through

Beat the back-to-school blues

It's that time again... Just when your summer was rolling along fine... Just when you'd gotten a deep tan and you had to pack up your summer job, and then perfect summer semester off, you get your class schedule and fee statement in your mailbox. And here you are, back at that schoolbook grime.

Whether you're a returning student, or transferring from another school, or just starting out as a freshman, there are many steps you can take to make your college days much more pleasant and rewarding. And not all of them involve skipping classes.

Below we've listed some helpful hints suggested by campus officials and our own student staff members. Topics include avoiding run-ins with the UMSL police, studying for exams, writing papers, and even seeing what is ahead of you. Read the directions and make sure you answer questions in the correct place on the answer sheet.

There are many steps you can take to make your college days much more pleasant and rewarding. An not all of them involve skipping class!

A new semester

- If you're new to the campus, take a half hour to walk around. Use the map provided on page 28 of this issue, or just wing it... discover some of the hidden treasures; the video games in the Summit lounge, the best seat in the house in the student union, the weight room and swimming pool in the Mark Twain Building. Scope out each of your classrooms before the first day of school — you'll be able to relax knowing you won't be late because you got lost.
- Wait until you've attended your first classes before purchasing any books. Often you won't actually need everything listed in the bookstore. It is a good idea, however, to check out the textbooks under each of your class headings in advance — you'll know what the professor is talking about when he tells you to buy a book.
- Take five minutes after each class to introduce yourself to the professor. Whether there are 20 or 200 in your class, you'll stand out if you've spoken directly to the teacher. Don't be afraid! They were college students as well.
- Make a friend in each class. This can be vital to your success, especially if you ever need to borrow notes. In addition, studying together can be twice as effective as studying alone. Two heads, or even three, are better than one!
- Learn more about the Thomas Jefferson Library. This goes for seniors as well! It's never too late. The endless resources it has could be seen overwhelming, but once you learn the sys­tem, it can be a lot easier and more fun than paper-writing and research can be. If you don't know how to proceed, ask for help.

Academic actions

- Advisers say that the biggest mistake students make is not owning an UMSL academic catalog. Listed in the catalog are requirements for graduation in specific areas of study, and other general information necessary to planning a solid academic agenda. The catalog consists of two volumes: the "Graduate/ Undergraduate Catalog" and "Course Description Bulletin" may be purchased for $2 and $1, respectively, at the campus bookstore — a worthwhile investment considering the time and money you'll save by not taking classes you don't need.
- Take an advising appointment before planning each semester's schedule. The catalog will help you plan, but be on the safe side, have an advisor help you interpret it. One month before a new semester begins, make an appointment with your adviser.
- For students wishing to graduate soon: it may just be a wish if you don't file a degree application, or sign up for your own graduation ceremony, you are not one of them.
- Transfer students need only an advisor to help them select classes, but you won't need an advisor if you have a really good plan of your own. There are specific applications for loans, and the office of Student Activities awards are requirements for graduation in the University Center for information about groups.

The University Center serves as the hub of off-campus activities. This facility houses University Food Services, an information and ticket desk for use by UMSL students, University Center and Student Activities administrative offices, and meeting rooms. There is also a typing room, student government offices, and the Black Culture Room. Lounge space provides comfortable atmosphere for relaxation or study and a TV room and amusement areas program recreation. The University Center administers and coordinates the operation of Food Services which features a "food market" or "smoke-shop" type food service in the lower level Underground, offering customers a complete menu of traditional and "new" popular fast-food items to hot meal service, between 7:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 7:30 to 2 p.m. on Friday. The Center is also a comfortable lounge-dining area, with vending service available for those seeking snacks or beverages.

Located in the Marillac Hall, the Information Desk provides meals and snacks for students and staff in the South Campus Community Center, from 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 7:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Friday. Complete catering services also are available. The dining area can be arranged through the campus reservations office in the University Center.

In addition to food service, the functions of the University Center office include reservation of rooms for student organizations, a group-operated typing room which is open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Friday, and information services located at the Information Desk in the lobby of the University Center. UMSL officials will staff the desk from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, providing information and referral service to the community. Tickets for on-campus entertainment and recreation events may be purchased at the desk. In addition, a U.S. postage stamp machine is located in the lobby.

The campus Lost and Found department is located in the Information Desk. Persons with questions or lost items should contact this department. Any items unclaimed after five days will be disposed of. The change was prompted by the University Center's desire to encourage students to seek assistance in such situations.

The office works with the student programs to begin at 8 p.m. in the University Center. The Film Service for the University community features weekly presentations of new films at nominal fee. The center continues to operate its free instructional labs in computer science and a coin-operated typing room. Services are invited to call 553-5536 or by coming to the office. Information concerning campus activities on campus is the Information Desk in the University Center and services are maintained by the tutor and the student. The tutor will contact the service's computer file. Tutors will be maintained for those seeking information about tutoring. Students may contact the service at 553-5536 for information.

The service will operate a computerized referral service. Students wanting to tutor a course will contact the service and fill out an application. The service will request a copy of the tutor applicant's transcript from the registrar and will send it and the application to the department teaching the course for approval. Data on approved tutors are maintained on the service's computer file. Tutors will receive a certificate recognizing their tutoring hours (usually an hourly rate) and times they want to tutor. To apply as a tutor, students should contact the service at 507 SSB Tower. A student wanting a tutor can call the service at 553-3199 and request names and telephone numbers of tutors for a given course. The service will also indicate the price by the tutor and preferred hours for tutoring.

If the service is not open, an answering machine will take messages and the service operator will call back the student. The change was prompted by low usage of the tutoring service and problems attracting tutors in high demand areas such as computer science. The center hopes that providing a referral service for a "free market" tutoring operation will be helpful both to tutors and to their clients. The center will continue to operate its free instructional labs in mathematics, writing, and reading/study skills on the fourth floor of the Social Sciences building.

The tutoring service was begun some eight years ago by the Student Association, and initially cost students $1 per hour for tutoring. The cost to students for CAD's tutoring service had tripled by last year, and the center lost about $4 for every hour of tutoring.

The Center for International Studies supports faculty research on international and intercultural studies and provides programs and services that benefit UMSL students, faculty, and the St. Louis community. Among the specific activities of interest to students are the following:

- Certificate Programs in International Studies - Each year this series presents a number of guest speakers on campus to discuss research or matters of topical interest in international studies. Ten to 20 workshops, seminars are held each year and are open to all who are interested. Seminars are listed in the Current and announcements of seminars are posted on campus bulletin boards and in the Center.

The Center for International Studies is located in Room 336 SSB. For more information, call 553-5752.

CANDer to undergo changes this year

The tutorial service operated by the Center for Academic Development will have some changes this year. Students will become a referral service, helping students find tutors for courses in which they want individualized help, and allowing the tutor and the student to decide a mutually acceptable price.

The service will operate a computerized referral service. Students wanting to tutor a course will contact the service and fill out an application. Student Staff offers 'on-air' opportunities

As recently as the late '70s, college students in the United States graduated with a liberal-variety curriculum under their belts, knowing their path toward employment would be relatively short. Students took it for granted that secure employment in their chosen fields would be theirs without prior experience.

Today, those who have chosen college as a means of acquiring life and occupational skills aren't quite as certain that they will be able to find positions in their fields. Many graduates have come face to face with the 'Catch-22' candidate will have five years experience in ... hands on but may not have come face to face with the opportunity for those without prior experience.

The KWMU Student Staff offers a rare opportunity for many students to acquire those "hands on" experiences. KWMU's Student Staff is a functioning, integral part of KWMU, FM 91, a 100,000-watt National Public Radio affiliate with offices and studios here at UMSL, on the first floor of Lucas Hall. The Student Staff produces and airs its own jazz and new music programming, aided by KWMU staff members and UMSL faculty members. In addition, the Student Staff is involved in all aspects of radio and includes a top-notch news department, provides broad coverage of area sports, and produces a weekly feature program.

The Student Staff at KWMU has welcomed such recording artists as Laurie Anderson, George Winston, Violent Femmes, X, and Leon Redbone, and are actively involved in other station activities such as the KWMU softball team, the Classic Holiday, the Mayfest Membership Drive and the annual KWMU Forest Park Walkathon.

Again we return to the question of experience. Broadcasting is a particularly difficult profession to break into. "You must have already done something before we'll let you do it for us," is a familiar situation.

KWMU Student Staff alumni have found their work at KWMU to be invaluable in securing broadcast positions and currently are working at KMOX, KCPM, KYKY, KGLO and other radio stations across the country -- and even KWMU Student Staff alums are well-represented in the visual media, employed at KYTV, American Cablevision, Bucb Creative Services, and several area newspapers.

But the Student Staff is not in any way just for speech communication majors or for those interested in media/Experience and skills gained working in radio can be valuable for graduates in all majors. There are things to learn and do in radio for the business administration and physics major as well as those in education, English and mathematics. The skills and resume credentials gained through Student Staff involvement will be useful to anyone seeking entry into any profession where communication is important.

KWMU Student Staff alums are using these skills at several banks, advertising agencies, the National Organization of Women, and McDonnell-Douglas Corp. to mention just a few. It's a chance for writers to write, electronic engineers to calibrate, and marketing majors to finally do something with their "3" curves. It's every bit as much an opportunity for those interested in the "live" side of the mike to do news reports, features and, yes, "on-air" broadcasts, all the while refining their skills and gaining new abilities.

It's a chance to actually do radio.

You can be as involved as you are capable of being. Interested students who wish to be part of our Student Staff are welcome at all levels of participation, from an hour or two per week to a position on our Executive Staff. Internships are available for communication majors, and some opportunities for paid positions exist at KWMU. One thing that hasn't been mentioned might be important. It's fun! So join us on the KWMU Student Staff. Watch for announcements concerning our general staff meetings or simply drop by the station in Lucas Hall, come by the Student Staff offices in 548 and 554 Lucas Hall, or call 553-5458. And let's do radio!

SIGMA GAMMA RHO

A collegiate sorority founded Nov. 1913, Project Reassurance Service, community service-oriented women to further their education.

Basileus (or president) presidential nomination, spoke at Collegians.

We, the members of Sigma Gamma Rho, are committed to encourage young women to work and community service.

For more information, contact The Associated Black Collegeians.

SIGMA GAMMA RHO ENCOURAGES COMMUNITY SERVICE, SCHOLARSHIP

We, the members of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority Inc., Alpha Delta Chapter, welcome you to UMSL. Sigma Gamma Rho is a collegiate sorority founded Nov. 12, 1913, at Butler University, Indianapolis Ind. There are chapters in nearly every state in the union and in Africa and Bermuda.

Sigma Gamma Rho is a community service-oriented organization. Our Grand Basileus (or president) is listed as one of Ebony magazine’s 100 most influential black leaders. Our national projects include mental health; vocational guidance; Project Reassurance (in connection with the March of Dimes), a project which aids pregnant teens; and black history. Most of our scholarships are awarded by our sorority to encourage young women to further their education.

Sigma has so many things to offer, such as sisterhood, togetherness and good times to young women who are interested. We live by our motto: "Greater Service, Greater Progress," and we are looking for young ladies with similar qualities.

To be a Sigma is to be a winner!

For more information, contact Karen L. Humphrey, 3339 W Clara Avenue, St. Louis, 63110, or call 314-632-11 or 291-1471.

The Associated Black Collegeians of UMSL are committed to the academic development, cultural enrichment, political awareness, and retention of black students. ABC accomplishes these goals by referring students to academic tutors and inviting enlightening speakers to our weekly meetings.

In the past ABC's administrative volunteers have worked closely with the Black Faculty and Professional Staff Association. This organization, formed in 1969, helps to advise the administrators of the concerns facing black students on campus and the community that supports us. The implementation of the new Black Studies minor, the hiring of more black instructors and administrators as well as correcting the insensitivities toward ethnic minorities that prevail at UMSL have been recent concerns of ABC.

Recently the Legislative Black Caucus of Missouri held open hearings to try to improve race relations at UMSL. These hearings hopefully will benefit taxpayers by insuring all students receive an equal opportunity to further their education. This year ABC will continue to work with administrators to improve the low 10 percent black student population and the 2.8 percent black faculty population. We will also continue our usual cultural programming, which includes Kwanzaa, Black History Month, our UMSL Newsletter, and the always-spectacular talent show.

If you wish to participate or attend our meetings, come to Room 254 University Center and talk to our staff. Meetings are every Wednesday at noon. For more information, call 553-5721.

Remember, the struggle continues.

MATH CLUB NOT JUST FOR MATH MAJORS

Did you know that there is a Math Club at UMSL? Well, there is! The Math Club has an office at 301 Clark Hall — complete with desks, math reference books, charts, fiction, and people. The people reflect the fundamental character of our organization. They come from many different areas of interest: business, administration majors, education majors, physics majors, math majors, and others.

The most beneficial part of being a member of the Math Club is that you can meet other students. This closeness is achieved through many social and academic activities. If you want to make school more interesting, become a part of the Math Club.

To join the Math Club, just stop by the Math Club Office during this semester’s Open House on Aug. 30 at 301 Clark Hall or come by anytime. Do you want to know more about joining the Math Club? Then stop by and find out; you can be as involved in the Math Club as you want to be. However, the time spent could be a rewarding friendship. We are looking forward to seeing you.

CENTER FOR ACADEMIC DEVELOPMENT

The Math Lab is a walk-in, individualized, mathematics tutorial lab located in room 425 SSB. The lab staff includes both professional and student assistant tutors who work with students in a variety of mathematics and mathematics-related areas including statistics, graphing, etc.

The lab also has a computer facility for computer-aided instruction. Lab services are free for charge to UMSL students.

Fall Hours: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday evenings, 5 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The Writing Lab, located in room 409B SSB, is a walk-in lab offering assistance with all kinds of writing assignments and problems. The lab has a wide variety of texts, workbooks, and instructional tools including two microcomputers and a printer, word-processing capabilities, and individualized tutoring.

Fall Hours: Monday through Thursday days, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday day, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday evening, 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Tuesday evening, 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

The Reading Lab is an individualized instructional lab specializing in developing students’ reading and study skills. The lab operates on a walk-in and appointment basis and is located in room 409A SSB. Both professional and student assistant staff are available during lab hours. Services are free to UMSL students.

Fall Hours: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Tutorial Service. The Center offers a computerized tutorial referral service through which UMSL students can find a student tutor in a large number of course and subject areas. All tutors listed by the service are approved by the academic department offering the course or subject area in question. Hourly fees are set by the tutors and registered with the tutorial service. Referrals are made by telephone and include one or more tutors’ names, telephone numbers, hours of availability, and charges.

Fall Hours: Call the tutorial service at 553-5199 (on campus 5199) during the following times: Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Tuesday, 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Wednesday, 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Thursday, 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. You may leave a message on the answering machine at other hours and the tutorial service will contact you.

Special Services. The Center’s Special Services units offers academic advising and assistance to academically and economically disadvantaged students. Contact the Center in room 507 SSB Tower or call 553-5194 for further information.
Reorganization of TJ library makes use easier

The Thomas Jefferson Library has been reorganized to provide for several more years of collection growth and to increase access to public services. All public services are now on the main level. As you enter the front doors of the library, you will find the interlibrary loan department immediately left. As you move clockwise around the main level, you will find the Circulation Desk, the Current Periodicals and Microform collections and the Reference and Government Publications collections and services.

The general collections of the library now begin on the second level, starting with A through DX and continuing alphanumerically on the fourth and fifth levels. The second level was the former location of the Current Periodicals and Microform Collections. A spacious lounge area has been created on the fourth level around the main stairway leading from the main (third) level to the fourth level. This area contains the Current Reading Collection and a display area for exhibitions.

All operated copying machines are available on all levels of the library. These moves should provide for several years of collection growth, stabilizing locations of services and collections for several years. Most of the monies from these operations came from frozen library positions and most of the physical labor was done by the library staff.

Libertarians seek support

From Aristotle to Ayn Rand, from Friedrich Nietzsche to H.L. Mencken, from Tom Paine to Rose Wilder Lane, from Pierre Proudhon to Karl Hess and from John Locke to Murray Rostow, libertarianism is the creed that carried the human race out of the dark ages. Capitalism brought individuals to help each other out in times of distress. We are interested in forming alliances with other anti-war and anti-tax, pro-free-market groups as well. For students who want to find out more about libertarianism, we can introduce you to any of several hundred libertarian and libertarian-related books in the UMSL library on everything from economics, history, psychology and sociology to lighter topics like science fiction and, yes, even German nursery rhymes and French pornography (as they say, "Libertarians are 'conservatives' who know how to have a good time").

We, the issues we are strategically most concerned with are repeal of draft registration (slavery and preparation for war), repeal of the income tax (legalized theft and abolition of the Federal Reserve System (centralized counterfeiting). We welcome anyone who agrees with us on any issue to join us in the fight for liberty. We are interested in working as necessary to maintain personal freedoms and recognize that a free market is only possible when nations are at peace. So, the issues we are strategically most concerned with are repeal of draft registration (slavery and preparation for war), repeal of the income tax (legalized theft and abolition of the Federal Reserve System (centralized counterfeiting). The Libertarian Students Program offers the masters in public policy administration degree. Faculty are on joint appointments with the School of Business Administration and the departments of economics, political science and sociology in the College of Arts and Sciences. The MPPA prepares students for professional careers within the public sector and non-profit organizations. The UMSL program has been designed to meet the standards of the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration.

Students interested in learning more about the program should come to the Public Policy Office at 406 SSB Tower, or call 533-5143.

SWAP matches students, jobs

The Student Work Assignment Program, or SWAP, places UMSL students in part-time, summer and full-time positions. Under the SWAP program, employment opportunities are made available to all currently enrolled students who do not have regular work, without regard to students' financial needs.

For more information, contact the SWAP Office at 553-5317 or stop by Room 446 Woods Hall, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. SWAP is also an office within the Division of Student Affairs.

Student Affairs welcomes students

To all new freshmen and transfer students as well as those UMSL students returning this semester, the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs extends its welcome to you. We look forward to the prospects and possibilities this new semester presents and hope that you will realize the goals you have set for yourself.

The Division of Student Affairs exists to be of service to you by assisting you in making your college career at UMSL a successful one. A variety of offices, such as the Counseling Service, the Career Planning and Placement Office and the Women's Center, can aid you in personal growth and decision making. The coordinator for disabled, minority and international students works with these students in acclimating them to the campus environment.

The Health Center provides free out-patient health care and can assist in a variety of health education areas. The University Center Office of Student Activities and the athletics/intramural programs provide many opportunities to become involved in activities on campus through student organization membership, entertainment activities, recreational and intramural sports, and either participation in or simply being a spectator of intercollegiate sports.

We encourage you to avail yourself of these programs and services. The Division of Student Affairs and the Office of the Dean stand ready to assist you in any way possible to make your entrance into the UMSL community as easy a transition as possible.

Welcome to UMSL!

Zeta Tau Alpha seeks members

Zeta: It's the best you can be. We are Zeta Tau Alpha, a fraternity of girls here on the UMSL campus, and we have a special interest in you.

Aside from social activities, our organization participates in several philanthropies. We help at dances for the St. Louis Association of Retarded Citizens, we hold an annual Valentine's Day Carnival with the proceeds going to the Heart Association, and we also have a booth at Strawberry where the proceeds go to charity.

Litmag accepting submissions

The UMSL Litmag wants to publish the outstanding poetry, short stories, essays, artwork and photographs of UMSL students. Just submit your entries (maximum of three poems, no more than three in any category) in an 8½ by 11 inch envelope, with your name address on a separate sheet to Susan Adrian, Editor, 5380 Mild Drive, St. Louis, Missouri, 63125, or drop it in the Student Literary Magazine mailbox located on the second floor of the University Center.

For more information, contact Judy Gotham at 892-1387.

The Counseling Service offers free professional assistance to UMSL students, staff and faculty with personal, social, educational or career concerns. Individual counseling and group counseling, as well as a wide range of workshops geared to specific needs, are available. A complete list of workshops for the 1984-85 academic year can be found outside the Counseling Service office (427 SSB) as well as at other key locations on campus.

SIGI, a computer-based, interactive guidance system for career exploration and decision making, is housed in the Counseling Service. SIGI may be used by appointment without charge by members of the UMSL community. In addition, a Career Library, well-stocked with career-related materials and college catalogs, is available for use without appointment.

People who want to see a counselor can do so by making an appointment either in person or by telephoning 553-5711. In an emergency, however, students can be seen almost immediately. The Counseling Service is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. For more information, call 553-5711 or visit the office at 427 SSB.

An active part of UMSL's Counseling Service is the Peer Counseling Center. This is a student organization staffed by undergraduates who are trained and supervised by, and work in conjunction with, professionals and psychologists in the UMSL Counseling Service. They are, however, unique in that their activities are geared toward providing special services to the UMSL student body.

This semester, Peer Counseling will be providing a variety of free workshops in career exploration, time management, resume writing, interviewing skills, overcoming procrastination, preparing for graduate school, and relaxation. These workshops are scheduled at specific times throughout the semester. If a student cannot attend at the scheduled time, peer counselors are flexible in that they will arrange another time to meet with the student for an individual workshop.

The center also provides personal counseling to students on an on-demand basis. Degree activities consist of the bachelor of arts (with majors in biology, chemistry, economics, English, history, mathematics, physics, political science, psychology, sociology and speech communication), and the bachelor of science in the areas of administration of justice, business administration, chemistry, computer science, economics, education, physics, public administration, sociology and nursing. The bachelor of social work and the bachelor of arts in social work studies degrees also are available.

For additional information, call 553-5161.

The Counseling Service is the Peer Counseling Center in the Counseling Service. The Peer Counseling Center is located in the Counseling Service office, 427 SSB. It is staffed throughout the day from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information about the services, or if you are interested in becoming a peer counselor, call the Peer Counseling Center at 553-5738 or drop in and talk to one of the staff members.

Primary Care Clinic

The first step in our examination procedure is to get to know you, assess your eye health, and determine the ability of your visual system to do what is demanded of it or if you require eyeglass correction. To accomplish this task, we offer thorough eye examinations to obtain a comprehensive data base on all patients. This will serve as the basis of all future care rendered to you. A comprehensive examination requires about two hours and is performed by third- and fourth-year students under the direct supervision of highly qualified clinical faculty members. While two hours may seem like a long time for an examination, you must remember that this is a teaching clinic; thus, more comprehensive examinations are performed to arrive at a diagnosis. We are sure that after the examination, you will be pleased with its thoroughness.

Prescription eye care is available from our dispensary at competitive costs. Patients who are ordering prescription eyewear may choose from a large selection of modestly priced frames as well as designer frames. Patients who need various occupational and cosmetic lenses will also find these available.

Should you desire or require specialized services, you will be referred to the appropriate specialty clinic. We have specialists in contact lens care, binocular vision, low vision, ocular health assessment, and specialized visual analysis. These clinics utilize the most advanced equipment and tech- niques available. They are equipped and staffed to handle those patients who need

UMSL's School of Optometry would like to invite you to visit the Optometry Clinic facility, Located at 135 Marillac Hall on the South Campus, the Optometry Clinic is open to the public as well as faculty, staff and students of the university. Our primary goal is to provide patients with high-quality vision care. This purpose is consistent with our overall goal of training highly qualified vision care prac- titioners to serve the citizens of Missouri and the Midwestern region. To achieve this goal, we have close faculty supervision by licensed optometrists and the latest instrumentation.

The Department of Speech Communication offers a variety of co-curricular student activities including:

DEBATE/FORESNCS

TOM PRESTON - ADVISOR

MISUN L. ADVISOR - TOM ESCHEN

Scott Sharer - ADVISOR

These activities are open to both majors and non-majors. While a student may participate at any time, orientation meetings are held early in each semester. For a schedule of activities and description, please contact the respective faculty members at: 535-5485, 86 or stop by: 530 LUCAS HALL, 8-5

PKP elects officers

The UMSL chapter of Phi Kappa Phi received approval in 1880 to join over 255 chapters of the national honor society. Phi Kappa Phi recognizes student in all parts of the university as its motto signifies: "May the love of learning rule all persons."

The 1984-45 officers of the UMSL chapter are William Mitchell, president; Robert Brooks, vice president; Harold Turner, secretary; Huber Walsh, treasurer; and Marsha Champion, public information officer. Members will meet the first Saturday of each month beginning Sept. 6 at 2 p.m. in Room 75 J.C. Penney to plan activities such as the May 1985 address by Dr. Garry E. Hunt, director, Center for Remote Sensing, Imperial College, Lon- don, England. He spoke during initiation ceremonies for approximately 40 junior, senior, graduate and faculty members.

At the same occasion, recent graduate Linda Gray Bick was honored as the recipient of a national Phi Kappa Phi scholarship. Sigma Koa Laude, May 1983 UMSL graduate, Bick received the 1983 Student of the Year award from Sigma Lambda Honor Society of the Evening Campus of UMSL. She will attend St. Louis University Medical School.

For the visually impaired individual, restoring usable vision means elevated self-esteem, improved self-confidence, and the ability to lead a fuller, more productive life.

The ocular health assessment clinic was established to provide evaluation of patients with known or suspected ocular dis- orders such as cataracts, glaucoma, retinal degeneration, and other eye afflictions of a local or systemic nature.

Many times, conditions progress slowly without producing warn- ing symptoms until irreversible damage has been done. Prompt diagnosis and appropriate management can often improve a patient's vision and, in some cases, can help pre- vent the progression of the disor- der. Patients requiring medical conditions should be referred to the appropriate specialty clinic.

The specialized visual analysis clinic is specifically designed to provide in-depth evaluation of visual functions which are often not measured by those normally provided. The examination procedures offered include clinical examination of visual color or night vision and evaluation of vision in patients who are unable to com- municate or respond to normal test procedures. Some examples are the electrophysiological evaluation (to measure brain electrical activity), specialized retinography photography documentation (to record images of the retina), and specialized visual field analysis (automated measurement of vision over all or a portion of the visual field).

We have strived to provide our patients with a comprehensive clinical facility designed to offer high quality visual care. An important aspect of this service is health assessment clinics. In order for you to have access to the best health care, we desire you to be well-informed regarding your vision and eye health. We offer students and faculty services to and from practitioners in the health care field in Missouri and the Midwest.

All examinations are by appointment only. For more information about the services offered by the Optometry Clinic, please call 555-5131.

For the visually impaired individual, restoring usable vision means elevated self-esteem, improved self-confidence, and the ability to lead a fuller, more productive life.
The University Program Board is UMSL's primary programming body for film, fine arts, lectures, concerts, video, homecoming and special events. Supported in part by student activities fees, the UPB encourages all students to take advantage of its various programs.

The UPB is run by 15 elected students with the advisorship of the student activities coordinator. Officers are elected at the end of each spring semester and are decided upon by the previous board. In addition, the board recruits non-elected additional committee members to serve on its eight committees.

Films to be highlighted this fall include "Fiddler on the Roof," "Sam and Denny," "Term of Endearment," and eight other major titles. Movies are played every Friday and Saturday night, and admission is only $1 for UMSL students.

A video dance will be held Sept. 26 for the first time by the University Program Board. Entertainment will be provided by the Improvisational, aka the "Comedy Improv at the Summit." Contact Rhonda Sorensen at 831-2615.

Creativity is key to Wargamers. The organization is formed to provide a chance to be that knight that makes up your own and plays a part in the world from nuclear destruction.

The character you create grows by surviving each new adventure and gaining experience. Even if you don't survive, you have the pleasure of knowing you gave it your best shot — after all, "Role players never die, they just roll up a new character."

Role-playing games are great for developing your creativity and getting you out of your shell. So give it a try and be free to experience yourself. Our organization offers an opportunity for old and new students to meet new friends. For more information, contact Major Hieken at 385-1433.

Delta Sigma Pi encourages scholarship and professional development with the opportunity to form the bonds of fraternity which go far beyond friendship. But most important, we're here for you!

The most outstanding trio in the world returns to St. Louis after many years together. The trio is known for its ability to perform hit songs from many different eras.

The purpose of Pi Kappa Alpha is to promote social interaction, scholarship and friendship in a college environment.

The Pi Kappa Alpha house is located within five minutes of the UMSL campus.

One of the largest national social fraternities, Pi Kappa Alpha offer a wide variety of social activities such as UMSL's longest-running spring break Florida trip, Bust-Out (weekend) in the Ozarks, Las Vegas Night at Six Flags, house parties and a Clam Bake on an island in the Missouri River.

Campus involvement for Pi Kappa Alpha includes winning Greek Week and Rivermen Spirit Night at the men's varsity basketball game — both for the second straight year. Pikes were the first student organization to receive approval for serving beer at the campus.

Intramural sports which Pikes participate include football, soccer, volleyball and basketball. They have received championships and playoff finishes in football, soccer and volleyball in recent years. Several members have earned positions on varsity athletic teams as well.

College men interested in learning more about Pi Kappa Alpha, or fraternities in general should call 423-2366 or contact the Office of Student Activities at 553-5536.

Sociology degree literature available

The Sociology Office is located in the Social Sciences and Business Building at 701 SSB Tower. Chairperson of the department is Dr. George J. McCall.

The Sociology Department offers work leading to the B.A. and B.S. in sociology and, in cooperation with the School of Education, the B.S. in education with an emphasis in social studies. A minor in sociology also is offered.

Faculty stress the scientific and applied aspects of sociology. Social forces and cultural traditions affecting the individual are studied from a scientific perspective, and first-hand exposure to their effects is stressed through community involvement. Throughout, the contributions of sociology toward a well-rounded liberal arts education are emphasized.

The department's scientific approach is reflected in an emphasis on the development of adequate theoretical and methodological tools. In addition, there is strong emphasis on the applied uses of sociological insights and methods in a distinctly urban thrust. Many faculty members are engaged in research on urban-related issues and work with various urban agencies, particularly in the areas of crime, delinquency, social welfare and education. Sociology majors should obtain a copy of "Guide to Undergraduate Studies in Sociology," from their advisors to familiarize themselves with the degree programs, rules and regulations, and interests of faculty members. All majors should consult their advisors regularly.

Help offered to veterans

The Veteran's Affairs Office offers assistance to veterans in making the transition from military life to student life as easy as possible. The office is available to help veterans establish education goals and to explain the benefits available to veterans.

A staff of peer counselors, male and female veterans are available to help fellow veterans deal with school, job, housing, military service, burial problems, or any other problems that they may encounter. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Thursday and Friday 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday.

For more information, contact the Veterans Affairs Office at 553-5105 or stop by at 346 Woods Hall. The office is available to help veterans in the Division of Student Affairs.

Rech looks to rebound on recruits’ strength

The UMSL women’s volleyball team, after announcing the 1984 volleyball schedule, will attempt to rebound from a frustrating 1983 season with the strength of five returning letterwinners and two blue-chip recruits.

After a 24-14 record in 1982, Coach Cindy Rech's club slipped to 12-36 after losing five starters from the '82 team. A tougher schedule was constructed in 1983.

John O'Mara, among others. Polette led UMSL with 11 goals. After what Dallas termed “an excellent recruiting year,” he is cautious but optimistic of his chances this season. The Rivermen are hoping to qualify for the NCAA Division 2 tournament for the 12th consecutive season.

The UMSL soccer Rivermen, awaiting the comforts of a newly constructed soccer stadium, have announced their schedule for the 1984 season. Beginning Sept. 1 against Missouri Southern State University, Coach Don Dallas’ kickers will play 13 regular-season games while hosting the Budweiser Classic tournament Oct. 5 and 6.

Returning from last season’s 13-6 club are 13 lettermen, including starting goalkeepers Lance Polette and Steve Olwig. From among the 18 returning lettermen, Coach Dallas' most exciting addition is returning from last season’s 13-6 club are 13 lettermen, including starting goalkeepers Lance Polette and Steve Olwig. OPI serves as UMSL news bureau

The Office of Public Information functions as a news bureau for UMSL. The electronic and print media of St. Louis are served through news releases, features, inquires, photo releases, calendars and prepared feature stories. The office also acts as a liaison between media and faculty authorities and experts on specific subjects and arranges radio, television and cable interviews.

OPI is responsible for creation of UMSL News, a weekly internal newsletter distributed to faculty and staff members. It also is responsible for coordinating display advertising and photography for UMSL, acting as the main campus liaison with the Current, and assisting with the coordination of the University of Missouri's national publicity relations program.

OPI is located at 421 Woods Hall. For more information, call 553-5663.

Student organizations offer...

The Evening College Council encourages all evening college students to participate in the university activities through the dinner dance planned each spring, through the Grade Grievance committee, through the "Evening Tide" newspaper, and through the Koffee Clatch.

...international flair
The UMSL Chinese Student Association was established in the fall of 1983. About 30 members belong to the organization and all of us are trying our best to let other students know more about the Chinese and our tradition. Below are some of our activities in the fall:
- Sept. 11: Taipei Tour from University of Taipei — a night show of Chinese traditional music, dancing and a lot more.
- Sept. 28: Teacher’s Day. Teachers in every faculty will receive a "Teacher Card".
- Oct. 3 through 7: Chinese traditional printing and China Exhibition.

...folk fellowship
The Newman House, the Catholic student center, is located at 8300 Natural Bridge Road. The Newman House is the living, worshiping, loving presence of the Catholic Church at UMSL. No requirements are needed to join; simply come as you are. Everyone is welcome. Drop by any school day between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. or call 385-3455.

...kayaking
The UMSL Kayak Club comprises individuals interested in developing kayaking skills and safe boating habits. The club organizes a kayaking clinic each semester utilizing our own equipment and member-instructors. The club also arranges cost-sharing trips to whitewater rivers. Interested students may contact the club's vice president, Chris Lipinski, at 869-0482, or its faculty advisor, David Garin, at 555-5111.

...brotherhood
Sigma Pi is a national social fraternity. Sigma Pi promotes friendship and brotherhood, scholastic achievement, campus and community involvement, leadership ability, and morality.

...evening honors
Alpha Sigma Lambda, Beta Epsilon Chapter, is the local chapter of the national honor society for evening students. Invitation to join is by letter to evening students that have a 3.2 grade point average or better with 30 hours in the Evening College. Honors are extended at a yearly banquet in the spring. AGL also sponsors a Student of the Year award and has scholarships available for active members. Donald G. Bowling of the Evening College is the sponsor.

Discover personal growth
The Discovery Program, Continuing Education-Extension, offers courses and workshops in the areas of personal development, career development and career planning. Plans for fall include building self-esteem in adults, professional communication for the professional woman, assertive training and taking control of your life.

Individual counseling in the areas of career planning, returning to work or school and lifestyle changing also is available. The counseling includes interest and personality inventories. For additional information, please call 555-5111.

Library has medical texts
The Health Sciences Library, located on the second level of the Education Library Building, offers a specialized collection of materials in the subject areas of vision science and nursing. The library also has many reference works in the field of general medicine and indices to the biomedical literature. The fall semester open hours for the Health Sciences Library have not yet been set because of construction going on in the Education Library Building. Please call 553-5110, 552-5903 or 553-5409 for more current information.
