One of the Normandy educators who helped bring the university into being was E. R. Barnes. Barnes, a St. Louis educator for over 30 years, helped get the original bond issue passed.

During those early years, Barnes was celebrated behind the building of the enrolment and residence halls. An UM President Ellis often was heard to call from Ellis one Saturday morning, "What's going on down there? Think we think you can get it done yet?"

Ellis often asked this question, and his strong desire to have the University of Missouri-Normandy in state land transfer stalled Ellis's plans. After many attempts of acquisition, Governor John Dalton sparked interest in the project. The UM President thought he had found a way forward.

Dalton signed the bill authorizing the sale on April 3, 1963. Dalton was a strong supporter of the University of Missouri and wanted to see it grow. He believed that the new university would start a fresh start with those who were interested.

You have a fine and rewarding experience in front of you in St. Louis and at the University of Missouri. Good luck and Godspeed. And feel free to return the following day.

UMLs Police To Regulate Campus

The campus police do much more than hand out parking violations. The department oversees emergency vehicle services, a student patrol, parking regulations, seminars and emergency phones. Parking permits are placed in every building and in several parking lots. Pick up and dial 553-6122 for assistance.

The Emergency Vehicle Service operates from 7:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, and can be reached below zero and your car battery says, "No go." Call 553-4211 for assistance.

Every time the first parking violation was issued in the early 1960's on this campus, the student vs. the parking sticker campaign had ended. To avoid uncomfortable encounters with the UMSL police, obtain a parking permit right away. After you've been hit by EKI tickets, you'll decide to get one anyway, allow yourself enough time before class to find a parking space. Then you won't have to walk up to a really good course for the police man who has tickets for parking in a area designated for someone else.

Rogers parking violation report to the Campus Office. To appeal the original notice within two weeks of receipt from the time of the University Statement sent to your home. The appeal will then be taken to the student court for review. The recommendation of the student court will be final.

A student can request that his appeal be reviewed by the vice chancellor for Student Affairs, but this case will be reviewed by the vice chancellor for Student Affairs. Therefore, vehicles must stop for pedestrians in crosswalks. However, vehicles may cross the street when they are sure the way. Therefore, vehicles must stop for pedestrians in crosswalks.

The speed limit on campus is 20 miles per hour. Students are required to park in assigned areas. The campus police are instructed to enforce these regulations and issue summonses for non-compliance, with all summonses being forwarded to the St. Louis County Circuit Court in Clayton, Missouri.

The campus police now have the same powers for enforcement that are held by municipal and county police agencies.

UMLs graduated degrees to its first senior class in 1967. The University now has more than 25,000 students. More than 80 percent of them live and work in the St. Louis area.

UMSL offers master's degree programs in 20 fields.

UMSL offers undergraduates in 38 disciplines, plus several interdisciplinary certificate programs.

EVENING STUDENT PERSONALITY TEST

Instructions: Answer the following questions as honestly as you can.

1.) Would you like for the memories of your college career here at UMSL to be something more than the long walks to and from the parking lot?

Yes ☐ No ☐

2.) Would you like to meet others and involve yourself in activities which can provide a suitable outlet and sufficient opportunity to expand your horizons?

Yes ☐ No ☐

If you answered "Yes" to one or both of the questions above, You should consider becoming a member of the UMSL Evening College Council.

The Evening College Council is looking for evening students who have some ideas about how to make life as an UMSL evening student more enjoyable and who can also dedicate a couple of hours a month to put those ideas into action.

The Evening College of the University of Missouri-St. Louis offers 26 degree programs in the arts and sciences, business administration, education and nursing that conform to the requirements established by the respective school or department. One local degree, the Bachelor of General Studies, is also offered. Approximately 150 students complete degrees through the Evening College each year.

Degree offerings include the Bachelor of Arts (with 11 major options), the Bachelor of General Studies, the Bachelor of Science (with major options), the Bachelor of Science in Administration of Justice, the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, the Bachelor of Science in General Studies, the Bachelor of Science in Public Administration and the Bachelor of Science in Social Work. Majors and certification are also offered.

Academic advisors assist new and returning students in the selection of appropriate courses and discuss relevant degree requirements. The Evening College office is open 8:45 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on Friday.

In addition to the overall, the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Sigma Lambda is the honor society for Evening College students. The organization recognizes students with outstanding academic records. For the list of qualifications for admission to Alpha Sigma Lambda, contact the Evening College office at 553-5162.

WIGHT TIME: Two students walk across a deserted UMSL campus on their way to an evening class, taking advantage of the university’s commitment to easy access to higher education. The university offers a wide variety of majors for the serious student with a full-time occupation.

Evening College Offers Diversity

The Center for Academic Development offers services to UMSL students in a number of areas. Most of these services are free to the users and available on a "drop-in" basis. Services and hours for Fall 1986 are:

Writing Lab 409 SSB

Hours: Monday — Thursday 9 a.m. — 3 p.m.
Friday 9 a.m. — 2 p.m.

Professional assistance with all forms of writing problems and assignments. Walk-in, free of charge.

Reading Lab 409A SSB

Hours: Monday — Friday 9 a.m. — 2 p.m.

Assistance with development of reading and study skills. Free of charge.

Math review sessions are available for students wishing to review before taking the Math Placement test. See Fall '86 schedule for details.

For more information on any of the above services, call the Center office (553-5194) or come to Room 507 Tower.
University Urges Utilization Of Services

At the moment you're busy just finding your way from building to building, your needs are negligible. But once you become familiar with the University Library, you will find the need to use its services and materials.

Thomas Jefferson Library will be similar to what you may have used or seen in other libraries, though it will be different. Listed below are just a few of the things we would like you to know about:

- LUMIN, the on-line catalog, currently contains most of the books owned by the UMSL libraries, as well as holdings of the other three University of Missouri campuses. Eventually it will totally replace our card catalogs. It is designed to be user-friendly and the same information as in the card catalogs will be found in LUMIN, including the ability to download LUMIN listings for the Fall. Current for details.

- A little nervous about college library work? The Research Paper Assistance Program provides help in formulation or outlining what you are going to write. It is available at the Reference Desk, located on the ground floor, providing self-explanatory, but we refer to the student directories and photographs of campus events. If you are doing research for a paper, or just have a question about UMSL, call the Reference Desk from 8:00 a.m. until 9:00 p.m. on Tuesdays. For more information, call 552-3161.

- Where do the decks at Bigg Lake go to the water? Where do Bigg Lake go between semesters? Students have found the answers to these and other questions at the University Archives located on the second floor (southwest area) of the T.J. Library.

- The Western Historical Manuscript Collection has 127,000 volumes, 500,000 msheets, manuscript collections, and numerous topics in the history of the United States. The collections reflect important organizational records, personal papers, and organizational records, personal lives are documented by the Albert Slavin and Lieutenant J. Berry, pioneer environment on the second floor of the Thomas Jefferson Library.

- The collections range from the country's first anti-nuclear lobby, the Committee for Nuclear Information, headquartered at one of the first combined Research Organization, The collections reflect important organizational records, personal papers, and organizational records, personal lives are documented by the Albert Slavin and Lieutenant J. The Chemistry Department Is Looking For A Few Serious Students

Our majors succeed
• in securing good jobs especially in St. Louis which is a major center for chemical industry. For the last few years the employment graduates of our major have gone to Monsanto, Allied Chemical, Ethyl Corporation, and many other high position corporate jobs.
• in admission to professional schools. Chemistry is the best preparation for the study of any of the major physical, chemical, medical, or engineering sciences.
• and enjoy the satisfaction of completing a rigorous curriculum which they choose.

The Bachelor of Science in Chemistry Degree
The Bachelor of Arts in Chemistry with Teacher Certification or with Business Option.

We also offer M.S. and Ph.D. degrees... but that comes later.

Sports Teams Seek To Improve Last Year's Marks

In the fall of 1980, the UMSL men's and women's basketball teams joined the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association. The teams are expected to improve on last year's marks, which were 24-17 for the men and 13-17 for the women. The men's team is coached by Jim Brady, and the women's team is coached by Denise Silvester.

Fitness Facilities Offer Something For Everyone

Do you need a place to stay in shape during the long winter months? Why not use the facilities available at UMSL? The Mark Twain Building offers something for everyone. The Mark Twain Building offers a number of advanced exercise/wrestling rooms, a weight room, and an exercise/mirroring room. The exercise room contains an exercise mirror, a dance floor, and a jogging track. The Mark Twain Building is also located near the UMSL Student Health Center, which offers a variety of services to students.

Radio Broadcasting

You can become a professional broadcaster

KWMM, the 100,000-watt FM station on the UMSL campus, is offering UMSL students the opportunity to learn station operations, news reporting and production, radio engineering, and advertising with state-of-the-art facilities.

The KWMU Student Staff has opportunities for students interested in radio broadcasting careers.

Why pay a fortune at so-called "broadcasting schools" only to end up in a backwoods rural radio station reading farm reports?

On the KWMU Student Staff, you can learn as much as you want, when you want, and still have time for other activities.

Believe it or not, there's more to radio than just talking into a microphone.

Professional newscasters not only announce the news. They go out and cover the news. And when they bring back the facts and the stories, they write concise, informative stories and use expensive, professional-quality tape machines and mixing boards to produce the stories you hear on the radio.

A ROTC Offers Training And Leadership

Get a closer, clearer picture of the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (AROTC) in your mind. Now forget it.

AROTC isn't in waiting rooms meeting around preparing for a bullet in the middle of the expense of all else. Yes, members will learn some drill and customs, but, you are the opportunity to achieve a recognition in the Reserve or Active Army as there.

So important to members in the first years of college is the opportunity to get the most of their first years of college with experience, not just a diploma.

The most important part of AROTC, other than Army Reserve Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers, is the personal activities and the personal activities they bring into the classroom, the students run the whole program.

The AROTC takes students who are good at their program of study. For more information, call Kevin Polito at 553-6178.

Graduate Offers Advice to Students

By Qili Evans

This summer I have been interning for the public relations department of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra. It has been an excellent way to learn about the field of public relations and to gain experience in the industry.

For information on how to get into this field, a couple of my coworkers and I have written an article that should be published in the Summer 1987 issue of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra's newsletter.

This Time Breeze Through Exams

By Robert J. Carr

Experience test anxiety on August 14, 1986.

As you think about how anxious you are before taking a test, consider that most people experience anxiety before an exam. Anxiety can become excessive and affect performance. Experiencing such tension before an exam can result in failure. This is the case with test anxiety.

If you have experienced test anxiety, your thinking may be as follows: You are one of many who believe you are one of the few who are anxious about exams. You believe test anxiety is a personal weakness. You feel that test anxiety is a sign of vulnerability. You worry how others will view you. You feel that your classmates are having fun while you are suffering. You believe that you are not capable of passing the course or getting a good mark. You are convinced that others are superior to you. You believe that others are enjoying the exam, while you are feeling anxious. You think that you are not doing well in the course. You feel that you do not have the ability or means to do the exam. You believe that others are doing better.

If you have experienced test anxiety, you may think that you need to improve your exam performance. Experiencing such tension helps others get through the exam. However, some students become anxious and affected by the exam. The exam is a test of many factors.

The KWMU Student Staff is Serious About Radio

- Most college campus radio stations let students "play radio" on weak stations that few people can hear.
- Some college campus radio stations let students do whatever they want without regard to what those stations will need to know when they try to find a job in broadcasting.

KWMU 90.7 FM is a real, 100,000-watt major-market station

- The Student Staff at KWMU works with professional broadcasters to produce professional-quality work.
- Student Staffers have the opportunity to learn a variety of skills, the job skills they need to get jobs in radio.
- The KWMU Student Staff is not interested in "pretend" radio; to get on the air, you have to be good. But if you are on the air, you'll have worked and trained and learned the skills you need to launch your career as a broadcaster.

If you'd like to learn real skills on a real radio station, join the KWMU Student Staff.

EVENING STUDENT PERSONALITY TEST

Instructions: Answer the following questions as honestly as you can.

1. Would you like for the memories of your college career here at UMSL to be something more than the long walks to and from the parking lot?
   - Yes □ No □

2. Would you like to meet others and involve yourself in activities which can provide a suitable outlet and sufficient opportunity to expand your horizons?
   - Yes □ No □

If you answered "Yes" to one or both of the questions above, you should consider becoming a member of the UMSL Evening College Council.

The Evening College Council is looking for evening students who have some ideas about how to make life as an UMSL evening student more enjoyable and who can also dedicate a couple of hours a month to put those ideas into action.

Optometrists Keep Patients In Focus

The first step in our examination requires us to get to know you, assess your eye health, and determine the ability of your visual systems to do what is demanded of them now, and the core of that is visual function. To accomplish this task, we perform your eye examinations to provide comprehensive "data base" information. This will serve as the wish of all future care rendered to each comprehensive examination usually about two hours and is performed by third-year and fourth-year students under the direct supervision of highly qualified and credentialed faculty members. While two hours may seem like a long time for an examination, you must remember that you are teaching clinic, thus, you are comprehensive examinations in real-time in a teaching clinic. We are sure that after the examination you will be pleased with its thoroughness. Prescription services are available from our dispensary at competitive prices. We also have a number of prescription eyewear may choose from a large selection of specialty frames as we design.

tend to patients who need various occupational and cosmetic lenses will like this base.

Should you desire or require specialized services, you will be referred to appropriate specialty clinics. We have a specialty clinic in contact lenses, binocular vision, low vision, ocular health assessment, and a contact lens clinic.

These clinics utilize the most advanced equipment and techniques available. They are equipped and staffed to handle those patients who need specialized care above and beyond the standard examination and treatment programs normally offered in a general eye examination.

Specialty Clinics

The contact lens clinic offers services as an alternative to spectacle wear. Many people can obtain better vision with contact lenses than with spectacle lenses. Those with keratoconus or those who have had corneal surgery. Others with contact lenses so they can be more involved in athletics or other recreational activities. Many feel they "look" better wearing contact lenses instead of glasses.

The binocular vision and pediatrics vision clinic offers services devoted to the children with problems with their eyes working together such as amblyopia (lazy eye), recovery of the eye muscle coordination difficulties. The problem may be that the eyes are out of alignment or the treatment program of eye exercises or patching may be required, if indicated. The progress of the patient is closely monitored. The faculty members in this area are also interested in evaluating children with learning difficulties which may have some visual basis. They work closely with educators, psychologists, and others to help identify these conditions.

The low vision and visual rehabilitation clinic provide comprehensive examination and rehabilitation programs for those who are partially sighted. Many of the patients examined in this clinic are legally blind (corrected visual acuity of 20/200 or less). Many legally blind and visually impaired individuals have remaining vision which can be improved through the use of special optical devices. For the visually impaired individual, removing some visual absence elevated self-esteem, improved self-confidence, and the ability to lead a fuller, more productive life.

The ocular health assessment clinic was established to provide refraction of patients with known or suspected ocular disease such as cataracts, glaucoma, retinal degeneration, and other eye affiltiations of a local or general systemic nature. Many times, conditions progress slowly without producing symptoms.

The examination process will be thorough and may require that you return for a second examination.

The examination procedures offered include a comprehensive analysis of color vision or night vision and evaluations of vision in patients who are able to come to the examination room and are referred to appropriate specialists.

The specialized visual analysis clinic is specifically designed to provide in-depth examinations of visual functions which are beyond the scope of those normally provided. The examination procedures offered include a comprehensive analysis of color vision or night vision and evaluations of vision in patients who are able to come to the examination room and are referred to appropriate specialists.

We have strived to provide our patients with a comprehensive elective facility designed to offer high-quality comprehensive care. One important aspect of this service is health education. We believe you will be well照顾ing your vision and eye health and will provide emergency services to and from practitioners throughout the state of Missouri and the Midwest.

All examinations are by appointment. To obtain additional information about the services offered by the Optometry Clinic, please call 535-1511.

A Survival Guide For All Students: New, Returning

A New Semester

- If you've never in the campus, take a half hour to walk around. The most provided (map!) just hang it - discover the bookstore, the library, the video in the Student Lounge, the study areas in the classroom building.

- Be sure to order your meal card at the IMG Beep Desk in the Main West Building. Stop each of your classrooms before the first day of class - you'll be able to relax knowing you won't be late because you got lost.

- When you've attended your first classes before purchasing any books. Often you won't actually need everything listed in the bookstore. It is a good idea, however, to check out the textbook under each of your class headings in advance - bring it to a professor or talk about who he or she tells you what to buy.

- Learn a way around the Thomas Jefferson Library. The calendar is written as well as it's never too late. The endless remains stuck away there may seem overwhelming, but once you learn the system, you'll be surprised how much easier it is. - Eat lunch or breakfast in the cafeteria at least once a week - once you learn the system, you'll never too late. The endless may seem overwhelming, but once you learn the system, you'll be surprised how much easier it is.

Academic Actions

- Make an effort to learn about campus organizations can offer you, and then join one. You'll build a network of friends and acquaintances that will stay with you after you graduate. In addition, you can learn new skills and make use of skills you already possess.

- Make an effort to learn what classes are being offered this semester. Catalogs may be purchased at the campus bookstore - a worthwhile investment considering the time and money you'll save by not taking classes you won't need.

- For students wishing to graduate on time it may be a wish that you don't live a degree application a year in advance. Once you've submitted the form, advisors will notify you of any changes in your credits before it's too late.

- Transfer students especially need the help an advisor can offer, because the choices are high you'll repeat a class or miss an important class in transferring when it isn't.

Editor Announces New Staff

By Steven L. Crawley

The Campus Current is pleased to announce the appointment of several new staff members. These individuals will bring fresh perspectives to the newspaper and help shape its future.

Brian A. Martin has been named Managing Editor of the newspaper for the academic year. Martin has served as an editor of the student newspaper at St. Louis Community College-Florissant Valley and as an intern for the Current for a semester.

"Brian is an excellent addition to our staff," said Current Editor Terri Seymour. "His experience and knowledge of the newspaper industry will be invaluable as we continue to grow and evolve."

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS: Current Business Manager Mike Luczak puts the finishing touches on one of the advertisements that appears in this edition of the Campus Survival Guide.

Current Sets All New Copy Deadlines

Deadlines are flexible, but it's important to get your stories in on time to ensure timely publication.

There are several deadlines to consider when submitting your work. The New Copy Deadline is the most important, as it determines when your story will appear in the newspaper. Other deadlines include: New Features Deadline, New Classifieds Deadline, and New Sports Deadline.

The New Copy Deadline is 4:00 p.m. on Tuesday for the Tuesday edition of the newspaper. For example, if you want your story to appear in the Tuesday edition, you must submit it by 4:00 p.m. on Monday.

The New Features Deadline is 4:00 p.m. on Wednesday for the Wednesday edition of the newspaper. For example, if you want your story to appear in the Wednesday edition, you must submit it by 4:00 p.m. on Tuesday.

The New Classifieds Deadline is 4:00 p.m. on Thursday for the Thursday edition of the newspaper. For example, if you want your story to appear in the Thursday edition, you must submit it by 4:00 p.m. on Wednesday.

The New Sports Deadline is 4:00 p.m. on Friday for the Friday edition of the newspaper. For example, if you want your story to appear in the Friday edition, you must submit it by 4:00 p.m. on Thursday.

In addition to these deadlines, there are also rules for content. Articles must be submitted by students to announce activities, scholarships, and achievements. Each article must include a photo and a brief description of the activity or achievement. The number of photos and descriptions is limited to three per article.

If you have any questions about deadlines or content, please contact the Current Editor Terri Seymour at (530) 517-3000 or terri.seymour@umsl.edu.

The Current is published by the University of Missouri-St. Louis, a public institution of higher education. It is produced by students for students and is published biweekly during the academic year and weekly during the summer. The newspaper is distributed to all members of the university community, including students, faculty, staff, and visitors. The newspaper is also available online at http://current.umsl.edu.
