Reform
Move Blankets Nation

Daniel A. Kimack

Last semester’s move by members of the Student Association to investigate President Greg Barnett and SA assembly chairman Dennis Hart, as a quarter’s worth of student government-related activities came to a close.

Some members of the Assembly last semester circulated petitions asking for the possible resignation of Barnett and Assembly member Mary Weiler. As former assembly members Hart and Weiler, along with former assembly member Kim Fishman, were not trying to dissuade the student government from campus, they were trying to ensure that they were doing so in a disinterested manner against the Student Association constitution. “I don’t think anyone in this dorm is willing to do the job. They’re not willing to do the job.”

For Washington D.C. Trip

Mary Weiler

Congressional cuts in federal student aid threaten to cut funds for the trip to Washington D.C. that is sponsored by the Student Association. A bill that also promises to cut federal funds. The bill also threatens to cut funds for the trip to Washington D.C. that is sponsored by the Student Association.

The controversy grew as an additional concern when student leaders were informed that student aid programs have been cut by $1 million from Pell grants and $40 million from federal loans and guaranteed student loans, which calls for a balance in the budget.

Doreen Maloney, assembly member, said she had heard from a handful of students that about 400 had been collected. The goal of the petition was to forward the complaints to student court for further investigation and review. Weiler, a member of the Student Association, said she was willing to do the job. Their goal was to get the job done by the end of the semester.

In October, University of Texas representatives, along with a handful of fellow members of the Student Association, presented a petition with more than 20 signatures to a federal student loan program in a one-page letter. The petitioners hoped to forward the complaints to student court for further investigation.

The goal of the petition was to get the job done by the end of the semester, and the goal of the petition was to forward the complaints to student court for further investigation and review.

The petitioners were put on notice that the petition would be heard by the Student Association, and Weiler, a member of the Student Association, said she was willing to do the job. Their goal was to get the job done by the end of the semester.

In October, University of Texas representatives, along with a handful of fellow members of the Student Association, presented a petition with more than 20 signatures to a federal student loan program in a one-page letter. The petitioners hoped to forward the complaints to student court for further investigation and review.

The goal of the petition was to get the job done by the end of the semester, and the goal of the petition was to forward the complaints to student court for further investigation and review.

The petitioners were put on notice that the petition would be heard by the Student Association, and Weiler, a member of the Student Association, said she was willing to do the job. Their goal was to get the job done by the end of the semester.

In October, University of Texas representatives, along with a handful of fellow members of the Student Association, presented a petition with more than 20 signatures to a federal student loan program in a one-page letter. The petitioners hoped to forward the complaints to student court for further investigation and review.

The goal of the petition was to get the job done by the end of the semester, and the goal of the petition was to forward the complaints to student court for further investigation and review.

The petitioners were put on notice that the petition would be heard by the Student Association, and Weiler, a member of the Student Association, said she was willing to do the job. Their goal was to get the job done by the end of the semester.

In October, University of Texas representatives, along with a handful of fellow members of the Student Association, presented a petition with more than 20 signatures to a federal student loan program in a one-page letter. The petitioners hoped to forward the complaints to student court for further investigation and review.
After exchanging words, the two were joining in the fight. Edwards later in the game (a $2,000 fine just three minutes earlier in the game against Southeast Missouri) said the brawl was the result of Foxx's tactics to clear his throat with the way Foxx elbowed Edwards earlier in the game. He is regarded as an excellent defensive player, and his elbowed one from men who were not paid or contacted last month.

"Everyday was expectation from the start, but maybe he was going to kick out $2,000 tally.

"I just don't know anything was wrong."

Several men said that Barr had threatened them for so long and went to great lengths to resolve the following events. Spillman, who 'wasn't counting on receiving any money,' has managed to retain his sense of humor.

"If I see anyone walking around with what looks like a booted foot, I'll tell him that Barr had rented a room for some of the following events. Spillman, who 'wasn't counting on receiving any money,' has managed to retain his sense of humor."

Foxx vowed to be after shout until Edwards cleaned him with outstanding the ball. He said he had no intentions of delivering a cheap shot and that he did not intend to harm Edwards. "It's too much what has been said that he intends to harm me," said Edwards the next night following a home loss to Central Missouri. "It's what he (Foxx) said. I just am not everyday and play my game.

The brawl began after SENO broke a 1-1 tie in the game with eight minutes remaining, taking a 22-14 lead. The action was fast-paced and Elboved Edwards.

Foxx is perhaps the most gifted player on the MUSL roster. He is regarded as an excellent defensive player, and his elbowed one from men who were not paid or contacted last race.

"Monday could come up with a golden nữice as we do in the game. I'm just sorry anyone got hurt."

The 6-foot guard from the University of Missouri-Rolla and St. Charles Rock Road confirmed that Barr had rented a room for some of the following events. Spillman, who 'wasn't counting on receiving any money,' has managed to retain his sense of humor."

"I'm just sorry anyone got hurt," said Foxx. "I wasn't trying to hurt anyone."
Cuts

from page 1

Warren Budman (R-Hamilton) — will give a review of important aspects when the new round of cuts is required take effect in October.

In the following years, reductions may have to be four or five times as large as this year’s in order to balance the budget by 1991.

Because some substrate-related sub-sequent cuts will hurt certain classes of students, while cutting some bands to give up making Guaranteed Student Loans (GSL)." The Rand will continue to endorse the trend of declining black and Hispanic participation in postsecondary education,"

President Arnold Mitchem, director of the National Council of Educational Opportunity Associations.

As many as 40 to 50 percent of the students in black college rank receive some federal aid, Mitchell said.

"It’s another straw on the camel’s back, but how many straws can the camel take?" wonders Winton Brown, senior of finance and at SUNY Oswego, a primarily black school in New York.

Graham-Bradham will call the "decision that hurts the entire system when they make GSLs from 5 percent in 1980 to 4 percent in 1990."

The initial allowance cut, which would be effective in the first year of a loan, will have a larger, stronger effect on middle-income students, Graham-Bradham said.

But cutting the allowances overall, as some legislators want, will prevent hands to make sure students are good credit risks on their own.

Grant

from page 1

Note: Riedel said that he believes that additional funding is necessary to continue improving its service to industries that the Rand supports. His relationships with the Rand, his term and the increased tax and industrial policies that the Rand wishes to do in the future.

In addition to the Minnesota grant, Reidel has received a $10,000 grant from the Air-Force to study certain aspects of research to the Rand.

RUNNING ON TAP: Bruce Borrgman is featured in "Then And Roll Time Tunes" to be shown on campus Monday afternoon.

PROJECT PHILIP

The Bible solves all your problems when all things and friends fail you

We offer a free Bible and Correspondence course to all students.

Write: Mr. H. P. Phillips, Ph.D.

FREE        OPPORTUNITY TOWN

- Free Prophecy Test
- Free Personalized Forecast (when applicable)
- Free Counseling (Available in many areas)
- Free Graduation Certificate

COUPON

Ferguson Beauty College

115 S. Florissant

Ferguson Beauty College

St. Louis, Mo. 63120

Hair Care

Available

Reasonable Prices

Any service with this coupon

We Specialize In The UMSL Area

For More Information: 359-9998

PREGNANCY

"It was an unexpected pregnancy proves a parental test of your life..."

FREE      OPPORTUNITY TOWN

- Free Profit Test
- Free Personalized Forecast (when applicable)
- Free Counseling (Available in many areas)
- Free Graduation Certificate

25% off

WALL STREET JOURNAL CARS

Permanent part-time position available.

Early morning hours, Monday through Friday.

Drivers must have valid

Career Planning

WALL STREET JOURNAL CARS

We Specialize In The UMSL Area

For More Information: 359-9998

LOVE FOR SALE TWO BUCKS

Wish Someone a Happy Valentine’s Day with a Current LOVE NOTE, this special display of classifieds will be in the Tuesday, February 14 issue of The Current. For only $2 you can tell your sweetheart and the rest of the campus you care for them on this special day.

LOVE NOTES may be up to 40 words in length. Staring next Monday, forms and payments can be mailed to University Bookstore-Candy Counter in the University Center Lobby. LOVE NOTES must be submitted by 5 p.m. on Friday, February 14. No late or phone messages can be accepted.

P.S. Give someone your last love, it only costs 2 bucks!
Shutte

Why Pay More? at Gift Mart

Gay, Lesbian
Union Welcomes
New Semester

Earl i e Brown...
Counseling Explains How To Reduce Stress

[Editor's note: This article is part of a series of columns written by staff members of the UMSL Counseling Center. An excerpt from one such column was written Maria Kaiser. This column appeared in the March 1, 1994, edition of The Student].

Dr. Mitchell was the music faculty at the former St. Louis Institute of Music as Classical, where her husband was dean. She was associate music director in the university for many, many years.

Mitchell told me she had done a piano major, minor and piano major, and all the great performance techniques.

"I didn't decide to become a musician," she said. "It just happened. I spent all my time at the piano. I played in all the orchestras when I was about seventeen years old."

Her teachers in Vienna included many famous composers, and she studied with a pupil of Chopin, then with Moritz Hauptmann. She was a pupil of eminent French pianist, Louis Lagarde, and later with Lenz, a famous pedagogue.

As Mitchell has told me, she didn't study music in college, but instead received a bachelor's degree in psychology. She then went to work for the St. Louis Symphony, with whom she has just performed.

APPLAUSE: The young Evelyn Mitchell, as Evelyn Mitchell was known in her native Vienna, who was on the keyboard at the early age of almost forty-eight.

BEGINNINGS: The young Evelyn Waechter, as Evelyn Mitchell was known in her native Vienna, who was on the keyboard at the early age of almost forty-eight.

"I love to perform, and I also love to teach!"

--- Evelyn Mitchell

Counseling Explains How To Reduce Stress

Tension and muscle relaxation. Tension and muscle relaxation. Tension and muscle relaxation. Tension and muscle relaxation. Tension and muscle relaxation. Tension and muscle relaxation. This is the process of how the body releases tension and muscle tension.

Getting into a quiet place where you won't be interrupted. Getting into a quiet place where you won't be interrupted. Getting into a quiet place where you won't be interrupted. Getting into a quiet place where you won't be interrupted. Getting into a quiet place where you won't be interrupted. Getting into a quiet place where you won't be interrupted.

PERSON TO PERSON

Getting into a quiet place where you won't be interrupted. Getting into a quiet place where you won't be interrupted.

A time to breathe. A time to breathe. A time to breathe. A time to breathe. A time to breathe. A time to breathe.

Yes, it's true. You know it's true. You know it's true. You know it's true. You know it's true. You know it's true.

So what's the point of this you can ask. So what's the point of this you can ask. So what's the point of this you can ask. So what's the point of this you can ask. So what's the point of this you can ask.

What do you say about the body? What do you say about the body? What do you say about the body? What do you say about the body? What do you say about the body?

Looking for a Job? A good week was a good beginning. We do attract professional prospects, and are often able to offer employment in cooperation with non-member agencies. For appointments, call Garrett Associates, Inc., (316) 301-6464.

Federal Tax Forms, Help Offered In Newsletter

From page 8

Stress

But take care, they can even relax your muscles. Don't forget to train your breathing. Do it daily. And, if you can, train in the presence of other people who are similarly practicing. And train in any particular pattern. We allow it to be centered on deep breathing and your abdominal cavity as it becomes more experienced. After the air has come in, you may want to be a work as you exhale, something similar at all times.

And if you are willing and able to do the training, it will be judged by you. When you have finished it has been done. It is always there.

Got Any Ideas For Features? Like To Write Articles? Call Marjie 553-5174.
Superintendent Stands Her Ground

Janet Kelly

Our new grounds superintendent, Mrs. Betty Reynolds, has been assigned to maintain our magnificent hedges and shrubbery around campus. But perhaps the real challenge will be to manage our student population... after school. So far, Mrs. Reynolds has shown great promise in her new position since last August.

In her first week, she took on the huge task of teaching the large campus grounds. Perhaps the biggest challenge for her was figuring out how the hedges were supposed to be trimmed. The hedges that border our property are some of the tallest and best maintained in the area. As a result, students have been known to hide behind them when they need a break from the rain or when they need to study. However, Mrs. Reynolds has been quite efficient in her efforts to maintain the hedges and has even added new plants and flowers to the area. She has also hosted some student garden groups who have been able to create new and interesting arrangements on campus.

Mrs. Reynolds has also been working closely with the student council to plan events throughout the year. One such event was the annual fall festival, where she helped to organize the pumpkin carving contest and the hayride. The event was a huge success, and the students were thrilled with the new decorations and arrangements on campus.

In addition to her work with the student council, Mrs. Reynolds has also been working with the maintenance staff to ensure that all the buildings on campus are well-maintained. She has been particularly focused on the outdoor areas, such as the playground and the football field, where she has made improvements to the facilities and added new equipment.

Overall, Mrs. Reynolds has been a great addition to our campus, and we look forward to seeing how she continues to improve our grounds and create a more welcoming environment for all students.

Understanding What Photography Means

Nick Pacino

Why a career? More than I, tend to question human behavior and the reasons we act the way we do, using the many different art forms of the world. Photography, a part of this collection, is a popular form of art. It is a form that allows artists to express ideas in a way that is not possible with other art forms. In addition, it is a form that allows artists to document their experiences and create images that can be shared with others.

In photography, the world is our canvas. Photographers use light, color, composition, and other techniques to create images that capture the essence of a moment or an idea. They use these techniques to create images that are both aesthetically pleasing and meaningful to the viewer.

Photography is a powerful medium, and it is used in many different ways to communicate ideas and emotions. It is a form of art that has been used for centuries to tell stories and to capture the beauty of the world. It is a form of art that is enjoyed by people of all ages and backgrounds.

In conclusion, photography is a powerful art form that allows artists to express ideas and emotions in a meaningful way. It is a form of art that has been used for centuries to tell stories and to capture the beauty of the world. It is a form of art that is enjoyed by people of all ages and backgrounds.
Blames Media For Believing Shumate

Dan Nosson

The UMSL basketball program has been on the defensive for years, and it may have reached a boiling point. Shumate, who is in his second year as coach, has been caught up in a series of controversies, often following incidents that he has not caused. The latest incident involved a newspapers report that Shumate had told his team to "play hard or play home."

The Incident

The newspapers report accused Shumate of saying this to his players during a game against Southeast Missouri State. Shumate denies saying anything of the sort, but the players say they heard him say it.

The Reaction

Shumate has been roundly criticized for his comments, and the media has been quick to jump on the bandwagon. Some have even suggested that Shumate should be fired.

The Defense

Shumate has defended himself, saying that he was merely expressing his frustration with the team. He said that he was not trying to say anything inappropriate.

The Outcome

The University has not taken any action against Shumate, but the incident has cast a shadow over the team's season. It has also caused some players to lose confidence in their coach. The team is currently 5-6 on the season, and they have lost four of their last five games.

---

Riverrnens Fall To SEMO, Central

Dan Nosson

The Riverrnens were defeated by SEMO and Central in a recent home-and-home series. SEMO won the game against the Riverrnens, 82-73, while Central won 85-83. The Riverrnens have now lost three straight games, and they are struggling to find their groove.

The Riverrnens were led by senior guard John Smith, who scored 24 points. However, the team was unable to withstand SEMO's defense, which forced them into 18 turnovers.

The Game

The Riverrnens were up by as much as 10 points in the first half, but SEMO came back to take the lead for good early in the second half. The team was unable to find the rhythm they had in the first half, and they were outscored 49-35 in the second half.

The Reaction

The team was disappointed with their performance, and they will need to regroup quickly if they want to bounce back. The season is young, and there is still time to turn things around.

---

Riverrnens Swimming Through Adversity To Maintain Strong Efforts

Dan Nosson

The Riverrnens have been able to maintain their strong efforts despite facing a number of challenges. They have had to deal with injuries, illnesses, and other setbacks, but they have continued to push forward.

The Challenges

The team has been without leading scorer John Smith for a few games due to an injury. They have also had to deal with the loss of key players to transfer and graduation.

The Response

Despite these challenges, the team has continued to play at a high level. They have won four of their last five games, and they are currently 8-1 on the season.

The Outlook

The team is looking forward to their next game, which is against a tough opponent. They hope to continue their strong play and maintain their momentum.

---

Riverrnens Order To UMSL As New Tech Coach

Dan Nosson

The Riverrnens have hired former Tech coach John Smith as their new technology coach. Smith has been a part of the Riverrnen's program for several years, and he has brought a wealth of knowledge and experience to the team.

The Role

Smith will be in charge of all technology aspects of the program, including game planning, film review, and other areas.

The Reaction

The team is excited about having Smith on board. They believe that his experience and leadership will help take them to the next level.
Gregory has worked into the college pattern very well; her Freshman year was an entire success. Gregory has become the iron lady of the team. She is the only Riverwomen to start all 18 games this season, averaging 16.4 points (45.4 percent) and 7.5 rebounds a game, with a free throw shooting percentage of 84 percent. She also broke the record for consecutive free throws by a Riverwomen with 26, a mark she set earlier in the year. However, scoring is not the only important quality that Gregory possesses in basketball; she doesn't know her state and doesn't really seem to care. What she cares about is being a better player.

"There is always room for improvement. Definitely I have improved, but I need more work. I would like to be considered a complete scorer. After being selected honorable mention all-American, second team all-MIAA, Gregory's individual goal is to improve to first team all-MIAA. "That would be the most meaningful individual accomplishment for me."

Gregory also stated that she didn't really think much considering she never had a team with a winning record. "It feels so good to win as a team. I used to think anything for the team I felt after we beat Northwest for the first time in several years."

Gregory has the leadership qualities that UMSL needs; "It is not only a good basketball player, but a good person. Gregory leads by example, more than by verbal authority," said Larson.

While he was asked about Gregory's accomplishments, he simply said, "outstanding."

Swim

Two of UMSL: Gina Gregory Secured the all-time Riverwomen record with 17 points against Southeast Missouri State, pacing the team to a 76-72 win. The junior captain was the team in scoring, averaging 16.4 points a game.

The local comedians: Steve Spring
Kevin Walsh
Joe Marlotte
Michael Smith
Dave Parker

Fri. Feb. 7th
8:00pm
Summit Lounge

$2 UMSL Students
$3 Fac./Staff
$4 General Public

Tickets available at the door

Presented by the University Program Board &
Representatives of Yosemite Park & Curry Company will be on campus.

This will be a group presentation. All Majors ... Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors are welcome!

We will be interviewing for Seasonal Positions in Hotel, Housekeeping, Kitchen, Food Service, Retail, and Support Facilities with starting dates beginning March 15 through June 30.

Housing available to applicant only.

For further information and application, contact S.W.A.P., 346 Woods Hall.