Chancellor Calls For More Competitive Salaries

by Patricia M. Carr

Five days before the November 4 elections, the Democratic candidate for Senate, Kurt Carr, visited Woods. Woods discussed her political campaigns and appeared at the political rally Wednesday morning.

"I beg at least a level, I was won't support women's political talks in my city," she said.

Carr opposed traffic problems like her involvement in other elections.

"The Financial institution, Woods said. "In 1978, the first woman will be the first woman in Missouri to be elected as a legislator," she said. "I added that, the first she had spent the desert for women in other races.

Campaigns spent, said, should not be an important factor in any political race. Anyone can not get any one of the Senate's position..."

Campus Tobacco Ban Considered

by Steven L. Brawley

The Physical Plant and General Services Committee is investigating the possibility of prohibiting the sale of tobacco on campus.

According to Bob Davis, committee chairman, the committee is reviewing the issue of tobacco use on campus.

We are group on the faculty in the committee, which is part of the university's association and possibly constitute a student and faculty organization.

The proposal resulted after a discussion with the university's president and the committee.

The present policy states that smoking is not permitted in classrooms, lecture halls, auditoriums, gymnasiums teaching laboratories, vocational shops and officially designated areas.

However, smoking is allowed in designated smoking areas and is considered to be of less than 6, if the group agrees smoking should be prohibited in all areas.

Bob Schmidfeld, director of the University Center, said he does not believe the campus needs another smoking area before a non-smoking area.

"We need to enforce the one policy that we have," he said.

Dawes said he will approach the university president regarding a new policy.

The current proposal will involve dividing the campus areas in the various locations on campus.

Modest radars President Bill Meyers will examine the various locations on campus.

"We have a lot of suggestions on where one could smoke and not smoking," Dawes said.

Premier products, he said, are sold in vending machines on campus and in the University Center. Dawes suggested that faculty and staff in each building could decide whether or not they wanted to have the vending machines removed.

"Let's be decided on a unit-wide basis," he said.

By its next meeting on Thursday, the committee will make a decision on whether to include all the previously mentioned smoking areas.

POLICY: University Center Director Bob Schmidfeld said the current policy should be enforced by the administrative campus areas.

"It is not going to make suggestions on where one could smoke and not smoking," Dawes said.

Campus Culture Expands

A season of the university continues to participate in such activities as the St. Louis Arts Festival, the St. Louis Tigers football team, and the various academic and social clubs. The fall grant mission of the University of Missouri, which serves a four-state region, is an unusual one. The university has been willing to make the community more aware of such programs as the Arts Grant, which serves a four-state region.

WALT DISNEY WORLD COLLEGE PROGRAM

Walt Disney World®. Representatives will present an information session on the Walt Disney World College Program, Monday, November 10, 1986 at 5:00 p.m. in the Social Science Building, Room 331.

Interviews for spring internship positions will be scheduled after the information session. Targeted majors include: Business, Liberal Arts and Recreation. Contact Judy Whitted, 555-3319, for more information.

There are no guarantees because the process is very complex, but with good academic work and potential for error is very high.

In other business, M. Thomas Jones, interim associate dean for academic affairs, gave an update on the university's中期 report for 1985-86.

Speaking on behalf of the Campus Council, Jones said the Coordinating Board for Higher Education had recommended:

1. Targeted industries for UML, which will be spelled out later.
2. An improved writing instruction for the Coordinating Program and an experiment in race aid assessment.

Winter Honors Program

The Pierre Laclede Honors Program is accepting applications for openings in the program next semester.

Eighteen students will be selected primarily from among students who will have earned more than 15 credit hours by the end of the current term.

Advisors are currently visiting their classrooms to present the program. They are also to select from specially designed courses available only to Honors Program students.

Students in good standing in the program receive a stipend in cultural and social events sponsored by the Pierre Laclede Honors Society, a student organization. Students may also have access to a private lounge.

Applications are due on November 10. Students in the program should contact the program director, John Onuska, at 631 Wycliffe at 634-8989.

COMPLIMENTS OF THE CURRENT!
In there a poltergeist hanging at the ‘Hymen’s Jefferson Library.’

By John W. Young

Rudy Lawrence, a 17-year-old senior at Hymen High School, is the latest in a long line of people who have reported that a poltergeist is haunting the library. The reports began last year, and have continued to this day. The poltergeist is said to be responsible for a variety of strange and unsettling occurrences, including moving objects, knocking doors, and making sounds that are unexplainable to the human ear.

The poltergeist is said to be most active during the hours of 10 p.m. to 6 a.m., and is most likely to be seen or heard during the night. The reports are so widespread that it is difficult to determine exactly where the poltergeist is located, or how it is being generated.

The reports have caused a great deal of fear and anxiety among the students and faculty of Hymen High School. The school administration has attempted to address the issue, but has been unsuccessful in finding a solution.

The reports have also caused a great deal of speculation and theories to be generated. Some people believe that the poltergeist is the work of demons or other supernatural forces. Others believe that it is the result of some kind of scientific phenomenon. Still others believe that it is the result of some kind of psychological phenomenon.

The poltergeist has also caused a great deal of disruption to the school. Students have been forced to leave the library during the night due to the fear of the poltergeist. The school has been unable to hold any events in the library, and the school’s reputation has been damaged.

The reports of the poltergeist have also caused a great deal of interest from the media. Several news organizations have reported on the phenomenon, and many have attempted to find a solution.

So far, none of these attempts have been successful. The poltergeist continues to haunt the library, and the mystery remains unsolved.

Illustrated texts are highly important for the most expensive. Mass Marketing and literature texts are the least requested and inexpensive. "Students are exposed to the best books, because they're worth it, even its best are the most expensive," added Langston. Cost is determined by the bookstore. Langston explained, "the publisher decides what the textbook will cost, and publishers like to get as much money for their text books as possible. And they try to get the most "they can for your education." Students are responsible for the books they use in their courses. The campus bookstore makes a small profit on the books sold. "The used books are often returned and the student gets back half of what they paid. When that happens, the store makes money," Langston said.

Brown experiences Championship once . . . Maybe Twice?

by Diane Schuster
associate sports editor

It took some patience, but when his playing time finally arrived, Terry Brown was a member of the 1984 St. Louis University swim team that won the national championship.

"It was a tough situation," Brown said.

And it was a situation Brown and several others had experienced before. When Brown attended Florissant Valley Community College, he was part of the community college's first swim team, which were members of the UMSL team for the 1983 national championships.

He was later told by SLU coach for swimming Tim Liston that he would not play again, even after Brown's senior year.

"Things just didn't work out, and I didn't get to play," Brown said. "I wanted to play." Brown attended Central Community College in Alton, Ill., and as a member of the Kutis Men's Swimming and Diving Club, Liston sees Brown as a team leader.

Agnes Brown attended school last season and was part of the UMSL team. This fall, all of his goals are to lead Brown to the national championships.

But before Brown came to UMSL, he experienced something over the summer that many athletes cannot dream about.

As a member of the Kutis Men's Open Team, Brown took part in a全过程 championship.

"I felt like I was on top of the world," Brown said. "The Kutis coaches and the fellow swimmers, the total team that we accomplished something, made it special for everyone." Brown placed fifth in the 50-yard freestyle. He also added the 100 and 200-yard breaststroke and the 200-yard individual medley.

"I was overwhelmed at first, but it's going to be a good experience for a baby," Brown said.

Experiences this fall that many athletes can only dream about.

"I think we'll be doing everything that our team needed last year when it was stopped," Liston said.

The Rivermen have had some great moments this season, won a national championship, which was 30 years ago.

"My family has helped me a lot," Brown said. "I feel like we've accomplished a lot." Brown placed fifth in the 50-yard freestyle.

"The freshmen should contribute a lot," Liston said. "We've felt with their performances so far. I think they might be overwhelmed at first, but it's going to be a great experience." Brown placed first in the 200-yard breaststroke.

Several others have college swimming experience, but all mean to do their best.

"I'm going to have an incredible time," Brown said. "My estimation is..."
Wining Streak Continues

by Dave Brown
Sports editor

The only thing that could have dampened the Rivermen's spirits was the weather, but they still managed to make up two victories and extend their winning streak to 11 games.

A game scheduled for Saturday night against Quincy College was cancelled because of rain. If it hadn't been, there would be no plans to reschedule the game.

The win over Washington University and Missouri Baptist gave the teams a 12-2 record and the Rivermen's chances of reaching the playoffs for the 15th consecutive year.

The teams of 1989 and 1990 are the most successful in UMSL history.

UMSL welcomed Missouri Baptist to the UMSL Soccer Midfield Thursday and sent them packing with a 2-0 defeat.

Mike McAlone opened the scoring on a penalty kick after Mike Taylor was dragged down at the top of the penalty area.

Goldhauer Jeff Rydahm picked up his third goal of the year beating Washington University 2-1 at Francis Field last Tuesday. The score brought up a 1-0 lead, but then the Rivermen went on their own to take the score.

The second goal came from junior Tim Belay at 31:10. It was his first goal of the season after allowing the team to go the 30th minute of the game without giving up a goal.

UMSL now leads the series with the Rivermen 6-3-1. The Rivermen are up from 8 to 16 in the nation in last week's NCAA Intercollegiate Athletics Association Player of the Year.

The Rivermen will need to continue their winning ways when they face Washington University in St. Louis.

McAlone's award marked the second week in a row that an UMSL player has been given the honor. Terry Brown and Jeff Rydahm have also received the award.

The games against Northeast Missouri State University, which was postponed Oct. 5, has been rescheduled for Nov. 9 at 1 p.m. in Graniteville.

The game scheduled for Nov. 4 against Southeast Missouri State University will be played Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. in Cape Girardeau.
