Student Association Elections Get Underway
By Laura J. Hopper

A number of times have been chosen for the 1987-88 Student Association presidential elections, which will be held Monday and Tuesday, April 26 and 27.

The election will be held during dinner hours, 5-9 p.m., in the Campus Center and the Library. Voting will be by secret ballot.

The Student Senate then will announce the results at a meeting at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in the Campus Center Rotunda.

The candidates are:

- Steve Bratcher, running for president and running-mate for Chancellors Marvin and Olen Hardmon and Bratcher of being absent from a crucial meeting dealing with parking reform. In response, Bratcher denied being absent and said Eulentrop in the current president of the Evening Council. challenge by Jerry Eulentrop and with Eulentrop having served as chair of the communications committee this past year.

Bratcher also discussed a proposal for what he termed "incentive programs," such as cash in student activity fees for students belonging to student organizations. The cash would be an incentive for student to become more involved in campus activities.

Bratcher is running in the platform, stated that "campus accessibility" will be a major issue. He also will conduct tours of the campus on Saturdays and Sundays by having the library classes at midnight during the week instead of the current closing time of 10 p.m. New tours that the go to the Washington University Library will study due to its later closing time. Bratcher is the bookmaker that, "a student, you can't use your own proposal."

In reecking his proposal, Bratcher said, "This is what we'll use. We've got a reverse campus. He added, "Nobody's in the Thomas Jefferson (library) at 3 a.m."

Bratcher and Stower also took an in-depth look at the hours by having the computer rooms open, as well as the financial and office hours. Bratcher said, "Eleven students currently study at the computer facilities but don't take advantage of them."

Another news at discussed the debate was divestment of university investments from companies that invest in South Africa. Eulentrop and Kennedy, in their debate, stated that "apartheid is inhumane and should be ended." Kennedy added that the plans to "fight for the divestment community."

Bratcher also is supposed to represent the University in hotel following the Sullivan Principle, which would allow Missouri University student to lease their dormitory, which does not involve much money on student debt.

In response, Kennedy said, "University is important. As a means to provide a problem, the University has been more involved in student research, due to its later closing time, Bratcher indicated his support for a proposal for what he termed "no cutting." He said, "We're not going to tolerate this."

Eulentrop said, "We can't get in to the financial aid office to check and our grades would not be required to be from, which could affect any financial aid grades."

Columbia, Mo. — The University of Missouri and the People's Republic of China signed a letter of intent to promote the exchange of students, teachers and in-depth news feature by Craig Bratcher.

The plan, according to David Carin, head of the faculty council, is planned to "provide more options" for family members.

Some people have expressed concerns about the proposal, such as whether a C- grade would be a satisfactory grade for family members.

Any student with questions concerning the plan will be encouraged at the Senate meeting to be held Tuesday.

Vote UM-St. Louis First

It is once again the time for the students of this university to show their apathetic faces and not bother to participate in the upcoming Student Association election.

Since quality is partially a product of ignorance, the problem lies in the students not being interested in or many campus and university-wide issues.

Recently, a candidate for Student Association President-Elect, John Dereak, has taken the time to address this issue with the student body. He has organized a forum with the other candidates, which will be held on Monday, April 18th at 6:30 p.m. in room 310 of the Student Center.

In the meantime, we urge students to vote UM-St. Louis First. By doing so, we will ensure that the student body has a strong voice in the Student Association.

BRIEFS

The UML's chapter of Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi will hold its usual initiation of new mem­bers from the UMLS campus on Wednesday, April 22, at 7 p.m. in Room 228 of the J. C. Penney Building.

America's Lt. Governor Carl Heileman was the keynote speaker at the annual Spring Ball at the University of Arkansas-Little Rock. Heileman is a member of the Arkansas Legislature and the governing board of the University of Arkansas System. He spoke on the importance of education and the role of government in supporting education. He also discussed the challenges facing higher education today and the importance of working together to address these challenges.

A great day for college recruiters...

Curator Discusses Issues Facing The Four University Campuses

By Kevin Edwards

If you want the teaching assistant orientation to be in which the development programs that are now being between the four campuses' student assessment committees and discussion has already began converging the assessment programs and what students need to do to ensure that student concerns and interests are considered. In response to complaints that some teaching assistants toward the goal of improving quality of instruction and tests are used, in access to the teachers from the Veterinary Medicine finds itself. Students from the Veterinary Medicine school were present discussed the situation. The school needs in the neighborhood of six million in capital improvements and $16 base operating budget in order to correct the problem completely. The improvements are part of the University's capital appropriation needs in the neighborhood of $16 percent for academic year 1988-89. I must stress that this is only a pre.

PHYSICAL HEALTH SERVICES

In the beginning, binging and purging seemed like an easy way to control your weight. Now, it's controlling your whole life. Because starvation is a miracle diet. It's a dangerous disease. A potentially fatal obsession that consumes your mind and soul. It can kill you.

And no matter how many times you tell yourself you can stop, that this time is the last time, the truth is: you need care and understanding to eliminate your problem. If you or someone you know has a problem with bulimia, anorexia or overeating, call the Eating Disorders Program.

In order to receive the service, you must call the Eating Disorders Program at the phone number listed above. Our medical staff and counselors have helped hundreds of women suffering from bulimia, so we know what you're going through. And we can help you end your physical and mental pain through a confidential, medically supervised inpatient program.

If you or someone you know has a problem with bulimia, anorexia or overeating, call the Eating Disorders Program.

Jordan Wants To Keep Campus Machinery Moving

by Laura Stephenson

Dr. Thomas Jordan, dean of the UMSL experts a 300% graduate school enrollment. This is not an accurate picture of the reality on campus. Jordan has been a leader in changing the academic climate at the university to make it more appealing to students.

He is committed to improving graduate education in order to strengthen the university's reputation. Jordan is working hard to attract new faculty members and to increase the number of graduate courses offered.

The University of Missouri St. Louis has a strong commitment to providing excellent graduate education. However, there are still challenges to overcome in order to make the university a more attractive destination for graduate students.

Some of the challenges include:

- Limited financial resources
- Difficulty in attracting top-tier faculty
- Need for increased research funding

Despite these challenges, Jordan and his team are committed to making progress in improving graduate education at UMSL. They are working to attract more students and to increase the number of graduate courses offered.

The University of Missouri St. Louis is committed to providing a high-quality education for its students. The university has a strong track record of success in graduate education, and it continues to work hard to improve its offerings and to attract more students.

The Rivermen, who have struggled against some of their toughest opponents, have won the first two games of the tournament, slipping past Missouri in a doubleheader that could have decided the MIAA South. With the season more than half over, the women's tennis squad has played beyond expectations and is ranked third nationally. With a 5-2 tournament record, head coach Jeff Schwartz, UMSL's assistant coach, said it was a key to the team's success in the tournament after hitting .206 in its regular season. Schwartz said the team is focused and confident, and is ready for the final game of the tournament.

Next year, the Rivermen will have to replace senior Ashley Savick, who has been a key to the team's success. King said she is a great athlete and a great leader, and the team will miss her presence. King emphasized the importance of having strong leadership on the team, and said that the Rivermen have a lot to look forward to with the addition of new players.

Live Music All Day With MC
Henry Cho
Henry’s comedic style catches a lot of people off guard. The audience sees this obviously oriental person walk on stage and all of a sudden an East Tennessee drawl comes rolling off his tongue - quite a shock for some. Henry kicks off Mirthday at 9:00 a.m.

9:30 Music By
The New “Street Corner”
Exciting and popular St. Louis based band is an UM-St. Louis favorite. Until recently called Street Corner Symphony.

11:30 Music
