25th Year Celebration To Start
UM-St. Louis will kick off its 25th anniversary celebration on May 6 with Chancellor Margaret E. Barnett's Report To The Community. The anniversary theme is "Celebrate the University."

Jones, dean of the School of Business, an is currently being, decided that the ball game will begin its anniversary activities with UN-St. Louis Night at Busch Stadium, when the Cardinals take on the Los Angeles Dodgers at 7:35 p.m.

"Next year, we are 25 years old," said Ray Meyer of University Relations. "The chancellor's report is the kick-off and the ball game will end the day."

Meyer said $404 tickets in the ball game have been sold, and sale of the game tickets will continue.

"We didn't expect this kind of interest," said Meyer.

The theme of the Barnett's report is the well-documented story of the university has established with the community. The report's theme is "partnerships with graduates who are working in the region, with faculty research focusing in the states."

"The report is the kick-off for the 25th anniversary celebration," Barnett .said, "and the ball game will end the celebration."
Dear Editor:

I am writing to congratulate Jerry Berhorst and Laurie Baker, the new president and vice president of the Student Association for the 1988-1989 school year. They were worthy opponents even though Jerry retured to reflect and work with Chuck and Marv during the coming year.

I would like to congratulate the 415 students who voted in the election. You must have realized you at least took the time and effort to vote. I also would like to congratulate Jerry and Laurie, the newly elected president and vice president of the Student Association for the 1988-1989 school year.

Did you notice the good sportsmanship of the Student Association candidates during the March 29 and 30 elections? I would like to congratulate the 415 students who voted in the election. You must have realized you at least took the time and effort to vote. I also would like to congratulate Jerry and Laurie, the newly elected president and vice president of the Student Association for the 1988-1989 school year.

Mouse With Sweet Tooth Spoils Supervisor’s Snack

by Paul Thompson

Discher decided to grab a quick snack in his lunch break. As he was leaving the vending machine on the first floor of Benton Hall to buy a Snicker’s bar, he was shocked to find crumbs on the floor. He noticed that the wrapper was torn, and he was about to throw it away when he noticed marks on it. "Discher said. It looked to Discher as if a mouse or rat had been nibbling on his Sup­ervisor’s bar. At that point, I kind of lost my appetite," he said. "I was totally grossed out."

Discher, angry about the little intruder in the vending machine and about the damage it had caused, decided to speak to Pat Briem, a secretary in the University Bookstore, who handles the vending machine services for the campus.

Briem acted promptly to rectify the problem. "I called the vending company right away and told them," she said. "They put a new machine in the next day." Briem added that the previous day, a student had bought a Hershey’s bar that looked as if it had been ravaged by a chocolate-loving rat. At the time, she wasn’t sure if the candy bar was simply mutilated or had been eaten by the rodent.

Discher’s complaint, however, was one of the last to arrive, as Briem was already investigating the problem. "I was surprised," she said, "that it happened so frequently."

Discher, pleased about the prompt action of Briem and the vending company, said he was happy to see how quickly the problem was resolved, but he was curious about how the machine had been damaged. "I wonder if someone was stealing the candy," he said. "Perhaps a student or a rat..."

The incident occurred at 11 a.m. on the first day of Discher’s second year in college. When he went to grab his Snicker’s bar, he was surprised to find crumbs on the floor. "I thought someone must have left a wrapper there, but then I noticed the marks," Discher said. "It was clear that a rodent had been nibbling on it."

Discher is a junior at the University of Missouri-St. Louis, majoring in political science. He is a member of the Missouri Political Science Association and the Missouri Political Science Honor Society.

The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi held its annual initiation of new members and election of officers on Monday, April 16, at A.J. Penrose Building. Approximately 70 undergraduates and graduate students and faculty members were inducted into this national honor society.

Promoted to National Primus, Dr. Curator’s Professor of History, was the guest speaker. Provost Primm introduced the initiates and their guests about sources of local history available in collections of historical documents at the Missouri Historical Society.

Academy Holds Car Wash For Scholarship Fund

by John Kilgore

The Political Science Academy held a beauty car wash April 22 to raise money for its scholarship fund. The academy is the first student organization ever to sponsor a scholarship.

In the fall we plan to award two $250 scholarships," said academy president Gordon Burdon.

The academy also held a car wash last fall which netted the group $835. Burdon said that the expenses profit from $534 to $644 from the spring car wash.

The group also hosted a Super Bowl party last January which raised $471.

"This group has the Center for International Studies suggested that the academy try to establish a scholarship fund, and it took off from there," Burdon said. "We got the idea for a car wash, and the first one went really well, and this one is even better."

Burdon said the group plans to sponsor a car wash/yard next fall.

The scholarship is available to students with a political science major or minor. Applications are available from the political science department.

The St. Louis housing dispute between the Sherman and Kraemer families began in 1981. The Sherman family, led by Michael S. Sherman, decided to fight the university in court after being denied access to the property they had been leasing from the university. The Sherman family contended that the university had engaged in discriminatory practices, such as exclusionary zoning, to prevent them from buying the property.

opposition to the cleaning had been slow to come. He identified some Italian critics. Frank Switzer of New York — who,Been said, was "not a good painter" — the late Andy Warhol, and, with fewer U.S. artists amonging that the project be stopped until further study could be conducted, and in Italy, Francesco Conti, who teaches restoration, and Crandi, who worked at the Vatican many years and made one of the five famous fresco dabs at the main entrance in St. Peter's.

The case of the dispute, as well as many other restorations worldwide, is "how much" to take off. Are only candle soot and additions of later painters being removed, or is Michelangelo's own work being modified, Beck asked. Beck maintained that the Vatican authorities are under the understand that he's needed to do his work after the wall had dried. "When, in fact, the art is not sure how to paint fresco — "one of the most difficult arts," he wrote to his father in 1599 when he started the project — so he was likely to make plenty of mistakes that he had to correct after the fresco image was dry. Beck said that the "petitioner" (alteration) removed was probably to Michelangelo's own. Further, he wrote, "it is not true, as alleged, that it was strong enough to have been washed off after three summer, it might ought to be on the way.

And, he continued, when the cleansers began using it, it was a "total renovation" project — although invented three years earlier so there might be further damage resulting from it in coming years. He added that the chapel needed to be finished next year, and then the restorers will go on to "The Last Judgment."

Once the frescoes are cleaned — or mantled — a plastic wrap will be applicable for consolidation. This road, Beck said, will be almost impossible to remove.

On April 28 in St. Louis, a movie will be re-released. It’s called “Bloodsport.” It’s about the life of Van Damme, who was recently in the United States.

Van Damme came to the United States several years ago, and has been seen in a number of films since then.

Van Damme went abroad for a while, and was seen in Hong Kong, with a movie called “Bloodsport.”

“Bloodsport” is a movie about a fighter who is stuck in a small village in Thailand. He is trying to find a way to escape, and is finally able to do so.

Van Damme’s character is a fighter who is stuck in a small village in Thailand. He is trying to find a way to escape, and is finally able to do so.

It Doesn't Change A Thing

20-something by Julio West

main depression at large

About six months ago a friend of mine had been engaged to an Aries woman. We had spent weeks trying to contact him, but he always seemed to be "busy." After a few months, however, we heard that he had broken up with his fiancé. We were all very surprised, since they had seemed so happy together.

I don't know why he did it, but I do know that it's not something he would have done on his own. Good friends don't come along every day. Many of us are too busy to appreciate them as we should. And that is what the issue is.

As I reflect on this experience, I realize that my friend and myself, Van Damme, were the ones living in a constant state of alertness.

Van Damme said that the movie had opened in Mexico, at the same time that it had opened in the U.S., and he did better in the box office.

So far, the reviews from Los Angeles and New York have been good for the most part.

"Originally, I didn't do it to protect myself," Van Damme said. I found the idea of thinking it over and trying to come to terms with it, and I know that I am good at it. I do it.

Van Damme said that at the start, he was very strong, but he worked out with weights and studied ballet, which gave him grace and power. In 1989, he led world championship for the weight of his body.

Van Damme said that in addition to acting, he would like to direct and write. In fact, he said that he has written a script for a movie that is entirely possible, that with a little luck, Van Damme will achieve the starlet that he is looking for. I think it's a damn good actor, he said. "Royal wrong?"

Van Damme said that the movie had opened in Mexico, at the same time that it had opened in the U.S., and he did better in the box office.

Rubes

Do you suppose that's enough about someone? Okay one more thing. It was a hot summer day. The couple went from the beach to her car to change into their swimming suits. The car was parked on the side of the road near a lake. The couple got into the car and drove away.

Keep an eye out for a summer issue (maybe sometime around June). Until then, this is Christopher O. Duggan, not to be confused with any number of aliases, garlic off for the growing season of 1988.

Great look in your shoes, and whenever you do, don’t panic. It’s really old shoes, not your future at stake. This is not a prescriptive situation.

This content is not meant to be an environment for any outdoor chill or anti-drug campaign. When friends are down they need other things to do.

He has listened to me complain about something for a week. He just said, "You know, I really don’t care about you. I do care that my friend. Good friends don’t come along every day. Many of us are too busy to appreciate them as we should. And that is what the issue is.

"I don’t know that I know about that. I know that I am a really good friend. I respect his wishes, but he is his own man. He doesn’t know that I know about anything, even talking to him. But I think he would appreciate the fact."

I feel a lot of stress this time of year, but I don’t think I should consider the burden he is carrying.

I would, however, like him to know that I would help him in every way. Not only do I want to help, but I also want to help.

We have been friends for a little over a year now and that equals for me. I even shared a little bit with him and did my best to help a little bit with him and did my best to help.
Three UM-St. Louis Grads Represent Democratic Party

On South Florissant Road, less than two miles north of the UM-St. Louis campus, is the office of three UM-St. Louis alums: State Rep. Robert J. Quinn Jr. (D-600 St.), County Commissioner John R. Shillito (D-7th Dist.) and Lawrence County Commissioner Dave Dickerson. Quinn and Shillito both represent similar democratic committees and constitute our state legislative representation in the 77th District.

In 1985, when Quinn was a Ferguson city councilman, he helped the Shillito slate win the city’s Plan Commission. In 1986 Quinn’s and Shillito’s important teachers on the campaign committee, which elected Quinn to the state House, were also teachers of the coalition that led the successful campaign for Democratic committee's victory. Quinn’s historic lead resulted in the federal courts declaring McNulty’s efforts unconstitutional. Quinn is also sponsoring alternative, less drastic proposals for local government in his role as a state legislator.

Drawing four important bills in the Missouri House in his first term, Quinn is regarded as one of the best legislators in the 77th District. Quinn, 11, is a graduate teaching assistant in UM-St. Louis’ political science department from 1978-1984, where he was involved in both campus and national politics. Quinn is currently associated with the research advises him on organizations that have the potential to care AIDS-related diseases.

A UM-St. Louis associate professor of biology led the fight against two AIDS-related bills in the Missouris legislative session. Professor Patricia Tang Halpin, said the provisions in the bills invade privacy rights and could lead to discrimination.

It’s enough garnered headlines as the man who detailed County Executive Gene McNulty’s conflicts of interest in the federal courts. Quinn’s historic lead resulted in the federal courts declaring McNulty’s efforts unconstitutional. Rivermen Win South Division MIAA Crown

The UM-St. Louis Rivermen entered the 2018 season with high division rival Missouri-Rolla and the Missouri Valley Conference regular-season men's baseball championship. That quest was achieved Saturday April 21st, as the Rivermen defeated the Warhawks 2-1 in the first of two games at the Gateway to the West, the annual conference championship. The Rivermen, who started the conference season 9-3, captured the regular-season title for the first time since 1984. Missouri-Rolla finished the year 7-5 overall and 6-4 in the MVC. The game featured two strong pitching performances from the Rivermen's Andrew Houska and the Warhawks' Konrad Kuster.

I really can't think of any other way to start this than to say that I'm glad we had the opportunity to have this game. It was a fantastic day for baseball and it was a great game. The Rivermen had a great performance from Houska, who pitched a complete game and allowed only one run on four hits. The Warhawks' Kuster also pitched well, giving up only two runs on five hits. The game was a tight battle throughout, with both teams fighting hard for the win.

The Rivermen scored the first run in the first inning, when Rivermen senior catcher Austin Grant Petersen hit a solo home run. The Warhawks tied the game in the second inning, when Missouri-Rolla junior Trevor Bunt and junior catcher Jeff Thieme scored on a triple by senior Mark Petersen. The Rivermen took back the lead in the third inning, when Rivermen senior Ryan Simpson hit a two-run home run to make it 2-1. The Warhawks responded in the fourth inning, when Missouri-Rolla junior Tyler Reinhart hit a solo home run to make it 2-2. The game remained tied at 2-2 until the seventh inning, when Rivermen junior Nick Heiman hit a two-run home run to make it 4-2. The Warhawks scored a run in the eighth inning, but the Rivermen held on to win 4-3.

The Rivermen finished the season with a record of 27-13 overall and 15-7 in the MVC. The Warhawks finished the season with a record of 22-18 overall and 11-11 in the MVC. The Rivermen will now advance to the tournament for the MVC Championship, which will be held in St. Louis on April 27-29. The Warhawks will face off against the Western Illinois University Leathernecks in the opening round of the tournament.

The Rivermen are looking forward to the upcoming tournament and are excited to have the opportunity to compete against some of the top teams in the conference. They are ready to take on the challenges that lie ahead and are determined to bring home the MVC Championship.

About selling your used textbooks!!!

Used Books
Current editions in good condition are worth 50% of your list price for books being used next term on this campus until the bookstore quota is reached. Afterwards, the price you receive is based on a nationally used textbook buying guide. The list price is determined by the publisher, not the bookstore.

Old Editions
Since most textbooks are revised every three to four years, old editions have no value. It's to your advantage to sell them as soon as they are no longer needed. Selling your used textbooks enables another student to purchase books at the used price.

Paperbacks
Because of their limited lifespan, paperbacks (also called Tradebooks) earn 10-20% of the list price which is shown on the front or back cover of the book.

Instructions decide which books will be used each semester.

If a book is not being used at this college, the buyback price is determined according to the demand for the same book on other college campuses.

Used books are sold in the bookstore at approximately 75% of the list price.

Bring your used textbooks to the bookstore on the dates shown in the ad and turn them in for Cash.
