Spikes Gets $200,000 Lutheran Grant

Janice M. Spikes, R.N. Ph.D., assistant professor at UM-St. Louis has received a $200,000 grant for Chapel of the Cross Lutheran Church in North County to conduct a program for pregnant and parenting teens. The three-year grant was awarded by the Lutheran Charities Foundation.

The goal of the grant is to fund both research and services for pregnant and parenting teens, the project director, Janice Spikes explained. The project primarily focuses on studying the teen mothers and teenage fathers, along with the impact of their pregnancies on the couples and their responses to it.

The program includes developing a support program for the parents and children, providing education and support for pregnant and parenting teenagers. The project's main goals are to reduce the number of teen pregnancies and provide support and resources to expectant parents.

Jane M. Spikes, managing editor

Activity Fees Compared For Four UM Campuses

by Karin Klein

UM-St. Louis will be joining the Rolla and Kansas City campuses in the activity fees committee for the coming year. Under the budget committee, the UM-St. Louis campus will have the lowest budget of the four campuses next year.

UM-St. Louis will have three percent and five percent lower revenues in the coming year. The UM-St. Louis campus will increase its revenues by five percent for the coming year. This is a decrease of $120,000 over the previous year. The UM-St. Louis campus will have more specific funds built into the budget.

The Columbia campus, for example, has a general fund to which the fee is divided. Student Union fees, athletics, Student Activity Fee and Student Service fees. UM-St. Louis has by far the largest fee for the most specific usage line. Student service areas are provided for in the tuition $15 per semester fee for the coming year. UM-St. Louis will be divided into two separate areas provided for in the tuition $15 per semester fee for the coming year. UM-St. Louis will be divided into two separate areas provided for in the tuition $15 per semester fee for the coming year.

On the other three campuses, the revenue is divided into two separate areas provided for in the tuition $15 per semester fee for the coming year.

The committee that allocates funds to the groups is now evaluating budget proposals. Students are invited to present their budget requests to the committee.

State Auditor
To Address Students Here

by John Kilgore

Missouri State Auditor Margaret Kelly will address a group of student leaders in the auditor's office at 1:00 p.m. on Friday, February 26.

Kelly's office is responsible for auditing all statewide agencies and departments. This is in addition to the several audits the state auditor conducts of the University of Missouri System.

Kelly will address the student leaders regarding the revenue bonds and capital improvements programs. She will explain the state auditor's role in these areas.

The student leaders will have the opportunity to ask questions and discuss the issues with Kelly.

Kelly's speech will be followed by a roundtable discussion with the student leaders.

Student Activity Budget Committee Mulling Over Allocation Requests

by Paul Thompson

Students will be able to address the Student Activity Budget Committee during their meeting on March 1st. The meeting will be held in the Board of Visitors' Room at 7:00 p.m.

The committee is currently considering the seven allocation requests submitted by the student groups. The requests will be reviewed and discussed at the meeting.

The committee will provide a summary of the requests and their recommendations to the Board of Visitors.

The students will have the opportunity to provide input and feedback on the allocation process.
HETEROPHOBIA

The Gay, Lesbian Cult

Every so often, an incident occurs that assumes a special significance. This fall, it was the case in the Classifieds section of the CURRENT. In simple, blunt style, the gay, men and women of the UM community band together objects of decision.

Israelites feel they have to wear the badges of their sex and objects of their culture. They are aware of the powerful effects of racial stigmatization and feel that the stigma is a way of creating a social order. They are also aware of the power of the media to influence the public's perception of gay and lesbian people. They are aware of the power of the media to influence the public's perception of gay and lesbian people. They are aware of the power of the media to influence the public's perception of gay and lesbian people.

LETTERS TO THE EDITORS

Black Magic, Stay Challenged

We feel that the students are getting their money's worth. The athletic department is able to provide the necessary facilities and equipment to train the student athletes. The athletic department is able to provide the necessary facilities and equipment to train the student athletes. The athletic department is able to provide the necessary facilities and equipment to train the student athletes.

Kevin Lacostelo

LETTERS POLICY

The Current welcomes all letters to the editor. The editor's judgment of merit and place number must be included. Non-students must also include their phone number. Letters should be no longer than 250 words. Please note that non-students are charged a $5 manuscript fee per 250 word amount.

Kevin Lacostelo

Steamed Clams

Big Deal

by Karen Kinzie managing editor

Do you ever feel cheated, ripped off, taken advantage of? If so, join the club. There's nothing worse than advertising something and not following through. For instance, I was in my local supermarket the other day and saw that we had some sort of monthly mystery box. When I got it home, I found that it was a "requirement" of the course. It was obvious that the course was a scam. The course was a scam. The course was a scam. The course was a scam.

That really steams my clams. The bullshit detector went off the scale when this attempt at a scam came about. I'm sure that many of you have fallen for this type of scam before. I'm sure that many of you have fallen for this type of scam before. I'm sure that many of you have fallen for this type of scam before.

Correlation's A Story in the Ford, 1st Edition of the CURRENT reported that the Ford had classifieds for 11,000 at a free right. I'm sure that many of you have fallen for this type of scam before. I'm sure that many of you have fallen for this type of scam before. I'm sure that many of you have fallen for this type of scam before.

Karen Kinzie

Current

February 25, 1988

Steamed Clams

by Karen Kinzie managing editor

Do you ever feel cheated, ripped off, taken advantage of? If so, join the club. There's nothing worse than advertising something and not following through. For instance, I was in my local supermarket the other day and saw that we had some sort of monthly mystery box. When I got it home, I found that it was a "requirement" of the course. It was obvious that the course was a scam. The course was a scam. The course was a scam. The course was a scam.

That really steams my clams. The bullshit detector went off the scale when this attempt at a scam came about. I'm sure that many of you have fallen for this type of scam before. I'm sure that many of you have fallen for this type of scam before. I'm sure that many of you have fallen for this type of scam before.

Karen Kinzie
Cooperative Venture: From left: Wayman Smith of Anchorage, Alaska; St. Louis Mayor Vincent Schoemehl; James Burford, Urban League president; John McCullady, Vice Chancellor of University Affairs at UM-St. Louis; and St. Louis Police Chief Robert Scheidt. These mayors formed a team cooperating to assure that St. Louis has qualified black police officer for the future.

NCAA Allows Referees To Get Tough On Unruly Fans

Coaching first-year Oregon State coach Mike Harvey for this season, Athletic Department officials said Dr. Robert Antle has threatened to get tough with spectators, His threats to face an $8,000 per-game fine, and said Antlers' representatives have been forced to stand up for their team. The penalty was made in the 1988-89 academic year.

Tulsa Students Must Report AIDS Infections

AIDS infections are to be reported by college students and students who have contracted and sexually transmitted diseases. The university adopted a policy proposed to be approved on the campus.

Under the proposed, however, infected students were required to test their diseases. They would be allowed to continue to attend classes.

In addition, administrators would be required to keep the confidentiality of the proposal if it is adopted. A vote on the plan had been scheduled for Feb. 14.

A Georgia Tech study released last year, suggests students won't have an easier time of it. Second, students who were also infected with the disease.
Accounting Majors Prepare IRS Returns

Trained student volunteers from UM-St. Louis will help, during tax season and April 15 in 15 to 18 metropolitan areas.

The Volunteer Tax Assistance Program is coordinated by the UM-St. Louis Student Volunteer Program and the Greater St. Louis Area, with the assistance of the Internal Revenue Service.

University-business students will be placed with local IRS offices and other agencies, such as city and county libraries, churches and union halls, to provide free tax aid to students. Some offices involve the progress of students toward undergraduate accounting majors.

The program will run from March 6 through April 15 in 14 metropolitan areas.

University administrators believe that the program will be of great benefit to the students and to the communities involved.

The program is open to all university students who meet the following criteria:

1. Must be a full-time student at UM-St. Louis
2. Must be enrolled in an accounting course
3. Must have completed at least one accounting course
4. Must be able to work a minimum of 10 hours per week
5. Must be able to work in a group setting

The program will provide students with valuable experience in the field of accounting and will help them to develop important skills.

The program will be coordinated by the UM-St. Louis Student Volunteer Program and the Internal Revenue Service.

The program is open to all university students who meet the following criteria:

1. Must be a full-time student at UM-St. Louis
2. Must be enrolled in an accounting course
3. Must have completed at least one accounting course
4. Must be able to work a minimum of 10 hours per week
5. Must be able to work in a group setting

The program will provide students with valuable experience in the field of accounting and will help them to develop important skills.

The program is open to all university students who meet the following criteria:

1. Must be a full-time student at UM-St. Louis
2. Must be enrolled in an accounting course
3. Must have completed at least one accounting course
4. Must be able to work a minimum of 10 hours per week
5. Must be able to work in a group setting

The program will provide students with valuable experience in the field of accounting and will help them to develop important skills.

The program is open to all university students who meet the following criteria:

1. Must be a full-time student at UM-St. Louis
2. Must be enrolled in an accounting course
3. Must have completed at least one accounting course
4. Must be able to work a minimum of 10 hours per week
5. Must be able to work in a group setting

The program will provide students with valuable experience in the field of accounting and will help them to develop important skills.

The program is open to all university students who meet the following criteria:

1. Must be a full-time student at UM-St. Louis
2. Must be enrolled in an accounting course
3. Must have completed at least one accounting course
4. Must be able to work a minimum of 10 hours per week
5. Must be able to work in a group setting

The program will provide students with valuable experience in the field of accounting and will help them to develop important skills.
University of Texas College Republican's Split Marks Vote on National Level

In State Capitol Window

CPS--At the primary season ended last year, another campus chapter of the college Republicans (CR) was split apart. Paul Nassel declared in the Feb. 5 issue of "Texas" magazine that 300 of 1,200 votes cast in the primary at the University of Texas in Austin (UTA) College Republicans' chapter were against that group that overcame all other campus chapters to recognize him as leader of the UTA chapter.

The state CRs, moreover, reportedly gave him the charter, though Mr. Nassel's opponent claimed it was because Mr. Nassel told it he, not after accusing the others of mismanagement.

Vote in Primary..."

"Due to the problem, the defendant said he would rather share his seat next year, or as much as possible from "least needed" students to the "most needy," than give them all Pell Grants..."

..."The letter warned the administration could get smaller grants next year for millions of students, which is necessary,..."

..."The students discussed, and they agree on a constitution for a new group;"

..."The CRs decided to delay, establishing a new group.

..."But before raising alienating one group against another, those who may not be available to truce at a meeting, the candidates for the UT chapter, may come together in a meeting in the next few weeks after the primaries, in order to arrive at a final agreement on a position statement of purpose,..."

..."My interest in the students' organization--which they have not named--really can't ape the student movement of the '60's and '70's, according to Elmar."

..."We're not using the way the non-organized political-writing committee--which we tritefully name--say Sara Rosenbloom, a student organizer. "Historically students have played a leading role in key social movements,"

..."We're not talking about..."

..."The letter warned the administration could get smaller grants next year for millions of students, which is necessary, until unity is achieved with the following student leaders.

..."We're not talking about..."

..."My interest in the students' organization--which they have not named--really can't ape the student movement of the '60's and '70's, according to Elmar."

..."We're not using the way the non-organized political-writing committee--which we tritefully name--say Sara Rosenbloom, a student organizer. "Historically students have played a leading role in key social movements,"

..."We're not talking about..."

..."My interest in the students' organization--which they have not named--really can't ape the student movement of the '60's and '70's, according to Elmar."

..."We're not using the way the non-organized political-writing committee--which we tritefully name--say Sara Rosenbloom, a student organizer. "Historically students have played a leading role in key social movements,"

..."We're not talking about..."
Mixed Reviews: By Eileen Pacino and Christopher Duggan

EILEEN PACINO

The multitudes of homeless, who share our materialities, extort our publications and are the eyes of the future majority, who can hear: “There be but a few good of God’s folk...”

There be such a few good, Francis is bored and dissatisfied. He can’t bear the drudgery of bell ringing, the telling of the same old stories over and over again, and the lack of a real home to call his own. He wanders the streets of 1938 Albany, New York, looking for something more.

The streets of 1938 Albany are a place of pain and struggle for Francis. He has lost his infant son and his wife has deserted him. The streets are a place of loss and longing, a place where Francis must confront the reality of his own mortality.

FRANKIE HALL

The streets of 1938 Albany are a place of pain and struggle for Francis. He has lost his infant son and his wife has deserted him. The streets are a place of loss and longing, a place where Francis must confront the reality of his own mortality.

Francis is bored and dissatisfied. He can’t bear the drudgery of bell ringing, the telling of the same old stories over and over again, and the lack of a real home to call his own. He wanders the streets of 1938 Albany, New York, looking for something more.

The multitudes of homeless, who share our materialities, extort our publications and are the eyes of the future majority, who can hear: “There be but a few good of God’s folk...”

There be such a few good, Francis is bored and dissatisfied. He can’t bear the drudgery of bell ringing, the telling of the same old stories over and over again, and the lack of a real home to call his own. He wanders the streets of 1938 Albany, New York, looking for something more.
Okay, I Promise I Won't Whine Anymore...For Now by Julie West

I was really stumped for an idea for this week's column. I didn't expect to have to write another one so soon, and in the rush I called on my good friend, Christopher Duggan, to help me fill this space. I thought what would happen was going to work out well, because I don't want to just sit here and let it fester. I was feeling a bit like I have made some people think or look at something in a different light. But that's easy to say. At the risk of sounding redundant, I guess I'll have to settle with just being a copier of others, especially with all the prime examples of this doctrine walking the campus at U-M-East.

As for my friends suggested that I write about the current trend in fashion that says a woman must wear the most obnoxious hairstyle and fashion that says a woman must be a good at whatever. I have had a bad case of self-pity for at least a week. I have been moaning about a tough week, and I'm sure Larry made me feel that way, because of the way I felt about myself and about life. I'm not going to paint myself as a victim, and sometimes something will happen to put everything in a little perspective.

Larry saws up everyday, and I was thinking about a tough week. Larry wasn't meaning. He sat there with my friend, laughing and drinking and enjoying the party. I thought to myself, why should I be different? I thought to myself, why should I feel that way, because of the way I felt about myself and about life. I'm not going to paint myself as a victim, and sometimes something will happen to put everything in a little perspective.

Life is not as easy for college students all the time. And I'm sitting on a commercial for any organizations, but I don't think that there's anything that I can do about it. And sometimes we need to slow down a bit and do some evaluating of ourselves and our lives.

So on the way home from the party, I decided to stop whining about everything and quiet my head at the job that I used to do. I have the discipline to remember Larry and the party when I am tired (probably one day), and I don't think that I can do anything that can make me see things a little bit differently.

Maybe someday we will all take the time to reflect on life and our relationships to and with other people. Maybe someday I will read this article and think twice about it. Maybe.
Around Umsl

February 20, 1986

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>26</th>
<th>Friday</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3:00</td>
<td>3:30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9:00</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2:00

- There will be a "Big Sister/ Little Sister Workshop" from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in room 222 of the J.C. Penney building.

3:30

- University Singers: Pre-tour concert provides the groups annual tour during spring break. A free-will offering will be accepted at the concert at 7:30 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran Church, 1100 E. Clayton. Call 553-5980 for more information.

5:30

- Metropolitan Studies Presents "Blacks in America: A Photographic Record," an exhibit sponsored by the Center for Metropolitan Studies. The exhibit may be viewed from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays in room 326 SSB. Call 553-5773.

5:30

- UM-St. Louis intramural "Division of Student Affairs" presents Horse Basketball. There will be men and women's double through Friday at 12:15 p.m., daily in the Mark Twain gym. No preregistering is necessary. To enter just show up on the day of the match. The women's event at 12:15 p.m. T-shirts will be awarded to the winners of each tournament. Call 553-5125.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>1</th>
<th>Tuesday</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>9:00</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- The Accounting Club will have a meeting at 1:30 p.m. in room 126 of the J.C. Penney building. Guest speaker will be Steve Auditor of Missouri, Margaret Kelley.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>3</th>
<th>Thursday</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>9:00</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- University Singers is sponsoring a movie entitled "Test of Faith" to be shown at 12:30 p.m. in the University Center Lounge.

- The topic "African-American Women of Today, Yesterday, and Tomorrow," will be discussed from 6:30 p.m. in room 125 of the J.C. Penney building.

- Campion will perform at 8 p.m. on Thursday and Friday at the Center of Contemporary Arts, 524 Trinity. The concert is co-sponsored by Dance St. Louis as part of its Moveable Feast. Call 553-5418 for more information.

- Mark Conner, President of Mark Conner Builders, Developers will speak on "Entrepreneurial Abilities" at 1 p.m in room 222 of the J.C. Penney building. New members welcome.

- Bible Study is currently meeting Thursdays at 12:30 p.m. in room 156 of the U. Center. The gospel of Luke is currently being studied. These informative talks will both challenge and instruct both Christians and non-Christians in the ways of Biblical Christianity.

- Bible Study is sponsoring an event "African-American Women of Today, Yesterday, and Tomorrow." will be discussed from 6:30 p.m. in room 125 of the J.C. Penney building.
Sports

Meet Grace Masters

by Pam Watz

"She gives her best effort and she knows what it takes to win," said last week's Most Valuable Player Mike Larson when asked about forward Grace Masters.

Standing tall at 6'3", the lone female on the UM-St. Louis men's basketball team is in her final week of college play. "I've been a good player and a good team player," said Masters, "and not to have a chance to play basketball in my senior year is devastating." Masters debuted to accept the scholarship and stay close to home. After playing high school basketball in St. Louis, Masters was on her way to Florida but stayed home when her brother, Mike, lost his scholarship. "I was averaging 10 points and 8 rebounds per game before her injury in the fourth game of the season," Masters said. "I was able to play 20 games and still managed to average 6 points and 4 rebounds per game. She scored a career high 22 of the 72 points in the second half of the game against Central Missouri."

In front of more than 1,500 people, the Bearcats, as they stepped to the corner to send the game into overtime, were in the lead by only one point. Masters had missed two free throws at the line but was still on top of the game with 15 seconds remaining. With time running down, Masters went on the offensive and hit a three-pointer to take the lead back to the Bearcats, as they stepped to the field to send the game into overtime.

"I knew Grace was going to make a successful, very deep three," said coach Larson.

"I'm really excited for Grace and her family, knowing that this is the last game she will play in Missouri, and that the team will be playing without her," said Larson.

Disappointing Play" For The Rivermen

by Mark E. Stanley

Roehly had just two seconds on the clock when the University of Missouri-St. Louis Rivermen basketball team was down 62-61 with 16 seconds remaining in the game.

"The game looked over," said head coach Mike Larson. "We were behind by one, and had just one shot to take the lead, which we did, but the ball was knocked away by a defender." The Rivermen were leading 62-61 with 17 seconds remaining when Roehly decided to drive the ball down the court for a shot. As he did so, he was fouled by a defender and was awarded two free throws, which he made to take the lead, 64-61. However, the Rivermen were unable to hold onto the lead, as the Bearcats scored the winning basket with 1.8 seconds remaining on the clock, giving them a 63-62 victory.

"We had a chance to win the game, but we just couldn't make enough baskets," said Larson.

"I think we played well, and had a good chance to win," said Larson. "We just didn't make enough baskets in the second half, and that cost us the game." The Rivermen were outscored 34-22 in the second half, and were unable to hold onto the lead.

"I thought we played well in the first half," said Larson. "We were able to hold the Bearcats to 25 points, and were able to take the lead for the first time in the game." The Rivermen were able to take the lead back in the second half, but were unable to hold onto it.

"We just didn't make enough baskets," said Larson. "We had a chance to win the game, but we just couldn't make enough baskets in the second half, and that cost us the game." The Rivermen were outscored 34-22 in the second half, and were unable to hold onto the lead.

"I think we played well, and had a good chance to win," said Larson. "We just didn't make enough baskets in the second half, and that cost us the game." The Rivermen were outscored 34-22 in the second half, and were unable to hold onto the lead.

"We just didn't make enough baskets," said Larson. "We had a chance to win the game, but we just couldn't make enough baskets in the second half, and that cost us the game." The Rivermen were outscored 34-22 in the second half, and were unable to hold onto the lead.

"I think we played well, and had a good chance to win," said Larson. "We just didn't make enough baskets in the second half, and that cost us the game." The Rivermen were outscored 34-22 in the second half, and were unable to hold onto the lead.

"We just didn't make enough baskets," said Larson. "We had a chance to win the game, but we just couldn't make enough baskets in the second half, and that cost us the game." The Rivermen were outscored 34-22 in the second half, and were unable to hold onto the lead.

"I think we played well, and had a good chance to win," said Larson. "We just didn't make enough baskets in the second half, and that cost us the game." The Rivermen were outscored 34-22 in the second half, and were unable to hold onto the lead.

"We just didn't make enough baskets," said Larson. "We had a chance to win the game, but we just couldn't make enough baskets in the second half, and that cost us the game." The Rivermen were outscored 34-22 in the second half, and were unable to hold onto the lead.

"I think we played well, and had a good chance to win," said Larson. "We just didn't make enough baskets in the second half, and that cost us the game." The Rivermen were outscored 34-22 in the second half, and were unable to hold onto the lead.

"We just didn't make enough baskets," said Larson. "We had a chance to win the game, but we just couldn't make enough baskets in the second half, and that cost us the game." The Rivermen were outscored 34-22 in the second half, and were unable to hold onto the lead.
The Current is seeking REPORTERS

• News
• Sports
• Features

for more information contact:
Kevin at 553-5174

CLASSEIFIED POLICY

Classifieds are accepted weekly at three locations on campus: University Center Lobby, 3rd Floor of Lucas Hall and at the Current Office - Room 1 of the Blue Metal Office Building.

All ads must be legible and turned in by Friday of the week prior to publication. Classifieds are run according to space allotted and are taken on a first-come, first-service basis.

Classified advertising is FREE for all UM-St. Louis students, faculty and staff members, however, classifieds will not be published unless the writer includes their name, (student #) and phone number.