Board Alters MU’s Admission Policy

by Shawn M. Poppe

associate news editor

High enrollments at UM-Columbia are expected to affect the administration standards for the University of Missouri. At the Board of Curators meeting held here last Thursday, Chancellor Erskell Monroe of the Columbia campus stated that enrollments in the freshman class of 1989 at UM-Columbia are expected to be 169-190 higher than the university's acceptable limit. Monroe stated this apparent "overaccommodation" on two key items.

The campus' retention rate of students had risen from 70 percent in 1980 to 74 percent in 1989. A higher retention rate would cause admissions to close sooner and fewer accepted students would be allowed to enroll.

High school students are planning to attend state institutions more often as cuts to student aid forces them to payers a disservice to allow a student to enroll and dorms.

Their funds at Missouri University- St. Louis.

expenses, will be awarded each year to a junior and senior.

He plans to pursue his master's degree in sociology in the fall.

The United Handicapped Workers.

It was selected for this honor because he is a member of the American Association of University Professors who was a chemistry professor at Columbia University, until he was dismissed in 1933 and forced to leave the country due to anti-Semitism.

The purpose of the award is to provide an opportunity for college teachers, who are appointed to the faculties of the University of Missouri for six-year terms. The award is made to the person who has taught at a college or university for at least five years.

The award was presented on February 7 in room 225.

Theoretical Theologian To Be Presented Here

Theoretical theologian was named as the recipient of the fellowship. The fellowship is awarded to a member of the Historical Society of Missouri for the academic year.

The fellowship was established in 1984 and is funded by a $100,000 grant from the Ford Foundation and a $25,000 grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The fellowship is open to all faculty members at the University of Missouri-Columbia, regardless of rank or affiliation with the institution.

The fellowship is intended to support the work of scholars whose research focuses on the history of religious thought and the development of religious ideas in American society.

Noelle Goddard

CAMPUS REMINDER

Thursday, February 2, 1989

University of Missouri-St. Louis

Issue 624

UM Curators Meet At Local Campus

Three Scorw In; UMC Draws Fire

by Shawn M. Poppe

associate news editor

Celebration and controversy marked the beginning of the Board of Curators meeting Saturday at the University of Missouri-Columbia. One of the curators, Professor Edwin S. Turner, was in Carine France, Webb R. Gilmore, and John P. Lichtenegger as curators. UM-Columbia hosted the meeting.

Francoie attended the UM-Columbia campus, graduating from the School of Journalism in 1973 and a master's degree in 1977. He is active in Boy Scouting and other service organizations. He has developed a strong commitment to community service, working with his church and other organizations.

Wagner's idea then was to eliminate the tenure system. "If you want tenured without detractors," said one historian, "you might want to look at the American Association of University Professors and its position on tenure.

"What we're trying to do is provide a way of protecting the tenure system and the principles of academic freedom for faculty members," said one scholar. "But if the tenure system is broken, then we must look at other ways of protecting the rights of faculty members.

"We have to protect the tenure system and the rights of faculty members," said another scholar. "But if the tenure system is broken, then we must look at other ways of protecting the rights of faculty members.

"We have to protect the tenure system and the rights of faculty members," said another scholar. "But if the tenure system is broken, then we must look at other ways of protecting the rights of faculty members.

"We have to protect the tenure system and the rights of faculty members," said another scholar. "But if the tenure system is broken, then we must look at other ways of protecting the rights of faculty members.

"We have to protect the tenure system and the rights of faculty members," said another scholar. "But if the tenure system is broken, then we must look at other ways of protecting the rights of faculty members.

"We have to protect the tenure system and the rights of faculty members," said another scholar. "But if the tenure system is broken, then we must look at other ways of protecting the rights of faculty members.

"We have to protect the tenure system and the rights of faculty members," said another scholar. "But if the tenure system is broken, then we must look at other ways of protecting the rights of faculty members.

"We have to protect the tenure system and the rights of faculty members," said another scholar. "But if the tenure system is broken, then we must look at other ways of protecting the rights of faculty members.

"We have to protect the tenure system and the rights of faculty members," said another scholar. "But if the tenure system is broken, then we must look at other ways of protecting the rights of faculty members.

"We have to protect the tenure system and the rights of faculty members," said another scholar. "But if the tenure system is broken, then we must look at other ways of protecting the rights of faculty members.

"We have to protect the tenure system and the rights of faculty members," said another scholar. "But if the tenure system is broken, then we must look at other ways of protecting the rights of faculty members.

"We have to protect the ten...
Campus News

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2
The Newman House presents Catholic mass at 12:30 p.m. in 565 University Center.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3
The Newman House Catholic student group presents community service and scriptural prayer at noon in 246 University Center.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 4
Basketball: Rivera versus Northeast Missouri State University in the Black and Blue Building at 7:00 p.m. In 324 Vs. Northwest Missouri State University at 7:30 p.m.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 6
The Women's Center presents "Leadership Training for Women," an intensive one-day workshop on giving and getting feedback, goal setting and other topics relevant to women professional and personal development. The workshop will be held at 8:30 a.m. at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 8:30 a.m. Call 553-3880 or 323-5921 for registrationinformation.

The Women's Center presents Catholic mass and communion service at noon at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 12:30 p.m.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 7
Larry Sehres, vice-president for administrative services, will be holding his office hours today from 8:30 to 12:30 p.m. Anyone is free to stop by, without appointment, if there is a problem that needs immediate attention.

The Newman Center presents "Made to Measure," a program framed in South Africa which examines the tragedy of apartheid and the discrimination against women. The film will be shown at 11:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

The End of the Beginning, The Past Experience of Women's Center. The film will be shown at 10:00 a.m. in 323 C. P. Richardson Hall. It will also be presented at 7:30 p.m. at Washington University in the Woodruff Auditorium. All are invited. For more information contact Roger S. Neuperer at 323-1443.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 8
The Newman House presents Catholic mass and communion service at noon at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 12:30 p.m.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 9
Make your experience count! Learn career planning and interviewing skills by attending the SNAE presents Morgan B. Hideman at the Newman Center Conference Room at 12:00 p.m. Pre-registration and attendance fee.

Higher education must be prepared to meet the needs of the 21st century, UM-St. Louis Chancellor Margaret Lichtenegger said in testifying to the Min­ nesota Senate Appropriations Committee.

Responsibilities and challenges of higher education institutions and universities must meet the need for enhanced research and superior teaching. Higher education is therefore, a well that is the source of our society's development.

Lichtenegger suggested four com­ mitments for higher education. The increase in the facilities and revenue to aid the state and the other four campuses in extending the facilities and revenue to aid the state and the other four campuses was already turned away the rest of the applicants. Students currently enrolled as freshmen at Missouri should be given priority over out-of-state residents, she said. Turner also said that he thought Missouri residents should be given priority over out-of-state residents. He also said that he thought Missouri residents should be given priority over out-of-state residents.

The board discussed and approved a temporary change of the staff at the hospital and to report to the board at a later date, however.

"Effective feedback goal-setting and other topics relevant to women professional and personal development. The workshop will be held at 8:30 a.m. at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 8:30 a.m. Call 553-3880 or 323-5921 for registration information.

The Women's Center presents Catholic mass and communion service at noon at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 12:30 p.m.

The board discussed and approved a temporary change of the staff at the hospital and to report to the board at a later date, however.

"Effective feedback goal-setting and other topics relevant to women professional and personal development. The workshop will be held at 8:30 a.m. at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 8:30 a.m. Call 553-3880 or 323-5921 for registration information.

The Women's Center presents Catholic mass and communion service at noon at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 12:30 p.m.

The board discussed and approved a temporary change of the staff at the hospital and to report to the board at a later date, however.

"Effective feedback goal-setting and other topics relevant to women professional and personal development. The workshop will be held at 8:30 a.m. at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 8:30 a.m. Call 553-3880 or 323-5921 for registration information.

The Women's Center presents Catholic mass and communion service at noon at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 12:30 p.m.

The board discussed and approved a temporary change of the staff at the hospital and to report to the board at a later date, however.

"Effective feedback goal-setting and other topics relevant to women professional and personal development. The workshop will be held at 8:30 a.m. at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 8:30 a.m. Call 553-3880 or 323-5921 for registration information.

The Women's Center presents Catholic mass and communion service at noon at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 12:30 p.m.

The board discussed and approved a temporary change of the staff at the hospital and to report to the board at a later date, however.

"Effective feedback goal-setting and other topics relevant to women professional and personal development. The workshop will be held at 8:30 a.m. at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 8:30 a.m. Call 553-3880 or 323-5921 for registration information.

The Women's Center presents Catholic mass and communion service at noon at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 12:30 p.m.

The board discussed and approved a temporary change of the staff at the hospital and to report to the board at a later date, however.

"Effective feedback goal-setting and other topics relevant to women professional and personal development. The workshop will be held at 8:30 a.m. at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 8:30 a.m. Call 553-3880 or 323-5921 for registration information.

The Women's Center presents Catholic mass and communion service at noon at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 12:30 p.m.

The board discussed and approved a temporary change of the staff at the hospital and to report to the board at a later date, however.

"Effective feedback goal-setting and other topics relevant to women professional and personal development. The workshop will be held at 8:30 a.m. at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 8:30 a.m. Call 553-3880 or 323-5921 for registration information.

The Women's Center presents Catholic mass and communion service at noon at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 12:30 p.m.

The board discussed and approved a temporary change of the staff at the hospital and to report to the board at a later date, however.

"Effective feedback goal-setting and other topics relevant to women professional and personal development. The workshop will be held at 8:30 a.m. at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 8:30 a.m. Call 553-3880 or 323-5921 for registration information.

The Women's Center presents Catholic mass and communion service at noon at 335 St. Louis University in the Mark Twain Building at 12:30 p.m.
Getting Busted For Creative Parking

"Young lady, it looks like it's going to be an expensive semester."

Current Editor Needed For '89-'90 School Year

The Senate Student Publications Committee is now accepting applications for the position of editor for the upcoming academic year. The editor is responsible for the overall administration of the newspaper and setting its policy. The following application guidelines have been set:

- Applications may be picked up in the Current Office in room 101 of the Blue Male Office Building located near the intersection of Mark Twain and East and will be accepted until March 9.
- The application by March 9 to the Current Office along with a cover letter, clips, references and letters of evaluation and selection of the editor. The applications will be turned into the Chair of the Publications Committee for their evaluation and selection of the editor.

Final Deadline Is March 9!
Unsung Heroes: Those Who Recieve By Giving A Hand

By Laura Gerardinio associate features editor

During the Christmas season, the Hispanic-Latin community donated hundreds of cans of goods to the poor.

But what happens to the needy when the holidays are over? Their problems don't magically disappear. They are still cold, hungry, and have no shelter.

There are many individuals and groups who work throughout the year to help those in need. Their efforts are often unnoticed, but they are just as important as any other type of philanthropy.

ON GOLDEN POND: Christian Appalachian Project campers on a canoeing expedition in the Kent-ucky Mountains.

Laura McGinnis, a junior history major at the University of Louisville, says she liked the features editor's article, "Rags to Riches, the Beauty of Van Gogh and Degas," and that she was fascinated by it. She says she likes the way the article was written and the way it flowed. She says she was touched by the story of the woman who had been through so much, and that it made her think.

She says she would like to see more articles like this, with a focus on helping others. She says she would also like to see more articles that are written in a way that is easy to read and understand.

Laura McGinnis, a junior history major at the University of Louisville, says she liked the features editor's article, "Rags to Riches, the Beauty of Van Gogh and Degas," and that she was fascinated by it. She says she likes the way the article was written and the way it flowed. She says she was touched by the story of the woman who had been through so much, and that it made her think.

She says she would like to see more articles like this, with a focus on helping others. She says she would also like to see more articles that are written in a way that is easy to read and understand.

Laura McGinnis, a junior history major at the University of Louisville, says she liked the features editor's article, "Rags to Riches, the Beauty of Van Gogh and Degas," and that she was fascinated by it. She says she likes the way the article was written and the way it flowed. She says she was touched by the story of the woman who had been through so much, and that it made her think.

She says she would like to see more articles like this, with a focus on helping others. She says she would also like to see more articles that are written in a way that is easy to read and understand.

Laura McGinnis, a junior history major at the University of Louisville, says she liked the features editor's article, "Rags to Riches, the Beauty of Van Gogh and Degas," and that she was fascinated by it. She says she likes the way the article was written and the way it flowed. She says she was touched by the story of the woman who had been through so much, and that it made her think.

She says she would like to see more articles like this, with a focus on helping others. She says she would also like to see more articles that are written in a way that is easy to read and understand.

Laura McGinnis, a junior history major at the University of Louisville, says she liked the features editor's article, "Rags to Riches, the Beauty of Van Gogh and Degas," and that she was fascinated by it. She says she likes the way the article was written and the way it flowed. She says she was touched by the story of the woman who had been through so much, and that it made her think.

She says she would like to see more articles like this, with a focus on helping others. She says she would also like to see more articles that are written in a way that is easy to read and understand.

Laura McGinnis, a junior history major at the University of Louisville, says she liked the features editor's article, "Rags to Riches, the Beauty of Van Gogh and Degas," and that she was fascinated by it. She says she likes the way the article was written and the way it flowed. She says she was touched by the story of the woman who had been through so much, and that it made her think.

She says she would like to see more articles like this, with a focus on helping others. She says she would also like to see more articles that are written in a way that is easy to read and understand.

Laura McGinnis, a junior history major at the University of Louisville, says she liked the features editor's article, "Rags to Riches, the Beauty of Van Gogh and Degas," and that she was fascinated by it. She says she likes the way the article was written and the way it flowed. She says she was touched by the story of the woman who had been through so much, and that it made her think.

She says she would like to see more articles like this, with a focus on helping others. She says she would also like to see more articles that are written in a way that is easy to read and understand.

Laura McGinnis, a junior history major at the University of Louisville, says she liked the features editor's article, "Rags to Riches, the Beauty of Van Gogh and Degas," and that she was fascinated by it. She says she likes the way the article was written and the way it flowed. She says she was touched by the story of the woman who had been through so much, and that it made her think.

She says she would like to see more articles like this, with a focus on helping others. She says she would also like to see more articles that are written in a way that is easy to read and understand.

Laura McGinnis, a junior history major at the University of Louisville, says she liked the features editor's article, "Rags to Riches, the Beauty of Van Gogh and Degas," and that she was fascinated by it. She says she likes the way the article was written and the way it flowed. She says she was touched by the story of the woman who had been through so much, and that it made her think.

She says she would like to see more articles like this, with a focus on helping others. She says she would also like to see more articles that are written in a way that is easy to read and understand.

Laura McGinnis, a junior history major at the University of Louisville, says she liked the features editor's article, "Rags to Riches, the Beauty of Van Gogh and Degas," and that she was fascinated by it. She says she likes the way the article was written and the way it flowed. She says she was touched by the story of the woman who had been through so much, and that it made her think.

She says she would like to see more articles like this, with a focus on helping others. She says she would also like to see more articles that are written in a way that is easy to read and understand.
Women Cagers Searching To Regain Confidence
by Tom Kovach

In just about two months ago, when the women's basketball team began their regular season, the outlook for the Lady Scots was anything but promising. However, as the season wore on, the team showed improvement and now they are looking forward to the upcoming season.

The team is not without challenges, as they face tough opponents before the conference begins in January. However, they have been working hard to improve their skills and are ready for the challenges ahead.

The women's basketball team is one of many that are working towards a successful season. With dedication and hard work, they have the potential to achieve their goals.

Curators Approve Twain Renovation

The Curators have recently approved plans for the renovation of the Mark Twain Building. The building will receive much-needed updates and improvements, making it more attractive to students.

Improvements to the building include new windows, doors, and ventilation systems, as well as new HVAC systems and electrical upgrades. The building will also have improved accessibility and safety features.

The project will be funded through a combination of state and private funds, with contributions from the University of Missouri and local businesses.

The renovation is expected to be completed in the next two years, with the building set to reopen in the fall of 2023. This will be a significant improvement for the University of Missouri and the community as a whole.

The project is being led by a team of architects and engineers who are dedicated to ensuring the best possible outcome for the renovation. The team is working closely with the University of Missouri to ensure that the project meets all the necessary requirements and expectations.

The renovation will not only improve the building's appearance but also enhance the overall student experience. With the improvements, the building will become a more attractive and welcoming location for students, faculty, and visitors.

The Curators are pleased to approve the renovation, and they look forward to the completion of the project. They are confident that the building will be a significant improvement for the University of Missouri and the community.

SPOKES: Tom Smith (32) has been a surprise off the bench for Coach Rich Meckfessel. He leads the team in offensive rebounds.

PARK PLANE: Tom Smith (32) has been a surprise off the bench for Coach Rich Meckfessel. He leads the team in offensive rebounds.

Rivermen Outplayed In Crucial MIAA Contests
by Terence Small

When the sisters of the MIAA said that there would be no easy games this season, they were obviously referring to the Rivermen. They have certainly lived up to their promise so far. The Rivermen have been able to secure just one conference victory. The team has struggled in all aspects of the game and have yet to find their rhythm. The offensive production has been nonexistent, and the defense has been overwhelmed. However, the team has not given up hope and continues to fight for their survival.

The Rivermen will be looking for their first conference victory when they take on the Huskies on Friday. The game will be a difficult challenge, but the team is determined to come out on top.

The Rivermen will be counting on their defense to lead the way. They need to keep the Huskies off the board and force turnovers. The team has been able to shut down opponents in the past, so they have the ability to do it again. They will need to be aggressive and put pressure on the Huskies to force mistakes.

The Rivermen will also need to improve their offensive production. The team has struggled to put points on the board, and they need to find a way to score more goals. They will need to get more shots on goal and capitalize on their opportunities.

The team will be looking for a strong performance from their leaders, including Captain Meckfessel. He will need to step up and lead by example. The team will also need contributions from their supporting cast.

The Rivermen have the talent and ability to compete in the conference, but they will need to put in the work and come together as a team to achieve their goals. They will need to be patient and work on their fundamentals to improve their game.

The Rivermen will be looking to get their first conference victory when they take on the Huskies on Friday. The game will be a difficult challenge, but the team is determined to come out on top.

The team will be counting on their defense to lead the way. They need to keep the Huskies off the board and force turnovers. The team has been able to shut down opponents in the past, so they have the ability to do it again. They will need to be aggressive and put pressure on the Huskies to force mistakes.

The team will also need to improve their offensive production. The team has struggled to put points on the board, and they need to find a way to score more goals. They will need to get more shots on goal and capitalize on their opportunities.

The team will be looking for a strong performance from their leaders, including Captain Meckfessel. He will need to step up and lead by example. The team will also need contributions from their supporting cast.

The Rivermen have the talent and ability to compete in the conference, but they will need to put in the work and come together as a team to achieve their goals. They will need to be patient and work on their fundamentals to improve their game.

The Rivermen will be looking to get their first conference victory when they take on the Huskies on Friday. The game will be a difficult challenge, but the team is determined to come out on top.

The team will be counting on their defense to lead the way. They need to keep the Huskies off the board and force turnovers. The team has been able to shut down opponents in the past, so they have the ability to do it again. They will need to be aggressive and put pressure on the Huskies to force mistakes.

The team will also need to improve their offensive production. The team has struggled to put points on the board, and they need to find a way to score more goals. They will need to get more shots on goal and capitalize on their opportunities.

The team will be looking for a strong performance from their leaders, including Captain Meckfessel. He will need to step up and lead by example. The team will also need contributions from their supporting cast.

The Rivermen have the talent and ability to compete in the conference, but they will need to put in the work and come together as a team to achieve their goals. They will need to be patient and work on their fundamentals to improve their game.
Southeast Missouri finished its season on a high note as the back-up to Hopper. Problems may be for someone to step in to finish one and two in conference play.

This was a solid performance, said Summers. We had an early 14-6 lead, couldn't contain. The closest the Jennies of Central Missouri got was 11. Cooper led game in scoring, had 11. Cooper led game in three-point shots. Houska had nine, Steinhoff had eight, Wilmesher had six, Vogt had five. Liston and the team.

The diving squad placed second in the D100 and 100 Free Relay and the 200 and 400 Free Relay. Junior Steve Summers and Sophomore Diane Oliver were only able to compete half of the meet due to injury. We rested four days and were ready for our championship meet in three weeks. We will definitely be ready for that meet.

ON SUNDAY, the women's team picked up the season's first place.

Swimming isn't always possible. For example, in the size of our team, the strength of our team, and the average by netting 16 points. Coach Vogt won the 200IM, 100 Breaststroke, and 400 Freestyle Relay. Sophomore Steve Vogt finished first place in the Sprint Medley Relay. The 4x400 relay squad placed second in the 4x400 relay. Junior Steve Summers and Sophomore Diane Oliver were only able to compete half of the meet due to injury. We rested four days and were ready for our championship meet in three weeks.

Next week, Pittsburg State will host the women and men. On February 16, the men tomorrow night, with only seven remains, and the team. The diving squad placed second in the D100 and 100 Free Relay and the 200 and 400 Free Relay. Junior Steve Summers and Sophomore Diane Oliver were only able to compete half of the meet due to injury. We rested four days and were ready for our championship meet in three weeks.

On Saturday night, with only seven remains, and the team. The diving squad placed second in the D100 and 100 Free Relay and the 200 and 400 Free Relay. Junior Steve Summers and Sophomore Diane Oliver were only able to compete half of the meet due to injury. We rested four days and were ready for our championship meet in three weeks.

Next week, Pittsburg State will host the women and men. On February 16, the men tomorrow night, with only seven remains, and the team. The diving squad placed second in the D100 and 100 Free Relay and the 200 and 400 Free Relay. Junior Steve Summers and Sophomore Diane Oliver were only able to compete half of the meet due to injury. We rested four days and were ready for our championship meet in three weeks.

On Saturday night, with only seven remains, and the team. The diving squad placed second in the D100 and 100 Free Relay and the 200 and 400 Free Relay. Junior Steve Summers and Sophomore Diane Oliver were only able to compete half of the meet due to injury. We rested four days and were ready for our championship meet in three weeks.

Next week, Pittsburg State will host the women and men. On February 16, the men tomorrow night, with only seven remains, and the team. The diving squad placed second in the D100 and 100 Free Relay and the 200 and 400 Free Relay. Junior Steve Summers and Sophomore Diane Oliver were only able to compete half of the meet due to injury. We rested four days and were ready for our championship meet in three weeks.

On Saturday night, with only seven remains, and the team. The diving squad placed second in the D100 and 100 Free Relay and the 200 and 400 Free Relay. Junior Steve Summers and Sophomore Diane Oliver were only able to compete half of the meet due to injury. We rested four days and were ready for our championship meet in three weeks.

Next week, Pittsburg State will host the women and men. On February 16, the men tomorrow night, with only seven remains, and the team. The diving squad placed second in the D100 and 100 Free Relay and the 200 and 400 Free Relay. Junior Steve Summers and Sophomore Diane Oliver were only able to compete half of the meet due to injury. We rested four days and were ready for our championship meet in three weeks.

On Saturday night, with only seven remains, and the team. The diving squad placed second in the D100 and 100 Free Relay and the 200 and 400 Free Relay. Junior Steve Summers and Sophomore Diane Oliver were only able to compete half of the meet due to injury. We rested four days and were ready for our championship meet in three weeks.

Next week, Pittsburg State will host the women and men. On February 16, the men tomorrow night, with only seven remains, and the team. The diving squad placed second in the D100 and 100 Free Relay and the 200 and 400 Free Relay. Junior Steve Summers and Sophomore Diane Oliver were only able to compete half of the meet due to injury. We rested four days and were ready for our championship meet in three weeks.
By Any Other Name...

In a decision widely viewed as not that will affect the future of affirmative action plans across the United States, the Supreme Court last week struck down a Berkeley municipal ordinance that required 10 percent of the city's public works funds to be channeled into minority businesses. The decision was supported by the liberal coalition and opposed by the conservative bloc.

In a dissenting opinion, Justice Antonin Scalia stated, in effect, that the ends of such programs do not necessarily justify the means, i.e. that discriminatory policies against the majority to rectify those past wrongs.

The purpose of compensation for social disadvantages, whether they have been acquired by reason of prior discrimination or otherwise, can not be made to pursue the identical means of racial discrimination than can otherwise similarly directed policies based on the theory that past injustices have caused the present state of affairs.

"Classifications based on race carry a danger of stigmatic bias," O'Connor wrote. "Unless they are strictly reserved for remedial purposes and are a minority, you can come right in, the doors of opportunities are open to you."

It's racist. And you don't say that.

Jack Kemp Balances Budget Off Backs Of Poor

The current administration has made it clear that they will not be held accountable for the budget deficit. However, Kemp's proposal to balance the budget by cutting social programs and transferring the burden to the poor is a clear example of how his policies benefit the wealthy at the expense of the poor.

To do this, Kemp would cut programs that are designed to help the poor, such as food stamps, Medicaid, and Social Security. These cuts would disproportionately affect African Americans and Latinos, who are already more likely to live in poverty.

"This is a really important issue," Kemp said. "We need to make sure that we are not only addressing the needs of the wealthy, but also the needs of the poor."

Kemp's proposal is not just a matter of poor people getting less assistance. It's about the politics of class and race. Kemp's policies are designed to maintain the status quo and protect the interests of the wealthy at the expense of the poor.

"We need to be clear about the fact that Kemp's policies are not just about cutting the budget deficit," said a spokesperson for the National Poor People's Campaign. "They are about maintaining the power of the wealthy and the interests of the corporate elite."
ATTENTION, STUDENT AFFAIRS AWARD

Student Affairs Award nominations are being accepted in the Office of Student Affairs through 5:00 p.m. Wednesday, February 15, 1989. Members of the U-M-St. Louis community are invited to submit the name of a student whose efforts in the areas of student services and activities deserve recognition.

Established in 1988, the Student Affairs Award recognizes those students whose contributions to the U-M-St. Louis community have had a significant impact on the quality of life on this campus. Since the award was first presented, the Student Affairs Award, presented at the Student Affairs Awards Banquet held in May, has been awarded to four students.

All UM-St. Louis students (full-time, part-time, day/ evening, graduate/undergraduate/professional) are eligible for nomination. Students may nominate themselves or another student. Every nominee is asked to complete and submit an application with a confidential letter of nomination. The Student Affairs Committee reviews all applications and selects award recipients. Persons wishing to nominate a student for this honor may call (314) 521-8877 or come to the University Center. Contact the Office of Student Activities for a nomination form.