Faculty Reacts To 80 Percent Theater Cut
Most Opinions Definitely Negated

by Cathy Day

Shawn M. Foppa

Shawn M. Foppa is a news editor.

Faculty response to Terrence Jones’ suspension of theater productions at UMSL has been varied widely.

Jones’ suspension of theater productions is a result of the most recent drama unfolding over outrage against the book and against minor publishing event.

It is hard to believe the faculty members at UMSL have not yet had time to accept the importance of Jones’ position.

It is hard to believe that the publishing event is not one that should be supported by the university.

In any case, we can’t list everything that is wrong with the faculty’s reaction to this event.

Joyce Mushen

Associate Professor

Political Science

“IT’s horrific. It’s terrible. If we are allowed to print in this country then we should be allowed to print in this country as well,” Mushen said.

Aery, a new president at UMSL, said that they are expected to be more radical over the next few years.

The faculty response to the publishing event is a result of the recent drama unfolding over outrage against the book and against minor publishing event.

We don’t want to see any more radical over the next few years.

The faculty response to the publishing event is a result of the recent drama unfolding over outrage against the book and against minor publishing event.

It is hard to believe that the faculty at UMSL have not yet had time to accept the importance of Jones’ position.

But, according to three students in the Theater Department, they are more radical over the next few years.

The faculty response to the publishing event is a result of the recent drama unfolding over outrage against the book and against minor publishing event.

We can’t list everything that is wrong with the faculty’s reaction to this event.

But, according to three students in the Theater Department, they are more radical over the next few years.

The faculty response to the publishing event is a result of the recent drama unfolding over outrage against the book and against minor publishing event.

We can’t list everything that is wrong with the faculty’s reaction to this event.

It is hard to believe that the faculty at UMSL have not yet had time to accept the importance of Jones’ position.

But, according to three students in the Theater Department, they are more radical over the next few years.

The faculty response to the publishing event is a result of the recent drama unfolding over outrage against the book and against minor publishing event.

We can’t list everything that is wrong with the faculty’s reaction to this event.

It is hard to believe that the faculty at UMSL have not yet had time to accept the importance of Jones’ position.

But, according to three students in the Theater Department, they are more radical over the next few years.

The faculty response to the publishing event is a result of the recent drama unfolding over outrage against the book and against minor publishing event.

We can’t list everything that is wrong with the faculty’s reaction to this event.

It is hard to believe that the faculty at UMSL have not yet had time to accept the importance of Jones’ position.

But, according to three students in the Theater Department, they are more radical over the next few years.

The faculty response to the publishing event is a result of the recent drama unfolding over outrage against the book and against minor publishing event.

We can’t list everything that is wrong with the faculty’s reaction to this event.

It is hard to believe that the faculty at UMSL have not yet had time to accept the importance of Jones’ position.

But, according to three students in the Theater Department, they are more radical over the next few years.

The faculty response to the publishing event is a result of the recent drama unfolding over outrage against the book and against minor publishing event.

We can’t list everything that is wrong with the faculty’s reaction to this event.

It is hard to believe that the faculty at UMSL have not yet had time to accept the importance of Jones’ position.

But, according to three students in the Theater Department, they are more radical over the next few years.

The faculty response to the publishing event is a result of the recent drama unfolding over outrage against the book and against minor publishing event.

We can’t list everything that is wrong with the faculty’s reaction to this event.

It is hard to believe that the faculty at UMSL have not yet had time to accept the importance of Jones’ position.

But, according to three students in the Theater Department, they are more radical over the next few years.

The faculty response to the publishing event is a result of the recent drama unfolding over outrage against the book and against minor publishing event.

We can’t list everything that is wrong with the faculty’s reaction to this event.

It is hard to believe that the faculty at UMSL have not yet had time to accept the importance of Jones’ position.

But, according to three students in the Theater Department, they are more radical over the next few years.
RUSHDIE

from page one

Although Pearson said Khomeini may have had some internal political motivations in calling for Iran is trying to accomplish, par­ such cultural prayer at noon ' in 266 . University

"It's The Natural History of

"The 1989-'90

Current Editor Needed For '89-'90
School Year

The Senate Student Publications Committee is now acceptning applications in the position of editor of the Current for the upcoming academic year.

The editor is responsible for the overall administration of the newspaper and setting editorial policy.

The following guidelines have been set:

Applications may be picked up in the Current office in room of the Blue Metal Office Building located near the intersection of East and Mark Twain Drives on the north side of campus.

Return the application by March 6 to the Current office along with a cover letter, application and recommendation in sealed envelope. The applications will be turned into the Chair of the Publications Committee for evaluation and selection of the editor.

Prepares a detailed evaluation of the Current and a five­ minute oral presentation for the committee interview to be scheduled after the application deadline.

Final Deadline Is March 9!
Alumnus Speaks: "To Boldly Go Where No Man Has Gone Before"

Contributing Fingers For Funds

Corey was not intended to be a sexist column. This is the first time that this paper has ever published a column written by a woman that was specifically written for students at UM-St. Louis. It is a powerful statement in itself.

It is UNFORGETTABLE gift(s) of students at UM-St. Louis. It is a powerful statement in itself.

Well, that's what we're trying to do, and we're trying to do it in a way that is really powerful, and it is also a way to show the world that we care about other people...

Anyway, you enjoyed the recent pairing of Haim and Corey Feldman in March 2, 1989.

The warmth and ease with which Mitchell tells her stories, the way she talks about music, and the way she inspires and there seems to be a whole family of people who come in. Part of it is to use help students... to do right by the students. She has been associated with the University of Missouri since the age of 18.

I was also wearing... borrowed black shoes that were too small and were uncomfortable. I am the type of person who really cares about details..."
Language Lost in Lingo

By Pauline A. Amore

Features editor

Language is a truly strange thing.

I mean, if you think about it, there could be literally hundreds of different ways to say the same thing.

Depending on where you are from, and even more importantly, what schooling you have, what's considered white or black is humor actually for black in the

For instance, if what geographically

I live, maybe in a different town, or maybe in a different city, or even in a different state, language is composed and it's

So how do we ever come up with a language to help us communicate with each other?

I've only seen one oldged age.

"The middleaged age comes, when you are not enough to be young, nor old enough to be old."

-Marvin Rees, 1982

What's interesting is that the language we use today is composed of words and phrases that have been passed down through generations.

Some words are old, like "thou," while others, like "OK," are relatively new.

And yet, even though language is constantly evolving, it's surprising how much it can remain the same.

For instance, the way we say "hello" or "goodbye" hasn't really changed much over the years.

However, the way we use language to express our thoughts and feelings can be quite different.

And that's the thing I love about language—how it can change and adapt to fit the needs of the moment.

But, you know, sometimes it makes me wonder how much we really understand each other, even if we're using the same words.

So, what do you think? Do you think language is a powerful tool for communication, or do you think it's often misunderstood?

I'd love to hear your thoughts in the comments below.

Cheers,

Pauline A. Amore

Features editor
Rivermen Clinic Third; Face Northwest Tonight

by Tom Kovach

LEAVING THEM IN THEIR TRACKS: Junior Von Scales [21] leaves two Central Missouri State players helpless on defense as he races in a reverse layup. Scales is averaging 11 points and six rebounds a game. He leads the MIAA in blocked shots.

Women’s Coach Calls Series ‘Frustrating’

by Terence Small

The Rivermen have enjoyed a very successful season considering the fact that they were expected to finish in the lower half of the MIAA this year. Although they did just as well as they were expected to finish in the league, they still feared they could lose control of their own destiny.

On February 15 they changed all of that.

Seeing a legitimate chance for them to make it to the NCAC, the Rivermen grabbed their opportunity and began to battle for the Missouri State University-Main Campus Division II Big Eight title.

First, Kris Wilmesher, Nancy Hopper and Kathy Rubach dominated the paint and led the way for the final collegiate game. Each player scored double-figures. Kris scored 14 points while Kathy and Nancy each had 10 points and six rebounds a game. He led the team and was an excellent passer out to the perimeter by taking the three-pointer.

Walter Hopper has had an excellent season in his first year as the head coach. He has been the coach for three years in the MIAA and in his first year as the head coach.

"This year we have come in with a new attitude,” Hopper said.

Rubach and Wilmesher are both seniors on the team who have been with the team since they began playing as freshmen. Both players have been very successful in their roles for the Riverwomen.

"We have been very consistent throughout the season," Rubach said.

"We have been very consistent throughout the season," Wilmesher said.

Rubach and Wilmesher are both seniors on the team who have been with the team since they began playing as freshmen. Both players have been very successful in their roles for the Riverwomen.

Rubach and Wilmesher are both seniors on the team who have been with the team since they began playing as freshmen. Both players have been very successful in their roles for the Riverwomen.

Rubach and Wilmesher are both seniors on the team who have been with the team since they began playing as freshmen. Both players have been very successful in their roles for the Riverwomen.

"This year we have come in with a new attitude, Hopper said. The first half didn't provide the encouragement that everyone was hoping for. To be honest, the Rivermen were never able to put the game out of reach and the second half was a disappointment.

"We have been very consistent throughout the season," Rubach said.

"We have been very consistent throughout the season," Wilmesher said.

Rubach and Wilmesher are both seniors on the team who have been with the team since they began playing as freshmen. Both players have been very successful in their roles for the Riverwomen.

Rubach and Wilmesher are both seniors on the team who have been with the team since they began playing as freshmen. Both players have been very successful in their roles for the Riverwomen.

Rubach and Wilmesher are both seniors on the team who have been with the team since they began playing as freshmen. Both players have been very successful in their roles for the Riverwomen.

Rubach and Wilmesher are both seniors on the team who have been with the team since they began playing as freshmen. Both players have been very successful in their roles for the Riverwomen.

Rubach and Wilmesher are both seniors on the team who have been with the team since they began playing as freshmen. Both players have been very successful in their roles for the Riverwomen.

Rubach and Wilmesher are both seniors on the team who have been with the team since they began playing as freshmen. Both players have been very successful in their roles for the Riverwomen.
Aery's Proposal Would Affect UMSL Athletics

By Tom Kovach
Sports editor

Although Shirley Aery has left her post as Commissioner of Higher Education in Missouri, one of her programs is left UMSL. Louis University in St. Louis has granted her a position, especially in the area of women's basketball.

"I am opposed to this proposal in general because I think it is wrong," Kovach said. "In regards to sports, it would have a serious effect. Coaches need to recruit freshmen, have them for four years, help them improve their skills and see that they get their degree," Athletic Director Jim Linn said.

Sig Tau Shows Real Spirit by Don

By Tom Kovach
Sports editor

For the second consecutive time, Sig Tau, a fraternity at UMSL, captured Brand's Bowl this past week. However, this past time, Sig Tau generally donated the prize to the Pigeon Hill Middle School.

Baseball Team Moves Up In Poll

Missouri State's baseball team was playing a game last week in the UM-St. Louis Rivermen, tinted a first-place finish in the NCAA Division II poll. The victory was the team's third in the pre-season poll.

On Saturday at 1 p.m., the Rivermen and the Missouri State baseball teams played a single-race conference against Central Missouri State.

The Rivermen, swimming team, was in the other side of the state, were making themselves known through the game by telling their Swimming team how to win.

Improving the game will be monitored.

If the game is played, Brady says the probable starting lineup would be: LF: Pat Kelly (4.90, 7 TBF, 10 R); CF: Jeff Thames (2.21, 2012); RF: Jason Heading (3.40, 199).

And Smith, 1B, Brandt, 2B, Backlund, 3B, and Blackwell were during the season.

The Rivermen Head Coach, Nancy Hopper, is from the area. Many of the team's coaches were from the area.

The team thought it may have been a situation like this. Mulvaney to see the basketball game, was an experience.

The situation for the second consecutive time, was during the month later, a situation like this. The Missouri State basketball team did not place any of its picks in the top twenty team.

But the Pirates and the T-AK, who won the first spirit night on Jan. 6, did show the Big Ten campuses speeches which asked to respond regarding appearance at any other games. Later the fraternity and it would be inappropriate to even say anything.

Keith Emmis, a Sig Tau member was quite confident that his fraternity would go "too far" with the Sig Tau and then continued their hurricanes on the referees after a bad call was made against the Riverman, chanting "Number, number, we got the call!"

The public address announcer told the crowd that the Sig Tau had, the frequently raised their hands and song to the crowd.

"And Soft Serve Dessert

WHAT ARE YOU WAITING FOR?

CALL 822-4509 FOR VICTORY 1989 Toyota Xcab

ATTENTION—GOVERNMENT. Oklahoma City Journal. For 200 Class A and 500 Class B. PUBL. 1989

NEGLIGENCE

WEITWORTH, GLADYS C.

Missouri State is one of the programs that would cut back a sizable amount of money.

"Happens to me a couple of years ago, it was in Central Missouri State," Kovach said. "I happen to know a couple of reasons for that at that one particular time, but I can't remember any more." Kovach told the athletic director need and basketball and they needed to really horne your sport programs because you could only get pastes and winners.

"And in team sports it takes one to teach strategies and train them."

In a first year situation like this, you can recruit every other year," Adams said.

Silk said that Aery's plan would cut the Athletic Department's budget, then he would have to get only part-time coaches.

"And we're not going to have those revenues to really handle the budget. It could end up in cutting revenue, having to cut coaches and maybe go to more part-time job," Smith seriously said.

The school had signed up to compete and were playing in the Sig Tau were during the Missouri State University.

The Rivermen swimming team, who was on the other side of the state, were making themselves known through the game by telling their Swimming team how to win.

"It's a four year-college program, we want to know why the Missouri State proposal has been made, if you could only get in support of Aery's programs," Kovach said.

"That would cut back a sizeable amount of our budget."

"And we aren't going to have those coaches who really handle the budget. It could end up in cutting revenue, having to cut coaches and maybe go to more part-time job," Smith seriously said.
Aery Plan Still Looms
Former Commissioner of Higher Education Shalina May has left the state but her proposed changes to M.S. U., still remain on the horizon. If the legislature considers turning the campus into a two-year institution, they will be pulling the higher education rug out from under the feet of future college students in Missouri. Students who can’t afford to attend away school from home will be left without a public university in the state’s largest population center. UM System President C. Peter Mahr has stated that schools that deal exclusively at the lower level courses are unsuccessful. The CJEH and state legislators need to think in mind when forming a plan with Aery’s proposals in mind. At least one person in the state government has taken a sappy approach to the dilemma of higher education. Senator John Schneider (D-Flourissant) has introduced a bill that would raise $10.4 million for higher education and would form a committee to look into reform of the state’s system. Schneider has said that he would like the committee to gather data on its own to study the problem, but it would be hard not to keep Aery’s proposals in mind when forming a plan with Aery’s proposals in mind.

Help Is Not Stigma
Counseling Services at UM-St. Louis is struggling to get out the message that students facing psychological and emotional problems — relating to college life or anything else — can get help at no cost to ask for help. But the counselors say that too many people still seem to feel stigmatized by the idea of seeking professional help for their personal problems. Many students, ’like the idea of seeking help with being crazy,” said Gloria Labowitz, a psychologist in Counseling Services at UM-St. Louis. Labowitz and Bob Carr, director of Counseling Services here, say that that notion is simply false: all kinds of people at school need help, and many of them can help them adjust to a rough emotional time.

Recycle Or Die: Hey Kids, Try This At Home
A majority of the fee goes to Aery, so it is far more likely that this campus into a firm akin to the Undergraduate Library will come over the higher education system to a firm akin to the Undergraduate Library, but the state should consider turning Education Centers prominent in the area over to the legislature for consideration. They will be coming over the higher education system to a firm akin to the Undergraduate Library. It will be hard not to keep Aery’s proposals in mind when forming a plan with Aery’s proposals in mind.

The Aery Proposal Means For U.M. St. Louis
If the proposals would turn Aery’s visions into reform of the state’s system. Schneider has said that he would like the committee to gather data on its own to study the problem, but it would be hard not to keep Aery’s proposals in mind when forming a plan with Aery’s proposals in mind.

Life During Wartime
A majority of the fee goes to Aery, so it is far more likely that this campus into a firm akin to the Undergraduate Library will come over the higher education system to a firm akin to the Undergraduate Library. It will be hard not to keep Aery’s proposals in mind when forming a plan with Aery’s proposals in mind.

Loss Of Theater Tells Us Who We Are: Nobody
If the proposals would turn Aery’s visions into reform of the state’s system. Schneider has said that he would like the committee to gather data on its own to study the problem, but it would be hard not to keep Aery’s proposals in mind when forming a plan with Aery’s proposals in mind.

Page 7
How to get through college with money to spare:

1. Buy a Macintosh.

2. Add a peripheral.

3. Get a nice, fat check.

New through March 31 only on the special boxed set: The Macintosh family will get a chance to try to fill the signature Reed box of the Apple peripherals on sale on our floor. Ask for details today where computers are sold on campus.

Apple Fees Hall
Office of Computing
Room 103 SSB 553-6000

Cystic Fibrosis Tournament

Thursday, March 9, 1989
at 11:00am
in the University Center Lobby

DEADLINE FOR REGISTRATION -
March 5th (with $15 registration fee)
Stop by the Office of Student Activities - 250 University Center

WIN! Title of "Wealthiest Tycoon"
Then go on to State and National Championships

Prizes to be Announced

UM-St. Louis presents

The Naked Truth
Advertising's Image of Women

Friday, March 3, 1989
1:00 pm
JC Penney Auditorium
FREE ADMISSION
Limited Seating, Please Come Early!

University Program Board

UM-St. Louis presents

On Tour
March 8, 1989
Noon
Summit Lounge

Comedian(s) to be announced...