The Day After -
St. Louis Survives

It's the day after the earthquake that never happened and UM-St. Louis is still standing, brick by brick and parking cars, December 31st. No one, not even the Governor of Missouri, thought it would be that way. If it weren't for the clear skies and calm air, it would have been a different story. But the clear skies and calm air meant that the earthquake didn't cause any major damage. So, we can all breathe a sigh of relief and move on.

Scientists we're feeling a little ripped-off right now by all the earthquake hype, at least we're safe and sound and we know a man can't always be right. At least we're safe and sound and we know a man can't always be right. At least we're safe and sound and we know a man can't always be right. At least we're safe and sound and we know a man can't always be right. At least we're safe and sound and we know a man can't always be right. At least we're safe and sound and we know a man can't always be right.

In the case of the possible earthquake disaster that never happened, one doesn't have to be a climatologist to see that there was a lot of hype circulating in the early days. The talk was of millions of people's awareness on how to prepare one's emergency preparedness plans. And most important of all, millions of people now know what to do before a disaster happens, because waiting until after it happens would be too late.

The Employees' Community Fund of the McDonnell Douglas Corporation has donated $5,000 to the UM-St. Louis ElderCare Center to provide scholarships for clients from low-income families. The gift brings the total ElderCare Center contributions from the Employees' Community Fund to $10,000. A previous donation of $5,000 was applied to scholarships in the renovation needs of the center.

The center is a adult day program that enables seniors citizens to live at home without live daily supervision and nursing care at a lower cost than a nursing home or a residential care facility.

Twenty-five scholarships are available for undergraduate students majoring in education and science disciplines. The scholarships are designated for students interested in careers in environmental restoration and water management (E/RWM).

Applicants must be U.S. citizens and currently pursuing an Associate degree in science.

Selection is based on academic performance, recommendations, background, and personal interviews.

Scholarship applications are being taken between January 28, 1991, and awards will be announced by May 1991. For applications or more information contact Peggie Gibson at (314) 1-96-0218.

Student Announcer ‘Wants To Be Heard’

Walking through the halls of the Mark Twain Building, a voice can be heard echoing off the walls of the gym. The voice is full of power and intensity, lending an air of excitement to the basketball game being played onstage across the way. The voice belongs to Rick Strifler, who, at the age of 20, is the voice of the UM-St. Louis women’s basketball and soccer teams.

Though their efforts failed, Jeff Kuchno, director of Communications, said he was leading 27-26. "We played a very good game," said Kuchno. "We played with a lot of intensity and the girls were very competitive.

"It was a very big win. It could bring a lot of attention to the Riverwomen."

"ing in a campaign," said Tuez. "The candidates should be allowed to voice their opinions. The campaign's need to be based on a person's ability to do the job."

In the sex scene on the agenda, Tuez proposed an International Exchange for Fall '91. The activity would be similar to Midyear or the V.P. Fair. Further information will be provided at the January 27 meeting. A time limit was placed on the Ad Rep Committee investigating the SABC funds. The final report on the investigation will be given at the January 27 meeting by the committee's head, Theresa Small. In new business, the Television Club suggested to the assembly the possibility of producing videos for organizations to use for instructional or informational purposes.

The Television Club will be linked with 12 cable stations through I-Net, or Instructional Network. Their intention is to set up monitors throughout campus as information stations. "The monitors would be connected with the monitors used for academic support in the target lecture rooms," said Tom Fate, director of the Instructional Technology Center.

The monitors will cost $1,300-1,500 each, according to Fate. They will be set up in dorms, the library, and the student center. The money is allocated from SABC, SIOA or another source. Election for 1992-93 school year is scheduled for Monday, April 15 and Tuesday, April 16. Budget requests for the 1992-93 school year are due in by Jan. 18.

UMSL Professor Dies

Dr. Rita Bruno, a UMSL Louis associate professor of Nursing and Sociology, died in her home over the Thanksgiving holiday weekend. Bruno, who had been with the University for five years, had been suffering from heart trouble. A reception will allow expressions of sympathy for her family was on Friday, Nov. 30, at the Alumni Center. There was no memorial service. Dr. Shirley Martin, Dean of the School of Nursing, said Bruno was a "very sympathetic" person. She was very well liked and respected by all her colleagues and students," said Martin.
