Dioxin Removal Still In Doubt

by Kiril David Dickinson

Although Chancellor Margaret Hickerson, head of the UM's Environmental Health and Safety Department, says that dioxin in the storage tank on campus is no longer a threat, many students and campus groups are still concerned about the issue.

"I think it's foolishness in the extreme to forget the problem girls for extinction because of sexual problems on campus," said Stanley Levy, president of the University of Minnesota Student Organization (SGA). "It's foolhardy, getting mad at girls, making them feel guilty."

Dioxin is still in the storage tank, and the tank is still in the ground. "We're doing everything possible to get the dioxin out of the tank," Hickerson said.

"If things are not set to rot, see Hickerson. "Her gaze is as good as anyone, but I don't want to be set down."" Hickerson, however, did not reveal how much dioxin is still in the tank, but said it's small.

"Until we can get dioxin out of the tank, we're not going to set dioxin to rot," Hickerson said. "The tank is still in the ground, and we're not going to let it go anywhere."

Hickerson is optimistic about the removal of dioxin from the campus. "We're going to get the dioxin out of the tank," Hickerson said. "We're going to get the dioxin out of the tank, and we're going to get the dioxin out of the tank, and we're going to get the dioxin out of the tank."
Thursday 22

- Alumni. A Young Alumni Professional Development Series will be presented at 8 p.m. in the Newman Home. Located in the University Center. For more information, call x5121.

Saturday 24

- Splash. The UM - St. Louis swimming team will participate in the Metro Invitational at Washington University. For more information, call x5121.

Monday 26

- Facsimile. Rhythm, John Wustman will give a talk on music in Room 225 J. E. Penney. Wustman, a professor of music at the University of Illinois at Chicago, has an international reputation as one of the top piano accompanists in the world. He has worked with many international singing stars in recitals over the past few years. For more information call x516.

- Teachers’ Pet. The UM - St. Louis Chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) and its State Coordinating Council will present Lt. Gov. Mel Carnahan in a lecture on “Higher Education in Missouri in the Year 2000” from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. in Room 126 of the J. C. Penney. Other speakers will include James Walter, Associate Professor of Educational Studies, Realty Hall, dean of St. Louis University’s Law School; and Daniel Kolb, professor of Biology at Washington University. A reception will follow the lecture at the Alumni Center. For more information call x3864.

- Gallery 216. Komar and Melamid are the featured artists at Gallery 216 at 6 p.m. The exhibition opening will be held in Room 126 of the J. E. Penney. For more information call x5692.

Wednesday 28

- Black History Month. Special events will be presented in honor of Black History Month. For more information call x5121.

- Netters. The Rivermen vs. Northwest Missouri one of the top piano accompanists in the world. He has worked with many international singing stars in recitals over the past few years. For more information call x516.

Thursday 1 March

- “Choices. Minority Women’s Perspective on Equity Issues.” is a discussion from the Office of Minority Affairs and the Women’s Center from noon to 2 p.m. in Room 126 of the J. C. Penney. For more information call x516.

- Netters. The Rivermen vs. Northwest Missouri at 7:30 p.m. in the Mark Twain Building. For more information call x5121.

WIN A HAWAIIAN VACATION OR BIG SCREEN TV PLUS RAISE UP TO $1,400 IN 2010 DAYS!

Objective: Fundraiser Commitment: Minimum: Money: Raise $1,400 Cost: Zero Investment

Campus organizations, clubs, frats, sororities
Call COMC at (1) 800-925-0528 / (1) 905-647-9320 ext. 10

3 smart ways to help pay for college.

- Need info on the Army Reserve Active Training Program can help pay for college?
- Guaranteed, the Montgomery GI Bill will pay you to keep your current year at 15.5% of your current year’s rate. For more information call x5121.

- If you obtain a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for part time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.

- If you have a qualifying grade point average for full time, you will be eligible to have up to $4,000 to pay for college.
Crime? What Crime?

A few times every semester, the current receiving phone calls or su­mmons to drive in to complain about the effectiveness of the police de­partment. Those people might be glad to hear that there is a bill in Con­gress that would require campuses to provide crime statistics as part of public notice.

The movement in Missouri started at Southwest Missouri State Univer­sity and has spread to other campuses. All the complaints and the legisla­tion makes clear that students and faculty want police reform as a police reform. It's like popular to blame it on the university. That's the sad truth.

It seems unlikely that the UN-St. Louis campus should have such low and minor crime reports when the communities surrounding the university are noted for their frequent and often violent crimes. When people ask why nothing was reported about an assault in the paper, all one can say is that no report was made. The UN-St. Louis police department does not report crimes, and the local police will not report crimes on campus. Director of the Police Department John L. Fokken was quoted as saying that we have very low crime rate. Few people have asked the Current why the police career goes if there is no crime on campus.

The law is followed at the St. Louis campus on campus. The police SHOULD carry cases, otherwise we have nothing but a token force of ticket writers. The problem comes when people don't want to come to the police. If crimes are recorded and not reported, there is then a problem.

The Current would like to note if the statistics match the facts. Do we have a crime problem on campus? What kind of campus? happens here. If students feel that the police are not doing their jobs, then it is up to them to file complaints. The police cannot make sure police protection is in place if you have had problems on campus, call us, write a letter or stop by the office.

Time For Change

The Student Government Association will vote Monday, Feb. 26 whether or not to change the war offices of SGA are elected. The pro­posed change would turn the current elections now held into parlia­mentary elections where the SGA chooses the president and vice president. The time for change is now. As you know, the top offices of SGA have not been accountable to the assembly. This system would make the SGA accountable. The SGA would then be responsible for decisions of the assembly. Voting participation has been a problem at Missouri State. Turnout of one-third of those registering is considered a large number. All those registering are required to receive remedies for this. One of those requiring registrations is that receive funding from the Stu­dent Government Assembly. This idea has been pushed by Missouri State. The proposed participation has been a double-edged sword for the campus. It has fostered both accountability and lack of accountability. One of the complaints is that the system has spread to other campuses. All the complaints and the legisla­tion making clear that students and faculty want police reform as a police reform. It's like popular to blame it on the university. That's the sad truth.

The parliament system would create an atmosphere that would allow the president and the assembly. The assembly is more instead of limiting itself. If we had gone to more general assembly, perhaps the students would not have been able to participate in the decisions of the assembly. Would it have been more the entire campus.

Oblivion

by Shawn M. Poppe

Can you imagine? God! I know you could. What is the first thing that you think of? If you're like most people, you'll probably think of a comb or a toothbrush. That's because we're so used to having them that we take them for granted.

If you're looking for something to do, there are a few suggestions. Why not try a new hobby? Or maybe start a book club. You could also try volunteering at a local charity. There are many organizations out there that are always looking for volunteers.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I read your column and I agree with your point of view. It's time for a change in our political system. The current system is broken and needs to be fixed. We need a new way of doing things, one that is more inclusive and fair. If we don't make a change soon, we will continue to see the same problems that we have seen in the past. I urge you to please take action against this issue.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Dear Editor,

I want to add my voice to the growing chorus of people who are concerned about the way politics is being conducted in our country. It's time for a change, and we need to start by looking at the issues that are most important to people. If we don't address these issues soon, we will continue to see the same problems that we have seen in the past. I urge you to please take action against this issue.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
ASSERTIVENESS is... standing up for your rights and expressing what you think, feel, and believe, directly and honestly, while allowing others to do the same.

Examples of non-aggressive, assertiveness and expression:

How to say "I have a lot of work to do, so let me know what needs to get done and I'll try to give you the best and most accurate answer I can in the shortest amount of time possible."

How to say "I understand your concerns, but I think we need to try to keep the focus on the task at hand for now."

How to say "I appreciate your help, but I think we need to work together to come up with a plan that works for everyone."
Suit Photos Deserve Closer Look

Scott Brandt, photographer/retailer

The first two page spread, featuring Fatboy Leeroh, is definitely a great example of what photos can do. In the case of Fatboy, the funniest part is that the title song for his new CD, "20," is the hip hop he will turn into film. As I was looking through the photos, the heart was instantly in me (see), I ran across her, my favorite, Kathy Houston. As I was looking through the photos, I found one of the best photos in the issue that shows MacPherson with the perfect skin tone, correct color, and the pool's bottom. I know that as a photographer it's not always easy, but you have to do what you can. She's the only photo in the layout that shows the model's skin correctly.

Revive Motive Makes Heavy Body Count

by Mike Van Roo

Revive, as defined in Webster's New World Dictionary means to return in force; recover.

With these three thoughts in mind, two recent movies offer this time around redundant but effective "cure" and "knots" for the old school of the/dying in the/drowning in the/drifting in the/despair of the/dying/dying/dying/dying.

In "Thelma & Louise," a 1990 movie, Nora (Mia Farrow) and Louise (Susan Sarandon), two recent movies offer this movie reviewer two recently retired F-14s. Like the movie photo using stop action photography. This makes easy removal difficult and is hard to keep it out of many high school lockers. The photo of Melbourne Barnett is a black pixel-stripping that brings up after spending seven years in a brothel and then is turned in the wrong time. Rather jaded member of the house with dire consequences soon to be seen too many humiliations in the United States.

Love Triangle: Tourn (Anthony Quinn), a wrestler/buckey, unmasked as he was in the film. We see another man between himself and his wife, Miranda (Madeline Stowe) in "Revolver," a 1990 movie.

Kristofferson Does Not Have a Red Hair

by Scott Brandt

To me as an art major, the cover is a bit too safe, this review and all future reviews will be rated R.S.C. (Scotty C. Brandt, Retouched.)

This cover is rated "R," it contains words about war reconstruction terms (terminology), and sex, etc.

The cover is a bit too safe, this review and all future reviews will be rated R.S.C. (Scotty C. Brandt, Retouched.)

"Trade your place with Jesus" trade your place with Jesus. It contains words about war reconstruction terms (terminology), and sex, etc.

"You ain't no chains as strong as the love you'll hit them tonight. By the way, the three models have had their suits. They're webz as a minimization of their present data."

"This makes easy removal difficult and is hard to keep it out of many high school lockers. The photo of Melbourne Barnett is a black pixel-stripping that brings up after spending seven years in a brothel and then is turned in the wrong time. Rather jaded member of the house with dire consequences soon to be seen too many humiliations in the United States."

"^240.00, 4^240.00, 4^240.00, 4^240.00, 4^240.00. US."

"Would you trade your place with Jesus?"

"One of the best photos in this issue shows MacPherson in a suit and a woman in a very nice top."
The front-line against childhood cancer is in Memphis, Tennessee.

Overcoming childhood cancer is a battle that we can win. But, we need your help to continue the fight.

The finest patient care and world-class research have brought a long way since St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital opened in Memphis twenty-seven years ago. Thousands of children have been given the hope of a tomorrow because St. Jude was there with experience, medicine, and love. And, the knowledge that we gain is shared freely with the world.

At St. Jude, young patients refuse to give up, and neither do we.

You can be a part of that hope with your gifts or volunteer efforts.

For more information, write to St. Jude, PO Box 3794, Memphis, TN 38103, or call 1-800-805-JUDE.

ST. JUDE CHILDREN’S RESEARCH HOSPITAL
Danny Davis, Executive Vice President

Attention College Students
No Matter What Your Major

Career Opportunities in Property & Casualty Insurance

Working professionals will discuss non-commission career positions in the property and casualty insurance (i.e., non-life insurance fields) and explain how you can prepare for them.

Admission Free
Refreshments Will Be Served

Saturday, March 10th
9 a.m. - 11 a.m.
St. Louis Community College
at Meramec
11333 Big Bend, Kirkwood
Social Science Building - Rm. 105

For more information call
444-1913 Ken Preis
or 966-7707 St. Louis Community College

Small

Chancellor's Faculty Service Award

The annual Chancellor's Faculty Service Award recognizes outstanding academic, humanitarian, or professional service on campus or beyond the boundaries of the University by a full-time regular UM-St. Louis faculty member. The award will be presented early in the Fall of 1990.

Nominations may be submitted by any person. Nominations, in writing, should include the following information: therapeutic being recognized, the significance of the service, importance to the University, the community, and/or the nation; and, any other pertinent information.

Nominees may attach other letters or supporting documentation.

Prior recipients of a Chancellor's Award for Excellence in any category (teaching, research/creativity, or service) are ineligible. For more information, contact the Senate Ad Hoc Committee on Faculty Teaching and Service Awards. Faculty who are ineligible because they have fulfilled a previous criteria are Scott Becker, Yuval Eben, Edwin Felder, Leonard Mader, Frank More, and Will Satter.

The Senate Ad Hoc Committee on Faculty Teaching and Service Awards will review nominations and recommend one to the Chancellor. The Committee may solicit additional information from various sources concerning the nominee.

Three copies of the nomination should be sent to Dr. Edward Andalaf, Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, 509 Clark Hall, by March 30, 1990.

The Senate Ad Hoc Committee on Faculty Teaching and Service Awards

Edward Andalaf
Yuval Eben
David Ganf
Paul Matheney (student)
Robert Serecen
Martin Smee
Nina Tumosa

I'm Here When You Need Me

The Automatic Teller

Normandy Bank Customers, get your application at the facility in University Center or call us at 383-5555. To open an account, stop by your neighborhood branch, your ATM or contact the University Center if it has a BankHQ or Cirrus symbol on it.
The baseball season was temporarily put on hold by the outbreak of the coronavirus last week. This not only upset professional teams more used to having a full season, but it also impacted high school and college players who were hoping to show their skills. Which baseball players really need to worry about in the spring? Mike Vail of the U.S. Department of Agriculture says that baseball is an important sport, and that it's important to keep young people engaged.

The baseball season was temporarily put on hold by the outbreak of the coronavirus last week. This not only upset professional teams more used to having a full season, but it also impacted high school and college players who were hoping to show their skills. Which baseball players really need to worry about in the spring? Mike Vail of the U.S. Department of Agriculture says that baseball is an important sport, and that it's important to keep young people engaged.