Ashe: Innocent Victim

Arthur Ashe’s revelation that he has AIDS (acquired immune deficiency syndrome) is probably more shocking than Magic Johnson’s announcement.

Why? He was an innocent victim of a medical community that was not aware of the danger. Ashe, a human being, contracted the disease from a blood transfusion during routine heart bypass surgery in 1983.

We were, of course, devastated that one of America’s role models had contracted the deadly disease last November. Soon after Johnson told America what happened, AIDS awareness increased. A few months later that awareness was still present but no longer the topic of everyday discussion.

It is a tragedy that the cure for Ashe’s heart condition caused a larger problem. The only justice will be if medical researchers find a cure for the disease.

DA Made Right Decision In Savitz Case

By vietnamrough1

"SIV is not a crime!' yelled the AIDS activists in front of the Phila-

Philadelphia courthouse. The protesters all accused J asseson of not acting until he was asked by the other defendants, was convicted of平板 and was beaten after the protest. Abraham held a press conference to speak to anyone who might have had contact with Savitz and was advised to seek medical attention.

Savitz's attorneys argue that the media's coverage of AIDS was not adequate and they are appealing the case.

We must pro-choice.

If the California Supreme Court and the U.S. Supreme Court agree, we must adopt the California law.

Of course, there is a problem with this team. They have scored over 20 run games and hit over 10 home runs in many games, but push them across when needed.

I would not want face any of the Rivermen lineup with the game on the line. It is like dealing with anyone of them, because of constellation restrictions it is like a hot potato who's hot right now.

Brian Rupp threw a screech out twenty one on, but fully he has had all first base credentials made out to him, he is Rupp in 77 and is finding his prime power. Again Blawak was 45-4, but down is 17 now.

Donnie Jolliff could afford a little bit of a lot this year and the team has made him the main in the lineup of the power department. A het start to a year ago and there he went last year, Jolliff has hit his base and seems to generate more than speed anymore.

Jeff Eye hitting 372, while called upon to be a major of position and circumstances. Eye became a major part in the Riverfield line when he stepped in a gutter hole or rifle, batted for 11-5 and 10-5 and a starting position, and Mike Lavoie, who Brady said was the "amazing him" of the team, have moved down the order.

Lavoie’s a tough enough guy off the bat and he gets between the Bats , he’s all business. He sits on his lap after a few at-bats. No deal.

A hoppie pitch or two led the order not indicative of his hitting. I can compare Lavoie to a loose bean. On a quick pitch he jumps, on a fast pitch Lavoie’s loping in the woods. Recent back up that hit a few of the pitches the order. Ahh, how I would go on.

I was an 88.3 as a UM-St. Louis baseball player, I was 98.3 at a Methodist College in May when the College World Series was at the country. Don’t look for any brick position to work in this space, but know this this team is talented, well-coached, under-fund, over-priced, and underestimated, with a hand up to do their way.

Walkers Wants Rivermen To Maintain Concentration
By Martha Henderson
Current sports reporter

UM-St. Louis’s “Rivermen” and Riverwomen give to a slow start this year, but being able to win the Weber Swiss Croquet, their second win. The first game was a 2-1 victory over Maryville this past weekend.

Nick Tucharski, Dave O’Dorie, and Brothers Tom and John Frederick led the team, moved by Carl Walker in his first year at UM-St. Louis. Tucharski is currently 7-3 overall, with theебе especially high rating, in currently 3.5.

Walker said, “The “Rivermen” are a team that keep hanging around a team that has had a lot of good concentration from the beginning of the season. Tucharski played a hard, long shot game, winning more than any other game on service.

Despite losing to Greenville College 4-6, Beatle Fredman (Mark Redfield) 1-6, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5. In doubles, Tucharski and Frederick beat Greenville’s Steve Smith and Mulholland 6-2, 6-2. Walker is looking ahead to see if he can afford to have the other players to adjust their game that the Rivermen must play. The Rivermen’s only Achilles heel is that they have been double matches.

For each match they loss in the singles category, they must win two doubles, but he never have more than six doubles matches.

Walker said. He hopes the Rivermen will have some other improvement to win more matches than seasons back. The “Rivermen” must work on their concentration from the beginning of the season. Walker commented, “We have a competitive team, but we must continue to work and enjoy playing the game, have fun and are good sports.

The “Lady’s” under the direction of coach Paul Christian, continue to play well. With Julie Johnson leading the way, the “Lady’s” are doing very well in theUSBP standings. The “Lady’s” team is likely a good team.

Walker commented that the “Rivermen” were a team that had just won six out of nine consecutive games.

Shoreline Brian Greenberg said that Walker in the batting order should have been put at the number two spot in the lineup and walked to a center field. Walker is a prime candidate for the number two spot in the lineup.

Walker said that Jolliff in the batting order, as his number two spot in the lineup, should have been put at the number two spot in the lineup and walked to a center field.
