Metro Link Dedicated, Will Run Through Campus

by Michelle McMurray
editor

A dedication that kicked off the MetroLink Light Rail System on July 10 was celebrated with a christening, local dignitaries, awards, rides on the first car, live bands and food. The Light Rail System was in service during summer 1993, and will have stops on the UM-St. Louis campus.

Dr. Donald Diemeyer, deputy to Chancellor Blanche M. Touhill, was the recipient of the internes Chancellor for Academic Award. Barry Van Ust, assistant to the Chancellor for public affairs, accepted the award and said, "Our theme as UM-St. Louis is partnership. We are honored to have two stations." Local dignitaries and representatives from each of the 20 stations along the first phase of the Light Rail System were the first passengers to ride the train. The first phase will be 18 miles long.

Mid Day Theft Baffles Campus Police

by Tom Kovich
of the Current staff

"Be aware of your surroundings." That's what UM-St Louis Police Chief John Pickens is telling students, faculty and staff after a recent theft of a vehicle.

Police gave this account:

An orange 1991 Toyota Celica entered Garage C about 4 p.m. on Aug. 5. As the car entered the lot, the parking gate was stuck open about 18 to 20 years old, driving a maroon Toyota, passed the vehicle. The passenger of the maroon car stuck his hand under his shirt and ordered the driver and passenger out of the Celica.

Police say the suspect then drove off in the car, which was recovered the next day. Campus police revealed that the victim were not students or faculty of the college and that an investigation into the incident continues.

Pickens said he is especially troubled by the incident because it happened in the middle of the day.

"Not every crime is a reason to worry," he said. "In this instance it was robbery, even though it is not a major crime." St. Louis Police said Pickens could increase because the MetroLink line, which begins running next year, will pass through the campus, and the route will have two stops here, one of which is on North Campus.

"It makes the campus more accessible," he said.

Asftd that has happened, however, been a major part of the crime on campus. In 1989, 2 cars were stolen, 4 cars were stolen in both 1990 and 1991. The overall crime rate increased 25 percent from 1990 to 1991. This increase is likely to continue next year due to the addition of the Metro-Link.

Pickens said total of 15 from any phone on campus if any activity doesn't seem right or you feel threatened."

UM-St. Louis will have two stops on the MetroLink route when begins service in July, 1993.

Driemeyer Named New Deputy to the Chancellor by Mark Hanis of The Current staff

Donald Diemeyer, longtime dean of the School of Business Administration, has accepted the new post as deputy to the chancellor. Driemeyer has been on the UM-St. Louis campus since 1977, and served an interim vice chancellor for academic affairs from August 1991.

Under Driemeyer, the School of Business Administration has grown in both students and majors. Driemeyer received his bachelor's degree from DePaul University and his master's and D.B.A. from Washington University. He joined the UM-St. Louis faculty in 1965.

Driemeyer, chairman of the department of Social Work at University of Tennessee in Nashville, was appointed to be new vice chancellor for academic affairs. Diemeyer will have two stops on the UM-St. Louis campus in East St. Louis, Illinois.

Driemeyer was a resident assistant professor at the University of Tennessee and was a graduate student at the University of Illinois, where he received his doctoral degree in political science.

Driemeyer said he plans to emphasize the importance of academic excellence in the University's mission and planning, strategies for negotiating with educational systems and male/female relationships.

In addition to engaging the UM-St. Louis campus, Driemeyer will continue to sponsor a spring conference targeted toward parents and service providers of at-risk African American youth. Driemeyer is pleased with the service from the airport to Mehlville and as far west as Arlington, was pleased with the service from the airport to Mehlville and East St. Louis.UM-St. Louis

"Right now, kids need to understand their responsibility," said Powell. "I say that because every time a young person breaks the law we have to clean up the mess they've made."

Many parents are the proudest of the awareness of the differences in the attitudes and situations that are due to Dulles absence.

"I think it is important for the kids to know that sense of siehting in progress in the community, and that law is the ultimate authority," he said.

"Now when we play, something is missing," is really hard to practice," he said.

Paying Attention to Campus Parking

The campus charges a parking fee to students using parking permits. There are several types of permits available, each with its own fee and regulations. Some students may park in limited areas designated for students only, while others may purchase permits for specific areas. Payment options include cash, checks, and credit cards. The payment process is usually handled by parking lot personnel or through online systems. For more information, students can contact the Campus Police or visit the Student Services Office.

Some Helpful Information

Parking Permits

- Students are issued parking permits for the academic year.
- Parking permits must be renewed each semester.
- Parking permits are non-transferable and must be used only by the permit holder.
- Parking permits are only valid in designated parking areas.

Parker Stickers

- Replacement stickers are available for lost or stolen permits.
- Stickers must be renewed each semester.

Parking Regulations

- Vehicles not parked in designated spaces may be towed.
- Parking fines are imposed for unpaid permits.

Hello U-M St. Louis students, faculty and staff. On behalf of The Current, we welcome you back for another year. We hope to keep the campus community informed by providing you with news and events, and also share giveaways such as movie tickets, shirts and posters. This is your paper and we are here for you.

First feet is open for our open house this Wednesday, and the staff all day during the day or evening. Everyone is encouraged to visit the paper office.

Times are exciting now, with the presidential election quickly approaching. It is time for a change and time for Bush-Quayle hibernation. You a favor by jerking you out of your stupor. Exercise your rights and get out and vote. By the way, we are looking for a political reporter.

Southwestern Bell Offers CallNotes Discount To U-M-St. Louis Community

CallNotes is a special service, to U-M-St. Louis students and faculty under a special mail offer. CallNotes is a service that enables students to get their phone messages without the use of an answering machine. All that is needed is a Touch-tone phone.

"We think students will especially enjoy CallNotes because it's easy to use, fewer privacy issues than an answering machine—and when it comes to taking calls—"for more accurate info," says Stephanie Huth, Corporate Manager of Sales and Marketing for Managing Services.

"Most students can't afford to miss important phone calls or not get their messages. With CallNotes you don't need to worry because it will automatically take messages for you, even when you're not there," says Huth. "And you don't have to purchase any equipment or hassle with a machine. Just an ordinary Touch-tone phone will do."

Subscribers can find out what they have messages simply by picking up their telephone receiver and listening for a special dial tone, one that is interrupted by short tones, means messages are waiting to be picked up. CallNotes is more private than an answering machine because it requires a pass code (which the subscriber enters) to pick up messages, says Huth. And depending on the service plan, messages may also be kept separate and private for each individual in a household. Up to six separate message files can be created, one for each member of a household member, alike Huth. And each call has its own personal greeting and privacy pass code. CallNotes comes in three plans: Economy, Standard, or Executive. The Economy plan includes basic call answering and will record up to 10 voice messages at any one time. It also comes with a daily reminder.

"Students can use this feature to remind themselves of important projects and exams, or even to give themselves a daily wake-up call," says Huth.

U-M-St. Louis students on faculty get a 20% discount off CallNotes plan. Ask for set-up charge to: Thomas CADN, for more information about the various plans, call toll-free: 1-800-464-5421.

Southwestern Bell Managing Services is a subsidiary of Southwestern Bell Corporation. SBC has more than 30,000 employees, is found in St. Louis, is an international communications corporation. It provides a variety of products and services through to principal subsidiaries including Southwestern Bell Telephone, Southwestern Bell Yellow Pages, Southwestern Bell Mobile Systems, Memorando Paging Services, Southwestern Bell Telekix, Call Printing and Southwestern Bell International Holdings.

Special Interest

FINANCE or accounting students will especially appreciate CallNotes, says Huth. "For a small monthly charge, you can get a CallNotes service. Students can take advantage of time-value-of-money, and even handle small calculations. It can also do algebra, trigonometry, science and computer science and statistics."

Dear Editor:

Pamela's description of the student parking situation for a certain lot is well written and is based on valid information. However, her conclusion, that there was a problem with 24 years ago, does not reflect the true facts of the situation.

The problem with the parking situation is that we have a growing number of students and faculty members who use their cars to commute to and from campus. The number of parking spaces available is not keeping pace with the growing number of students and faculty members, which leads to overcrowding and frustration.

I strongly believe that there is a need for action to address this issue. We must find ways to increase the number of parking spaces available, or we must encourage students and faculty members to use alternative forms of transportation, such as public transportation or biking. We must also consider the use of alternative modes of transportation, such as carpooling or ridesharing, to reduce the number of vehicles on campus.

In conclusion, the parking situation on campus is a significant issue that needs to be addressed. We must take action to ensure that our students and faculty members have access to adequate parking space, and we must encourage them to use alternative forms of transportation to reduce the number of vehicles on campus.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Welcome From The Chancellor

Since 1963, the University of Missouri-St. Louis has grown to its present enrollment of nearly 13,200 students, and the faculty, staff and students are pleased that you have chosen to study at UM-St. Louis and to become a part of the community. You are invited to become involved in the total university experience. UM-St. Louis is one of four campuses of the University of Missouri system. However, there are features on our campus that make it unique—an Optometry School, our ninety specialized student organizations and our solid liberal arts foundation. Having become the largest university in the St. Louis metropolitan area, UM-St. Louis, committed to teaching and research, is a strong influence in the community.

The Student Affairs Division offers many services, programs, and activities that are designed to assist each student's educational, social, psychological, and physical development. Take advantage of these opportunities to profit both personally and professionally from your university experiences.

Blanche Touhill, right, accepting roses from Larry Friedman on the day of her appointment as Chancellor of the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

A Message From Student Affairs

I encourage all students to participate in extracurricular activities at the University of Missouri-St. Louis. There are many clubs, student organizations, special events, concerts, intramural programs, and recreational activities. Information on these programs is available in the University Center/Student Activities Office, room 267 University Center. In addition, UM-St. Louis has a variety of student services designed to help students achieve their educational goals. The Counseling Service, Career Planning and Placement Office, Women's Center, Center for Academic Development, Student Health Service, services for disabled and international students, Student Retention Program, as well as the academic advising offices in the schools and colleges are prepared to assist students.

By participating in extracurricular activities and utilizing available student services, you will enrich your UM-St. Louis educational experience and more likely achieve your personal goals.

Sandy MacLean
Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

The Current welcomes all freshmen and returning students, faculty and staff to a new and exciting year at UM-St. Louis. Good luck and best wishes.

Brandon Lee Walks In Father's Footsteps, And The Shoes Fit by Trisajn de Vega for The Current

Bruce Lee is known on the stage as the star of many movies and on the screen as the man who was always around for his pursuers, on the run from mobsters who want him dead. He is also known as the man who had a heart of gold. He is known as the man who relied on his own deadly fight scenes parallel that of his father, Bruce Lee.

Brandon Lee, son of Bruce Lee takes a careful line with his father. He relies on his own deadly craft. Lee is a martial artist who is known for his quick moves and his ability to handle a knife.

UM-St. Louis has joined the ranks of many colleges for its second year, as students moved into dorms this weekend.

There are many reasons why a student may decide to live on dorms, and UM-St. Louis has the ability to satisfy those students living there currently. "It's close to campus," senior, criminal justice major Carmen Ghia said. "I don't have to deal with traffic.

Looking Ahead: Rich McKeesick, UI-St. Louis' men's basketball head coach, will begin his duties next season.

While discussing his plans to run for the vacant athletic director position on campus, McKeesick was asked if he would consider the position. "I'm not sure," McKeesick said.

In fact, McKeesick has been named the head coach of the men's basketball team. He will replace Mike Hult, who resigned last week.

McKeesick said he was excited about the opportunity to lead the team.

"I'm looking forward to the challenge," McKeesick said.

The second one was running with the wind at this point.

Facing the wind, my body momentum suddenly stopped, and gave each a reassuring tug.

This is the command to you head back and replace the airplane. Without hesitation, I arced my body and fell.

Finally, after a 100-foot freefall, the canopy descended. I was able to see a great harmonica. After 200 feet, I was able to see a great harmonica.

Looking between the gaps in the clouds, I was finally at ease and saw a great harmonica.

Rivermen swimmers set five school and one conference record as the men's and women's teams finished in the NCAA Division II Swimming and Diving Championships were held best ever.

A week before Liston's squad got out on their spring break in Naples, Florida, the team was well aware that some of their players were going to make a huge impression at the national championships for the first time ever.

Rivermen Razor! The men's basketball team was 30-2, and advanced to the NCAA Division II Regionals led the Rivermen to the NCAA Division II Regionals and I'm sure they're going to play well there.

Rivermen swimmers set five school and one conference record as the men's and women's teams finished in the NCAA Division II Swimming and Diving Championships were held best ever.

Three members sported G.P.A.'s of 3.8 and were named last month to the All-Conference Team. One of them was Tammy Putnam, who played basketball and soccer, and scored 2,023 points, and is ranked fourth on the all-time scoring list. She's one of the team's top three scorers and has been a consistent player over her four years in the program. She's been working on her game and is now better than ever before.

One of the reasons that cheating is increasing is the perception that the students' future job opportunities are being more and more dependent on high school, and getting better academic records. The professor said he has identified a student board, which is now to be established as a student and faculty committee.
