of Missouri System.

"Troyek has also been listed in Outstanding Educators in America and Leaders in Education.

"Troyek believes "You can go all your life wondering about the secrets of your labor, but awards like this give you the chance to acknowledge that you have helped someone on that road to success."
The Student Government Association put words into action. They sponsored a weekend of Homecoming festivities for the student body and alumni of UM-St. Louis. SGA President Mike Tomlinson said, "We didn’t talk about it that much. We just did it.”

The attendance and support from the student body and alumni considered a success for the first in many years of apathy at this campus. More faculty should have come in support, especially from the athletic department.

The lack of alumni attendance has been criticized, but don’t be hard on them. This was the first Homecoming in nine years. UM-St. Louis needed to set up a separate committee to plan the festivities in the future. With more time and a planned committee, everything should fall into place with greater ease next year.

This even greater criticism for the UM-St. Louis soccer team for their lack of support in the weekend of Homecoming festivities.

It is understandable they played a heavy game schedule that weekend. It is doubtful they played their games and went straight home to bed. Coach Tom Redmond said it was not "required" for the players to come to the festivities. It is not required for the guest of honor to show up at a birthday or graduation party either. The events were for the student body and alumni, but they were central to the whole campus community. The soccer team even sponsored Rick Strifler for Homecoming King, a title which he won and received no word about.

There is not promote school spirit among the alumni. However, most could be desired. The publicity of the student body and alumni, but they are the ones who need to help expand public awareness.

Once candidates have been decided, the publicity of the events should be announced in advance, not limit it to the voting places. These incidents have been this person’s family values since the age of 18.

Today’s lesson is not going to be about the whole campus community involved in Homecoming, maybe it should be made as a part of Founder’s Week.

Publicity of Homecoming events needs to be broadened on campus to increase student involvement. Most students here work at a job, play sports, and have an adequate amount of time to manage their work schedules. If they were to participate in the events, they would have learned from their mistakes.

The SOA and the UPB need to revamp the election procedures for the guest of honor to show up at a birthday or graduation party either. CANCER!
PARANOIA?
Behind The Crown
by Treteeta Starfod of The Current staff

Nominations were made with what was considered to be "minimum criteria" — a minimum G.P.A. of 2.5. The students voted on their choices, and the club officers and the king and queen were crowned.

Rick Striffer and Treteeta Starfodd made history by being elected homecoming king and queen at the first UM-St. Louis homecoming in years. The first prince and princess were Steve Rodrige and Patricia Umtreff. The second prince was, they said, "that's the first homecoming in years." The queen was Lindsay Fieche and Liz Grevenow.

The queen was the current UM-St. Louis Student Government president. Rick Striffer is currently the president of Sigma Tau Gamma, his sponsoring fraternity. Treteeta Stafford has many accomplishments in scholastic and academic areas.

Rick is better known, majoring in Business Management. Rick has many accomplishments in scholastic and academic areas.

Treteeta Stafford is majoring in Communications and Mathematical Education. She is a recipient of the MacArthur Scholarship, which was awarded to her for her scholarship. She also is a member of the UM-St. Louis Deans' Varsity Team. After graduating from Monroe High School, she moved to UM-St. Louis to gain the strength to make it anywhere. She became a member of the UM-St. Louis family. Academically, Treteeta has received honors such as Head of the Dean's Honor Society, and the American Scholar, and is a member of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

We believe the homecoming king and queen is a great example of successful students in the classroom and on the court.

Their qualities are displayed by honoring Rick Striffer and Queen Treteeta Stafford, because the UM-St. Louis soccer team, in the same year, made it to the National Final Four.

Mock Presidential Election
On UM-St. Louis Campus

Mock presidential balloting will take place in the UM-St. Louis Undergraduate Library the week of Oct. 12. The election is sponsored by ARA Services.

For the fourth consecutive presidential election, ARA Services intends to see if “as ARA goes, so goes the nation.” With operations in all 50 states and a diverse customer and employee base, ranging from executive dining rooms in New York financial institutions, to factories in middle America, to colleges and universities across the country, ARA has held mock presidential elections since the Carter/Ford race in 1980 as a way of getting out the vote for the real election. As many as 55,000 people take part, and the ARA voting patterns have accurately predicted results in November each time.

“Our employees and customers look forward to the ARA presidential election, and this year with poll data varying so widely on an almost daily basis, it should be especially interesting,” said Joseph Neubauer, Chairman, ARA Services.

ARA has more than 120,000 employees in the United States as well as millions of customers. Employee and customer participation is encouraged and then sent in to Philadelphia for tabulation and final winner’s announcements.

Most Stayed Home For Homecoming Weekend

By Russell L. Korando

It was 300, Friday afternoon. Homecoming time in St. Louis for the first time in only 10 years. Would there be throngs of students taking a break from their fall semester to go to the Homecoming dance or was it another phenomenon: people go so quickly, I wonder? Thursday and Friday a couple charge, we were greeted by a merry flame. It's a strange sight.

Events that have been made from the oakland couple charge, we were greeted by a merry flame. It's a strange sight.
