Election Board chairman Steve Bartok has exceeded the deadline for students to apply for a position on the election committee to planet 31.

Two of the Student Government Association provisional candidates have concerns that group affiliations among student applicants might give a bias.

The election board position requires students to monitor the election booths during the upcoming SGA election on March 18 and 19.

Thirty-nine students who applied before the original March 10 deadline were Sigma Pi members.

Presidential candidate Tom O'Keefe is a member and former president of the fraternity.

Presidential candidate Rich Tidow was concerned with what could happen as a result of Sigma Pi members possibly having a majority of the election committee positions.

"I'm interested in many of the Sigma Pi's, but I'm not saying they would do something like-

In the Student Government Association's spring elections, the position of news editor has been a choice for moderator.

The local businesses that will be participating include:

Over 200 volunteers from throughout the community will help answer phones, process applications, and everybody got all bent out of shape during the drive.

Shifts are available from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. everyday.

We're working on this before the student interest survey came to life issue 820 of The Call. We were concerned because in the past, polls have been a low turnout.

O'Keefe said he was pleased with the students' response.

"We didn't have any trouble, " O'Keefe said. "Ours was in about 50 applications, and everybody got all bent out of shape during the drive.

Tidow said the unintentionally avoided asking any of his friends to be on the election committee. She said she didn't want to see a repeat of last year's election, when one of the Election Board members allegedly stuffed the ballot with a vote after the election.

"I didn't go up to my sorority and ask anybody to be on the election committee, " Tidow said. "I was hoping we would have a concern because the person running for vice-presidential, Tom O'Keefe (Jones) is affiliated with the Residence Hall," Hutchinson said.

She said she would go anywhere when there is an audience who would let her, but she thinks the debate will be in favor of O'Keefe.

"I definitely think it's going to be biased, " Hutchinson said, "but that can't stop me from going. I think people need to hear what I have to say. I don't want to not show up and have my two opponents speaking on what they think is right.

"We know that it is wrong, but we are in a situation that we have to continue to do that again and again and again."

This should be the motto of the bylaws, which have been passed as a resolution of the Sunshine Government Association (SGA) elections. The bylaws might not be something that would grab the attention of SGA office runs alone whether they run on a ticket or not. However, the SGA constitution lists each position separately, and these states that those positions should be elected "at large." For long as I have been at this school (which is very long time, but we won't go into that at all), I have always thought that meant that you've got to vote for the people who run for president. Hutchinson. I am sure Hutchinson would be upset if he thought he had the majority votes for SGA vice president. The candidates are presently putting out all their energy so that they can get their vote. Othmann Peery and Tidwell/MaxOthmann have put a lot of time in working with that program on that project. Let's not allow it all blow throw a wrench into the whole process. The constitutional bylaws could also have problems for Tonya Othmann. I am sure Hutchinson would be upset if she was matched with someone from another ticket as a vice president or a supporter, as is that is what happened last year. Maybe there should be some sort of secondary bylaws which insist that each person who is running alone appoint a person as a vice president. Either way, I think the possibility of mixing and matching has to go. The problem is that we have to stand together and take all of us into account. There should be something written into the SGA constitution which prevents these situations from happening. It wouldn't have to interfere with the local level, but it would only involve a very small amendment. Of course, there is another way to solve the problem without getting married. Since the chances of getting an amendment into the SGA constitution before the election are slim, the people who are printing out the pamphlet should just print one spot each for ticket for each ticket instead of each name.

The problem with the constitution is the way we are interpreting it.

The ticket will be

Dear Editor,

I am opposed to some of candidates Tonya Othmann's ideas as explained in the March 20th issue of the Current. She states that she desires more "diversity," which means valuable opportunity, and she has a chance can be seen in the following activities:
that she automatically has a chance to be elected president.

In issue 82 of The Current Student Government Association (SGA) President Tom O'Keefe expressed as being the president of Sigma Pi Fraternity, the speaker for the Student Assembly, and a member of the Missouri Student Government. However, in a recent meeting with O'Keefe, it was discovered that he is not a member of the Student Assembly, and that the SGA elections would therefore be called. The SGA elections would therefore be called to take place April 17 and 18. The results for the election are April 18 and 19.
Kennedy said the debate will be untimed. "I feel it will be fair," Kennedy said.

Let’s face it, unless a college student has several thousand dollars a year to blow they won’t be visiting the Katz Center or the Busch Stadium sta-

If people visit either of these high priced entertainment venues it’s always in the midst of wealthy middle-aged males and their significant others. College student are a rare sight these days they have a high paying job or parents to pay their way...

The UM-St. Louis Rivermen squad split their double-header against Lindenwood College despite the cold and windy weather.

The Rivermen came out ready to play as they defeated Lindenwood in the first game 6-3. Jill Specoll pitched a quality game by giving seven innings and allowing only two earned runs on seven hits.

"I’ll tell you what, said head coach Kiwai Topppma, “When she in the mound the defense is incredible. Sometimes I think the team makes when Jill is on the mound are surprising.

“She sees us to win and the team goes after it for her. Wark ethic is incredible.”

The Rivermen jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the first inning. Lindenwood wouldn’t recover as Specoll showed down any thought of getting into the game. She only gave up one hit in the first three innings.

The second game saw the Rivermen offense disappear. They only managed to get three hits in the 5-0 loss. The team did manage to walk five times although none of them got as far as the third base.

"After the first game we came naturally pushing," said Topppma. “The second game is as it seems we have several games. Errors happened at the wrong time. If we played as good as we played the first game we would have had a win. We have a tendency to hit up and down.

In Florida (over spring break) we heat up on some teams pretty bad. I think they started to get a little bit of a head lead," said Toppna.

“The pitching did well in the second game. VickiTenphen was outstanding while allowing only two no walks." The defense made seven errors which amounted to four unearned runs. Needless as though the Rivermen stopped going all out in the second game.

“What is bad is that we had so many games so early," said Topppma. “We ended up losing interest in the whole game.

“I feel like we’re in danger of getting through destruction. We véhicules players’ salaries that is a lot to play this early. They’re simply not ready.”

“We need to stay steady," said Topppma. “We have our conference games at the end of the season and if we lose our interest this early we will be in trouble.

The second game in the series is scheduled for this afternoon and will be against Florida Atlantic University. The team looks to throw their first game as they have a 1-1 record in the MIAA and 14-13 overall.

Rivermen win 5-2; Schroll’s eight K’s in six innings pitched to propel team to victory

by Ken Dunkin

SPORTS

Pitching has been a strong point for the UM-St. Louis Rivermen baseball team, Tuesday, it was the difference in a 5-2 win over McKendree.

The bats were cold early on, but in the fourth inning the Rivermen rocked McKendree for two runs on seven hits.

“The first four innings we hit the ball fairly well,” said Rivermen first baseman Kelly Thermon. “That is what kept hem in the game. We were hitting the ball hard but they were hitting the ball better.”

Rivermen starting pitcher Steve Schroll was dominant for seven clean innings, giving up one run and four hit.

“I think Steve has really dominated for seven clean innings and we were expecting one run and four hit,” said Thermon.

Schroll pitched 23 strikeouts for the game and 10 through seven clean innings.

“The pitching held up as expected," said Thermon. "They aren’t doing it all right, the hitting and fielding are doing just their job.

The Rivermen had seven hit, two of which came in the third inning.

“Do we get what we had to do to win,” said Brady. "We had some timely hits and just put together a couple of strong innings offensively."

The Rivermen have been bitten by the injury bug as three players have gone down because of injuries. Kenny Heaven returned Wednesday from an elbow injury. "He has a bone in his nose in the first game back," Mark Francis and Shawn Moser are both questionable.

“Hopefully we will get Kenny, Mark, and Shawn back in the lineup," said Thermon. "All three guys will be important for us to win.

The Rivermen play their next home game Tuesday, March 28, against Westminster. The game starts at 3 p.m.

The UM-St. Louis Riverwomen soccer team signed four key returners for the second part of the current season.

They have found this in Angie Bonagurio, a forward transfer from Newman Community College. She has three years of eligibility left so she could be a factor for the program for years to come.

“Shannon has a strong offensive player with a strong shore," said Riverwomen head coach Ken Hudson. "She is a hard worker who should fit in with us very well.

Hudson also addressed the defensive aspect of the game as she signed three new defensive players.

Shannon Humphreys, a back out of St. Charles West, could become one of the top Riverwomen defensive players.

"Tricia Nieder, a back from St. Dominic, also could be a good amount of time for us to develop," said Hudson. "She is a strong defender and marking back," he said.

“Shannon really marks with no opponents offensive play. She is a strong player who will continue for a starring position back.”

This is a very quick place who will be a strong number back,” he said. “She probably will be the strongest on the team. She has the ability to play almost anywhere on the field. She has strong shot with a quick release. The Riverwomen also signed midfielder Ann Logan. She is placed at Florissant Valley Community College, and she attracted high school at Granite City.

“Ann is a very good mid-fielder," said Hudson. “She is strong in the box and is capable of making a good goal and distributing the ball well.”

Rivermen tailspin to 14-3 finish

SPORTS

The UM-St. Louis Rivermen basketball team embarked on a season with an 8-74 loss to Northeastern University in the first round of the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) conference tournament.

It wasn’t the loss to Northeastern that surprised the Rivermen nor was it in the margin of defeat. It was the fact that they had been a double figure lead for the fourth time this season in means in an 8-7 record in the MIAA and 14-13 overall.

“Just like we played the first game we would have had a win. We have a tendency to hit up and down."

The Rivermen posted the best record ever history in the MIAA since 1991-92. They will be the best team in the MIAA for the next 10 years. The Rivermen will be returning next season.

"I think we needed it," said Nick Robinson, who hit the go-ahead, and successfully Dick and Eric. "We needed it. We were coming off of an 8-18 season. We would have been down in 12-9 record, and we have given up 73 points in the game.

The Rivermen had five players who led in double figures to post 28 points in the game, and won one of five Rivermen versus double figures to post 26 points in the game.

The win over Lincoln was the Rivermen’s fifth in a row and was a good goal and distributing the ball well.”

The UM-St. Louis bench leads in on a fellow Riverman slides into third base. The Rivermen won the game 5-2, and now they are 14-6 on the season.

eighth in nine games. The streak ended with an 89-61 loss to Missouri Western, which connected on 11 of 22 three-point attempts. That was just the start as the Rivermen lost six of their next seven games and finished the season losing seven of their last nine games.

"We rounded up what could have been one of the best seasons we've ever had," Meckfessel said. "Thirteen should have won 18, 19, 20 games. "

"We will watch the film of the Central game several times to show next year's team how a big lead can be tossed away," Meckfessel said. "It was tossed away because of carelessness and laxness."

"After that game, we didn't do anything mechanically wrong, we just started looking over our shoulders," Meckfessel said. "Two of those games, the other man (West Baptist and Missouri Western Baptists) hit some tough shots, and you have to give the man a little credit. But had the first one not gone, I don't think the other two would have."

The Rivermen will lose seniors Lytle, Robinson, Albert, and Michael Graves. The big names returning will be Rick, Lawndale Thomas, and juniors Kevin Tuckson and Rodney Hawthorne.

"I'm very optimistic about next year," Meckfessel said. "This team, with the film of the last game, will watch the film of the Central, in which the Rivermen led by 17 points, several times to show next year's team how a big lead can be tossed away because of carelessness and laxness."
