Students March on Woods Hall

Tonya Hutchinson leads campus call to end racism

Photo: Monica Saracel

Chastity Harrison, psychology freshman who alleged she was assaulted in the Woods Hall Parking Lot, was one of many speakers at Friday's March Against Violence and Hatred.

Vandalism of Black Culture Center campus-wide meeting adjourns

by Michael J. Unsworth

The Current staff

An anonymous signed letter on Wednesday, March 19, 1983, of the Black Student Organizations (BSO) at UM-St. Louis was held in the Black Culture Center located in the university's Student Center on campus.

The letter was addressed to the university's student organization, the Black Culture Club, which is an umbrella organization for students of African-American descent.

The letter called for a meeting between the BSO and the university administration to discuss the recent incidents of vandalism and racism on campus.

The letter also criticized the university's response to the incidents, which included the arrest of a non-student who was accused of vandalism.

The letter ended with a call for action, stating that "we will not stop until justice is served."

The letter was signed "A Concerned Student of UM-St. Louis."
Reflections of reactions
by Michael O’Brien
of The Current staff

Let’s all stop and take a deep breath. Christella Haisen announced that she judged the hate that was verbally and physically abused her. Harrisson has pushed for charges to be filed, but that doesn’t happen. Arneesha B. McCourt has said that violence was against. Harrisson is refusing to protest. Before we all let our heads cool off this matter, we should consider what can still be done. If any of you have seen the local media news all has been set aside the Harrisson or factions supporting throughout this series of events.

Christella Harrisson, Harrison County, organized this Friday’s March Against Violence. If she can get in, she can be a victim of verbal or physical assault, why did Wren distance himself from common courtesy to each other may go a long way.

Refusing to prosecute. Criticized the way the all of our public record statements, Dent Organizations have all publicly said. Hairston or factions throughout this series to be filed, but the County Prosecutors are available for both. A social effort and motion of outward racism should be spurred positive growth for the future. It’s rooted in the colonization of Africa and the enslavement of millions of children. It will be corrected. We witnessed the power of over 3 million people protesting at the Million Man March. This February we will affirm our allegiance position and move our mobilization power to the student body of solidarity among African Americans. Furthermore, he deserved credit for standing up for all African Americans.

Last Friday, Teresa Harrison, UM-St. Louis’s final panelists, marveled after a year-long media ab- osite. If you recall, she was involved in the Sony Levis controversy during the 98 full seasons. This time, with bellbottoms in hand, Harrison is in pursuit of much more than a lawsuit and honest. This event was much different. She was not corrected, she was a battle of authenticity, and authentic determinations. When MacLean had announced that he had a room reserved in the J.C. Penny Building, Harrison was mourning in the chair that she was in charge. Harrison pulled out 150 students from this campus and Washington University’s together as well as four student crews, which takes action when others step at speed. Do Dr. her revolution, however, is her tendency to alienate her white supporters. I think she imagines that the real people who are on her side, she will be a tremendous asset to the students of this university. I hope that I can discern the hope that I will have a better look at the media coverage. Moreover, I hope that the incidents generated during the process and peace don’t find that they are building, but are implemented that is a real difference can be made.

I was very concerned about an incident that happened on campus on Tuesday. I am very concerned about an incident that happened on ABC about what the University was doing. As revolutionary Pan-Africanist people we understand that when we stand up and said that they were something very beneficial for everyone. The pinnacle of the storming together. It’s rooted in the history of Anti-Americanism that some African Americans have been something very beneficial for the future. We as a people understand that when we stand up and said that they were something very beneficial for everyone. At least the absurd premise over the verbal or physical assault, why did Wren distance himself from common courtesy to each other may go a long way.

When any student, lab, work, Carlton, if treated, the situation should be brought to everyone’s attention.

Student says break in was media-ploy
I am very concerned about an incident that happened on campus on Tuesday. I am very concerned about an incident that happened on ABC about what the University was doing. As revolutionary Pan-Africanist people we understand that when we stand up and said that they were something very beneficial for everyone. The pinnacle of the storming together. It’s rooted in the history of Anti-Americanism that some African Americans have been something very beneficial for the future. We as a people understand that when we stand up and said that they were something very beneficial for everyone. At least the absurd premise over the verbal or physical assault, why did Wren distance himself from common courtesy to each other may go a long way.

When any student, lab, work, Carlton, if treated, the situation should be brought to everyone’s attention.

Student says break in was media-ploy
I am very concerned about an incident that happened on campus on Tuesday. I am very concerned about an incident that happened on ABC about what the University was doing. As revolutionary Pan-Africanist people we understand that when we stand up and said that they were something very beneficial for everyone. The pinnacle of the storming together. It’s rooted in the history of Anti-Americanism that some African Americans have been something very beneficial for the future. We as a people understand that when we stand up and said that they were something very beneficial for everyone. At least the absurd premise over the verbal or physical assault, why did Wren distance himself from common courtesy to each other may go a long way.

When any student, lab, work, Carlton, if treated, the situation should be brought to everyone’s attention.

Student says break in was media-ploy
I am very concerned about an incident that happened on campus on Tuesday. I am very concerned about an incident that happened on ABC about what the University was doing. As revolutionary Pan-Africanist people we understand that when we stand up and said that they were something very beneficial for everyone. The pinnacle of the storming together. It’s rooted in the history of Anti-Americanism that some African Americans have been something very beneficial for the future. We as a people understand that when we stand up and said that they were something very beneficial for everyone. At least the absurd premise over the verbal or physical assault, why did Wren distance himself from common courtesy to each other may go a long way.

When any student, lab, work, Carlton, if treated, the situation should be brought to everyone’s attention.

Student says break in was media-ploy
I am very concerned about an incident that happened on campus on Tuesday. I am very concerned about an incident that happened on ABC about what the University was doing. As revolutionary Pan-Africanist people we understand that when we stand up and said that they were something very beneficial for everyone. The pinnacle of the storming together. It’s rooted in the history of Anti-Americanism that some African Americans have been something very beneficial for the future. We as a people understand that when we stand up and said that they were something very beneficial for everyone. At least the absurd premise over the verbal or physical assault, why did Wren distance himself from common courtesy to each other may go a long way.

When any student, lab, work, Carlton, if treated, the situation should be brought to everyone’s attention.
Happy Valentine's Day!

Students, staff send special messages to loved ones

Photos by Monica Senecal

To my Valentine (the mumbler)

I hope the spark is still hot this time next year. Otherwise, we will have to fake it.

Love

Mary P. Sottile

John, You are not just loved today, but everyday. Happy Valentine's Day!

I love you today and forever!

Maggie.

To all of my valentines in Seton Hall

Love, Red

Jenny, You are the best friend anyone could ask for, and I'm very lucky that you're mine. Happy Valentine's Day! Love Maggie

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Dear Seton Women
I love you.

To all of my valentines

Love, Red

Maggie, You are the light of my life.

David

No puedo imaginar mi vida sin ti. Sería muy aburrido y triste. Te amo para siempre.

Carol

You are the world to me.

Demond

P.S. Tell your brother to give me you have to pick the movie, but I'll win! Afterward! Happy Valentine's Day!

Trisha

Kevin

Happy V-Day

"Sexy!"

Glenn Stewart

I love you, Honeybunny! Happy Valentine's Day!

Amanda

UMSL's KWMU radio raises money with love

English professor leads discussions on women, racial issues

by John Jones

UMSL's KWMU, an affiliate of the National Public Radio System. Nearly half of the station's funds are from local listeners who enjoy their talk radio format. Since it is a public station, KWMU does not run commercials.

"For the Love of KWMU" has been one of the most successful money making drives this year.

"We are running 29% up from last year," said station manager Patricia Wente-Bennett.

"The idea is catching on. This is a fun way to invest in KWMU and have something sent to someone on Valentine's Day."

Much of the money that is being pledged is going towards updating some of the station's aging equipment.

"We are a twenty-four year old station. Some of our equipment has never been replaced," said Wente-Bennett.

The station managers feel that this year's pledge rates are up due to increased concern over the future of public broadcasting. The success of this drive is a hopeful sign for the station, which faces potential cuts from the federal government.

To make a pledge, call the station at 516-4000.

by Jill Barnett

The Current staff

"Recent Racial History and Memory" at the Children's Museum is an exhibit that explores the legacy of slavery and the impact of race on American society. The exhibit features educational programs and interactive exhibits that engage visitors in exploring the complex and controversial topic of race.

The exhibit includes multimedia elements, interactive displays, and educational resources designed to foster dialogue and promote understanding of the history of race and its impact on society.

The Children's Museum has partnered with educators and historians to develop this exhibit as a tool for teaching about the history of race and the ongoing struggle for equality.

The exhibit is part of a larger initiative by the Museum to promote diversity and inclusion in educational programming.

According to the Museum, the exhibit aims to encourage visitors to reflect on the history of race and to consider the ongoing challenges and opportunities for promoting equity and justice.

The Children's Museum has hosted other exhibits focused on race and equity, such as "Racism: The Facts and the Myths," which explored the history of racism and the ways in which it continues to impact society.

Through these exhibits, the Children's Museum is committed to fostering a deeper understanding of race and its impact on American society, and to promoting a future that is free from discrimination and prejudice.

Jenny, You are the best friend anyone could ask for, and I'm very lucky that you're mine. Happy Valentine's Day! Love Maggie

UMSL's KWMU radio raises money with love

English professor leads discussions on women, racial issues

by John Jones

by Jill Barnett

The Current staff

"Recent Racial History and Memory" at the Children's Museum is an exhibit that explores the legacy of slavery and the impact of race on American society. The exhibit features educational programs and interactive exhibits that engage visitors in exploring the complex and controversial topic of race.

The exhibit includes multimedia elements, interactive displays, and educational resources designed to foster dialogue and promote understanding of the history of race and its impact on society.

The exhibit features educational programs and interactive exhibits that engage visitors in exploring the complex and controversial topic of race.

The exhibit includes multimedia elements, interactive displays, and educational resources designed to foster dialogue and promote understanding of the history of race and its impact on society.

The exhibit is part of a larger initiative by the Museum to promote diversity and inclusion in educational programming.

The Children's Museum has partnered with educators and historians to develop this exhibit as a tool for teaching about the history of race and the ongoing struggle for equality.

The Children's Museum has hosted other exhibits focused on race and equity, such as "Racism: The Facts and the Myths," which explored the history of racism and the ways in which it continues to impact society.

Through these exhibits, the Children's Museum is committed to fostering a deeper understanding of race and its impact on American society, and to promoting a future that is free from discrimination and prejudice.

The Children's Museum has hosted other exhibits focused on race and equity, such as "Racism: The Facts and the Myths," which explored the history of racism and the ways in which it continues to impact society.

Through these exhibits, the Children's Museum is committed to fostering a deeper understanding of race and its impact on American society, and to promoting a future that is free from discrimination and prejudice.

Jenny, You are the best friend anyone could ask for, and I'm very lucky that you're mine. Happy Valentine's Day! Love Maggie

To all of my valentines

Love, Red

Jenny, You are the best friend anyone could ask for, and I'm very lucky that you're mine. Happy Valentine's Day! Love Maggie

UMSL's KWMU radio raises money with love

English professor leads discussions on women, racial issues

by John Jones

UMSL's KWMU radio raises money with love

English professor leads discussions on women, racial issues

by John Jones

by Jill Barnett

The Current staff

"Recent Racial History and Memory" at the Children's Museum is an exhibit that explores the legacy of slavery and the impact of race on American society. The exhibit features educational programs and interactive exhibits that engage visitors in exploring the complex and controversial topic of race.

The exhibit includes multimedia elements, interactive displays, and educational resources designed to foster dialogue and promote understanding of the history of race and its impact on society.

The exhibit features educational programs and interactive exhibits that engage visitors in exploring the complex and controversial topic of race.

The exhibit includes multimedia elements, interactive displays, and educational resources designed to foster dialogue and promote understanding of the history of race and its impact on society.

The exhibit is part of a larger initiative by the Museum to promote diversity and inclusion in educational programming.

The Children's Museum has partnered with educators and historians to develop this exhibit as a tool for teaching about the history of race and the ongoing struggle for equality.

The Children's Museum has hosted other exhibits focused on race and equity, such as "Racism: The Facts and the Myths," which explored the history of racism and the ways in which it continues to impact society.

Through these exhibits, the Children's Museum is committed to fostering a deeper understanding of race and its impact on American society, and to promoting a future that is free from discrimination and prejudice.

The Children's Museum has hosted other exhibits focused on race and equity, such as "Racism: The Facts and the Myths," which explored the history of racism and the ways in which it continues to impact society.

Through these exhibits, the Children's Museum is committed to fostering a deeper understanding of race and its impact on American society, and to promoting a future that is free from discrimination and prejudice.

Jenny, You are the best friend anyone could ask for, and I'm very lucky that you're mine. Happy Valentine's Day! Love Maggie

UMSL's KWMU radio raises money with love

English professor leads discussions on women, racial issues

by John Jones

by Jill Barnett

The Current staff

"Recent Racial History and Memory" at the Children's Museum is an exhibit that explores the legacy of slavery and the impact of race on American society. The exhibit features educational programs and interactive exhibits that engage visitors in exploring the complex and controversial topic of race.

The exhibit includes multimedia elements, interactive displays, and educational resources designed to foster dialogue and promote understanding of the history of race and its impact on society.

The exhibit includes multimedia elements, interactive displays, and educational resources designed to foster dialogue and promote understanding of the history of race and its impact on society.

The exhibit is part of a larger initiative by the Museum to promote diversity and inclusion in educational programming.

The Children's Museum has partnered with educators and historians to develop this exhibit as a tool for teaching about the history of race and the ongoing struggle for equality.

The Children's Museum has hosted other exhibits focused on race and equity, such as "Racism: The Facts and the Myths," which explored the history of racism and the ways in which it continues to impact society.

Through these exhibits, the Children's Museum is committed to fostering a deeper understanding of race and its impact on American society, and to promoting a future that is free from discrimination and prejudice.

The Children's Museum has hosted other exhibits focused on race and equity, such as "Racism: The Facts and the Myths," which explored the history of racism and the ways in which it continues to impact society.

Through these exhibits, the Children's Museum is committed to fostering a deeper understanding of race and its impact on American society, and to promoting a future that is free from discrimination and prejudice.
The RUGBURNS

"Taking the World by Donkey"

Weird music that really works in real hard to find.

There's Raven, and will, - that's about it. Well now, The Ruggburns have put out an alternative for the Raven crowd, and it is actually better than the band that they sound so much like.

The Ruggburns show something on their first full length release that many bands have tried to show but failed, they are funny they do try to be as shown on "Pile on Hanger."

Bert Ford won't talk to me, she says my life is a waste, in the morning I'd agree with her, but my mood is full of pace.

This is a mellow band that uses acoustic-based rock to emphasize their slow songs and hard hitting guitars in their rougher songs. Lead singer Steve Zlotz likes to consider their music "really slow speed metal." But that is not as inaccurate of a statement as it centers.

Coolio

"Gangsta's Paradise"

Coolio is back at it again. From the artist who gave us "Gangsta's Paradise" comes "Gangsta's Paradise" a strange yet great release by the man with the weirdest hair in music.

The disc starts off with the title track "Gangsta's Paradise," a chilling song off of the "Dangerous Minds" soundtrack. The song was often mentioned as the "song of the year" for '91, more can doubt that it was played a lot.

Coolio has found himself on the top of the rap scene in less than two years. His song "Fascist Voyage" sampled him to mega-heights. His appearance on the second stage at Lollapalooza last summer proved to be a huge success, as he made many fans from Siedd O'Connor in their show in St. Louis. The man just controls the stage as if it is his own.

In essence the group has put together an awesome disc that comes off about as serious as their album cover. The cover has all the band members sitting on donkeys that are painted like Zebras. This is a very good disc that deserves any air play it can get.

--Michael J. Ursino

Rap

Jennifer Jason Leigh in Gary Grobord's GEORGIA

Jill Barrett

"The Current Review"

Hollywood seems to believe that a film cannot be both realistic and meaningful. Real life does not make neat films; the plot aren't clean and the characters aren't always very well defined. The movie "Gangsta's Paradise" sacrifices some of Hollywood's conventions in order to present an honest portrayal of a down and out singer and her relationship with a very successful man, who is also a singer.

Jennifer Jason Leigh plays the main character, Sadie Flood. Sadie wants to be as popular of a singer as her sister, Georgia (Mare Winningham), who sings on the national circuit while Sadie travels the bowling alley circuit. Sadie has built a name and capability in her life, while Georgia lives with her husband and kids on the family farm between towns. Alcoholic, sadistic with propulsive force that makes her sacrifice her life for her husband, her lover, and her sister - in search of that dream. When Sadie travels to Seattle, where Georgia lives, the conflict between the two sisters intensifies and leads to an inescapable confrontation.

The plot is vague and early on in the film it is easy to see that it is a commonplace in Hollywood. Screenwriter Barbara Turner (Leigh's mother) did not have the movie on a strong plot, though, she built the movie on Sadie's character and her relationship with Georgia. The character of Sadie is certainly interesting enough.

The scenes of the movie are at first seemingly unimportant of Sadie's life and her movement from one scene to another. Rather, those scenes are meant to reveal what drives Sadie. The Forrest Gump effect is powerful. Although Leigh's singing becomes overemotional, her emotional intensity is monumental, and the scene reveals Sadie's dogged need to perform. The movie is not always easy to watch. Leigh does a remarkable job bringing Sadie to life, but Sadie's inanity and obtuseness in living her life can grow tiresome. The film is very honest and realistic in portraying the life of a musician on the fringe of the music scene, and this is its greatest strength. This is not a conventionalized sadie, Sadie is not on convention passed, or about to make it big. She will never find the light, or even change, very much, but she is always interesting to watch.

If you prefer films with cinematic resolution, then this is not the film for you. If you would like to see a fascinating character study, then check it out.

---

Happy Gilmore

He doesn't play golf. He destroys it.

---

Adam Sandler

Jennifer Jason Leigh in Gary Grobord's GEORGIA

GET THE PUCK OUT!

--

UM-St. Louis Riverman Record for 95-96

UM-St. Louis Rivermen vs.

Ball State University

FRIDAY FEBRUARY 16, 10:30 PM and
SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 12:00 PM

For more information call 537-4200
Bending bodies invade Mark, Wain

By Heath Phillips of The Current staff

February 19, 1996

This is a little better weather, said Meggie Folk of North Texas Academy of Gymnastics of Richardson. “I liked how it was, you did not have to wait in the rain. We were really happy.”

Prove it was the value when she finished 1st in Level 10 competition. “Right about being in the same boat, you can prove it’s been practicing pretty long.”

Game gymnastics throughout the Midwest competed in last weekend’s tournament hosted by UM-St. Louis.

Thomason comes through for Rivermen, hits 1000-point mark

By Dan kanung of The Current staff

February 19, 1996

Last week’s battle against the Central Missouri Mules was a huge game for the Rivermen, who were actually in control of the match. Thomason came up big.

Thomason was a four-year player for the Rivermen. He was tall, not for the hand. Thomason was a very tall player, big and strong. Thomason was a very tall player, big and strong.

Late last time against the Central Missouri Mules was a huge game for the Rivermen. Thomason was in control of the match. Thomason came up big.

Thomason contributed four points to the cause were Martin and the Coach Rich.

At 9:30, Thomason and the Coach Rich.

Soft head coach Gilmour

Coach Gilmour was forced to reject his team. He missed out on the bid for

Junior goalie right

Junior goalie right

Thomason looking to reject his team. He missed out on the bid for

Junior goalie right

Rivermen’s 1000-point mark

By Eric Thomas

The U-M-L Rivermen basketball team, led by head coach Ball State’s

by Eric Thomas of The Current staff

February 19, 1996

The U-M-L Rivermen basketball team, led by head coach Ball State’s

by Eric Thomas of The Current staff

February 19, 1996

The U-M-L Rivermen basketball team, led by head coach Ball State’s

Thomason looking to reject his team. He missed out on the bid for

Junior goalie right

Rivermen’s 1000-point mark

By Eric Thomas

The U-M-L Rivermen basketball team, led by head coach Ball State’s

Coach Gilmour was forced to reject his team. He missed out on the bid for

Junior goalie right

Rivermen’s 1000-point mark

By Eric Thomas

The U-M-L Rivermen basketball team, led by head coach Ball State’s

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.

Hockey team promises spils and thrills

By John Lucas

The U-M-L Rivermen hockey team promises spills and thrills.
Rivermen tie for fourth in conference with final-second win over Emporia State

February 12, 1996

SPORTS

Riverwomen went on to be out-scored by UM-St. Louis being down just five points at the five from intrange and sunk three of free throws, and rebound two under the Riverwomen basket. Carrier hit one from the field and rebound two as well as stealing three from Southeast Baptist players. Logan tallied up four points in 14 minutes of action before she fouled out. Hogan added three points and was called three times for fouls. Martin hit a field-goal, rebounded two and had two steals on the contest. "The Riverwomen are again in action this weekend against UM-St. Paul's game in Bolivar, MO. After the Rivermen moved into a tie for fourth place in the conference. They improved their over all turnouts and against the Mid- America Intercollegiate Athletics Association (MIAA) record to 6-4. "It's a big win for us," Miller said. "We're talented, but we're not talented enough to rely solely on talent. We simply have to play hard to win." Rich Meckfessel, Rivermen Head Coach

It's a nine day adventure starting on June 30. Provided that we get the required sponsorship, the club will take off to Alaska in a container and compete against international teams. Included in the $1,700 are hotel accommodations, three rounds a day, ice time, and a transfer. It will be heated."

Don't miss the action this Friday at 10:30 p.m. and again at noon and 5:30 p.m. in the SGA Office. All candidates are encouraged to attend.

Page 7

WOMEN

FROM PAGE 5

UM-St. Louis, 41 31 - 72
South Baptist, 46 57 - 103

Three days later the Rivermen hit the road for a game in Rolla, MO. After being down just five points in the half, the Riverwomen went on to be out scored by 13 points.

Leading the Riverwomen with 23 points was Christ. Christ hit three of three-pointer range and had two free throws. She also had four assists.

Application again had a spectacular game with 30 points and had hit 11 of 16 from the field. She also had four assists. "It's a nine day adventure starting on June 30. Provided that we get the required sponsorship, the club will take off to Alaska in a container and compete against international teams. Included in the $1,700 are hotel accommodations, three rounds a day, ice time, and a transfer. It will be heated."

Don't miss the action this Friday at 10:30 p.m. and again at noon and 5:30 p.m. in the SGA Office. All candidates are encouraged to attend.

Page 7

HOCKEY

FROM PAGE 5

WOMEN

The Hornets had been creeping two and two under the basket. Canier had a total of four points in 14 minutes of action before she fouled out. Logan added three points and was called three times for fouls. Martin hit a field-goal, rebounded two and had two steals on the contest. "The Riverwomen are again in action this weekend against UM-St. Paul's game in Bolivar, MO. After the Rivermen moved into a tie for fourth place in the conference. They improved their over all turnouts and against the Mid- America Intercollegiate Athletics Association (MIAA) record to 6-4. "It's a big win for us," Miller said. "We're talented, but we're not talented enough to rely solely on talent. We simply have to play hard to win." Rich Meckfessel, Rivermen Head Coach

It's a nine day adventure starting on June 30. Provided that we get the required sponsorship, the club will take off to Alaska in a container and compete against international teams. Included in the $1,700 are hotel accommodations, three rounds a day, ice time, and a transfer. It will be heated."

Don't miss the action this Friday at 10:30 p.m. and again at noon and 5:30 p.m. in the SGA Office. All candidates are encouraged to attend.

Page 7

ELECTIONS

Applications are now available in the Student Government Association office for the elections of the executive positions. Deadline for applications is Friday, March 8, 5:00 pm. Pick up your application at the SGA office. All candidates must attend a meeting March 6 at 5:00 pm. (Location to be determined.)

Student Government Association
262 University Center
VIOLENCE

The UN Development Program says that a lack of income security is a basic cause of social unrest, and that only one quarter of the world's population has a basic, steady income. Violence against a race or a sex does not necessarily mean active violence. The UN says that in the United States, the unemployment rate for African Americans is twice that of whites, and the poverty rate for African Americans is three times those of whites.

"Prevented in America is hopelessness, but everyone looks at the world differently," Kashi said. Violence can take many forms in our modern world.

Now, Schirmer's chance, an Ambassador to the Republic of Nepal, and that society is taking a turn for the worse. The violence of poverty and time violence are becoming more dangerous in modern society," she said. "The conference speakers agreed that violence is a growing problem in America. Credit Card CEO, Randy Blankenship, said he is doing the same. For every gun or a car that is stolen, the average family is not making money or is getting used, and the lives to the poorest are taken.

"I think that there are more people getting involved," she said. "People are making more money and are getting used, and losing the lives to the poorest are taken.

"Prevented in America is hopelessness, but everyone looks at the world differently," Kashi said. Violence can take many forms in our modern world.
Haismont, an African-American, and a white female non-student. Haismont claims that when the other woman was off-duty and took a parking place she had been waiting for, she approached the other woman’s car to confront her. She said the woman exited her car and began insulting police, the non-student physically "attacked her.

... into Woods Hall to summon the police. She said that when she went into Woods Hall to summon the police erred in not arresting her. The non-student physically "attacked her."

"There were no physical contact between the two," McCulloch said. "This is confirmed by witnesses to the event who are not associated with either party, and there were black and white witnesses."

According to McCulloch,

Haismont took a broom from a custodian who was on duty near the Black woman did grab a person reassignments. The woman had been waiting for a parking place, she had been waiting for, she approached the other woman’s car to confront her. She said the woman exited her car and began insulting Police, the non-student physically "attacked her."

"That caused the police to call for增援. The woman produced and read a copy of the letter that was left behind during the vandalism."

"There was nothing wrong and I agree with the administration and the staff and we affirm that kind of statement," MacLean said emphatically when Wren was finished. "I’m embarrassed as a University administrator that has happened on our campus."

Another student voiced a concern that there was not enough African-American representation on the UM-St. Lewis Police Department. "We need to have a larger minority in terms of black females."

"As an institution of higher learning, we have a larger mission here; to address the roots of racism," Priscilla Dowden revealed plans to ask the UM-St. Lewis Police Department had diversity in terms of both blacks and females. "We need to do this problem of racism, it won’t be solved."

"Remarkably juvenile."

"Inane...stupid."

"A cyborg placed on this earth to torment me."

--Celebrate Weekly

The quality of life on our campus depends significantly on you individually and collectively. February is nationally recognized as African American History Month. The observance was initiated by Carter G. Woodson in 1926 to assist scholars to properly record the contributions, concerns, and issues of African Americans in the United States.

Each of the persons listed below have one common characteristic. Identify the element:

1. Garrett Morgan
2. Elijah McCoy
3. Daniel Hale Williams
4. Jan Marzellinger
5. Benjamin Banneker

Office of Equal Opportunity

THE BEST LP I’VE HEARD THIS YEAR.

--St. Louis Riverfront Times

YEAR-END TOP ALBUM LISTS:

- LA WEEKLY
- MINNEAPOLIS CITY PAGES
- ROLLING STONE
- ESQUIRE
- ENTERTAINMENT WEEKLY
- USA TODAY
- DALLAS OBSERVER AND COUNTING...

"ONE OF THE FINEST SONGWRITERS OF OUR TIME."

No. 1 Album of the Year

AUSTIN STATESMAN

SEATTLE ROCKET

BOSTON HERald
Upcoming Home Games

Riverwomen
- February 14 - Missouri - Rolla
- February 17 - Northeast Missouri
- February 24 - Northwest Missouri
- Tip-off 5:30 PM at the Mark Twain Building

Rivermen
- February 14 - Missouri - Rolla
- February 17 - Northeast Missouri
- February 24 - Northwest Missouri
- Tip-off 7:30 PM at the Mark Twain Building

---

Catch the UM-St. Louis Basketball teams in action!

Feb. 24th is "Chuck Smith Night" There will be a special halftime presentation to Chuck Smith by the UM-St. Louis Alumni Association

For more information call 516-5661

---

February Red Sale

10% Off all Red* Gifts and Supplies
- Clothing, Hats, Umbrellas, Backpacks,
- Notebooks, Binders, Pens, Pencils,
- Diskettes, Greeting Cards, Valentine's Day Gifts and Cards

*Excludes all books and sale items.

Bookstore Hours
- Monday-Thursday 7:30 am-7:30 pm
- Friday 7:30 am-5:00 pm

Phone: 516-5763

---

University Bookstore