Director unsure of reason for apathy

The University Program Board appears to have lost most of last year’s members.

At the end of August, 14 of the 15 positions on the board were filled. As of Friday, only seven of the spots were filled by active members and two of those positions were on the board, according to Student Activities Coordinator Dan McCarr.

"In the process of trying to get up to the board meeting schedule, we were not getting the return from the past members," McCarr said.

McCarr said that at the beginning of the academic year, many of the members from the previous year that they wereinceasing their positions on the board.

"We had seven members from last year’s board that indicated last year that they wanted to return, and they were notified of the meeting and then we added six new members," McCarr said.

McCarr Director Carrie Mowen said that he was surprised that so many of last year’s members had apparently decided not to return.

"There’s a pretty extensive interview process that you have to go through to be part of the UPB, and in order for those people to take that much time out of their summer months to not fill an application but to come onto campus...and to be here for interviews, that’s a loss," Mowen said. "I am surprised that our board started and all the sudden we don’t have anyone.

Mowen said that she was unsure as to why so many previous board members did not want to return.

"I don’t know what’s going on in terms of the past board members," Mowen said. See UPB, page 8.

UM-St. Louis students charged in disturbance

The Sigma Pi fraternity’s 15th annual "Sexy Legs" contest, Sept. 12, did not occur without incidents, as was earlier reported.

An arrest was released by the Bel-Ridge police department stating that officers from Bel-Ridge arrived at the Sigma Pi house at 10:45 p.m. on the morning of Sept. 13 in response to a disturbance involving the theft of thousands of dollars.

The report said that a member of the fraternity said that the three suspects were "fighting and using profanity and yelling and using profanity and yelling and leaving the premises.

According to Police Chief, Sigma Pi frat chairman, the incident began with a can being thrown, during the "Sexy Legs" contest.

"When opened was an altruism can was thrown, and it hit somebody. He is one of our brothers, and right away we had concern for people at the party," Mowen said.

Art Museum highlights African masterpieces

BY ANNE PORTER

The St. Louis Art Museum is only one stop for the Masterpieces of Central Africa. The tour began at the Canadian Museum of Civilization in Ottawa, Canada, in 1999 and will end at the Latin American and Caribbean Art Museum, at 160 South Third St., in St. Louis.

The Masterpieces of Central Africa includes more than 190 works of art from the Democratic Republic of Congo, currently known as Zaire, and is currently at the Missouri History Museum.

How to make a million by selling very little

"Very little" in this case means "art," and Stephanie Plattj, assistant curator of the museum's Department of African Art, says that the art was created by the Ndou, a group of people from the Democratic Republic of Congo.

The Ndou are known for their carvings of masks and other objects. The masks are used in ceremonies to honor the dead, and they are also used in daily life.

"The Ndou people believe that the masks have a spiritual power," Plattj says. "They are used in rituals to protect the wearer from harm and to bring good luck."
UPB lacks member involvement needed to be successful

The University Program Board has had a challenge lately; getting members to participate. The board is designed to have 25 members, with the director's duties ideally being to coordinate board members and their ideas with the Office of Student Administration to approve proposed event plans. Unfortunately, lack of interest from last year's board members with scheduling have combined to decrease the number of board members currently in active participation.

We suggest:
The remaining positions at UPB should be opened up now to the general student body instead of waiting for the end of the year and possibly having to be jockeyed as members are overloaded.

So what do you think?
Let us hear from you this week. We are always interested in your opinions.

The world will not shut down because Y2K is working right. Life will go on and the corporations will be right there with you. However, many people are used to using computers and the government may not be able to function if Y2K isn't handled correctly. The problems you get in school may not be in school. "In the system, there are no guarantees," said one.

It is too late to catch every embedded system (one of them is the heating and air conditioning system) which uses Y2K components. It is very straightforward to deal with. However, every year, more people are used to using computers and the government may not be able to function if Y2K isn't handled correctly. The problems you get in school may not be in school. Women’s soccer coach looks promising future

by Dave Kinworthy

UM-St. Louis women’s soccer team has some promise for the future. The team is ranked 5th in the Southern Indiana Women’s Soccer Conference and has a 3-0-0 record so far this season.

According to head coach Denise Silvester, the team has improved in every aspect of the game. "We’ve been working on our defense and our offense," Silvester said. "We’ve been holding our own against some tough teams and we’re starting to click as a unit.

The team has also been getting good performances from their goalkeepers. Silvester has high hopes for the future as the goalkeepers are developing well.

"The women are working hard and they’re starting to see the results," Silvester said. "They’re starting to understand the game and they’re starting to work together as a team.

Too much of a good thing

by Ken Dunkin

When McGwire and Sosa got their records, it was a big deal. It was a big deal because it was a big deal. But now, with the season over, it’s just a footnote. It’s just another story in the history of baseball.

It’s not that McGwire and Sosa didn’t deserve the attention. They did. They were amazing. But it’s just that it’s been so much. It’s been so much that it’s become routine.

When McGwire and Sosa hit home runs, it was a big deal. But now, when they hit home runs, it’s just another day. It’s just another day.

I think that’s the problem. It’s too much of a good thing. It’s too much of a good thing. It’s just too much.

Volleyball 9-2 overall after 2 wins

by Joe Harris

The volleyball team continued its strong performance with two victories over Kentucky Wesleyan and Southern Indiana this weekend.

The team won the first game against Kentucky Wesleyan 3-0, followed by a 3-1 win over Southern Indiana. The team is now 9-2 overall and 4-1 in the Great Lakes Valley Conference play.

The first game against Kentucky Wesleyan was a close one, but the team was able to pull out the victory. The second game against Southern Indiana was a more comfortable win.

The team will be back in action next weekend when they face off against Drury University. The game will be held in the McCracken Center and is sure to be a good one.

"Our confidence is growing, but we're still having trouble delivering the knock-out punch," Silvester said. "We have to wear no defense and the more you win the more you want to dominate. We're still coming as a team and not as two individuals.

Going into the match, the Riverwomen's goal was to keep it short because of the Southern Indiana's fast-paced attack. "Our comeback player of the Riverwomen twice last year so revenge," Silvester said.

on the Riverwomen's hit list. We're still having trouble delivering short because of the emerging and the more you win the more you in a dogfight the next.

The two middle hitters, "Susan Clagg et led the way with Southern kills," Silvester said. "Susan Hitchcock is a very strong server. She's one of the top servers in the country? he said. In fact, she needed a new server for the tournament." Silvester also said that newcomer Holly Zrouc was "terrific," but "we're hoping to go to the state tournament.

The schedule doesn't have great memories there. Can McGwire ever remember what Bob Davidson did last Sunday when he took away Mark McGwire's 66th home run because he determined that a fly interfered with it, so of course his follow-up needed to his side. If follow-up errors Don Hoehnberger had women Davidson a letter after the initiation, here's what I think I would have said."

Dear Bob,

Thank you for taking me off the hook in St. Louis. You're going to find out that they have great memories there. But hey, remember that fifth mistake I made in '92. Do you remember? I missed a passed ball in the ninth inning of game six in the world series that changed the entire momentum and basically cost the Cardinals the pennant. We're all allowed to make mistakes, right?

Well the people in St. Louis didn't see it that way, but man what you did even regret them. I only gave the Royals a world series, but you may have changed the course of history.

Can you imagine if Boomer McGwire hit one?

"Sure you're a National League umpire, you'll have to go back to St. Louis.

Registration process remains unchanged

Move from seniority to first-come, first-served delayed after consideration

by Dan Marshall

The administration has been considering a change in the registration process for the past two years. This past Saturday, the Board of Governors decided to implement a first-come, first-served system.

Currently, seniors register first, followed by juniors, and so on, allowing opportunities for first choice for the classes they need to graduate. The change to first-come, first-served would remove the upper class advantage.

According to Mimi Lassere, registrar, 1,152 students enrolled at UMSL last semester, including 667 undergraduate students. Lassere said the process would be similar to才可以

Due to disinterestedness, some of the advisors and chairs were unsure of the impact of this change, while others who thought the process was already in effect.

"Registration is the same every semester," said Dr. C. Smith, director of the School of Business Administration. "The only difference is that students can register on that date (the registers last week at the School of Business Administration said.

There are mixed feelings concerning the possible change among the faculty and students.

"We are seniors to the needs of seniors," said Jack Rusing, chair of the School of Business Administration. "It's a silly approach to registration."
