As the Student Government Association president, I can attest to the fact that the Student Lounge is always busy. The lounge is a central gathering place for students, and it is always filled with activity. The lounge is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Fridays. It is a great place to study, work, or just relax.

Raucous SGA meetings accomplish little

Several students attending the Student Government Association (SGA) meeting last week were outraged at the number of parking spots currently available on campus.

Butler's absence from press conference aggravates students in attendance

by Cory Blackwood and Joe Harris

Troupers flared at Wednesday's Executive Forum discussing the recent actions of Darwin Butler, president of the Student Government Association. Butler has been under fire recently after The Current reported his actions in April 1999 of failure supplying and credit device fraud. Students supporting Butler, as well as students supporting Butler's impeachment, attended the meeting.

Buckingham: From the jolt of Rossington’s guitar to Elton John’s piano, the concert was more than simply a汇集 of talented musicians. It was a celebration of a life, a career, and a legacy.

Rodney Mader / Staff Writer

Buckingham’s fans were treated to a range of hits spanning his decades-long career. In particular, “My Prayer” and “Sara” were highlights of the evening. The latter, in particular, brought tears to the eyes of many in attendance.

UM-St. Louis downplays role hero

Brian Hulme to lecture on public health

Roger Pettmann / Staff Writer

Brian Hulme is a public health expert and has written extensively on the topic of disease prevention and health promotion. He is currently a professor at the University of Michigan, where he teaches courses in public health and policy.

Hulme’s research interests include the impact of environmental factors on health, the role of policy in shaping health outcomes, and the effectiveness of public health interventions.

Hulme’s insights into public health issues will certainly add a new perspective to the UM-St. Louis community.

Butler's lack of responsibility is only reason for SGA's woes

The Issue:

A number of problems have arisen in the Student Government Association recently and Danwalt Butler, SGA president, has a reason for them all. For example, two SGA secretaries caused the cancellation of the "Students' Initiative on Race." Butler has also managed to blame his loss of an off-campus job on an article that ran in The Current.

We suggest:

The problem here isn't that Butler has come across a run of bad luck. He could have included students who failed to take responsibility for the things that are going wrong. Instead, Butler doesn't solve any problems, it just shows carelessness.

So do you think?

Write a letter to the editor showing how you feel about the whole thing else that's on your mind.

Current editorial failures cause concern

I am an avid reader of The Current and an unrepentantly in agreement with "Our Opinion" sections. This current one is quite obvious: The Current and SGA President Danwalt Butler did not do their homework, and I hope we can all forgive unintentional sins on this issue. A stance, one educated about them, would be willing to take on the issue. This "Current" and President Butler are in a one-sided debate of this issue.

First, the way campus governance is currently overturning the student self-governance is pathetic. There is a good pluralism at the beginning on the Governance Committee. It is legislated for the Current. The UM System furnace for the current governance presence in each campus requires revision. The Current and SGA President Butler did not do their homework, and I hope we can all forgive unintentional sins on this issue. A stance, one educated about them, would be willing to take on the issue. This "Current" and President Butler are in a one-sided debate of this issue.

Current editorial failures cause concern

I have been around the campus for a few years, and I can tell you how much the pace of campus has changed. I can also tell you how much the campus has changed since I was here.

I have noticed that the campus has become much more diverse in the past few years. This has made the campus much more interesting and exciting.

Hockey team benefits from early season offensive explosiveness, goes 2-0

By Nick Bowman

The UM-St. Louis hockey team has scored 20 goals and allowed only 11 in its first six games of the season. The Rams have thrived in the early going, racking up a 4-2-0 record through the first five weeks of the season. Their only loss was a 4-1 setback on Sept. 29 against Minnesota-Duluth in Duluth, Minn.

The Rams, however, continued to struggle as they traveled to Kenosha, Wis., to face the University of Wisconsin-Parkside. Before this weekend, the Rivermen were 2-1-0 for the season.

The Rams, on the other hand, had a 3-0 record going into the weekend.

The Rams continued to struggle as they traveled to Kenosha, Wis., to face the University of Wisconsin-Parkside. Before this weekend, the Rivermen were 2-1-0 for the season.

The Rams, on the other hand, had a 3-0 record going into the weekend.

Defender, under-estimated with his calmness, has been instrumental in the team's successful start.

Opposite: The Rams' offense has been led by senior forward John G. Smith, who has scored four goals for the season.

The Rams have also received impressive play from sophomore forward Ben Smith, who has scored three goals in his first six games.

Senior forward Tim Williams has also been a key contributor, scoring two goals and adding an assist for four points.

Sophomore goalie Alex Thompson has been solid in goal, posting a 2.50 goals-against average and a .923 save percentage.

This weekend, the Rams will face the University of Wisconsin-River Falls for the first time in a battle of unbeatens. The River Falls men are ranked 17th in the nation, while the Rams are ranked 19th.

The Rams will look to continue their hot start as they prepare to host the River Falls men this weekend.

Chancellor Touhill honored by Big Brothers Big Sisters

BY SHARON PIERSON

At a celebration dinner Nov. 3, Chancellor Blanche Touhill, along with James H. Butts, President and CEO of The Urban League of Metropolitan St. Louis, will be honor­ed as the Big Brothers Big Sisters of Greater St. Louis 1999 Legacy Award Recipient.

The Legacy Award was created by Big Brothers Big Sisters in 1996 to honor individuals for their lifetime contributions to the St. Louis community and, in particular, for their contrib­utions to children.

Reggie Williams, director of Marketing and Communications for Big Brothers Big Sisters, said, "These recipients are two individ­uals that we feel share our mission, and we want to honor them and share in their accomplishments." Williams said that the mission of Big Brothers Big Sisters is to empower youth through mentoring, and to develop a sense of self-worth and responsibility.

"This Legacy Award recognizes exemplary commitment to our mission and to the children of St. Louis," Williams said.

Williams said the Board of Directors selects recipients based on who would best represent the agency. "We have been very honored by her conference," Williams said. "Blanche is everywoman, on top of everything. She has done revolutionary things internally to support Big Brothers Big Sisters." Williams said the Legacy Award recognizes "the kind of facility that the average American would have," Williams said that the officers in the administration in the department.

Robert Samples, director of University Communications, said current long-term plans call for moving the department into the General Services Building. He said that when the Student Center opens in April and people and departments begin moving in, there will be "a domestic effort" regarding available space.

"There's a lot of shifting of space," Samples said, "that will occur within the next year".

"The garage is expected to cost around $28 million. The building costs are one half million more than the estimated. Schweitzer said, "There were utilities already present for the West Drive structure, [and] they will have to be installed at the site of the East Drive garage."

The new East Drive on which the new garage is sitting is only partially open for traffic.

The highway department does not want it opened until traffic lights are installed," Schweitzer said. "We expect there to be put in within the next three to four weeks. For now, you can make a right turn onto Natural Bridge, but not a left turn."

Please note: This event is not to be confused with spring break, which is a term for several week-long breaks on university calendars typically occurring from March 10 to April 10th. The dates are determined by the calendar of each individual university. The term "spring break" is not a fixed term used for the same period by all universities. Students at some universities may have their spring break during the second week of March, while others may have it during the third or fourth week of March. It is recommended to check the specific dates for spring break at your university's calendar. Additionally, please note that the event described here takes place in the fall, and is separate from the spring break mentioned. The purpose of this event is to promote Spring Break 2000, not to take place during the actual spring break period. The dates mentioned do not correspond to the regular spring break period.
