Parking fees boosted again

by Benjamin Israel

Senior Editor

Parking fees will be increased by $1 per hour for the entire year, according to a resolution passed by the Student Government Association (SGA) at its last meeting. The resolution was passed with a vote of 2 to 1, with Student Government President Todd Greer and Student Government Vice President Matti Akers voting in favor of the resolution, while Student Government Treasurer Tim Price voted against it.

The SGA voted 2 to 1, which is the discipline at which a parking ticket would have to be paid. The resolution would raise the current parking fees from $40 for the first hour to $70 for the first hour.

"The SGA voted in favor of the resolution because it is important to send a message that we are committed to making this campus environment better and safer for everyone," said SGA President Todd Greer.

The resolution will be presented to the Board of Curators for approval. The Board of Curators will vote on the resolution during its next meeting, which is scheduled for April 26.

With UMSL fees increasing, SIUE may be better deal

With the Board of Curators voting to raise UMSL fees, the parking fee to double, and the overall fee to fixed at $3,793, the president of the St. Louis University, Dr. William J. Green, announced that St. "The Board of Curators of the University of Missouri-St. Louis has voted to increase the full-time undergraduate tuition fee for the 2023-2024 academic year to $3,793, which is a 20 percent increase from the current $3,150 fee.

The increase in tuition is intended to support the university's mission and provide a high-quality education to our students. We are committed to ensuring that our students have access to affordable education, and this increase will allow us to maintain our high standards of academic excellence.

The university has been proactive in finding ways to reduce costs and improve efficiency. We have implemented several initiatives to reduce expenses, including reducing administrative costs and implementing technology solutions to streamline operations.

The increase in tuition will be used to support a range of initiatives that will benefit our students, including academic support services, student success programs, and infrastructure improvements. We are committed to providing a high-quality education to our students, and this increase will allow us to continue our commitment to excellence.

We understand that this increase may be challenging for some students and families. However, we are committed to helping our students and families navigate this time with a range of financial aid options available. We encourage students and families to explore these options and work with us to find the best solution for their individual situations.

We appreciate the support of our stakeholders, including students, families, alumni, and friends who have been a part of our university community. We are committed to continuing our mission to provide a high-quality education to our students, and we thank you for your support.

Quirky comedy of 'créme it makes work'

What a scene for first films! "Topsy-Turvy" is an excellent film for the under-25 crowd. Made Lightly about the afernoon of the affluent scene of Gilbert and Sullivan, and their collaboration, "Topsy-Turvy" is also a story of new ideas and visions of the past. It is a tale of two men who created a new genre of theater that continues to this day.

The scene plays out as the men come together, working on their new ideas. They are shown as they discuss the new style of theater, which is called "créme". The men are shown as they work on their new ideas, which are shown to be successful. The men are shown as they work on their new ideas, which are shown to be successful.

Archdiocese reassigned Chitwoods to new ministry

by Mary Lindsey

The Archdiocese of St. Louis plans to relocate the husband-and-wife campus ministry team at the UM-St. Louis Newman House Catholic Center at the end of this semester.

Dennis Chitwood, director of Campus Ministries, and his wife Betty, campus minister, learned last week that they would be reassigned from the Archdiocese to a new location. They will be replaced by Father William Kempf, who works with various campus ministries across the state of Missouri. The Chitwoods have not yet heard what their new assignments will entail.

The Chitwoods came to UM-St. Louis in July of 1994. They replaced Father Joseph Flees, who served as director of Campus Ministries, a position that allowed him to unify the efforts of various religious organizations on campus.

In addition to providing mass and prayer services, the Chitwoods have also poured endless energy toward the campus as a whole. First-year student Chip Welton, who worked with the Chitwoods, said they "had a lot to do with the fundraising that allowed the Newman House to be built.

"They've impacted the lives of many campus Catholics and non-Catholics alike," Welton said. "They've encouraged everyone to try to make the most of the time they're here because they understand that time is sacred."

The Chitwoods will continue to use their usual activities during the remains of their time at UM-St. Louis, including conducting the Spring Break Alternative, an organization designed to help student leaders develop a service for non-UM-St. Louis students.

"Some days we'll be a little bit of a paradox," Betty said. "The Chitwoods have been here for 27 years, and it's been time for change."

"We're going to be more active in the Newman House ministry," Dennis said.

Dennis said the Chitwoods are confident in Kempf as their replacement, a man they describe as well liked by Newman House pilgrims.

"We're happy to have him here, so it will be a smooth transition," Betty said.

Rick Blanken, director of Student Affairs, has worked with the Chitwoods on several projects in the past, when the couple has been on campus.

"I've never dreamed of anything," Betty said.

Betty and Dennis Chitwood lead a campus service for UM-St. Louis students before traveling downtown to see the Pope.

Students participate in last year's "The Big Event." By cleaning up the grounds of St. Vincent's Orphanage Home, students received a commitment from the Ronald McDonald House for sponsorship and a look at the home for the area.

Lindsie Stern said the SGA is currently looking into a new student organization to continue The Big Event. Students for the event.
