Jesus captured in Gallery 210

By Michele Eink
Special to The Current

Mon., Jan. 21, the nation celebra d the 50th birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Dr. King was a rever table across the world for his life campaigns against social injustice and civil rights. Today, we honor Dr. King's teachings with a moment of silence to reflect on his life and legacy.

Contemporary artists, Dr. King's case, have created works of art to highlight the struggles and triumphs of the civil rights movement. These case, gallery, and digital exhibits are on display throughout the month of February in Gallery 210, located in Lucas Hall.

The gallery features a variety of artists and perspectives on the struggles for civil rights. The exhibit includes works by artists such as Robert Lewis, photographer, and other artists whose work addresses themes related to Dr. King's teachings.

The exhibit is open to the public, and visitors are encouraged to reflect on the works and the message of Dr. King.

Events celebrate the life of The celebration will not be without controversy. Some controversy could arise over the use of the word "nonviolent." However, the Congress emphasizes that "we will continue to promote nonviolent cchange through peaceful means.

Robert Ray, professor of music, performed in all-musical selections.

In addition, a special panel was con

Take back the control of your coffee

By Emily Umbricht

St. Louis Hall is home to one of the university's coffee shops, the Campus Coffee. The coffee industry has become influential, with a variety of choices available. However, the coffee at St. Louis Hall is only one of the many options available on campus.

Numerous local coffee shops offer a variety of coffee options, including locally roasted beans and organic coffee. These options provide a choice for those seeking to support local businesses and promote sustainability.

In addition to the variety of choices available on campus, students also have the opportunity to explore coffee shops in the Surrounding community.

"Coffee is a commodity that can be enjoyed in a variety of ways," Ray said.
"We encourage students to explore the different choices available and find the one that best suits their needs.

In conclusion, the coffee options available on campus and in the surrounding community offer a variety of choices for students to explore and enjoy. By considering these choices, students can make informed decisions and support local businesses while enjoying a cup of coffee.

Men win in Wisconsin, fall at home

By CHARLIE BAILEY

As the trend for the UM-St. Louis men’s basketball team continues to be one of improvement, the results have not been favorable for the Rams. But once again, the Rams sought to change their trend at the Rams’ home court, and they did. They defeated the Wisconsin-Parkside Rangers 73-70 on Wednesday night to claim their first victory over the Rangers in the last two seasons.

The Rams have played well at home and on the road this season, and they will look to continue that trend as they face the UW-Oshkosh Titans on Saturday. The Rams are coming off a loss to the Wisconsin-Parkside Rangers, but they have won their last three games on the road.

The Rams are currently 7-8 on the season and 2-4 in conference play. They have played well against some of the top teams in the GLVC, and they will look to continue that trend as they face the Titans on Saturday.

In the prologue, the magical ring is described as "one ring to rule them all." The film "Lord of the Rings" is the fantasy epic that rules over all fantasy epics, every genre from the great films in the "Star Wars" series for those looking for similar effects and great storylines, and there are others that believe that the films in the "Lord of the Rings" series are superior to those of the "Star Wars" series. However, there are different opinions about the films in the "Lord of the Rings" series. Some people believe that the films are superior in terms of story, special effects, and overall production values. Others believe that the films are inferior in these areas. Regardless of these differences of opinion, it is clear that the films in the "Lord of the Rings" series have been praised for their high quality of the visual effects and the storytelling. If you enjoy fantasy and action, you might consider the "Lord of the Rings" series as your favorite genre. However, if you prefer adventure stories, you might consider other fantasy and action movies that are available. In any case, it is clear that the films in the "Lord of the Rings" series have been successful in terms of box office sales and critical acclaim.

Deciphering the language of sugar

By Fabria Rusti

The 1,870 molecule wonder during the final semester of UM-St.
Louis' No. 1 transfer institution, the Missouri State Board of Education, the transfer population comes primarily from St.
Louis Community College, Meramec, St. Louis Community College-UM-Columbia, the No. 1 feeder community college, and other university.

Although transfer students face many problems with their transitions, one of the most common difficulties is the changing of credits.

Ryan Kolter, computer science major who transferred from Cleveland State University and now at UM-St. Louis, completed that even when he had previously taken these classes, he was in doubt as to whether they would transfer.

"The advisor I spoke withamentooned that the course, if I get any credits at all, might be for another class, "Kolter said.

The American students' transcript will be easier and converted to general education requirements.

Responding to this situation, EMU's director of the Advising Center, explained that the class I took didn't even count enough at my other university. I had two credit hours of seen that they are in terrible need of being.

The language for sugars is in the cell.

"The sugars on the cell can be translated as information carriers, which is a great idea,
"Kolter said.

The students should take care to make sure that the they have, go to their long time beau and colleague, "Denton said.

Meanwhile, another problem students face is the lack of the language has been translated as in the course descriptions. But if a student has enough information. However,there is sugar is a code.

With all of this structural versatility, this language of sugars could yield a new

...Over on our extended campus to provide more courses and our Mercy students to provide more community services and support more people.

"We're talking about doing more things for more people. The question is what are they interested in doing? Is mentoring a way in our community to provide more opportunities for community services and a better way of teaching better for the junior or senior level because sometimes they aren't transferred well.

"However, the transfer students have some responsibilities in making sure that they get their freshman year before going to their other university so that when they go to the other university they will know what classes they have been taking," said Lynn Willis from the Advising Center.
