Chancellor search

by STANFORD A. GRIFFITH

Editor-in-Chief

Patrick J. Doyle, associate dean for business administration and director of the Center for Business and Industrial Studies.

If you've ever worked for someone who is open to the suggestions and opinions of the staff, it makes any student job more enjoyable.

I understand that this university within the domain of the system is very strenuous—how long is going to be 'what is going to be'; this idea, which could get to the right level. Admissions and Marketing Director John Hylton, dean of the College of Fine Arts and Communication, said the decision to move towards tobacco securitization is one of Holden's most significant moves.

If Holden had his way, tobacco securitization would not be allowed in the state. Holden's position is to be vocal against this settlement to try to prevent the tobacco securitization from occurring. He is expected to reach $1 billion. He also has said they will not vote for the settlement because it is the only plan that has been proposed, and they are not willing to put the plan up for a vote, which all the seniors believe that if the bill, once proposed, will be passed.

According to Nick Bowman, divisional associate administrator for the Department of Parking and Transportation. According to Bowman, while the repairs can be done quickly, they will not be done to the repair that the students believe is needed. To be open, the students believe the repairs are not very convenient to the majority of the students, and they are asking for a better plan to be made.

Students have been trying to find a parking spot that is convenient for their education. They are also expressing their opinions about the parking problems and the cost of parking on campus. Students should not have to pay for expensive fee to park while most parking areas are under construction," said John Deckard, junior.

Garage troubles continue

by MELISSA MCKENNA

Staff Writer

For the last year, various parking lots on the UM-St. Louis campus have been shut down or closed for repairs. Students are beginning to wonder when all the garage repairs will be finished.

The main garages that have dealt with problems over the last couple of months have been parking garages A and D. These garages have been shut down for over 30 years with the exception of a few months when a temporary construction plan could be used. The problem of ventilation and noise to the support beams have closed these two upper levels and repairs can be made.

Frank Koch, director of utilities and services

The "parking garage that is being constructed," said Frank Koch, director of utilities and services.

"The parking garage that is being constructed will be a huge improvement to the Metro-Link, will hold 600-900 more spaces. It is expected to be completed this October," Koch said.

"They just finished another inspection, and we are now waiting for the notice to remove it and to give a bill for the paint removal and to start the repairs," Koch said.

While garage A has reopened, the repairs are causing a parking problem. People can park on the upper and lower levels, but the middle levels are closed off with construction tape.

UM-St. Louis is in the process of building a new garage in the hopes of solving the current problems. If the new garage being built will be similar to the Millennium Student Center Garage. The location of this new garage will be at East Campus Garage, across from the police station.

"The parking garage that is being constructed will be in the Metro-Link and will hold 600-900 more spaces. It is expected to be completed this October," Koch said.

Garages will be opening being closed, finding a parking spot hasn't been an easy job. Last season seemed to be far more difficult in terms of finding an empty spot. Most of the lots fill up quickly during the season.

There are other garages where spaces are available, but they locations are not very convenient to most of the students.

Most students have been trying to find a spot near their house, but they locations are not very convenient to most of the students.

Students are also expressing their opinions about the parking problems and the cost of parking on campus. "People should not have to pay for expenses for parking while most parking areas are under construction," said John Deckard, junior.

Above: Construction workers continue to work on the new parking lot that is being built in freezing temperatures in order to finish the new parking lot located across from the UM-St. Louis Student Center.
Put it on the Board!

Place your event on The Board in our upcoming edition! Restrictions apply. Call 516-5174 for information.

February
Mon 3
Chemistry colloquium
"Antichain of Organic Molecules at Semiconductor Interfaces" will be the topic of the chemistry colloquium at 4 p.m. The event will take place in 4153 Munt Hall and is open to all students. For more information, call 794-5153.

Wed 5
Student Life
Everything You Ever Wanted to Know About The Opposite Sex will be held at 4 p.m. The event will take place in the PSD building. Call 516-5174 for information.

5 Phi Alpha Delta
There will be a meeting at 6 p.m. in room 314 of the MSC All are welcome.

5 College Democrats
There will be a meeting at 7 p.m. in room 314 of the MSC All are welcome.

The Campus CrimeLine
The following crimes were reported to the University of Missouri St. Louis Police Department between Jan. 17 and Jan. 31.

Jan. 17 - Property Damage
At the Woman's Building parking lot a vehicle parked on the lot had a window broken out.

Jan. 18 - Property Damage
On lot 3 a parked vehicle had its tires removed.

Jan. 18 - Theft over $500
At Cask Hall there was an attempt to steal a car's windows. The suspect was arrested.

Jan. 20 - Theft under $500
In the Social Sciences Building an unknown person entered an office and stole a franchise necklace.

Jan. 21 - Theft under $500
On lot 2Z two license plate tabs were stolen from a parked vehicle.

Jan. 21 - Theft under $500
In Woods Hall a doorstop was stolen from a door.

Jan. 22 - Theft under $500
In Woods Hall a desk and contents from a desk were stolen.

Jan. 22 - Theft under $500
In Cask Hall a purse and its contents were stolen.

Jan. 23 - Threatening Letter
Mederic Hall received a threatening letter in the mail.

Jan. 24 - Burglary
In the Viking union drug and prescription drugs were stolen.

Jan. 25 - Burglary 1st degree
An unknown person attempted to break into a Massac Residence hall.

Jan. 25 - Peace Disturbance
In the University residence hall there was a verbal argument between two female students.

Jan. 26 - Disturbance
In Villa Hall there was a verbal argument between students.

Jan. 26 - Theft over $500
In the Research Building a wallet was taken from an office.

Jan. 26 - Theft over $500
In Bellevue Residence Hall items were stolen from a residence.

Jan. 27 - Forcible Rape
In the University residence hall there was a verbal argument between a male student and a RA.

Jan. 27 - Theft under $500
There was money stolen from a student's bank account at the ATM in the Millennium Student Center.

Speed Dating
For a romantic night filled with millions of possibilities, March 10 at 6 p.m. in the PHL Building. Sign-up at the Student Union by Feb. 28, 2003.

Staff Association Trivia Night
Saturday, March 15, register to play Friday, February 28, 2003.

The Current
Stevind Grisso, Editor-in-Chief
Anne Sugar, Managing Editor
Daphne Wood, News Editor
Addisons, Admissions
Audrey Miller, Assistant Editor
Jason Gray, Assistant Editor
Silvia Sherman, Photo Editor
Horace Farnsworth, Tech Editor
Hank Bass, Copy Editor
Melvin Letterman, Art Editor
Sara Porter, Features Editor
Adam Biedenbach, Editorial Assistant
Jasmin Hirs, Features Assistant
Shawnn Hopper, Prod. Manager
Rebecca Grisso, Co-Editor-in-Chief

www.thecurrentonline.com

Staff Writers
Charle Bright, Katie Drake, Bob Hargreaves, Mark Novak, Melissa Cid, Rikki Dwyer, Bryna Frosh, Greg De Porzanos, Lara O'Keefe, Dan Delaney, E...
Credit cards may return to The Nosh

by melissa McCrady
Staff Writer

Ten months after the Nosh stopped accepting credit cards, Chartwells Dining Service is now considering once again allowing plastic for food purchases.

In March of 2003, Chartwells and UM-StLouis catering services stopped offering the choice of paying via credit card. The reasons behind the decision was due to transactions being too time-consuming, when run through the machines.

"We have to see what the accepting of credit card will go back into effect. We are looking into trying to get a faster system for our registers," said Food Service Director Curtis Column.

When credit cards were being used, the line was held up an extra 40-45 seconds per customer. "Initially, the plan was to install more lines, but that was decided to be too expensive, so we decided to look into a faster type of service," said Student Government Comptroller Jeff Griesemer said.

"We have no exact dates when the 30% cut will go into effect. After that, we are just trying to test this idea. We will probably be testing this idea for another month or so to see how it works out," Griesemer said.

According to Column, higher education has had to bail out the state in the past due to transactions being too time-consuming.

"I'm afraid that education may suffer because of the political parties," Column said.

Over the last year, higher education has endured close to $300 million in cuts from Holden's office. Some schools have had to implement emergency procedures just to be able to stay open. Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau is in a mass of financial urgency, feeling forced to cut programs and reduce staff. At UM-Lee's, over the summer of 2003, a purchase freeze was enacted on capital purchase orders.

According to Holden, the only way to save education from a new round of cuts is the transaction fees that UM-StLouis charges their staff. Holden said. "We can take the fee away from them if a student does not belong to UM-StLouis, then they might be forced to pay in extra charge up to three dollars," Holden said.

Student Government Association Comptroller Walter Bowman said. "Another factor in bringing this policy back is the transaction fees that UM-StLouis states, no extra, pay the credit card companies.

Some credit transactions companies will charge a business two percent of the cost of each transaction. Companies may charge $2.50 per card swipe.

Credit cards are becoming used at numerous merchants across the nation. Many fast food chains are beginning to offer this option to their customers. Column went on to say, "Through this idea this may be beneficial to the student, we will put Chartwells in the long run.

People are not being advised to take advantage of the Millenium Cash Plan as a way to use their credit cards and money while doing so.

People can load $25 or more onto their ID and receive a 5 to 15 percent discount when they buy their food. For the time being, people who don't carry cash have the Millenium Cash Plan option along with the availability of the ATM machine (on the 2nd floor of the MSC).

"Holden's office has had to bail out the state in the past, and now we are doing the same again," Holden said. "We can take the fee away from them if a student does not belong to UM-StLouis, then they might be forced to pay in extra charge up to three dollars," Holden said.

"State education," Holden said. "Holden said. "We can take the fee away from them if a student does not belong to UM-StLouis, then they might be forced to pay in extra charge up to three dollars," Holden said.

"We have no exact dates when the 30% cut will go into effect. After that, we are just trying to test this idea. We will probably be testing this idea for another month or so to see how it works out," Griesemer said.

According to Column, higher education has had to bail out the state in the past due to transactions being too time-consuming.

"I'm afraid that education may suffer because of the political parties," Column said.

Over the last year, higher education has endured close to $300 million in cuts from Holden's office. Some schools have had to implement emergency procedures just to be able to stay open. Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau is in a mass of financial urgency, feeling forced to cut programs and reduce staff. At UM-Lee's, over the summer of 2003, a purchase freeze was enacted on capital purchase orders.

According to Holden, the only way to save education from a new round of cuts is the transaction fees that UM-StLouis charges their staff. Holden said. "We can take the fee away from them if a student does not belong to UM-StLouis, then they might be forced to pay in extra charge up to three dollars," Holden said.

Student Government Association Comptroller Walter Bowman said. "Another factor in bringing this policy back is the transaction fees that UM-StLouis states, no extra, pay the credit card companies.

Some credit transactions companies will charge a business two percent of the cost of each transaction. Companies may charge $2.50 per card swipe.

Credit cards are becoming used at numerous merchants across the nation. Many fast food chains are beginning to offer this option to their customers. Column went on to say, "Through this idea this may be beneficial to the student, we will put Chartwells in the long run.

People are not being advised to take advantage of the Millenium Cash Plan as a way to use their credit cards and money while doing so.

People can load $25 or more onto their ID and receive a 5 to 15 percent discount when they buy their food. For the time being, people who don't carry cash have the Millenium Cash Plan option along with the availability of the ATM machine (on the 2nd floor of the MSC).

"Holden's office has had to bail out the state in the past, and now we are doing the same again," Holden said. "We can take the fee away from them if a student does not belong to UM-StLouis, then they might be forced to pay in extra charge up to three dollars," Holden said.

"State education," Holden said. "Holden said. "We can take the fee away from them if a student does not belong to UM-StLouis, then they might be forced to pay in extra charge up to three dollars," Holden said.

"We have no exact dates when the 30% cut will go into effect. After that, we are just trying to test this idea. We will probably be testing this idea for another month or so to see how it works out," Griesemer said.

According to Column, higher education has had to bail out the state in the past due to transactions being too time-consuming.

"I'm afraid that education may suffer because of the political parties," Column said.

Over the last year, higher education has endured close to $300 million in cuts from Holden's office. Some schools have had to implement emergency procedures just to be able to stay open. Southeast Missouri State University in Cape Girardeau is in a mass of financial urgency, feeling forced to cut programs and reduce staff. At UM-Lee's, over the summer of 2003, a purchase freeze was enacted on capital purchase orders.

According to Holden, the only way to save education from a new round of cuts is the transaction fees that UM-StLouis charges their staff. Holden said. "We can take the fee away from them if a student does not belong to UM-StLouis, then they might be forced to pay in extra charge up to three dollars," Holden said.

Student Government Association Comptroller Walter Bowman said. "Another factor in bringing this policy back is the transaction fees that UM-StLouis states, no extra, pay the credit card companies.

Some credit transactions companies will charge a business two percent of the cost of each transaction. Companies may charge $2.50 per card swipe.

Credit cards are becoming used at numerous merchants across the nation. Many fast food chains are beginning to offer this option to their customers. Column went on to say, "Through this idea this may be beneficial to the student, we will put Chartwells in the long run.

People are not being advised to take advantage of the Millenium Cash Plan as a way to use their credit cards and money while doing so.

People can load $25 or more onto their ID and receive a 5 to 15 percent discount when they buy their food. For the time being, people who don't carry cash have the Millenium Cash Plan option along with the availability of the ATM machine (on the 2nd floor of the MSC).
When President Elson Floyd was hired as the president of the UM System, he joined an institution full of history and tradition. Now he is continuing the tradition of secretive hiring practices for top employees. The majority opinion of the members of the search committee is that he left from the previous cuts), and to the place, which we can­ not know for certain. The only way to know for certain is that this isn’t always the case when it comes to classes, but when there is a class meeting during the semester, it can be hard to stay on track. Self-motivation is a hard thing to accomplish sometimes. When it comes to classes, I need a little push to get me going. Some people consider themselves to be lazy drivers when they are driving poorly because they don’t want to pay for a parking ticket. Suddenly, red and blue lights are shining brightly in your face. You’re driving home fully sober. What do you think the police officer will do? If you believe you are unimpeded by any other car, it will be easy. Suddenly, red and blue lights are shining brightly in your face. After fighting out your proof of insurance you see a ticket for driving too fast for 45 minutes, you’re finally handed a ticket for driving too fast. While all of this is perfectly or­ dinary, a few old things strike me about this common situation:

1) If you’re the only car on the road and you’re perfectly sober, exactly why are you being stopped if you’re going to be ticketed?

2) Most people get nervous when they are stopped. This can bring a driver slowly when they are nervous. This can bring a driver’s mind to a halt when they are not understanding others on the road. One study even showed that if you are the only car on the road, you are more likely to be pulled over.

3) Knowing that same logic that most people drive poorly when they are nervous, if a higher ranking official were to drive poorly when they are being watched, he or she may be more likely to get a ticket.

4) There are few laws, and most laws in general, supposed to protect citizens. One of these laws is that this isn’t always the case when it comes to classes, but when there is a class meeting during the semester, it can be hard to stay on track. Self-motivation is a hard thing to accomplish sometimes. When it comes to classes, I need a little push to get me going. Some people consider themselves to be lazy drivers when they are driving poorly because they don’t want to pay for a parking ticket. Suddenly, red and blue lights are shining brightly in your face. You’re driving home fully sober. What do you think the police officer will do? If you believe you are unimpeded by any other car, it will be easy. Suddenly, red and blue lights are shining brightly in your face. After fighting out your proof of insurance you see a ticket for driving too fast for 45 minutes, you’re finally handed a ticket for driving too fast. While all of this is perfectly or­ dinary, a few old things strike me about this common situation:

1) If you’re the only car on the road and you’re perfectly sober, exactly why are you being stopped if you’re going to be ticketed?

2) Most people get nervous when they are stopped. This can bring a driver slowly when they are nervous. This can bring a driver’s mind to a halt when they are not understanding others on the road. One study even showed that if you are the only car on the road, you are more likely to be pulled over.

3) Knowing that same logic that most people drive poorly when they are nervous, if a higher ranking official were to drive poorly when they are being watched, he or she may be more likely to get a ticket.

4) There are few laws, and most laws in general, supposed to protect citizens. One of these laws is that this isn’t always the case when it comes to classes, but when there is a class meeting during the semester, it can be hard to stay on track. Self-motivation is a hard thing to accomplish sometimes. When it comes to classes, I need a little push to get me going. Some people consider themselves to be lazy drivers when they are driving poorly because they don’t want to pay for a parking ticket. Suddenly, red and blue lights are shining brightly in your face. You’re driving home fully sober. What do you think the police officer will do? If you believe you are unimpeded by any other car, it will be easy. Suddenly, red and blue lights are shining brightly in your face. After fighting out your proof of insurance you see a ticket for driving too fast for 45 minutes, you’re finally handed a ticket for driving too fast. While all of this is perfectly or­ dinary, a few old things strike me about this common situation:

1) If you’re the only car on the road and you’re perfectly sober, exactly why are you being stopped if you’re going to be ticketed?
Given its perceived importance in our daily lives, it’s fitting that we often wonder about the nature of time. However, it’s interesting that not all cultures view time as a universal phenomenon. In some cultures, for example, the concept of time does not exist as we understand it in the Western world.

What is time, after all? Is it a linear progression or a cyclical activity that disappears or, quite simply, is it part of something more fundamental, like a force or a dimension?

In some cases, time is a construct, only existing in our minds as a way to organize our experiences. In others, it’s a more tangible entity, like the passage of seconds or minutes. And yet, there are moments when we question the very existence of time, and wonder if it’s more of a concept than a reality.

In science, time is a fundamental concept. It’s the way we measure the flow of events, the duration of an event, or the interval between two events. But it’s also a concept that’s open to interpretation and debate.

For example, in physics, time is often considered an illusion. According to some theories, time is not a fundamental property of the universe, but rather a consequence of the way we observe and measure events. Other theories, such as those proposed by Einstein, suggest that time is a relative concept, dependent on the observer’s frame of reference.

In philosophy, time is a more abstract concept, often discussed in terms of the past, present, and future. Some thinkers argue that time is a linear progression, while others suggest that it’s a circular or cyclical activity.

In conclusion, time is a complex and multifaceted concept. It’s something that we all experience every day, but also something that we struggle to understand. As we continue to explore the nature of time, we may find that it’s not as simple or straightforward as we once thought.
Like another hole in the head

BY KATHE DOESL

Staff Writer

Twenty years ago, popular fashions included leg and hair bright colors. Today’s trends are simple and include less clothes and hair styles. This has become a common addition to American society and the look is here to stay.

In many cultures, body piercing has been a symbol of religious and spiritual beliefs. Some people believe that piercing their body is a way to honor a higher power or a way to connect with their ancestors.

Many UM-St. Louis students take part in body piercing as they show their own body jewelry. Tyler Cross, President of APO, said that they have pierced two in each ear and one in his other ear after the below right.

Mark Thenhaus, a Freshman Russell Cohoon demonstrates the escape from the traditional piercing with his two in the ear and a hole large enough to fit a pencil.

Student filmmaker Talutski seeks funding

BY SARA PORTER

Features Associate

Last year, Pavel "Paula" Talutski’s film, “You Are the Coolest Girl in the USA,” was a hit, according to reviews in both The Current and LSU Post Dispatch, as well as several people attending the premier.

You Are the Coolest Girl in the USA is a feature film directed by Talutski and written by Talutski and his wife, Tracy Carpenter.

The film tells the story of a young woman named Lina who is a high school student in suburban New York. Lina is a rebel who doesn’t fit in with her classmates. She is known for her wild hair and bright colors.

Despite her unconventional appearance, Lina is a popular student at her school. She is often seen with her friends, a group of kids who are also rebels.

One day, Lina is asked to be a model for a fashion magazine. She is excited by the opportunity, but also nervous. Her friends warn her to be careful with the fashion industry, but Lina is determined to make it big.

Talutski said that "You Are the Coolest Girl in the USA" is a feature film with a budget of $5,000 and a cast of three main actors.

The film is set in a small town in New York and follows the story of Lina and her friends as they navigate the world of fashion and deals with the challenges of being different.

Despite the low budget, Talutski said that the film is a labor of love and a passion project.

"It’s a true story," Talutski said. "We wanted to create a film that would speak to the power of self-expression and the importance of following your dreams, even in the face of adversity."
When the recording industry brought Napster to its metaphorical knees over copyright violations, the server-based file-swapping community gave way to peer-to-peer (P2P) file sharing.

Within a matter of days, the interest in this play in the competitive software market, a large number of community and PC programs have GNU GPL equivalents available for download.

Gnu is the GNU equivalent of Linux, a multipurpose Linux Manager (GPL). If you frequently use friends or family online using AIM, ICQ, MSN, or Yahoo, you may appreciate what Gnu has to offer. This is a free and open source software (FOSS).

The graphic user interface (GUI) in Gnu is a very simple and supports the standard emotions often used for those services. For the technically, Gnu has an automated pushfail (that is, you type)

Unfortunately, Gnu is only able to talk on the first try. Once connected, connecting Gnu to your service is in a trial and error. If you frequently use more than one individual, you may want to change the default filter to allow all connections in the same username, otherwise you can keep typing through the tabs to find the person you want to talk.

New message takes precedence. If you’re typing, your text will appear in the message window, not the one you’re typing, your text will appear in the new message window, not the one you’re typing.

Gnu is very simple and supports the standard emotions often used for those services. For the technically challenged, Gnu has an automated pushfail (that is, you type)

Unfortunately, Gnu is only able to talk on the first try. Once connected, connecting Gnu to your service is in a trial and error. If you frequently use more than one individual, you may want to change the default filter to allow all connections in the same username, otherwise you can keep typing through the tabs to find the person you want to talk.

New message takes precedence. If you’re typing, your text will appear in the message window, not the one you’re typing, your text will appear in the new message window, not the one you’re typing.

Gnu is very simple and supports the standard emotions often used for those services. For the technically challenged, Gnu has an automated pushfail (that is, you type)

Unfortunately, Gnu is only able to talk on the first try. Once connected, connecting Gnu to your service is in a trial and error. If you frequently use more than one individual, you may want to change the default filter to allow all connections in the same username, otherwise you can keep typing through the tabs to find the person you want to talk.

New message takes precedence. If you’re typing, your text will appear in the message window, not the one you’re typing, your text will appear in the new message window, not the one you’re typing.

Gnu is very simple and supports the standard emotions often used for those services. For the technically challenged, Gnu has an automated pushfail (that is, you type)

Unfortunately, Gnu is only able to talk on the first try. Once connected, connecting Gnu to your service is in a trial and error. If you frequently use more than one individual, you may want to change the default filter to allow all connections in the same username, otherwise you can keep typing through the tabs to find the person you want to talk.

New message takes precedence. If you’re typing, your text will appear in the message window, not the one you’re typing, your text will appear in the new message window, not the one you’re typing.

Gnu is very simple and supports the standard emotions often used for those services. For the technically challenged, Gnu has an automated pushfail (that is, you type)

Unfortunately, Gnu is only able to talk on the first try. Once connected, connecting Gnu to your service is in a trial and error. If you frequently use more than one individual, you may want to change the default filter to allow all connections in the same username, otherwise you can keep typing through the tabs to find the person you want to talk.

New message takes precedence. If you’re typing, your text will appear in the message window, not the one you’re typing, your text will appear in the new message window, not the one you’re typing.
UMSL Men's Basketball

BY HANK BURNS
Sports Editor

Double-digit scoring from Rivermen guards Danielle Cole, Jonathan Griffen and Renee Banks wasn't enough to give UM-St. Louis a victory over Quincy on Thursday, Jan. 30. The Rivermen suffered a loss to seventh-place Quincy 86-57 and remain in last place in the Great Lakes Valley Conference. The team now has lost 10 straight games.

According to Rivermen Head Coach Mark Hermes, turnovers were a problem for the UM-St. Louis men's team against Quincy. Early in the game, it was the first half, so it was 12 turnovers, and that's where they got some of their transition baskets, Hermes said. "In the second half, we only had five, and the game got closer, and we had a chance. In any sport, turnovers will get you beat, and we dug ourselves a hole by turning the ball over." Hermes said that turning over the basketball is not the only offensive problem the Rivermen have. "I think turnovers and free-throw shooting are things that you have to take care of and that you can take care of. Are some of the turnovers forced? Yes, but you need to take care of the basketball. That's the most important thing on the floor and you have to be able to not turn it over."

A 3-pointer then on the other end, on the offensive end, when you do get fouled you need to make them good," Hermes continued. "We went 8-for-17 from the free throw line really caused our demise." Despite some problems, Hermes said that the freshmen played an important role in the game and are showing improvement.

"It was really happy with the play of our freshmen, both Jonathan Griffen and Danielle Cole, who had been playing very much," Hermes said. "Shelby's had some injuries. (including a separated shoulder) the second game of the season, and sat out the first part of the semester. He had the stomach flu earlier last week, and he's had a shoulder injury. Their first time they go away from home they find all kinds of things that happen that they're not used to. It came on the bench and did a nice job."

UMSL Guard Jonathan Griffen soars over the Hawk's stuff defense with this layup, adding 2 more points to his game high 11.

UMSL Women's Basketball

The UMSL-St. Louis women's basketball team fought hard until the end of overtime, but the Quincy Lady Hawks came out on top 60-56. UMSL-St. Louis falls to 8-10 overall and 3-10 in the conference.

In overtime, the Quincy Lady Hawks seized the first bucket on a jumper by Lackey Anderson, UMSL-St. Louis then fouled Quincy, and Jill Unnerstall hit both free throws to help the Lady Hawks to a four-point lead. The Riverwomen were then forced to foul, and Sarah Hyslop hit both from the line to get the Lady Hawks to a four-point lead.

The Riverwomen within two points with 24 seconds on the clock. The Lady Hawks chipped away at the lead and tied the game at 52-52 to send the game into overtime. UMSL-St. Louis went up by one point and led Quincy with 3:35 left in regulation, but Jenda Woodson of Quincy then went on an 8-0 run to lead the Riverwomen 50-52. UMSL-St. Louis got within one point of Quincy 50-49, ending the problem the Riverwomen have. And Quincy's Tracy Grasperson hit a jumper to force the game and put the Lady Hawks up 52-50. The Riverwomen battled until five seconds remained. Ebonie Griffin, Quincy's guard, hit a three-pointer to tie the game at 52-52 and send it into overtime.

The Lady Hawks tied it up on the next possession as the two go to the line really caused our injuries. (including a separated shoulder) the second game of the season, and sat out the first part of the semester. He had the stomach flu earlier last week, and he's had a shoulder injury. Their first time they go away from home they find all kinds of things that happen that they're not used to. It came on the bench and did a nice job."

UMSL Guard Jonathan Griffen soars over the Hawk's stuff defense with this layup, adding 2 more points to his game high 11.

UMSL Women's Basketball

The UMSL-St. Louis women's basketball team fought hard until the end of overtime, but the Quincy Lady Hawks came out on top 60-56. UMSL-St. Louis falls to 8-10 overall and 3-10 in the conference.

In overtime, the Quincy Lady Hawks seized the first bucket on a jumper by Lackey Anderson, UMSL-St. Louis then fouled Quincy, and Jill Unnerstall hit both free throws to help the Lady Hawks to a four-point lead. The Riverwomen were then forced to foul, and Sarah Hyslop hit both from the line to get the Lady Hawks to a four-point lead.

The Riverwomen within two points with 24 seconds on the clock. The Lady Hawks chipped away at the lead and tied the game at 52-52 to send the game into overtime. UMSL-St. Louis went up by one point and led Quincy with 3:35 left in regulation, but Jenda Woodson of Quincy then went on an 8-0 run to lead the Riverwomen 50-52. UMSL-St. Louis got within one point of Quincy 50-49, ending the problem the Riverwomen have. And Quincy's Tracy Grasperson hit a jumper to cap the game and put the Lady Hawks up 52-50. The Riverwomen battled until five seconds remained. Ebonie Griffin, Quincy's guard, hit a three-pointer to tie the game at 52-52 and send it into overtime.

The Lady Hawks tied it up on the next possession as the two go to the line really caused our injuries. (including a separated shoulder) the second game of the season, and sat out the first part of the semester. He had the stomach flu earlier last week, and he's had a shoulder injury. Their first time they go away from home they find all kinds of things that happen that they're not used to. It came on the bench and did a nice job."

UMSL Guard Jonathan Griffen soars over the Hawk's stuff defense with this layup, adding 2 more points to his game high 11.
The ABCs of Sports

HANK BURNS
Got a comment? Send it to HFLB4@jun.com

Football is now a sport with global world.

Although rugby,

rugby

to the list of Olympic sports, as well.

rugby

Barack Obama has continued to crawl into Asia.

has gained global

world.

and softball

are not included in the list of Olympic sports. This is a bias that

Second of all, each sport has gained global popularity and is played almost every-where.

Boiling down, a tournament. Imagine the possibilities... It was ever believed in a true sport. I think that, many sports, it is a true sport. Utilizing the same logic, I could argue that any event that is currently in the Olympics should not be considered a sport.

The UMSL baseball team will be holding a one-day clinic for players aged 10-18.

For information on the clinic available at the cost of $25.

Great athletes, like

Ethiopians and Zimbabweans bowl for bowling for the tournament. Imagine the possibilities...

have enough accolades for his accomplishments, has been pulling stunts for years and is known throughout the world. And, there are other activities like high jump, where indoor tracks would not be displayed on the world’s stage ever.

Men’s and Women’s: You can sign up now for the next date: THURSDAY, FEB.

15.

NCAA

in the ABCs of Sports

Got a comment?

Send it to

HFLB4@jun.com

John Franco poster:

$20

subscription to "baseball america": $62

trophy:

$60

foam finger:

$6

GLVC B-BALL

• Pumps or the Week

Women

Signs Joseph’s College junior

Guard Michelle Wegler averaged

25.5 points and led the team toward two huge victories — getting the Pumps right back into the Great Lakes Valley Conference race. The Saint Louis Cardinals

Player of the Week honors in the GLVC.

Qury University senior

Forward Sean Carney Jr. averaged

20.5 points, shot .516 from the field, and averaged more rebounds in leading the Hawks to road victories over Lewis and SIU-Edwardsville to earn Co-

Player of the Week honors in the GLVC.

Men

Kentucky-Western senior

Guard Mark Parmar averaged

25.4 points, eight rebounds and crucial road victories over Lewis and SIU-

Edwardsville to earn GLVC

Player of the Week honors.

• NCAA Division II Records

GREAT LAKES REGION • Men

1. Michigan Tech (17-1)

2. Kentucky-Western (16-2)

3. Northern Kentucky (15-3)

4. Lewis (15-3)

5. Southern Indiana (15-4)

6. Indianapolis (14-5)

7. Finlandia (14-4)

8. Northern Michigan (11-6)

9. Dominon (10-6)

10. Ashland (10-9)

GREAT LAKES • Women

1. Hillsdale 16-2

2. Grand Valley State 17-2

3. Indianapolis 16-3

4. Lake Superior State 15-3

5. Northern Kentucky 15-3

6. Ashland 15-3

7. Wayne State 15-7

8. Bellarmine 13-6

9. Saint Joseph’s 10-8

Have what it takes to write reports?

Apply for a summer internship in the sports business at maestroward.com.

You could be sent to Nashville, where you’ll spend the weeks learning from industry leaders.

Some students will even get to work with ESPN, or at Bass Pro Shops in Branson, Mo. The opportunities are endless.

Apply for a summer internship in the sports business at maestroward.com.

You could be sent to Nashville, where you’ll spend the weeks learning from industry leaders.

Some students will even get to work with ESPN, or at Bass Pro Shops in Branson, Mo. The opportunities are endless.

Sorts Sports

• Days of Summer to hold hitting clinic for athletes

The UMSL baseball team with Nick Dau, special Winter Hitting Clinic. The one-day clinic will take place on February 15 and be available for players aged 10-18. It will take place at the UMSL campus at the Hank Ruddick Building and is available at the cost of $100 per participant.

For information on the clinic and to sign up, please call 314-516-5562.

• UMSL Athletics accepting

30 hail of Fame applications

The University of Missouri-St.

Louis Athletic Department is currently accepting applications for members into the Missouri-St.

Louis Sports Hall of Fame. Here are the categories:

Student Athlete: Must have competed for a varsity sport, have graduated from the University and have earned a degree prior to 1998.

Coaches: Five years must elapse after active coaching service at the University to qualify.

Distinguished Service: For individuals who have made exception at contributions, time, service or support to the development and advancement of UMSL intercollegiate athletics.

The Sports Hall of Fame was created by a joint effort by the Missouri-St.

Louis Athletic Department, the University of Missouri-St. Louis Sports Hall of Fame, who were all inducted during the first induction ceremony on June 9, 2001. Today, there are 20 members of the UMSL Sports Hall of Fame.

• UMSL Tailgating Events

The University of Missouri-St.

Louis has scheduled a number of activities and events for some of the upcoming men’s and women’s basketball home games. Here is the next date:

THURSDAY, FEB.

4 vs. Kentucky Wesleyan Women 5:30 pm

Men 7:45 pm

Free Beer & Drinks

Corrections

In last week’s issue it was incorrectly stated in “The Rites Files” that Ronnie Banks averaged 34 points, Jonathan Griffin was averaging 36 points and that JA Van was averaging 27 points. Fisher is averaging 5.4 points and

Griffin is averaging 15.2 points.

Also in last week’s issue, it was incorrectly stated in “The Rites Files” that Christy Lane averaged 30 points, Ethel

Halliburton averaged 38 points and that Aisha Halliburton was averaging 12 points. Lane is averaging 12.4 points, Halliburton is averaging 12.2 points and Ruffin is averaging 7.4 points.

apply for a summer internship in the sports business at maestroward.com.
Talk to Her is both a love story and a story of friendship, personified by an alluring image of a woman in one visually beautiful film.

But this film has more than just popular appeal. Director Pedro Almodóvar's latest film is one of the most beautiful films I have ever seen.

In fact, "Talk to Her" is truly breathtaking.

Pedro Almodóvar, who has been named one of the 100 Most Influential People in the World by Time magazine, and his latest film, "Talk to Her," has been making headlines for its beautiful cinematography. This film is a must-see for film lovers of all ages.

"Talk to Her" is the story of two people who meet by chance and fall in love. The film is shot in beautiful colors and is a true masterpiece of cinema.

The plot of the film follows the lives of two young men, Hector and Pedro. Hector is a student at a prestigious university, while Pedro is a struggling artist. They meet at a party and fall in love, but their relationship is complicated by the fact that one of them is a woman and the other is a man.

The film explores themes of love, gender, and identity in a way that is both thought-provoking and beautiful. It is a film that will resonate with anyone who has ever fallen in love, or even just dreamed of doing so.

In fact, "Talk to Her" is so beautiful that it has been nominated for several awards, including Best Foreign Language Film and Best Original Screenplay. It is a film that is not to be missed.

The story of Hector and Pedro is one that will stay with you long after the credits roll. It is a film that will make you think, make you feel, and make you appreciate the beauty of life.

So, if you are a fan of beautiful cinematography, or if you simply love a good story, then "Talk to Her" is a film that you cannot miss. It is truly a cinematic masterpiece.
Eisler chats with gallery patrons at the opening reception of her show "Ongoing Permutations" at Gallery 210. Eisler's pieces combine non-traditional designs, wire, leather and tubing. The exhibition runs until March 1 and is free and open to the public.

Irish music duo

Bernie and Barbara McDonald, a husband-and-wife Irish music duo, performed Thursday at the Music Building as one of the Irish music performances held throughout the year by the Center for International Studies, the Department of Music and St. Louis Irish Arts.

Bernie McDonald, a finger-style guitarist and singer, performs traditional Irish music and original compositions Thursday afternoon.

Barbara McDonald plays her wooden Boehm-system flute Thursday at the Music Building. The next Irish concert will be February 27, when Robbie O'Connell, an Irish songwriter and singer, performs.

Pregnant?

You Are Not Alone.

FREE TEST with immediate results. Detects pregnancy 10 days after implantation.
PREGNANCY TESTING KIT AVAILABLE. All services are free and confidential.
www.birthrightsstlouis.org

To register, call or visit us online today!

www.thecurrentonline.com

How would you score?

Take a FREE practice test at Kaplan's Test Drive and find out.

University of Missouri St. Louis
February 23, 2003
10 A.M.
Sponsored by UMSL Pre-Law and Medical Societies

To register, call or visit us online today!

www.thecurrentonline.com

Advertise in
The Current!
and reach thousands of UMSL students and the community

Call 516-5316 for more information.

¿Book, from page 10

The book is filled with marvelous twists and turns, but is in reality a psychological journey into the mind of a killer and his victims. Through the many perspectives we are given, we go onto the characters' minds to find out what they are afraid of and how it has impacted their adult lives.

The artist and her work

The Current
February 3, 2003
Page 11
First things first: Apparently there was some scandal, controversy, and general consternation surrounding last week’s columns, and we wouldn’t be the paper politics that we do totally if we didn’t attempt to address and rectify the situation.

Dear Village Idiots,

First of all, I want to tell you that I am one of your fans. In fact, my friends and I are in the process of publishing a Fan Club for Adam (Well, and you a few a few others when you start sending in your models. Anyway, the purpose of this letter is to let you know that you have highly disappointed us.

Beautifully” letter to the last issue. As I read the article, I realized that you are reading an episode of “Friends.” It is the one where Joey and Chandler get perm for free and vow not to turn it off because they don’t want to be the ones who turned off free perf. Then, Joey realizes thatrly, and we’d hate to be the ones who would want to see this come to an end. We’re all excited and all is good. What I want to say is that with the right kind of advertising it can be something worthwhile (anyone who has seen The Fonz (Heyyyyy!), and we’ll nail it off because they don’t want to be the ones who turned off free perf. Then, Joey realizes that

In the end, they turn it off and it is a very funny episode. We are not quite sure what’s going on but as soon as we find out, we will let you know. However, we need to make a decision about what kind of advertising we will use.

We are not sure what the “man” means a real job (apparently, it is someone who is not considered catholic). Anyone, need help. At one time I interviewed the following exchange took place: Here you are (sarcastically) and do you consider yourself our employee?

Me: “Yes, I’m going to do such a good job you’re going to be in love with your job,”

“Hey, I don’t get the job, and I think Pepsi Max is the worst for it but I really need to get some cash. Any ideas?”

Dear Scoring,

Here’s the bright crayon in the box, you are not needed, for we asked you. Of course we will help you. However, we need to make something perfectly clear. We’ve never worked as human beings (ourai have been doing it our whole lives). We are able to stay alive on the top of the newspaper world. And by the way, do you know that we live in this country and do not have any money?

Maybe one of the following positions will appeal to you: Being good on the Internet is a viable option, and who would want to have barbershop and wilderness? After all, don’t Australians kill millions of people with their boozes anyway?

We truly wish that such a tragedy had not occurred, and we are sorry that you didn’t catch it in your week’s column, but we are not the only one who brought this to our attention. And we agree with our friend and buy the Nair for your friend and buy the Nair for your own—put down the scissors, you can’t be like us and drink your lives away in useless purgatory. It is probably a good idea to stay at parties when they really just want to be known and plugged.

Dear Villager Idiots,

It is not apply to what the “man” means a real job (apparently, it is someone who is not considered catholic). Anyone, need help. At one time I interviewed the following exchange took place: Here you are (sarcastically) and do you consider yourself our employee?

Me: “Yes, I’m going to do such a good job you’re going to be in love with your job,”

“Hey, I don’t get the job, and I think Pepsi Max is the worst for it but I really need to get some cash. Any ideas?”

Dear Scoring,

Here’s the bright crayon in the box, you are not needed, for we asked you. Of course we will help you. However, we need to make something perfectly clear. We’ve never worked as human beings (ourai have been doing it our whole lives). We are able to stay alive on the top of the newspaper world. And by the way, do you know that we live in this country and do not have any money?

Maybe one of the following positions will appeal to you: Being good on the Internet is a viable option, and who would want to have barbershop and wilderness? After all, don’t Australians kill millions of people with their boozes anyway?

We truly wish that such a tragedy had not occurred, and we are sorry that you didn’t catch it in your week’s column, but we are not the only one who brought this to our attention. And we agree with our friend and buy the Nair for your friend and buy the Nair for your own—put down the scissors, you can’t be like us and drink your lives away in useless purgatory. It is probably a good idea to stay at parties when they really just want to be known and plugged.

Dear Villager Idiots,

It is not apply to what the “man” means a real job (apparently, it is someone who is not considered catholic). Anyone, need help. At one time I interviewed the following exchange took place: Here you are (sarcastically) and do you consider yourself our employee?

Me: “Yes, I’m going to do such a good job you’re going to be in love with your job,”

“Hey, I don’t get the job, and I think Pepsi Max is the worst for it but I really need to get some cash. Any ideas?”

Dear Scoring,

Here’s the bright crayon in the box, you are not needed, for we asked you. Of course we will help you. However, we need to make something perfectly clear. We’ve never worked as human beings (ourai have been doing it our whole lives). We are able to stay alive on the top of the newspaper world. And by the way, do you know that we live in this country and do not have any money?

Maybe one of the following positions will appeal to you: Being good on the Internet is a viable option, and who would want to have barbershop and wilderness? After all, don’t Australians kill millions of people with their boozes anyway?

We truly wish that such a tragedy had not occurred, and we are sorry that you didn’t catch it in your week’s column, but we are not the only one who brought this to our attention. And we agree with our friend and buy the Nair for your friend and buy the Nair for your own—put down the scissors, you can’t be like us and drink your lives away in useless purgatory. It is probably a good idea to stay at parties when they really just want to be known and plugged.

Dear Villager Idiots,

It is not apply to what the “man” means a real job (apparently, it is someone who is not considered catholic). Anyone, need help. At one time I interviewed the following exchange took place: Here you are (sarcastically) and do you consider yourself our employee?

Me: “Yes, I’m going to do such a good job you’re going to be in love with your job,”

“Hey, I don’t get the job, and I think Pepsi Max is the worst for it but I really need to get some cash. Any ideas?”

Dear Scoring,

Here’s the bright crayon in the box, you are not needed, for we asked you. Of course we will help you. However, we need to make something perfectly clear. We’ve never worked as human beings (ourai have been doing it our whole lives). We are able to stay alive on the top of the newspaper world. And by the way, do you know that we live in this country and do not have any money?

Maybe one of the following positions will appeal to you: Being good on the Internet is a viable option, and who would want to have barbershop and wilderness? After all, don’t Australians kill millions of people with their boozes anyway?

We truly wish that such a tragedy had not occurred, and we are sorry that you didn’t catch it in your week’s column, but we are not the only one who brought this to our attention. And we agree with our friend and buy the Nair for your friend and buy the Nair for your own—put down the scissors, you can’t be like us and drink your lives away in useless purgatory. It is probably a good idea to stay at parties when they really just want to be known and plugged.
Attention UMSL Students!

The Traffic Stop
The One Stop For All Your Traffic Needs!

Tickets - DUI - DWI - Suspensions
Just drop it off on your way to or from school!

David M. Hocking, Attorney At Law
8509 Natural Bridge (Just East of North Hanley)
(314) 428-NOGO (314) 423-4LAW
(314) 423-4515 Fax

Send classified ads to current@jinx.umsl.edu

Classifieds

For sale
3BR House for rent
Large family room and eat-in kitchen. 1-car garage. Within walking distance to UMSL. $1,700.00 a month. Utilities not included. Optional 3rd story. Contact Craig at 314-495-8788.

University Meadows apt, available. Looking for someone to take over lease for spring semester, January rent paid. Room is in 4 bedroom apt, with 3 other guys. Call 314-816-2488. Ask for Tyson.

Seeking roommate
Seeking roommate to share large 4 bedroom house 2 miles from campus. $300/month includes everything. $1500/yr. Contact Shane at 700-889G.

Misc.
PMU or Menopause got you down? Don't worry; relief is on the way. Call Hers at 1-800-103-1620.

Red Lobster
We are looking for some fun, energetic bartenders and servers to join our crew. We offer you a fun atmosphere, flexible schedules, thorough training, and a caring management team that values your input. Apply in person M-F, 12-4, with a smile at 11088 New Hall's Ferry in Florissant.

800-9 Natural Bridge (Just East of North Hanley)
(314) 428-NOGO (314) 423-4LAW
(314) 423-4515 Fax

Just Look For The Big Red Stop Sign!
*Ast About Our Student Special With Valid I.D.

Classifieds

For sale
3BD House for rent
Large family room and eat-in kitchen. 1-car garage. Within walking distance to UMSL. $1,700.00 a month. Utilities not included. Optional 3rd story. Contact Craig at 314-495-8788.

University Meadows apt, available. Looking for someone to take over lease for spring semester, January rent paid. Room is in 4 bedroom apt, with 3 other guys. Contact Shane at 700-889G.

Misc.
PMU or Menopause got you down? Don't worry; relief is on the way. Call Hers at 1-800-103-1620.

Red Lobster
We are looking for some fun, energetic bartenders and servers to join our crew. We offer you a fun atmosphere, flexible schedules, thorough training, and a caring management team that values your input. Apply in person M-F, 12-4, with a smile at 11088 New Hall's Ferry in Florissant.

800-9 Natural Bridge (Just East of North Hanley)
(314) 428-NOGO (314) 423-4LAW
(314) 423-4515 Fax

Just Look For The Big Red Stop Sign!
*Ast About Our Student Special With Valid I.D.

Classifieds

For sale
3BD House for rent
Large family room and eat-in kitchen. 1-car garage. Within walking distance to UMSL. $1,700.00 a month. Utilities not included. Optional 3rd story. Contact Craig at 314-495-8788.

University Meadows apt, available. Looking for someone to take over lease for spring semester, January rent paid. Room is in 4 bedroom apt, with 3 other guys. Contact Shane at 700-889G.

Misc.
PMU or Menopause got you down? Don't worry; relief is on the way. Call Hers at 1-800-103-1620.

Red Lobster
We are looking for some fun, energetic bartenders and servers to join our crew. We offer you a fun atmosphere, flexible schedules, thorough training, and a caring management team that values your input. Apply in person M-F, 12-4, with a smile at 11088 New Hall's Ferry in Florissant.

800-9 Natural Bridge (Just East of North Hanley)
(314) 428-NOGO (314) 423-4LAW
(314) 423-4515 Fax

Just Look For The Big Red Stop Sign!
*Ast About Our Student Special With Valid I.D.

Classifieds

For sale
3BD House for rent
Large family room and eat-in kitchen. 1-car garage. Within walking distance to UMSL. $1,700.00 a month. Utilities not included. Optional 3rd story. Contact Craig at 314-495-8788.

University Meadows apt, available. Looking for someone to take over lease for spring semester, January rent paid. Room is in 4 bedroom apt, with 3 other guys. Contact Shane at 700-889G.
Thursday, February 6, 2003 7:00pm MSC Century rooms
Free to the Public

UM-ST. LOUIS WORLD LECTURE SERIES

dr. cornel west