Students present research to legislators at the Capitol

by Melissa McCready

On Tuesday, April 9, five UM-St. Louis undergraduate students had the opportunity to present research at the Capitol in Jefferson City and present potential solutions to problems in the state as part of the University of Missouri-Richmond Program.

Each year, UM-Kansas City, UM-MidAmerica, UM-Columbia, and UM-St. Louis students submit to participate in the program.

Teresa Thiel, Professor of Biology and Associate Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, said, "The UM-Richmond Program has been going on for three years, but this is only the second year that UM-St. Louis participated."

"The Research Day at the Capitol is open to all students who are performing research and wish to share their work with the public," Thiel said.

Research Day not only gives the students a chance to express their concerns about Missouri state legislation, but it also helps to provide insights into current interest and responsibilities of the position in the president’s absence. The vice president coordinates all committees and bureaus and represents the SGA at the Homecoming Committee.

Candidates for vice president include Bentley Seabough, senior, psychology; and Tannaz Hossein, junior, psychology. Seabough is Studgenberg on the Staggenborg, senior, psychology. Staggenborg is a member of the Student Activities Board (SAB), the Benefit Society and the International Business Administration.

Candidate for vice president includes Braddix on the Action slate with Braddix and Braddix on the Staggenborg slate, and Hossein is running with Seabough on the Action slate.

Seabough is a representative of the University Board, Jazz Ensemble and Jazz Crush. She is also secretary for the Music Educators National Conference.

The vice president serves as the chair of the SABC and oversees its operations. Seabough is senior, psychology.

Candidates for the vice president of SGA雏 candidates for the position of the SGA president are Selected.Students of the University who have completed studies at UM-St. Louis and are planning to graduate in the next 10 months are eligible to apply. The election will take place on April 20-21.

The vice president serves as the coordinates of the committee and a member of the SABC.

Nuclear terrorist is greatest threat to global security, author asserts

by Catherine Margulis

Scientists: "Spectacular" and "improvable" weapons of mass destruction were developed in recent years, the authors of the report say.

On Monday, April 11, the SGA Chambers will host a debate on Monday, April 17, and Tuesday, April 18, the SGA Chambers will host a debate on the topic of the SGA president and Staggenberg, senior, psychology. Staggenberg is a member of the SGA president, Students of the University who have completed studies at UM-St. Louis and are planning to graduate in the next 10 months are eligible to apply. The election will take place on April 20-21.

The vice president serves as the coordinates of the committee and a member of the SABC.

Nuclear terrorist is greatest threat to global security, author asserts

by Catherine Margulis

Scientists: "Spectacular" and "improvable" weapons of mass destruction were developed in recent years, the authors of the report say.

On Monday, April 11, the SGA Chambers will host a debate on Monday, April 17, and Tuesday, April 18, the SGA Chambers will host a debate on the topic of the SGA president and Staggenberg, senior, psychology. Staggenberg is a member of the SGA president, Students of the University who have completed studies at UM-St. Louis and are planning to graduate in the next 10 months are eligible to apply. The election will take place on April 20-21.
The Current Advertising

516-3531

The McLaughlin Group

House of the month

7291 Rockhill Rd.

Your UMSL real estate representatives:

John Reichman, Lynne Thies

For details, contact Lynne at 516-695-6534 or John at 314-458-4555 (Athe)

7177 Natural Bridge Rd.

STUDENT TRAVEL

SALE

Cheap Student Airfare

London
558£

Paris
553£

Rome
748£

Amsterdam
748£

Brussels
629£

San José
462£

Mexico City
252£

Bangkok
252£

The world is a book, and those who do not travel, read only a page

We've Got EVERYTHING You Need for Summer Travel!

Europass Rail Passes

Europe

France

Germany

Spain

Greece

9 days, 12 countries

689£

Italy

10 days, 12 countries

619£

Northern Thailand

19 days, 4 countries

585£

South African Safari

20 days, 3 countries

995£

STA Travel

www.statravel.com

516-695-6534

Correction

The Current editor has noticed a few mistakes in today's edition of the The Current. The mistakes include:

- The film 'Nowhere in Africa' was produced in 2001, not 2005.
- The correct date for the Social Justice Week is April 13,
- The correct time for the event is 2:00 p.m., not 2:30 p.m.
- The correct name of the movie is 'Porgy and Bess,' not 'Porgy and Bees.'
- The correct name of the Center for International Studies is the Center for International Studies, not the Center for International Perspectives.

We are sorry for any confusion these mistakes may have caused and will make sure to correct them in future editions of the The Current.
Next editor selected for The Current

BY PAUL HAEKERTH
Co-News Editor

Shervin, senior, history, who act as an outstanding leader for the newspaper in 2005-2006 academic year for both staff and the Student Publications Committee.

Sherwin started with The Current in the spring season of 2005 as a staff photographer and staff writer. During the two years he worked for the newspaper, Sherwin also became photographer and concurrently the Production manager and web designers. Sherwin has served as a member of the executive committee and the editorial board of the newspaper.

Because he has worked in several different positions, Sherwin had confidence he could take on the role of editor-in-chief. "I worked in a variety of positions at The Current, and I wanted so experience to lead the staff," said Sherwin.

Having seen the current editor-in-chief, said Sherwin's experience qualifies him as an excellent candidate for the position. "I have no doubt that Mike's passion and talent will allow him to act as an outstanding leader for The Current," said Drolet. "His knowledge of journalism and staff management will not only benefit the paper, but the student body of the University of Maryland, Baltimore County."

Drolet said that Sherwin's interest in the newspaper technology and management has made him a valuable asset to the newspaper. "I have seen Sherwin's passion for photography and his ability to connect with the students and improve the newspaper," said Drolet.

Shervin named some of his goals and plans for the newspaper for next year. Besides improving photography, writing and design of the paper, Sherwin said, "One of my most important responsibilities is to help students understand the importance of ethical decision-making in the workplace. As editors, we need to make sure we understand the implications associated with going against the rules, knowing the rules, and knowing the culture will help guide you to the right decision."
The Current

Library cuts will hurt higher ed

Blunt instrument

Letters

Editorial Board
Kate Drollet
Becky Rosner
Malinda McGonigle
Paul Hackendorf
Pattie Leigh
James Daughterty
Catherine Mandossian
Mike Sheridan

"Our opinion" reflects the majority opinion of the Editorial Board.

Our Opinion

Library cuts will hurt higher ed

Missouri's public universities are facing a significant funding crisis that threatens the quality of education and the future of higher education in the state. Libraries are among the most critical resources on college campuses, providing access to information and knowledge that students need to succeed. However, recent budget cuts have forced universities to reduce or eliminate library budgets, resulting in reduced services and resources for students.

Through our "Library cuts will hurt higher ed" letter to the editor, we express concern about the impact of these cuts on Missouri's students and the state's overall educational system. We encourage Missouri's public universities to advocate for increased funding and to prioritize library resources to ensure that students have access to the information they need to succeed.

What's your opinion?

How do you feel about the topics we've covered?

I am impressed with the range of articles you've provided on current events and issues. The in-depth analysis of the current funding crisis for public libraries is particularly important, as these resources are vital to student success. I appreciate the perspective provided by the editorial board.

The Current's coverage of the wedding season is also relevant and timely. The statistics on marriage rates and the impact of budget cuts on higher education are concerning. I hope that the university community can continue to advocate for increased funding to support these critical resources.

Submit a letter to the editor

By Kevin Ottby

Photography Associate

What characteristics should the next Pope possess?

Under Current

by Maya Scruggs

Graduate Student, Communication

Govan Matt, Blunt recently

proposed cutting funding for MOBIUS, a library resource that enables students to locate volumes beyond that student's college library.

At The Current, we are committed to providing a platform for different voices to express their opinions. However, we encourage our readers to consider the impact of their words on others and to present their ideas in a respectful and constructive manner.

The Current's coverage of the current funding crisis for public libraries is particularly important, as these resources are vital to student success. I appreciate the perspective provided by the editorial board.

The Current's coverage of the wedding season is also relevant and timely. The statistics on marriage rates and the impact of budget cuts on higher education are concerning. I hope that the university community can continue to advocate for increased funding to support these critical resources.

By Kevin Ottby

Photography Associate

What characteristics should the next Pope possess?

Under Current

by Maya Scruggs

Graduate Student, Communication

Govan Matt, Blunt recently

proposed cutting funding for MOBIUS, a library resource that enables students to locate volumes beyond that student's college library.

At The Current, we are committed to providing a platform for different voices to express their opinions. However, we encourage our readers to consider the impact of their words on others and to present their ideas in a respectful and constructive manner.

The Current's coverage of the current funding crisis for public libraries is particularly important, as these resources are vital to student success. I appreciate the perspective provided by the editorial board.

The Current's coverage of the wedding season is also relevant and timely. The statistics on marriage rates and the impact of budget cuts on higher education are concerning. I hope that the university community can continue to advocate for increased funding to support these critical resources.

By Kevin Ottby

Photography Associate

What characteristics should the next Pope possess?

Under Current

by Maya Scruggs

Graduate Student, Communication

Govan Matt, Blunt recently

proposed cutting funding for MOBIUS, a library resource that enables students to locate volumes beyond that student's college library.

At The Current, we are committed to providing a platform for different voices to express their opinions. However, we encourage our readers to consider the impact of their words on others and to present their ideas in a respectful and constructive manner.

The Current's coverage of the current funding crisis for public libraries is particularly important, as these resources are vital to student success. I appreciate the perspective provided by the editorial board.

The Current's coverage of the wedding season is also relevant and timely. The statistics on marriage rates and the impact of budget cuts on higher education are concerning. I hope that the university community can continue to advocate for increased funding to support these critical resources.

By Kevin Ottby

Photography Associate

What characteristics should the next Pope possess?

Under Current

by Maya Scruggs

Graduate Student, Communication

Govan Matt, Blunt recently

proposed cutting funding for MOBIUS, a library resource that enables students to locate volumes beyond that student's college library.

At The Current, we are committed to providing a platform for different voices to express their opinions. However, we encourage our readers to consider the impact of their words on others and to present their ideas in a respectful and constructive manner.

The Current's coverage of the current funding crisis for public libraries is particularly important, as these resources are vital to student success. I appreciate the perspective provided by the editorial board.

The Current's coverage of the wedding season is also relevant and timely. The statistics on marriage rates and the impact of budget cuts on higher education are concerning. I hope that the university community can continue to advocate for increased funding to support these critical resources.

By Kevin Ottby

Photography Associate

What characteristics should the next Pope possess?

Under Current

by Maya Scruggs

Graduate Student, Communication

Govan Matt, Blunt recently

proposed cutting funding for MOBIUS, a library resource that enables students to locate volumes beyond that student's college library.

At The Current, we are committed to providing a platform for different voices to express their opinions. However, we encourage our readers to consider the impact of their words on others and to present their ideas in a respectful and constructive manner.

The Current's coverage of the current funding crisis for public libraries is particularly important, as these resources are vital to student success. I appreciate the perspective provided by the editorial board.

The Current's coverage of the wedding season is also relevant and timely. The statistics on marriage rates and the impact of budget cuts on higher education are concerning. I hope that the university community can continue to advocate for increased funding to support these critical resources.

By Kevin Ottby

Photography Associate

What characteristics should the next Pope possess?
American and European agrobusiness debates genetic modification

I would like to thank the Human Life Alliance for working so hard to protect our lives and the lives of our children. Over the last 30 or so years, the so-called "right to choose" to terminate the life of a human embryo has become a common practice throughout the country. This practice has been the subject of much debate and has led to numerous legal challenges. The Human Life Alliance is a group that works to protect the sanctity of human life and the right to live. They work to educate the public about the dangers of embryo experimentation and to promote alternatives to abortion. The Human Life Alliance is a non-profit organization that is dedicated to preserving human life and promoting reproductive freedom. The organization also provides resources and support for individuals and families who are facing difficult reproductive decisions. The Human Life Alliance is committed to working for a society that values and respects all human life from conception to natural death. They believe that every life is precious and should be protected.

The newspaper's appeal for fund- raising is quite a contrast to the one I read in the magazine. I was able to read a similar article in the magazine "The Economist" which covered a similar topic. However, the magazine article was much shorter and more concise. The magazine article was also more focused on the scientific aspects of the topic, while the newspaper article was more focused on the political aspects. The magazine article also included more diagrams and figures to help explain the points being made. The newspaper article was more focused on the political aspects and included more quotes from various experts. Overall, both articles were informative and well-written.
Engel recounts accident that left him blind

by MAURICIO BROWN
Staff Writer

On Wednesday April 6, students gathered in the 216 Alumni Room to listen to ten-time All-American, three-time world champion, and paralympic gold medalist, David Engel. Engel spoke about his life as a paralympic athlete and his accident that left him blind.

Engel started his speech by introducing the audience to his four children, who were sitting in the back of the room. He then went on to talk about the accident that occurred a year and a half ago, which left him blind. He said, "I was at the airport in Atlanta, on my way to a training camp, when I fell off a plane and hit my head. I was taken to the hospital, but I couldn't see. I was in a lot of pain and I was scared." Engel then went on to talk about the recovery process and how he learned to live with his new life.

Engel also talked about his paralympic career, which he has been able to continue despite his blindness. He said, "I am still able to compete in the paralympics and I am very grateful for that opportunity." Engel also spoke about the importance of staying positive and never giving up, no matter what the situation.

The audience was moved by Engel's speech and his determination to stay positive. The event was a great success and many students and faculty members stayed to talk with Engel and ask questions.

Engel's words were a great inspiration to everyone who attended the event. His story is one of resilience and determination, and his message of staying positive is one that everyone can relate to.

By MAURICIO BROWN
Staff Writer

Yale grad's new TV show focuses on cheap college cuisine

by MAURICIO BROWN
Staff Writer

Many UM-St. Louis students have budgets that they must stick to during college. While a budget may not sound like a lot of fun, for Eric Lieberman, a song writer and guitarist, it was the inspiration for his new TV show, "Cheap College Cuisine".

Lieberman, who graduated from the University of Missouri at Columbia, started his restaurant business in college. He says, "I started cooking for myself and my friends, and then I realized that there was a need for good, cheap food on a college budget."

Lieberman's new show, "Cheap College Cuisine," focuses on making great low-budget meals. Whether it's a romantic evening or just a quick, easy meal, Lieberman's show offers a variety of options for college students on a budget.

Lieberman's main mission is for college students to learn how to cook and eat well on a tight budget. He says, "I want to show students that it is possible to eat healthy and delicious food on a college budget."

Lieberman's show is currently airing on the Food Network and has been very popular. It has won several awards, including a James Beard Award for Best Television Show. Lieberman hopes to continue to inspire students to eat well and stay healthy on a college budget.

As he shared his story, Engel asked the audience to close their eyes and imagine what it would be like to be blind. The audience was shocked by Engel's story and the way he has been able to live with his blindness.

Engel's words were a great inspiration to everyone who attended the event. His story is one of resilience and determination, and his message of staying positive is one that everyone can relate to.

By MAURICIO BROWN
Staff Writer

Stir-fry noodles is what suits him.

One box Rigtatoni noodles (or pasta of choice)
1 box cream cheese
16 ounce carton of ricotta cheese
16 ounce carton of milk
1 layer noodles, cheese mix., noodles, then cheese mix. and last layer of cheese
A hearty shake of parmesan cheese

Beef broth

Good deals with David Lieberman

New TV show on stretching a college budget.

Premier on Food Network April 16, 12:30 p.m. CST

Deals with David Lieberman

Large.

Stir-fry noodles is what suits him.

One box Rigtatoni noodles (or pasta of choice)
1 box cream cheese
16 ounce carton of ricotta cheese
16 ounce carton of milk
1 layer noodles, cheese mix., noodles, then cheese mix. and last layer of cheese
A hearty shake of parmesan cheese

Beef broth

Good deals with David Lieberman

New TV show on stretching a college budget.

Premier on Food Network April 16, 12:30 p.m. CST

Deals with David Lieberman

Large.
St. Louis' Delmar Loop is a trendy hangout and historic avenue

Photo by Erica Burnus • Story by Chrystal Holmes

... when you're here, please visit our other Beautiful Downtown Ferguson Businesses on Florissant Road less than five minutes north of I-70

Do it Best
FERGUSON HARDWARE L.L.C.
Screen & Window Repair, Pipe Threaded, Paint, Glass, Electrical, Plumbing, Full Service
In the second game, the Riverwomen were finally able to get off to the start that they wanted as they came out by the tough pitching of Jessica Coffey, as she allowed only 3 hits for the game in the winning effort 1-0. The Riverwomen would have to work hard for the win, as they needed until the bottom of the sixth inning to get the only run that they needed for the off set of a Come-John loss. With the win the Riverwomen earned their first conference victory of the season and moved their record total to 10-10 on the season. The team will next take to action on April 13 as they play host to Trumansburg University in a highly anticipated matchup.

Softball splits against Bellarmine

BY DAVE BIESKAM Sports Editor

After a quick start in the season the Riverwomen softball team of late has been having inside getting back in the winning ways that they had. Going into the match up against Bellarmine University the Riverwomen had only seen south out of their last ten games, only averaging just under three runs a game in first span. As the double header started it looked as if the Riverwomen were ready to come any doubler teams may be coming in to quickly respond turn around into scoring positive during the bottom half of the first inning. As the inning moved on, the Riverwomen were not able to capitalize and what would come back to haunt them is in fact all else. Over the next five innings the Riverwomen would be contained by a scores of 5-0 by Bellarmine and they would not be able to overcome the deficit. The Riverwomen would go on to lose the game after they could only manage or a small but definite come back, as they eventually fell by the score of 5-3. For the game the Riverwomen got out by a margin of 5-0 as they now have seen hit in seven of their last ten games, in which one of those games they were shut out for a hit-less.

Sophomore Emily Wagner commented on the first game of the double-header. “We have definitely played much better this year. We have had trouble finding a rhythm in the first few games over the last few games and it has come back to haunt us in the end, said Wagner.”

In the second game of the double-header, the Riverwomen were finally able to get off to the start that they wanted as they came out by the tough pitching of Jessica Coffey, as she allowed only 3 hits for the game in the winning effort 1-0. The Riverwomen would have to work hard for the win, as they needed until the bottom of the sixth inning to get the only run that they needed for the off set of a Come-John loss. With the win the Riverwomen earned their first conference victory of the season and moved their record total to 10-10 on the season. The team will next take to action on April 13 as they play host to Trumansburg University in a highly anticipated matchup.

Baseball struggles to get on base

BY JAMES BY BRYAN BODECKER

The second game started off looking much more promising as the teams got the first run of the game in the opening inning lifting off of an RBI double by Colby Hughes. It was not to be the Rivermen though, as Western put two in a lead in the second innings with two runs, and would never look back as they cruised to hand the Rivermen yet another disappointing 9-3 loss. Junior Matt Rose commented on the game. “Both games we played well, we could not get any offense for the life of us and they took advantage of it, we just need to start hitting better and we should be able to get back on track,” said Rose.

After the poor performance against Western the Rivermen traveled to Southern Illinois University Edwardsville in the second game of a doubleheader. The team had jumped out quickly, getting three runs in the second inning and four runs in the third off of several errors by the Rivermen infield. The Panthers then added two runs in the fifth inning as the Rivermen were held to just one out in the game, and were struck out nine times.

The Riverwomen hitters were rated before another lookoff walk in the sixth inning, followed by the only hit of the game for the Rivermen as they essentially tied it up. Things would not go any better in the second game though, the Riverwomen would keep it close throughout the entire game. The lead changed two times between the teams during the first five innings of the game and as the game progressed into the sixth inning, the Riverwomen looked as if they would have a shot to pull it out, but it was not their day as they would surrender four runs in the next two innings and would eventually fall by a score of 5-3. This handed the Riverwomen their third loss in the conference for the first time in two years.

Senior Blake Burnside commented on the games. “We were down from the get go. Every time we thought we could get something going they just started something of their own, it just wasn’t our day one game,” said Burnside. “In the next two games the Riverwomen came in with clear heads and a different attitude and ended up getting the same results as they took on perennial rival Bellarmine University. In the opener, the Riverwomen cruised just past one hit, single in the top of the first, and were held scoreless and helpless for the remainder of the game in a 5-0 loss. The second game proved to the best that the Riverwomen have played in just seven games or so as they took the game 2-0. A win that was not by any means a walk in the park, but to get the last one of the series as the Riverwomen would get the last hit in the seventh inning to get the final score of 5-0.”

The next step is to watch them play. Finding the right player is the most important aspect of a college coach’s job because the players ultimately decide the outcome of games. Recruiting is arguably the most important aspect of a college coach’s job because the players ultimately decide the outcome of games. Recruiting is the most important aspect of a college coach’s job because the players ultimately decide the outcome of games. Recruiting is the most important aspect of a college coach’s job because the players ultimately decide the outcome of games.
Men's tennis gets two more wins

BY JAMES DURICKA
Sports Editor

The UM-St. Louis Men's Tennis Team returned to their winning ways with victories over McKendree College and conference rival Bellarmine University. The Rivermen defeated McKendree 5-4 in a very closely contested match, then followed up by sweeping Bellarmine 8-1.

On April 5, the Rivermen won 4-4 with McKendree with only one match left on the court - number one player Francis Lam. Lam, who was recently named March Athlete of the Month for the Riverwomen softball team, led the team with a .375 batting average during the month of March. She is leading us offensively right now that Lisa does a great job of protecting the plate. And obviously she is winning and doing well as a leader," Lam said.

"But I think the important thing is winning and doing well as a team," Lam said. "Hopefully we will continue to do that with the conference tournament coming up.

Lam is a leader who original- ly hailed from Kettering, England. She is a perfect 4-0 in conference matches and his only loss during March came at the hands of a Division I opponent, St. Louis University. All of Lam's five singles wins in March came in straight sets. Lam also has a 5-0 record in doubles matches and his partner, Lam said.

"I think the important thing is winning and doing well as a team. Hopefully we will continue to do that with the conference tournament coming up," Lam said.

Lam and Neukirch have an 8-5 overall record and are 5-3 in the conference.

The consequence of the Associated Students of the University of Missouri shall be to educate students about the political process; to increase political awareness, concern, and participation among students; to provide the public with information concerning student interests; and to channel student energy and interest in the government process.

are you a born leader?

Applying to lead the editorial coverage or the business department of the Current.

Applicants must submit a resume & cover letter by 5 p.m. May 3 for:

• Managing Editor
• Business Manager

For more information, or to submit an application, contact the Current:

Fax: 314-859-3214
Phone: 314-859-6174
Email: current@jinx.umsl.edu

The Current is the Student Newspaper of

Page 9

Board Seat Elections

Friday, April 15 during SGA Meeting

The Board of Directors is the governing body of ASUM. The board decides what issues the ASUM will advocate and oppose. Students from each of the four campuses of the UM system comprise the board. Members of the board are elected by each campus's student government. The board meets monthly to discuss various legislative issues facing the students of the state.

The Board of Directors also works with the ASUM legislative staff to develop ASUM's national policy and track issues before Congress.

The purpose of the Associated Students of the University of Missouri shall be to educate students about the political process; to increase political awareness, concern, and participation among students; to provide the public with information concerning student interests; and to channel student energy and interest in the government process.

Board Seat Elections

The Board of Directors is the governing body of ASUM. The board decides what issues the ASUM will advocate and oppose. Students from each of the four campuses of the UM system comprise the board. Members of the board are elected by each campus's student government. The board meets monthly to discuss various legislative issues facing the students of the state.

The Board of Directors also works with the ASUM legislative staff to develop ASUM's national policy and track issues before Congress.

Lam, Neukirch get ‘Athlete of the Month’

BY BRYAN BOEDEKER
Staff Writer

Men’s tennis player Francis Lam and softball’s Lisa Neukirch were named student athletes of the month for March by the Athletics Department. The award was expected.

The McKendree wins put the Rivermen at 8-5 overall and are 5-3 in the conference.

For more information, or to submit an application, contact the Current:

Fax: 314-859-3214
Phone: 314-859-6174
Email: current@jinx.umsl.edu

Are you a born leader?

Applying to lead the editorial coverage or the business department of The Current.

Applicants must submit a resume & cover letter by 5 p.m. May 3 for:

• Managing Editor
• Business Manager

For more information, or to submit an application, contact the Current:

Fax: 314-859-3214
Phone: 314-859-6174
Email: current@jinx.umsl.edu

The Current is the Student Newspaper of
Monday Noon Series features UMSL author
Mary Troy reads from her latest, ' Cooke Lily'

Mary Troy

Award-winning author and UMSL associate professor Mary Troy is the featured speaker at this year’s Noon Series. "Cooke Lily," in last week’s Monday Noon Series. Released in 2004, the book contains short stories including "The Man Who Sold the World in the World," which she said to the audience. The story is about the trials of a family of women from a large family of beautiful women. Her crown, in a city woman of the same nationality, was marginalized due to her disability. She wanted to be all that much more as good an and she would show it because of her disability.

In her work, too I can't wait for the movie, she has a real everything side to her. She said, "I think of the fun about her too. I like her anger and her cynicism. Shelly is based on me, and I don’t want people to know because of her disability."

"Cooke Lily" is a critically acclaimed collection of short stories and one novella set in Hawaii. The novella includes in the collection and among young women from low-income households. Along with reading numerous stories, revision and newspapers clippings, there was also consistent of conducting numerous interviews with five churches, church members, human service directors, hospitals and other city Louis health officials. Some of the headlines for their project read: "Two children, ages 3 and 5, die in apartment fire, cause unknown." "Tangled in burning home, boy on door and window"

Graham Allison, senior, anthropologist monopolized her research 'The Making of Race According to Skin Color.' "I kept looking at the facts that the nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research."

"I want to estimate the fact that there are no biological foundations to the concept of separate human races, but rather that it is a purely a social construction, to avoid the stereotypical categorization of people into specific skin color groups."

Margaret Mead launched the trend of young children from low-income households. Along with reading numerous stories, revision and newspapers clippings, there was also consistent of conducting numerous interviews with five churches, church members, human service directors, hospitals and other city Louis health officials.

"Cooke Lily" is a critically acclaimed collection of short stories and one novella set in Hawaii. The novella includes in the collection and among young women from low-income households. Along with reading numerous stories, revision and newspapers clippings, there was also consistent of conducting numerous interviews with five churches, church members, human service directors, hospitals and other city Louis health officials.

Graham Allison, senior, anthropologist monopolized her research 'The Making of Race According to Skin Color.' "I kept looking at the facts that the nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research."

"I want to estimate the fact that there are no biological foundations to the concept of separate human races, but rather that it is a purely a social construction, to avoid the stereotypical categorization of people into specific skin color groups."

Margaret Mead launched the trend of young children from low-income households. Along with reading numerous stories, revision and newspapers clippings, there was also consistent of conducting numerous interviews with five churches, church members, human service directors, hospitals and other city Louis health officials.

Graham Allison, senior, anthropologist monopolized her research 'The Making of Race According to Skin Color.' "I kept looking at the facts that the nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research."

"I want to estimate the fact that there are no biological foundations to the concept of separate human races, but rather that it is a purely a social construction, to avoid the stereotypical categorization of people into specific skin color groups."

Margaret Mead launched the trend of young children from low-income households. Along with reading numerous stories, revision and newspapers clippings, there was also consistent of conducting numerous interviews with five churches, church members, human service directors, hospitals and other city Louis health officials.

Graham Allison, senior, anthropologist monopolized her research 'The Making of Race According to Skin Color.' "I kept looking at the facts that the nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research."

"I want to estimate the fact that there are no biological foundations to the concept of separate human races, but rather that it is a purely a social construction, to avoid the stereotypical categorization of people into specific skin color groups."

Margaret Mead launched the trend of young children from low-income households. Along with reading numerous stories, revision and newspapers clippings, there was also consistent of conducting numerous interviews with five churches, church members, human service directors, hospitals and other city Louis health officials.

Graham Allison, senior, anthropologist monopolized her research 'The Making of Race According to Skin Color.' "I kept looking at the facts that the nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research."

"I want to estimate the fact that there are no biological foundations to the concept of separate human races, but rather that it is a purely a social construction, to avoid the stereotypical categorization of people into specific skin color groups."

Margaret Mead launched the trend of young children from low-income households. Along with reading numerous stories, revision and newspapers clippings, there was also consistent of conducting numerous interviews with five churches, church members, human service directors, hospitals and other city Louis health officials.

Graham Allison, senior, anthropologist monopolized her research 'The Making of Race According to Skin Color.' "I kept looking at the facts that the nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research, nation with supplying their research."

"I want to estimate the fact that there are no biological foundations to the concept of separate human races, but rather that it is a purely a social construction, to avoid the stereotypical categorization of people into specific skin color groups."

Margaret Mead launched the trend of young children from low-income households. Along with reading numerous stories, revision and newspapers clippings, there was also consistent of conducting numerous interviews with five churches, church members, human service directors, hospitals and other city Louis health officials.