Representation in Senate Upheld By Court

The Senate recently appointed five sophomore senators, bringing the total number of sophomores in the Student Senate to 17, thus equaling the number of freshman senators.

The reason for the increase in sophomore senators is due to last year’s Senate ruling fixing student representation at 3 percent of the student body, to be divided equally between the Freshman and Sophomore classes.

This year with a Freshman enrollment of 449, and a Sophomore enrollment of 541, Senate representation was fixed at 17, for each class.

Because of the seemingly disproportionate representation, the constitutionality of the Senate interpretation of “proportionate representation” as stated in the constitution, was questioned and the matter was brought before the Student Court.

The Court upheld the constitutionality of the appointments, basing its decision on Article V, Section 3 of the Constitution, which states:

“For purposes of Senate representation, the student body shall be composed of all full-time students of Missouri University, St. Louis Campus, with each class receiving a proportionate representation. To this end representation shall be reviewed and fracrarity revised every spring semester by the Senate.

In accordance with that article, according to the decision of the Court, the Court itself cannot, and will not review Senate appointments. The Court’s interpretation and the Senate interpretation will be in effect until that time.

NINE STUDENTS HONORED Ellis Addresses Assembly

The Second Fall Honors Convocation of the University of Missouri at St. Louis assembled Friday morning, Nov. 20, 1964.

Dean James L. Bugg, Jr., dean of faculty, welcomed the faculty and student body. Dean Bugg congratulated the honor students for their academic achievement and introduced Dr. Elmer Ellis, president of the University of Missouri.

President Ellis’ address included a short history of the St. Louis campus. He also commented on the students for their high scholastic averages.

Dean Bugg then returned to the podium and introduced Dean Harold Etchoff, assistant dean, who presented the nine honor students.

Those given certificates of achievement were Lois Brockmeier, Janice Lynn Fox, David E. Henton, Anamar Koegling, Stanley Perinick, Audrey Rothhaar, Nell F. Sanders, Jeanne M. Sharritt and Elaine Stann.

Freshmen Students Merit A Awards

The Student Association at the St. Louis Campus, awarded two scholarships this year to Cheryl Taylor and Bob Fritsch.

Students who applied for Curator scholarships at the Columbia campus but who decided to attend the St. Louis campus were eligible for consideration. These awards were made on the basis of scholastic achievement, extra-curricular activities and need.

M. U. Students Join NCCI to Plan Seminars

On Tuesday, November 17, the steering committee of the National Conference of Christians and Jews met at Maryville College to begin planning the four seminars scheduled for February. The committee, made up of students from eight local colleges is under the sponsorship of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

If stricter regulatory practices are warranted, they would have to encompass both automotive and pedestrian traffic because of the number of schools in the area and increase of pedestrians from the university.

Traffic Research Results Revealed By Highway Dept.

A study of traffic conditions on Natural Bridge and Normandy Road was conducted recently by the Missouri State Highway Department.

Mr. John Perry, business officer for the St. Louis Campus, brought this action from the highway department by a letter which was forwarded to Mr. Davis, district traffic engineer of the highway commission.

The results of the study, taken several weeks ago, have not been fully analyzed. They should be completed in the next two weeks. According to Mr. Davis, the results of the survey will be forwarded to proper school officials.

As thorough as the research was, remarked Davis, it was not conclusive in that it did not encompass all of the night classes because the study was held between 6 a.m. and 5 p.m. If further research seems necessary, these classes will be taken into consideration.

SA Delegations Meet at Columbia

A meeting of student government representatives from the Missouri University campuses of St. Louis, Columbia, Rolla and Kansas City was held Wednesday, November 11 at Columbia, Missouri.

Participating in the conference were Dr. W. E. Bledsoe, dean of students at Kansas City; Dr. Jack Matthews, dean of students at Columbia; Mr. Sam Burton, director of personnel at Rolla; and Dr. Harold Etchoff, assistant dean of St. Louis. Also attending from the St. Louis campus were David F. Ferrier, president of the Student Association; Marian Krogmann, R.A. at Columbia, and Larry Thiex, S.A. senator.

The six hour conference at Columbia covered important topics. Those attending agreed that the Student Government aids the student in his educational work and lies with public issues and campus activities. It was agreed that the programs should focus on the important issues.

Elaine Stann receives a certificate of achievement from President Ellis for maintaining a 3.0 average.
What Price Action?

All the ingredients for a tragedy are present at the corners of Natural Bridge road and Normandy Drive: a heavy flow of automotive traffic, a large amount of pedestrian traffic, and an ineffective and highly inadequate traffic control sign.

Traffic at the entrance to the university is regulated by a stop sign rather than by a stop light. This gives rise to a number of hazards. With cars being able to make left or right turns from any side or corner of the intersection an extremely dangerous situation arises. Often there are several cars within the intersection, all trying to turn in different directions, and all being unwilling to yield the right of way. Students entering or leaving the university, in cars or on foot, face this as well as a dangerous practice, the rolling stop, for which there are several cars within the intersection, all trying to turn in different directions, and all being unwilling to yield the right of way. Students entering or leaving the university, in cars or on foot, face this as well as a dangerous practice, the rolling stop, for which an effective method of control, such as a stop light, is put into operation.

The Highway Department has promised to "watch the situation." Is it too much to ask them to act with a sense of urgency instead of react with a sense of regret for a tragedy that could have been averted?

Dear Editors:

I was wondering if you have seen the posters that are on the bulletin boards announcing that "THE PURPLE ONION IS COMING." As I understand it, when it does come, it will be a form of monthly entertainment and will cost $1.00 for a yearly pass or 25¢ at the door. The point of this letter is that I am highly in favor of this Purple Onion, because it really will fill a gap in the social life of our campus. As a freshman, the first impression I received at Normandy was that the social life was nil, to the detriment of all concerned.

"All work and no play makes Joe College a dull boy.

Let's support the Purple Onion and buy our yearly passes now. Let's hold our criticism of its minor faults because the general direction it is headed in is the right one.

Respectfully yours,
Ralph Czolwicz

Letters...

"Come Across, We'll Protect You"

The University of Missouri at Saint Louis
Examination Schedule - Fall Semester, 1964

COU RSE
English 1
Sections 1, 2, 3, 7, 10, 19
English 60
ALL SECTIONS
English 56
English 121 GH
English 2
ALL SECTIONS
English 65 GH
ALL SECTIONS
Accounting 36
Section 1
Accounting 27
English 1
Sections 4, 6, 9, 11, 14, 15, 16, 21
English 1
Sections 5 & 13
Psychology 201
English 1
Sections 8, 17, 18, 20
Philosophy 204
Statistics 31
Accounting 36
Section 1
Accounting 36
Section 2
Biology 1
ALL SECTIONS
Biology 11
ALL SECTIONS
Music 33
Chemistry 1
ALL SECTIONS
Chemistry 11
ALL SECTIONS
Chemistry 41
Economics 50
Section 1
Section 2
Economics 223
ALL FRENCH COURSES
German 1 62
Sections 1 & 2
German 103
Spanish 1
ALL SECTIONS

DATE: FRIDAY, JANUARY 15, 1965

TIME ROOM
8:00-10:00 a.m.
108
108
210
210
30
206
131
108
30
218
108
108
50
108
30
108
218
108
108
218
108

Univeristy of Missouri at St. Louis
Examination Schedule - Fall Semester, 1964

You Needn't Be 21 to Indulge

In a checking account at Normandy Bank. Open your own account and use it to pay your bills and other expenses the easy, safe, business-like way. Stop in or phone today.

Normandy Bank
7151 Natural Bridge (just east of Lucas Hunt Rd.)
Free Parking on all four sides—1408 spaces
EV 3-5555
Member F.D.I.C.

E.A. Horstmeyer Cards and Gifts
Jeweler-Optician
7246 Natural Bridge
EV-23063

Mizzou News

The Mizzou News is published bi-weekly by the students of the University of Missouri St. Louis, 8001 Natural Bridge Road. The policies of the Mizzou NEWS are the responsibility of the editors. Statements published here do not necessarily reflect the views of the administration or any department of the University.

Editor-in-Chief
Mary Klineberg
Assistant Editor
Sue Estes
News Editor
Margie Peltomak
Feature Editor
Holly Ross
Sports Editor
Charlie Chamberlin
Layout Editor
Pamela Johnson
Chief Artist
Bill Burns
Photographer
Roy Nosher

STAFF
Richard LeGress

Faculty Advisors
Miss Judith Jenkins, Mr. William Whealen

Letters...

Dear Editors:

I was wondering if you have seen the posters that are on the bulletin boards announcing that "THE PURPLE ONION IS COMING." As I understand it, when it does come, it will be a form of monthly entertainment and will cost $1.00 for a yearly pass or 25¢ at the door. The point of this letter is that I am highly in favor of this Purple Onion, because it really will fill a gap in the social life of our campus. As a freshman, the first impression I received at Normandy was that the social life was nil, to the detriment of all concerned.

"All work and no play makes Joe College a dull boy.

Let's support the Purple Onion and buy our yearly passes now. Let's hold our criticism of its minor faults because the general direction it is headed in is the right one.

Respectfully yours,
Ralph Czolwicz
French Satirize
U.S. Gangsters

by Sue Edes

The French film "Breathless" stars Jean Seberg, who also appeared in "The Mouse That Roared," and Jean-Paul Belmondo, who is currently one of the highest paid and most talented French actors. The movie which is both a tribute to and a satire on American gangster films which presented Friday, November 20, as an exponent of the Wednesday night activities series on campus.

"Breathless" has elements of an American western, a drivers' education film, and "Tom Jones." The "Tom Jones" factor is mainly evident in the staging techniques. For instance, Jean-Paul Belmondo talks to the audience in a manner comparable to Tom Jones' aside. Another movie procedure reminiscent of "Tom Jones" is a dim of darkness serving down to close the audience out of a scene.

A driver's education movie could have passed easily for "Breathless." The first few scenes seemed like a driver-trainer exposition, Belmondo steals a car and drives down a highway, and he drives, and he drives. The audience sees the road, then more of the road.

Since American cowboy westerns and racy gangster movie seem to have the widest foreign circulation, it is feasible for a European to make a similar documentation of the U.S. The East Side, man, rock n roll over one puff on half-ashed weeds, play with sexy girls, and carry a gun. Whereas on the other side of the Mississippi River, the heap big spirits are Indian chiefs, Black Baris, and white-horsed heroes that only smoke peace pipes.

The western counterpart in "Breathless" is perhaps the most hilarious incident: A Paris detective is tailing Jean Seberg, and Belmondo is chasing the policeman himself. In westerns, the good guy always follows the bad guy, but this has an exaggerated element as Jean-Paul Belmondo also Chase the jogging detective through a cred-liked parade boulevard.

Exam Schedule
(Mathematics 80)
Section 1 213
Section 2 30
Section 3 30
Section 4 131

Mathematics 175
ALL SECTIONS 108

Mathematics 7
Tues. Jan. 21, 1965
8:00-10:00 a.m. 206

Mathematics 11
ALL SECTIONS 108

Mathematics 15
ALL SECTIONS 108

Mathematics 341
108

Philosophy 1
ALL SECTIONS 108

Philosophy 5
ALL SECTIONS 108

Political Science 20
Fri. Jan. 22, 1965
1:00-3:00 p.m. 218

English 50
Section 1 210
Section 2 211
Section 3 206
Section 4 216

Political Science 202
ALL SECTIONS 108

Political Science 203
ALL SECTIONS 108

ALL SOCIETY COURSES
Education 125
ALL SECTIONS 218

Psychology 1
ALL SECTIONS 108

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING DRAWING TO BE ARRANGED.
Spanish 103
108

Spanish 105
ALL SECTIONS 108

Spanish 310
108

Spanish 2
Section 1 202
Section 2 216
Section 3 218

English 5
ALL SECTIONS 108

History 1
8:00-10:00

History 211
ALL SECTIONS 218

History 259
ALL SECTIONS 218

History 20
10-30-12:30 a.m. 218

History 101 GH
218

History 110
218

English 175
1:00-3:00 p.m. 206

Mathematics 10
ALL SECTIONS 108

Book Review
Charley Travels With Steinbeck
French Poodle Acts as Ambassador

Travel with Charley - John Steinbeck

Viking Press, N.Y. (also available in paperback)

John Steinbeck felt that as a writer he had been out of contact with the people he wrote about for too long. He had not "felt the country for twenty-five years" and thought this hindered his writing about America. Mr. Steinbeck says he had been writing of the America he remembered, not the New America.

So after ordering and finally receiving a pick up truck (he named it Rocinante, after Don Quixote's horse), Steinbeck set out to "re-discover this monster named America." He had been out of contact with the people he wrote about and thought this hindered his writing about America. Mr. Steinbeck to "rediscover this monster named America." He was on a "contribution to the journey. He was a man of the people." Steinbeck set out to "re-discover this monster named America." He was a "born diplomat", preferring to negotiate rather than to fight.

The dog proved to be quite a companion in the car. He was "a born companion", preferring to negotiate rather than to fight.

Photostat

Question: Do you think a traffic light on Natural Bridge at the school entrance would ease the traffic problem?

Carol Krause
(Freshman)

I think it would be helpful, but mandatory. As the weather gets hot I'm afraid there will be some accidents. But a light that worked from 8:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. would be a big help.

Rex Lange (Freshman)
I think this would be a good thing - especially for student pedestrians crossing Natural Bridge. Many of the drivers only come to a rolling stop at the stop signs. I think a signal light would keep traffic moving better and prevent the big jams that back up in the driveway.

Don Price (Unclassified)
I think it would be an unfair obstacle for the Natural Bridge traffic flow. The only one who would benefit as it is students with 8:00 a.m. classes who didn't get up on time, and if the signal was there, they would have missed the green light and still be late.

Frank Rosengarten
(Pre-Science)
There is no congestion as far as I am concerned. There is so much more traffic on Natural Bridge than that coming onto campus, that little patience is all it takes - after a short wait the traffic always breaks up.

French Saturize
U.S. Gangsters

by Sue Edes

The French film "Breathless" stars Jean Seberg, who also appeared in "The Mouse That Roared," and Jean-Paul Belmondo, who is currently one of the highest paid and most talented French actors. The movie which is both a tribute to and a satire on American gangster films which presented Friday, November 20, as an exponent of the Wednesday night activities series on campus.

"Breathless" has elements of an American western, a drivers' education film, and "Tom Jones." The "Tom Jones" factor is mainly evident in the staging techniques. For instance, Jean-Paul Belmondo talks to the audience in a manner comparable to Tom Jones' aside. Another movie procedure reminiscent of "Tom Jones" is a dim of darkness serving down to close the audience out of a scene.

A driver's education movie could have passed easily for "Breathless." The first few scenes seemed like a driver-trainer exposition, Belmondo steals a car and drives down a highway, and he drives, and he drives. The audience sees the road, then more of the road.

Since American cowboy westerns and racy gangster movie seem to have the widest foreign circulation, it is feasible for a European to make a similar documentation of the U.S. The East Side, man, rock n roll over one puff on half-ashed weeds, play with sexy girls, and carry a gun. Whereas on the other side of the Mississippi River, the heap big spirits are Indian chiefs, Black Baris, and white-horsed heroes that only smoke peace pipes.

The western counterpart in "Breathless" is perhaps the most hilarious incident: A Paris detective is tailing Jean Seberg, and Belmondo is chasing the policeman himself. In westerns, the good guy always follows the bad guy, but this has an exaggerated element as Jean-Paul Belmondo also Chase the jogging detective through a cred-liked parade boulevard.

Kooky Vegetable Brings Monthly Entertainment

All over the campus, students are hearing about the Purple Onion. Not particularly looking for the perpetrator of this rumor, the Mizzou News was accosted by Edward Friedman, head of the Purple Onion, who expounded on the kooky vegetable which is sprouting on our campus.

"The Purple Onion was orginzi-ated to fulfill a social need on this campus," Ed Edwards explains. "It will provide monthly, mature entertainment at low cost. Student entertainment will be presented as well as professional."

The name Purple Onion is familiar to other campuses across the country, but Friedman declares, "Our Purple Onion will be an or iginal, unique addition to our school. It is not a dance, it is not a nightclub, and it is not a talent show -- it is a mixture of all three of these things, but even his definition is not adequate. It is . . . the Purple Onion. The students will have to come to find out what it really is, and if they do it guarantees that they will enjoy it.

"I cannot over emphasize the importance of students buying advance yearly passes for one dollar before the Purple Onion programs begin, to insure the financial success of the venture, and to raise the quality of the services that the Purple Onion will provide. Obviously, the more money we have in our treasury the better decorations, refreshments, and bands we can obtain for the enjoyment of our students.

"At the door the admission is 25 cents per person. The first Purple Onion will be held on December 5, in the cafeteria. All students are invited to attend, for a night that they will never forget."
The Coaches Speak
An interview with Bob Meyers.
The last of a series viewing our athletic teams through the eyes of the coach

New Sports Added
S. A. Plans

The student Association has announced that this spring there will be two new intramural sports offered to the students on campus. For the first time a league of co-ed volleyball teams will be formed. The association is planning to use the patio for the court for this sport.

St. Louis Bowlers Roll On
The St. Louis Campus bowling team, led by the Wollenberg brother Rich and Bob have taken sole possession of third place in the Intercollegiate Bowling League. The league, who bowl every Saturday at the Arena Bowl, have bowed most of the teams in the league and now trail the first place St. Louis College of Pharmacy by only four games. Bill Wollenberg's 295 high single game leads the team in score. Along with the brothers Wollenberg, Brian Bolliter, Denise Hatchway, and Brian Baks compose one of the highest scoring quintets in the league. The team will compete against the St. Louis University Bills this Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Any one interested in joining the team should contact Bill Bolliter at WO 1-0177.

Q. Will you take the championship this year coach?
A. A coach always hopes for that, but this year I think we have as good a chance as any other team in the league.

Thank you Mr. Meyers.

1964-65 Cage Schedule

| Thurs. Dec. 3 | St. Louis Baptist College | There 8:00 P.M. |
| Tues. Dec. 8 | St. Louis Pharmacy | Home 8:00 P.M.* |
| Tues. Dec. 10 | St. Louis Boys Club | There 8:00 P.M. |
| Wed. Dec. 16 | Logan College | Home 8:00 P.M.* |
| Sat. Dec. 19 | Washington J.V. | There 6:00 P.M. |
| Mon. Dec. 21 | Flat River | Home 7:00 P.M. |
| Thurs. Jan. 7 | Flat River | Home 7:30 P.M. |
| Sat. Jan. 9 | Centralia | There 7:30 P.M. |
| Thurs. Jan. 14 | St. Louis Jr. College | Home 8:00 P.M.* |
| Sat. Jan. 16 | McKendree J.V. | There 6:00 P.M. |
| Wed. Jan. 20 | St. Louis Jr. College | Home 8:00 P.M.* |
| Wed. Feb. 10 | Logan | Home 8:00 P.M.* |
| Tues. Feb. 16 | St. Louis Baptist | Home 8:00 P.M. |
| Fri. Feb. 19 | Sanford Brown | Home 8:00 P.M.* |
| Wed. Feb. 24 | St. Louis Bowlers | Home 8:00 P.M. |
| Thurs. Feb. 25 | St. Louis Pharmacy | There 8:30 P.M.* |

*League Games
ALL HOME GAMES PLAYED AT NORMANDY JR. HIGH SCHOOL.

Sponsored by

Chances to use the patio for the court for this sport.

Carmella

SALON OF BEAUTY

Think Democratic
Join the YOUNG DEMOCRATS

Larry Timpe
HE 2-6470

Dave Depker
HU 1-1965

BADERS
Complete Line of Art Supplies

1113 LOCUST ST. ST. LOUIS 1, MO.

FRAZZLE - TAILED TABLE HOPPER
Habitat - cafeeteria. This critic bounds from table to table collecting the latest gossip in its large ears.

SPONGUS- AUTOMATTUS
Habitat - cafeeteria. This callous beast thrives on a diet of quarters, nickels and dimes.

SNOOZUS - LIBRARUS
Habitat - campus library.

Hunting?

Normandy

SALON OF BEAUTY

2354 Natural Bridge
St. Louis 1

Hrs., Mon., Wed., Sat., 9-4:30;
Tues., Thurs., Fri., 9-7:30
Call for Appointment

Complete Industrial Feeding and Automatic Vending Service

1-0900

Badger

The Quality Food Management Service

J. J. GALLOWAY & CO., INC.

1113 LOCUST ST.
ST. LOUIS 1, MO.