

University of Missouri-St. Louis, Office of Research Administration
Internal Funding Report:
Spring 2008 UMSL Research Awards

Bindu Arya, Management, awarded $10,000 for “Efficacy of Affirmative Action Programs in South Africa.”

Adrian Clinger, Math & Computer Science, awarded $8,822 for “The Kuga-Satake-Hodge Conjecture: A String Theory Approach.”

Cynthia Dupureur, Chemistry & Biochemistry, awarded $12,000 for “Understanding Cervical Cancer Drugs.”

Wesley Harris, Chemistry & Biochemistry, awarded $11,377 for “Targeting Bacterial Proteins with Metal-Based Antibiotics.”

Stephanie Merritt, Psychology, awarded $10,448 for “Mood and Human-Computer Interaction.”

Michael Nichols, Chemistry & Biochemistry, awarded $12,500 for “Immune Receptors and the Alzheimer's Amyloid-Beta Peptide.”

Andres Rengifo, Criminology & Criminal Justice, awarded $12,330 for “Aggregation issues and the association between signs of disorder and crime.”

Keith Stine, Chemistry & Biochemistry, awarded $6,000 for “Nanoporous Gold as a Support for Immunoassays in Cancer Diagnosis.”

Benjamin Torbert, English, awarded $6,520 for “Mississippi Language Variation Fieldwork.”

Total Awarded: $89,997