

Growing your resources in tough times.

NpML FUNDRAISING INSTITUTE June 8-12, 2009

To register go to www.umsl.edu/npml
or call (314) 516-5948.

Today's economic challenges make it even tougher for your organization to raise funds. The 2009 Fundraising Institute at the University of Missouri–St. Louis will strengthen your fundraising capabilities and the results will provide the edge you need in tough economic times. This year's Fundraising Institute examines topics that are vital to the financial growth of your organization: capital campaigns, grant proposal writing, and using technology in fundraising. Bulk up on the skills these tough times demand!

Integrating Technology into Your Fundraising Toolbox

New and creative uses of technology can help your organization reach its fundraising goals more cost-effectively. (NEW for 2009!)

June 8, 9 a.m.–5 p.m. || $125 (0.7 CEUs)

Successful Grant Proposal Writing

In this two-day course, identify the strategies and techniques to build your grant writing skills and capabilities.

June 9 & 10, 9 a.m.–5 p.m. || $225 (1.4 CEUs)

Effective Federal Grant Proposals

Expand and improve your proficiency in completing federal grant proposals and applications.

June 11, 9 a.m.–5 p.m. || $150 (0.7 CEUs)

Campaign Readiness and Planning in Today's Economy

Should your organization re-think plans for a capital campaign?

Or is this the most important time to undertake one?

June 12, 9 a.m.–5 p.m. || $125 (0.7 CEUs)

All sessions take place in the J.C. Penney Conference Center at the University of Missouri–St. Louis. Enroll in more than one course and get a discount. Check out the full line-up of programs in the Nonprofit Management and Leadership Program at www.umsl.edu/npml or call (314) 516-6713 for more information.

Continuing Education

Nonprofit Management & Leadership
npml

