STUDENT COUNCIL SEEKS 200 NEW STUDENTS
NEW PRESIDENT EXPECTED

SEVERAL SENIORS SEEN AS
"LIKELY CANDIDATES"

The Student Council will elect a new President of the student body at its first meeting in a few days.

Since Student President Winfred Kennedy, who was elected last March, did not return this fall, the Council must choose someone to replace him until the next election.

Under its constitution, the 11-member body must pick a student who is at least a junior, with 75 semester hours of work, two years residence, and who has at least an all-time 1.30 average.

Traditionally, KSC has elected students in March slated to become seniors in the fall. Speculation as to the next President therefore centers around some of the leading figures in the Senior Class.

As the College has never had a female Student Council President, according to available records, the likelihood is that the next student body head will be a male.

Frequently mentioned in campus chatter as likely candidates for the top student post are such outstanding seniors as:

Charles Washburn, Business major from Memphis, Tenn., who has served in a number of leadership jobs including member of the Student Council and president of his class.

Eugene Willis, Music Education major also from Memphis, who is currently a member of the Council and who has held many important posts.

Nathan Jackson, Biology major from Leesburg, Va., who has also been president of his class and of the Kentucky Players and is now head of the campus Alphas.

Gene Nuckolls, History and Government major from Ashland, Kentucky, whose major drawback may be the residency requirement since he transferred to KSC only last year.

Thomas Lewis, Business major from Chicago, Ill., who has been a very active frat leader in Kappa Alpha Psi and who has shown much leadership ability in other campus activities.

These and a number of other top senior men are being carefully considered by the councilmen and students in general for the demanding job of President. The office carries heavy responsibility, especially for leadership in homecoming activities and in the student leadership conferences.

The position also carries with it prestige, privileges, and the attraction of a half-scholarship as compensation for the time and energy required.

It is a major training experience for potential leaders in professional and civic life.

While nobody is openly seeking the job now, it's likely that considerable backstage jockeying is going on among serious contenders. It is customary for the President to accept "calls" to office rather than to actively seek it.

DEAN BRADFORD
GREET'S FRESHMEN

(The following is a personal message to the Freshmen from Dr. David H. Bradford, Dean and Registrar and Acting President of the College)

Probably the question foremost in your thoughts as you begin your college career is how you can profit most from your experience as a college student.

Dr. D. H. Bradford
Dean of Kentucky
State College

A student either does his work or he does not.

A sound education is based upon good individual work habits formed through the mastery of the fundamentals of knowledge.

The answer is obvious. You will profit from your years spent in college only to the degree that you devote your energy and ability to the acquisition of sound scholarship.

There is no middle ground.

45 Freshmen Receive Scholarships

About 200 freshmen and transfer students are expected to enroll in the College this fall, according to the Public Relations Office.

Coming from Kentucky and all parts of the country, the new students continue to enter KSC in large numbers, reflecting the big increases in college enrollment across the nation.

Some administration officials predict a student body of 600 plus for this school year.

Among the approximately 200 freshmen this September are 45 lucky recipients of various scholarships:

Winning Sears-Roebuck scholarships for the first semester are: Robert Allen, Mt. Sterling; Huey Beard, Clinton; Robert L. Jones, Mt. Sterling; John T. Martin, Madisonville; Charles O'Jaham, Mt. Sterling; and Mess Redd, Hopkinsville.

Joyce E. Harris of Lexington holds the coveted Keeneland scholarship for 1958-59.

Sonja Reynolds, Central City and Annie Florence Gold of Evansville, Indiana, have Kroger and Regents Scholarships for the school year.

Other recipients of the first semester Regents scholarships ($100 awards given by KSC's Board of Regents to outstanding high school graduates) include:

Eunice Alvis, Earlinton; Glendell Bess, Crab Orchard; Hazel Bardsly, Paris; Marie Branham, Paducah; Gladys Boatright, Lancaster.

Vernon Bridges, Hamilton, Ohio; Deloris Burton, Winchester; Charlotte Crawford, Mayfield; Ollie

Crawford, Lexington; Edward Colbert, Anchorage; Janet Dicks, Cincinnati, Ohio; Sherman Fields, Lexington.

Joyce Gay, Allensville; Mary Glover, Owensboro; Helen Happy, Lexington; Ellen Harper, Barbourville; Nancy Hicks, Vine Grove; Barbara Humphrey, Crittenden.

Charles Johnson, Trenton; Dorothy Johnson, Earlinton; Taylor Jones, Dayton, Ohio; Lucy Laythem, Paris; Helen Lewis, Lexington; Barbara McNary, Princeton; Mary Neal, Middlesboro; Theodore Parrish, Smith's Grove; Rheta Robertson, Henderson.

ERROLL GARNER TO PLAY HERE

By Adell Patton, Jr.

Erroll Garner, one of America's greatest jazz personalities, will appear in concert in Bell Gymnasium on Sunday, November 9.

The unique pianist and composer, accompanied by a drummer and a bass player, is launching a five-month nation-wide tour this fall.

KSC's lyceum committee has booked the fabulous Garner for a concert here in recognition of his stature as the outstanding contemporary pianist of the jazz genre.

Garner has won every major prize and award in his field both in America and Europe, including the coveted Grand Prix du Disque.

He has thrilled jam packed auditoriums and concert halls the world over.

Garner plays by ear and improvises throughout all of his own selections, although he has had to memorize some of his own recorded hits in order to satisfy public demand that he play them as originally recorded.

Pittsburgh-born, the thirty-five year old Garner has been playing piano since the age of three.

His present style has made him one of the most original and distinctive musical voices of this century. Scores of pianists today attempt to imitate some of his "Garnerisms."

Among Garner's more than 70 compositions in ASCAP and his other recent works, his best known are: "Misty," "Solitaire,"

ALUMNI NEWS

Alumni Day during last May's commencement exercises attracted many sons and daughters of KSC back to the campus.

The reunion of the Eights was observed. Alumni ranging from 1908 to 1948 were on hand for the traditional afternoon dinner and the convocation.

Five members of the Class of 1908 joined the fifty-year club and were awarded pins by President Atwood during graduation ceremonies.

They were: Mrs. Grace Buckner, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. Julia A. Colerane, Winchester; A. W. Montgomery, Chicago, Ill.; J. W. Muir, Cincinnati, Ohio; and Mrs. Juanita M. Robinson, Chicago, Ill.

Other alumni in reunion included:

1918—Mrs. Fannie Botts Linton, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Katie C. Washington Jones, Georgetown; Mrs. Marie Banks Brown, Shelbyville.

Mrs. Mathe Harris, John W. Duncan, Mrs. Clara Shively, and McKinley Shelburne, all of Louisville. Mr. Henry A. Green was host.

1929—Miss Pattye L. Simpson.

1938—Mrs. Josephine H. Davis, Mullstadt, Ill.; James H. Parker, Jr., Dayton, Ohio; Mrs. Jessie Roach, Frankfort; Mrs. Virginia G. Willis, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. Nannie Armstrong, Eminence; Rev. Norman Passmore, Lexington; and Mrs. Sue Jones, Frankfort. Miss Charlotte E. Wilson was hostess.

1948—Leslie Cole, Clinton; Mrs. Dorothy I. Bibbs, Lexington; W. T. Simmons, Frankfort; Miss Evelyn Samuels, Winchester; and Miss Lula Marguerite Howard, Washington, D. C., who is the only female attorney among KSC alumni. Mrs. Anita M. Fields was hostess.

The Class of '33 celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary. Returning were: Mrs. Mary M. Spradling, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Stephen Samuels, Fairfield; and Jackson Robb, Frankfort. Dr. Harold S. Smith acted as host.

The reunion was climaxed by the dinner in Underwood Refectory, followed by a brief program marked by the graceful presiding of Dr. A. J. Richards and the traditional nostalgia of such events.

This year the reunion groups started a tradition of contributing to the College Student Loan Fund. Alumni made the Fund a gift of $114.00.

SUMMER SCHOOL SUMMARY

"Summer school ain't no picnic," a saggy, tired, humid student emphatically remarked one 90 plus day last July.

"He wasn't kiddin'," we hastened to add.

Prickly heat and intermittent down-pours made summer session a sweltering, sloshy affair. But there were numerous bright and breezy spots.

For example, there was the gay and sparkling singing of a delightful trio. Lovely soprano, Margaret Tynes, tenor Laverne Hutcherson (the "voice" of Harry Belafonte in "Carmen Jones"), and pixie baritone Avon Long captivated the summer audience, with a wide range of delightful music and wonderful clowning.

All who enjoyed that performance are hoping the magic trio comes back soon.

Then, there was the marvelous music-making of Jackson Robb, the organ wizard, and his troupe, which included Alumnus Robb's charming daughter, Portia.

Jack Robb proved to the pleasure of a heat-bedecked audience that his mystifying mixture of piano and organ is the best way to "beat the heat."

Campus movies were refreshing pauses in the academic grind. Not only because of the selection of movies, but also because of the antics of projectionists Burke's projectors and the people-eating mosquitoes.

Numerous equipment failures, fuse blow-outs, showers, and armies of mosquitoes didn't keep the grim Mr. Burke from showing a single movie either in the "outdoor theatre" in the hollow outside Underwood or in the Gym.

All would probably agree that "Three Coins in A Fountain" was the best of the summer fare.

"Dreamy," and "Other Voices."

Recording exclusively for Columbia Records, he has scored a smash hit with his album "Concert By The Sea."

Remember, on November 9, to go out and witness a dynamic performance by a great artist.

together with the visiting Morsehouse men here this summer doubtless felt that physics was the brightest spot of the session.

Certainly the reappearance of old faces from distant places was like a fresh breeze for the upper-classes.

For instance, Lebanon's Math Prof. Alvin Jones, '57 (remember him) was here. So were John Holloway ("all the way with Holloway"), Frank Howard, Dorothy Watkins, Phillip Brooks, '56, and recent alumnus John Popp, '58 who practiced—taught at Lincoln Institute.

Every summer schooler experienced a "great wind" in the most unforgettable character of the session.

Sporting a ten-gallon, high boots, ready smile, and enthusiastic greeting, a minister-social worker-teacher, here for practice teaching, kept summer "vacationers" cool with high grade humor.

An engaging, straight-forward fellow with an abundance of practical advice concerning money-making for everyone, the gentleman was a real "hit" with all.

A true sad note of loss was struck around the July 4th holidays when Associate Professor Emeritus Theodore R. Dailey died at his home after a long illness.

The indomitable and imitable education professor was saluted in moving funeral services in the Chapel attended by prominent friends from all over.

Among the high points toward the close of school were the annual theatre outing sponsored by Mrs. Helen F. Holmes of the English Department—this year to Pioneer Playhouse at Danville for a wonderful production of "The Little Hut".

The President's annual picnic, held at Rosenwald while it poured outside, warmed dampened spirits with chicken and watermelon.

The passing through of alumni like 58ers Roger Conwell who'll teach elementary school in Louisville this fall, Jerry Brown who was enroute to a college business officers training course at Tuskegee, Cleopal Burton who came back to work in the Business Office, and Oscar Lee Short who returned to wed Mr. P. J. Manly's daughter, Dolores, in Hume Hall Chapel.

WEDDING BELLS

Wedding bells rang for the following happy Kentucky Staters in the past few months:

Herman Taylor of Chicago, Ill., past editor of the Yearbook, and the former Mary Lee Bridgeforth of Louisville, '58, made it a June wedding in Louisville.

Oscar Lee Short, '58, Birmingham, Ala., and the former Dolores Manley, '56, of Frankfort (she's the daughter of KSC Agriculture Dept. Head P. J. Manley) married during August.

The marriage of Hank Boswell, '58, Pontiac, Ill., and the former Clarice Cannon, senior, of Nicholasville was revealed shortly after commencement in June.

Carlos Wilhite, '58, Yosemite, and the former Bobby Cross of Bardstown, sophomore, were united immediately after the June graduation.

Claude Snorton, '58, of Crofton and past President of the Student Council, introduced his new bride, the former Marietta Garrett, to the campus during commencement season.
