WEBSITES FOR SOCIAL STUDIES EDUCATORS:

ECONOMICS

Warren Solomon

Table of Contents

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Organizations</th>
<th>2</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Lessons</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Specific Topics</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- Consumer Economics
- Economic Analysis
- Issues of Hunger and Poverty
- Money
- National Budget
Organizations

National Council on Economic Education: The website of the National Council on Economic Education, where one may find resources, including lessons: http://www.ncee.net/

Foundation for Teaching Economics: This website has sections for teachers and students. The section for teachers includes National Economics Standards and lesson plans on a variety of economics topics. The website may be found at this address: http://www.fte.org/

Federal Reserve Bank: This website is dedicated to education pertaining to interactive lessons, money, the Federal Reserve Bank Banking System and links to many economics-related websites: http://www.FederalReserveEducation.org.

Missouri University’s Office of Social and Economic Data Analysis (OSEDA): This website, also very appropriate for sociology and economics, collects statistics on Missouri related to the census, the state of the state (Missouri), county facts, the status of children, and many other topics, often presented in the form of maps: http://www.oseda.missouri.edu/.

Nebraska: A website from the University of Nebraska-Omaha’s Center for Economic Education, which one could use to navigate to lessons: http://ecedweb.unomaha.edu/

Lessons

Specific Topics

Consumer Economics

Consumer Economics for Elementary Students: A website entitled Wise Pockets World of the Consumer Credit Counseling Service, which has useful personal economics-related items for elementary school students and teachers and for parents of elementary students: http://www.wisepockets.com/

Consumer Economics for Teens and Young Adults: A website for teens and young adults pertaining to personal finance and investments: http://www.youngmonthly.com/

Economic Analysis
Economic Analysis: Paul Krugman, Princeton Economics Professor and frequent writer for the New York Times, has several websites that analyze the economic situation of the United States, Japan, and the world. Here are the ones I have: http://www.pkarchive.org/.

Issues

Issue of Hunger: A website from Freedom from Hunger, a charitable organization, which tries to fight problems of hunger by providing small business loans to women with children in rural areas. The site has stories of people helped to help themselves, stories of how they are helped, and pictures of children, families, and homes in rural areas of developing countries: http://www.freedomfromhunger.org. This site also is relevant to Geography.

Money

Money Matters for Young People and Parents: This website, called “Kids Money,” has in it lots of ideas for children and parents pertaining to money, how children can earn it, and how it might be spent: http://www.kidsmoney.org.

Money Matters for Young People and Parents: This website, called “Youngbiz.com,” has in it ideas for teenagers pertaining to business and the stock market and how they can earn money in them: http://www.youngbiz.com.

Money Matters for Young People and Parents: This website, which requires a Flash plug-in, is an entertaining website for kids and their parents pertaining to money matters: http://www.younginvestor.com.

National Budget

Congressional Budget Office: This website from the Congressional Budget Office includes CBO news, papers on various current topics, the budget outlook, a glossary of budget and economic terms, and many other useful items of information: http://www.cbo.gov.