

Derek Beiter, ABD, CFA
Founder, Principal

Mr. Beiter is the founder of Diligence Crafter and Derek Beiter Consulting, where he consults on financial markets, public policy, and data analytics. Mr. Beiter has 20-years of investment experience, most recently serving as Senior Vice President and Senior Investment Analyst for one of the world's largest banks. He has also served as Senior Analyst at the nation's largest brokerage firm headquartered outside of New York. He has also held various other positions at brokerage firms and trust companies. Mr. Beiter has conducted over 100 investment manager searches and made decisions that reallocated billions of investment dollars. He has also served as a university lecturer in American Government and Public Policy. Mr. Beiter holds a Bachelor's degree in Finance and Economics from McKendree University. He has acquired All-But-Dissertation status in Political Science with emphasis in Urban Politics and Policy from the University of Missouri -- St. Louis. He has also earned the right to use the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation. Mr. Beiter is active in local government and serves as a volunteer in criminal offender reentry programs.