Rationale	Since the inception of the inception of the policy, several courses have been created as "equivalent." This is the only course requirement in the Bulletin where we aren't listing the specific courses that meet the requirement in the Undergraduate Study and General Education sections. It is helpful to students, advisors and degree audit staff to clearly define the courses that meet the requirement. We can automatically add additional courses that have "fulfills the university's requirement for a junior-level course in Communicative Skills" or similar statement in the course description.
