Communication BA

with an emphasis in Interpersonal Communication

The Interpersonal Communication emphasis area focuses on communication processes in personal relationships. Students in this emphasis area will master the ability to communicate meaningfully with colleagues, clients, and loved ones in a variety of settings. Strong interpersonal skills are needed in almost any type of job and can truly transform your career and your life. Our faculty members are actively engaged in research and our students benefit from first-hand knowledge not currently offered at other institutions. Many faculty members have been recognized for excellence or innovation in teaching.

Career Outlook

Students can pursue a wide variety of career paths with this degree. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, opportunities in jobs related to the field of interpersonal communication are expected to grow as fast or faster than average for all occupations over the next decade. Specifically, careers in the health and social services sector are experiencing rapid growth due to the growing elderly population and mental health/health-related demands.

Future Career Options

- Non-profit professional/Community affairs liaison
- Meeting and event planner/activity director
- Patient care advocate
- Human resources, employee relations, and benefits coordinator
- Training and Development
- Recruiter
- Interpersonal consulting
- Mediation/conflict management
- Career counselor
- Hotel and hospitality manager

Skills developed through degree completion

- Explore the roles that communication plays in personal and professional relationships
- Evaluate situations and apply interpersonal communication strategies that will be effective to achieve one's goals
- Apply theories and models of interpersonal communication phenomena to complex, real-life experiences
- Recognize and adapt to different cultures and perspectives
- Sharpen one's self- and other-awareness in order to successfully navigate conflict, manage teamwork, and enhance interpersonal relationships

Successful alumni have gone on to fulfill many of the opportunities above. Additional possibilities are taken from the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Contact an advisor to discuss additional future career options.
