

The Bachelor of Arts in

Modern Languages, with an Emphasis in French

Be fluent in French.

French is widely spoken on all continents as a native or second language and is used internationally for government, business and education. It's the official language of many international organizations. By 2050, there will be an estimated 750 million French speakers thanks to a demographic boom in francophone Africa.

The Bachelor of Arts in Modern Language, with an Emphasis in French

The Bachelor of Arts in Modern Language, with an Emphasis in French develops linguistically and culturally competent and ready-to-be global citizens. UMSL offers a broad range of coursework in French: foundational courses in language and culture, courses focused on the many facets of literature and culture and pre-professional courses, all aimed at developing skills for the 21st century.

Upon completion of the BA in Modern Language, with an Emphasis in French, graduates will possess the necessary linguistic and cultural competencies to interact with native speakers in culturally appropriate ways; use the target language in a variety of academic, social and professional situations and have a rich understanding of the target cultures; be able to critically explore their own assumptions, value alternative perspectives and act with cultural sensitivity; meet the challenges of a globalized world and continue developing their skills as lifelong learners.
