

The Bachelor of Science in

Business Administration, Finance Emphasis

Invest in your future.

Money is the universal language of business. Understanding how to speak this language effectively can open doors across industries. Finance is a multi-disciplinary field that combines concepts from management, economics and accounting to make sound business decisions and solve problems. There are many business situations in companies of all sizes that require knowledge of the latest financial practices and tools.

The BSBA with Finance Emphasis

The BSBA, Finance Emphasis degree is a 120-credit-hour program that requires at least 48-credit hours be filled with business courses, of which a minimum of 18-credit hours need to be taken in Finance courses, which can include courses in the new field of Fintech.

The core business classes include financial and managerial accounting, legal environment of business, information systems concepts, business analytics and statistics, supply chain management, financial management, management and organizational behavior, marketing and strategic management. Once you've completed required courses, you can customize your degree with business electives, even selecting a minor, if you choose.

Throughout the program, students will be given the tools to become effective financial managers and savvy problem solvers. They will learn a variety of applications including investing (using funds) and financing (raising funds). They'll be able to make decisions about assets and how to invest them. Students will be prepared to enter the workforce and succeed locally and globally across a wide range of industries.

Among the Best

The BSBA, Finance Emphasis is earned through our internationally recognized College of Business Administration, ranked among the top 2 percent of business schools in the world thanks to dual AACSB accreditation in both business and accounting.

Business students learn and collaborate in a state-of-the-art facility outfitted with smart classrooms containing all the latest teaching technology, cutting edge seminar rooms, group learning environments, community spaces and a real-time stock ticker. The college also offers frequent career fairs, including career-specific opportunities and internships. In addition, faculty engage students in service learning opportunities which provide value and help transform lives in the surrounding communities.

Students also benefit from six College Advisory Boards, the Leadership Council and the Business Alumni Association all of which are staffed by experienced business professionals from some of the best known St. Louis area companies. These professionals lend their expertise, experience, time, passion and enthusiasm to ensure that curricula are keeping pace with the ever-changing needs of business and that employers' needs are fulfilled. They also provide opportunities that enhance student education with tours of their facilities, guest lectures, internships, mentoring, and more.
