Course Description

This course is an intensive analysis of major marketing decisions facing the firm, such as level, mix, allocation, and strategy of marketing efforts. Specific decision areas investigated include market determination, pricing, physical distribution, product policy, promotion, channel management, and buyer behavior. Competitive, political, legal, and social factors that may affect such areas of decisions are discussed. Cases, models, and problems are used heavily.

Goals of the Course

This capstone course comprehensively reviews all aspects of marketing management. In addition, students will learn the ROI Marketing and Marketing Performance Improvement (MPI) methodologies developed by the instructor. By the end of the course, students will be able to apply marketing management principles and the ROI Marketing Methodology to systematically measure, demonstrate and sustain value created by their marketing programs. Further, they will be able to apply marketing management principles and the MPI Methodology to analyze marketing performance data, identify weaknesses and opportunities, explore causes, design and implement solutions. This course will enhance students’ analytical and communication skills, improve their decision making capabilities, and ultimately advance their careers in marketing management and related areas.

Prerequisites

MATH 1105, MKTG 3700, three other marketing elective courses, senior standing, and a 2.0 campus GPA.

Textbook

Marketing Management, 3rd ed., Greg W. Marshall, and Mark W. Johnston, by McGraw-Hill: available as part of the Triton AutoAccess Program, which was developed as a partnership between the University and the publisher to lower the cost of course materials. This means that the book is automatically available digitally on the first day of class. The Triton Store will charge your student account during the official Add/Drop date two weeks into the semester. A loose-leaf edition of the textbook is also available at the bookstore.

What if you have to drop the course? As long as you drop the course before the end of the official Add/Drop date, you will not be charged for the cost of course materials. Contact the UMSL Triton Store for more information.
Assessment/Grading

Your final grade will be determined by:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

The final letter grades will be strictly based on the following scale.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>372 – 400</td>

*The UMSL Grading System is using a four-point scale. The grade value for each letter grade:
A = 4.0 A-= 3.7 B+ = 3.3 B = 3.0 B- = 2.7 C+ = 2.3 C = 2.0 C- = 1.7 D+ = 1.3 D = 1.0 D- = 0.7 F = 0
EX = Excused DL = Delayed FN = Failure/Non-participation

 With earned extra credit points (if any), a student may be able to accumulate more than 400 points. If so, the letter grade will still be an A.
Teaching Philosophy and Expectations

Tell me and I will forget. Show me and I may remember. Involve me and it’s mine forever.

- Ancient Chinese Proverb

I love teaching! My teaching philosophy derives from my own experience as a student, a manager, and a professor. In essence, I believe that the learning process is most effective when instructors (1) teach with passion, (2) create an enjoyable and safe environment, (3) involve students actively, and (4) maintain credibility. I believe that we college professors are facilitators in a life-changing process. With the business world becoming increasingly competitive, we impact our students’ lives by helping them acquire business acumen and embark on rewarding careers. I consider myself a bridge, a catalyst, and a disseminator in this process.

Meanwhile, I believe it is your responsibility to invest adequate time, energy, and effort into the learning process. After all, you are, and should be, the owners of this process. To ensure effectiveness of teaching and learning, I would like to set the following expectations for the class: 1) when I tell you, you should listen to me; 2) when I show you, you should pay attention; and 3) when I invite you, you should get yourself involved. Interaction should take place not only between you and the instructor, but also among you and other students in the class.

VoiceThread Participation

- During the instructor lectures (PPT and VoiceThread), you have the opportunity to make comments at any time (via written, voice, or webcam). In many cases, I will prompt you for your opinion or input. Your participation during the lectures will count towards your VoiceThread Participation scores. This activity is worth 2.5% of your grade (10 points). I will evaluate your comments on both quantity and quality.

Exams

- Both the midterm and final exams are open book, open notes and multiple-choice. As indicated by an empirical study, college students learn just as much from open-book tests as they do from closed-book ones, but experience less test anxiety (Gharib et al. 2012, Psychology Research).
- Both exams will be available online. You may take the exams at one of the computer labs, library, testing center, your home or other places with reliable Internet connection.
- There will be NO make-up exam, except under extraordinary circumstances. If there are conflicts, please contact me as early as possible.
- More details of the exams will be discussed later.

Extra Credit Points

You may earn extra credit points to improve your grades by:

- Taking bonus quizzes and working on extra credit assignments (if available).
- Participating in academic research (if available).

These Extra Credit Points are as valuable as other points earned through assignments, final exam, and online discussion, etc. They will increase your chance of earning a good letter grade.
Online Discussion

- I will post two discussion topics on the discussion board. Your grade is based on the quantity and quality of your comments. This activity is worth 15% of your grade (60 points). You may use either the AMA style (American Marketing Association), APA style (American Psychological Association) or other citation format, but please be consistent. You can find details of the two styles at the following websites:
  - http://www.apastyle.org

- Discussion board grades will be returned, with rubric feedback, within 72 hours of the discussion due date.

- You need to submit your initial posting and reply to at least two of your classmates’ postings by their deadlines. You can find the expectations for quality of your postings in the Online Discussion Rubric.

- I will not respond to each post, but will be monitoring each discussion closely.

Online Class Netiquette/Behavior

- Be self-reflective before you post an emotional response and reread what you have written to be sure it is positive. Think of your comments as printed in the newspaper. Your online comments will be seen, heard and remembered by others in the class.

- Use effective communication.
  - Avoid the use of all caps or multiple punctuation elements (!!!, ??? etc).
  - Be polite, understate rather than overstate your point, and use positive language.
  - If you are using acronyms, jargon or uncommon terms, be sure to explain them so everyone can understand and participate in the discussion.

- Ask for clarification to a point if you feel emotional from a classmate’s post. It is likely that you misunderstood his/her point. This strategy will also help you step away from the intensity of the moment to allow for more reflection.

- Sign your name. It is easier to build a classroom community when you know to whom you are responding.

- Foster community. Share your great ideas and contribute to ongoing discussions. Consider each comment you make as one that is adding to, or detracting from, a positive learning environment for you and your classmates.

- Be constructive. You can challenge ideas and the course content, but avoid becoming negative online. When you disagree politely, you stimulate and encourage great discussion. You also maintain positive relationships with others with whom you may disagree on a certain point.

- Keep the conversation on topic by responding to questions, adding thoughtful comments about the topics at hand. Online dialogue is like conversation. If there is a certain dialogue going on, please add to it, but if you have something new to say, please post it in another thread.

- Define your terms. When using acronyms or terms that are particular to your field (or new to our course), please define them for others.
Course Policies

Online Participation and Professionalism

- It is vitally important that our classroom environment promote the respectful exchange of ideas. This entails being sensitive to the views and beliefs expressed during discussions whether in class or online.
- Your success in this course will heavily depend on your ability to communicate, engage and participate in all course activities. Successful completion of this course requires that a student keep up with all assignments, coursework and discussions. Timely participation in online discussions is a very important part of this course and participation in these discussions, and other activities as assigned, is not optional. You are expected to prepare and post to discussions in a timely manner consistent with the requirements contained within the course syllabus and discussion rubric.
- If you are unable to participate in the scheduled class activity or discussions, you must notify the instructor within the week of that class module or discussion. An unexcused failure to engage or participate with the class will be counted as an absence; unexcused absences may result in failure. The instructor reserves the right to make judgment to accept and/or make-up assignments missed because of failed participation in the course activities.

Online Discussion Protocol

- Participation in the course should maintain a positive work and learning environment, as outlined in the UM Collected Rules & Regulations, 330.080
- Postings should be evenly distributed during the discussion week.
- Postings should be a minimum of three sentences, or one short paragraph, and a maximum of two paragraphs.
- Responses should be well written with proper punctuation, spelling and grammar.
- Avoid short one-word postings, for instance, “I agree,” unless accompanied by supporting statements from the readings or prior knowledge (work and life experience).
- Stay focused on the topic.
- Ask questions; challenge other postings that lack supporting evidence or present incorrect information.
- Encourage further discussion by building on current threads.
- Check your postings for responses from others and respond in kind.
- Use proper “netiquette”.

Attendance Policies

- “Present” in class for online courses is determined by participation in an “academically related activity,” i.e. submission of an assignment, assessment or discussion forum posting. The last day of attendance is the last day a student is academically participating in the online course.
- Documentation that a student has logged into an online class is not sufficient by itself to demonstrate academic attendance.
Connect Plus LearnSmart and Homework

You will have homework through McGraw-Hill Connect Plus for each of the eight modules.

- The LearnSmart and homework covers all learning materials in a particular module.
- You need to complete and submit the homework by its due date.

Connect Plus Tech Support

If you have problems using the McGraw-Hill Connect Plus, please contact their tech support directly by phone, email, or online chat.

Academic Integrity/Plagiarism

- You are responsible for being attentive to and observant of University policies about academic honesty as stated in the University’s Campus Policies and Code of Student Conduct found in the UMSL Bulletin
  - Academic dishonesty is a serious offense that may lead to probation, suspension, or dismissal from the University. One form of academic dishonesty is plagiarism – the use of an author's ideas, statements, or approaches without crediting the source. Academic dishonesty also includes such acts as cheating by using any unauthorized sources of information and providing or receiving unauthorized assistance on any form of academic work or engaging in any behavior specifically prohibited by the faculty member (e.g., copying someone else’s answers on tests and quizzes). Unauthorized possession or distribution of academic materials is another type of academic misconduct. It includes the unauthorized use, selling or purchasing of examinations or other academic work, using or stealing another student’s work, unauthorized entry or use of material in a computer file, and using information from or possessing exams that an instructor did not authorize for release to students. Falsification is any untruth, either verbal or written, in one’s academic work. Facilitation is knowingly assisting another to commit an act of academic misconduct.

- Plagiarism, cheating, and falsification are not acceptable.
  - All instances of academic dishonesty will be reported to the Office of Academic Affairs who will determine whether you will appear before the Student Conduct Committee for possible administrative sanctions such as dismissal from the university. The instructor will make an academic judgment about the student’s grade on that work in this course. The campus process regarding academic dishonesty is described in the “Policies” section of the Academic Affairs website
Plagiarism is the use of another person’s words or ideas without crediting that person. Plagiarism and cheating will not be tolerated and may lead to failure on an assignment, in the class, and dismissal from the University, per the UMSL academic dishonesty policy. Students are responsible for being attentive to and observant of campus policies about academic honesty as stated in the University’s Student Conduct Code. To avoid accusations of academic dishonesty, please submit all written work to the Turnitin System before finalizing what you submit for evaluation. Check information about The Writing Center on UMSL’s website.

Title IX Policies

In adherence to the policies of Title IX and to promote a safe and secure educational environment, it is strongly recommended statements similar to those below be added to your course syllabus:

- Mandatory Reporting: Under Title IX, all UMSL faculty, staff, and administrators (with limited exception) are obligated to report any incidents of sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, sexual assault, or gender discrimination to the Student Affairs office and/or other University officials. This ensures that all parties are protected from further abuses and that victim(s) are supported by trained counselors and professionals. Note: There are several offices at UMSL (e.g., Counseling Services, Health Services, Community Psychological Service, Center for Trauma Recovery, and Student Social Services) whose staff are exempt from Title IX mandated reporting, when the information is learned in the course of a confidential communication.

Student Resources

Access, Disability and Communication

Your academic success is important. If you have a documented disability that may have an impact upon your work in this class, please contact Disability Access Services (DAS) immediately. Students must provide documentation of their disability to the office of Disability Access Services in order to receive official University services and accommodations. The staff is available to answer questions regarding accommodations or assist you in your pursuit of accommodations. Information about your disability is confidential. Once DAS reviews your medical documentation, they will provide you with the information and steps to inform me about the accommodations to which you are entitled. Your accommodations will begin as soon as we discuss your approved accommodations.

Academic Support

The Writing Center
At the Writing Center, students collaborate with consultants on their writing. Students can make appointments to meet with writing consultants on campus, or to work online. Consultants work with lots of writing concerns: bigger issues such as clarity, developing ideas, and organization—or with other concerns such as grammar and academic citation. Students can also access more resources, including Turnitin, by enrolling into the Writing Center Canvas site.
