INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the Pierre Laclede Honors College! This handbook provides you with an overview of the College, our mission, and our certificate program, as well as the information you need to take full advantage of everything that the Honors College has to offer. The goals of our writing program and how to maintain your portfolio, independent study and internship opportunities, and requirements for our four year and two year programs are just a few of the important topics you can read about.

Honors at UMSL began as a program in the College of Arts and Sciences in the late 1970s. In 1989 Honors officially became a college, named after one of the founders of St. Louis. The Pierre Laclede Honors College moved into our current home, Provincial House, in 2001. In the past 20 years, we have grown from just over 300 students to more than 550. Our students participate in every major on campus, with Business, Biology, Nursing, Engineering, and Psychology being our most popular fields, which is a testament to the usefulness and attractiveness of an Honors education to all students.

We are unique among Honors Colleges across the nation in that we provide not only interesting and innovative seminar courses but also full service academic advising, a First Year Experience program, a writing program, an internship program, a published book of creative works (Bellerive), an art show (Celebrating the Arts), a full social calendar from the student association (PLHCSA), a satirical newspaper (Brain Stew), living and learning communities for residential students in Oak Hall, a mentoring program for freshmen, and a wealth of community engagement, undergraduate research, internship, and study abroad opportunities.

Please read this handbook to learn more about us. If you have questions that the handbook does not answer, please do not hesitate to call or email any of the people listed on the contacts page—and that includes me.

I hope you each have a terrific year.

MISSION
At the Pierre Laclede Honors College we transform lives through engaged, individualized learning in and outside of the classroom. Our graduates are economically productive, ethically committed, thoughtfully engaged, active citizens who flourish within their culture and world.

Our vision is a community that empowers students to develop unique paths that allow them to pursue individual goals. Small classes (on the average 13) allow students to learn by active questioning and conversation. Students develop strong communication and writing skills while exploring connections across areas of knowledge as they think critically within and beyond their majors. By exploring a wealth of beyond-the-classroom opportunities, Honors students develop the crucial foundation for future professional success.

We support our students with individual advising to help them discover the best paths to their goals. Renewable scholarship funding also ensures that this opportunity is available to all no matter their financial situation.

THE HONORS COLLEGE CURRICULUM
The College Seminar
The heart and soul of Honors at UMSL is the college seminar. Seminar-style classes are based in reading, writing, discussion, and critical thinking. In this exciting environment, students bring their diverse backgrounds, experiences, and knowledge into a close-knit learning community that fosters academic development.

Written Work and the Honors College Writing Program
The Honors College’s chief form of assessment in all coursework is writing. Various forms of writing are used to advance learning, express ideas, and evaluate students’ understanding of ideas, texts, and research. While writing is a major component of all our courses, our writing curriculum also includes formal composition courses (Honors 1100, 3100, 3120, 3160), creative writing courses (Honors 2020, 3020), and our writing capstone (Honors 4100). In Honors 4100, typically taken in the senior year, students review their portfolio with a faculty member and develop writing projects to prepare for careers, graduate school, or professional degree opportunities. For further information on the Portfolio, please see Appendix C.1.

Additional writing opportunities include our yearly literary anthology, Bellerive, our student newsletter, Brain Stew, our student-written alumni newsletter, Provenance, and our annual Excellence in Writing competition.

The Honors College Courses
1000 Level: Restricted primarily to freshmen, our first-year curriculum introduces students to influential texts from diverse Western and non-Western cultures through our Cultural Traditions sequence; our complementary Western, American, and Non-Western courses provide more in-depth exploration of a particular subject broadly covered in Cultural Traditions. Specifically students take Cultural Traditions I (fall) and II (spring), along with an associated class from either our Western (1110, 1130) or American (1230) Traditions series in one semester and an associated class from our Non-Western (1310, 1330) Traditions series in the other semester. All of these courses fulfill general education or other university requirements. Students also complete Honors 1100: Freshman Composition in their first year, unless they have advanced or transfer credit for this campus requirement. Cultural Traditions I and II are also First Year Experience courses and fulfill the FYE requirement for all majors in the College of Arts and Sciences.
2000 Level: Primarily for sophomores and juniors, these courses are themed around broad curricular areas of study: humanities, fine arts, social and behavioral science, business, nursing, education, natural science, or mathematics. Four-year students generally complete at least two of these courses in sophomore year. All of these courses fulfill general education or other university requirements.

3000 Level: Primarily for juniors and seniors, these advanced seminars represent in-depth study of well-defined special topics. They build upon disciplinary introductions provided in our 2000 level courses but are generally very interdisciplinary in nature. These courses do not fulfill general education requirements but most fulfill requirements for specific majors, minors, and certificates.

4000 Level: In order to meet the Honors certificate requirements, all Honors students must complete at least six credit hours of approved independent study or internship projects, as well as the Portfolio capstone (Honors 4100). Independent study (Honors 4900) and internship projects (Honors 4910) can be completed in Honors, or in many cases in other disciplines (pending departmental approval). This requirement encourages students to pursue, at an advanced level, their developing intellectual interests and/or career plans.

Honors College Plans of Study
Honors course requirements vary according to whether students have been admitted as freshmen or transfer students. We offer four, two, and two year-plus plans. All students have the same independent study/internship requirement and capstone requirement. Please see Appendix A for the degree audits that present these academic requirements for the Honors certificate.

Four-Year Plan
Most students who enter Honors after high school will complete the four-year plan, which consists of 40 credit hours from course work, independent study/internship, and our capstone.

Year 1 Fall: Honors 1100: Freshman Composition (unless already fulfilled), Honors 1200/1202: Cultural Traditions I, and an additional Honors course from either the Western/American series (Honors 1110, 1130, 1230) or Non-Western Series (Honors 1310, 1330).

Year 1 Spring: Honors 1201/1203: Cultural Traditions II and an additional course from either the Western/American series (Honors 1110, 1130, 1230) or Non-Western Series (Honors 1310, 1330). Students should choose from the opposite sequence of fall semester. Students who need, but did not complete, Honors 1100: Freshman Composition will also complete that course in the spring.

Year 2: Students take two seminars from our 2010-2080 sequence of inquiries courses. These include: Honors 2010: Inquiries in the Humanities, Honors 2020: Inquiries in the Fine and Performing Arts, Honors 2030: Inquiries in the Social and Behavioral Sciences, Honors 2040: Inquiries in Mathematics and Computing, Honors 2050: Inquiries in the Natural Sciences, Honors 2060: Inquiries in Business, Honors 2070: Inquiries in Education, and Honors 2080: Inquiries in Nursing. Some students may begin working on their independent study/internship requirement during this time period as well.

Years 3 and 4: Students take at least one Honors seminar per semester, for a minimum of four overall. At least three of these should be taken at the 3000 level. Our offerings for the campus’ junior level writing requirement can be taken for this seminar requirement. Generally speaking, this time period includes when most students complete their independent study/internship requirement. The Honors capstone should be completed in senior year.
Two-Year Plan
Students who enter the Honors College at the beginning of their junior year will usually complete the two-year plan. The plan consists of 22 credit hours from course work, independent study/internship, and our capstone.

Year 1: Students will complete the campus’ junior level writing requirement in Honors (3100: Writing the City, 3120: Business Writing, or 3160: Writing in the Sciences), along with two other Honors seminars, at least one of which should be at the 3000 level. Some students will begin working on their independent study/internship requirement during this time period as well.

Year 2: Students will complete two Honors seminars at the 3000 level. Students will also complete their independent study/internship requirement, as well as the Honors capstone.

Two-Year-Plus Plan
Students who enter the Honors College with between 30-59 credit hours will follow the two year plan, but with additional seminar(s) depending on the number of credit hours complete when the student starts. In general, the two-plus plan consists of 28 credit hours from course work, independent study/internship, and our capstone. Two-plus plan students generally complete seven classes in the Honors College (the junior level composition requirement and six seminars).

HONORS COLLEGE POLICIES AND PROCEDURES
Good standing. All students are expected to fulfill the curricular requirements outlined previously; students must also maintain at least a 3.2 GPA and complete at least 12 credit hours per semester. At the end of each semester, all students are reviewed, and those not in good standing are notified. Those who make the dean’s list also receive a special letter of recognition.

Dean’s List. Honors students who complete at least 12 hours without delayed grades and earn a GPA of at least 3.5 will be placed on the Dean’s List. This list is compiled at the end of the fall and spring semesters.

Warning/probation/dismissal. Students whose cumulative GPA is below 3.2 and/or who are not keeping up with Honors seminar requirements will receive notice from the college administration at the end of the fall and/or spring semesters. Students on warning or probation retain their Honors College membership and are expected to take the necessary academic steps to improve performance. Students may have reduction or removal of scholarship once they are placed on warning or probation. In general, students are first placed on warning, then move to probation if there is not adequate improvement the next semester. However, some performance may warrant an immediate probationary or even dismissal status. Students on warning or probation who do not make adequate improvement in their standing may be dismissed from the college. Any student dismissed from the college will be entitled to appeal the decision.

Scholarship renewal. Students in good standing have their merit or PTK scholarship automatically renewed in accordance with their Honors plan (two, three, or four years). Students on the four-year plan may request a scholarship extension for up to two additional semesters; students on the two and three year plans may request a scholarship extension for an additional semester. Requests should be made in writing and sent to the associate dean.

Academic support. Please feel free to contact your seminar instructor, your Honors advisor, or a member of the Honors administrative team for a meeting. Your seminar instructor is always the best first option, and all instructors keep office hours for meetings like this. But we are all here to help you and can direct you to all available campus resources. Our academic advisor Jen Richardson is also available for meetings.

Mid-semester and on-going progress reports. Students are responsible for monitoring their performance and seeking assistance, if necessary, from the Honors College faculty, administration, or advisors. Additionally, Honors classes participate in the campus early warning system. If a student is flagged officially in MyConnect or other notification, Jen Richardson, the Honors College’s academic advisor, will contact you. Our goal is to help you, not to let you know that you are in trouble! We can assist with many academic problems and/or direct you to the appropriate support services on campus.

Advising. All students need to see their Honors College advisor at least once per semester. Students are encouraged to take advantage of our advising services as much as they need. It is important to spend time discussing questions about academic programs, career goals, and long-term planning. It is also expected that students maintain contact with the advisor in the college of their major. See Appendix B for the Honors College Advising Mission Statement.

Registration. Honors offers pre-registration each October and March. During this time period, students construct course schedules with their Honors advisor. Those schedules are then entered on your behalf by a member of our office staff on the assigned registration date. It is very important that you take advantage of this process.

Email. Email is the official means by which you will receive weekly updates about events, policies, processes, opportunities, etc. It is critically important that you check your email regularly and pay close attention to all announcements from Honors.

Part-time enrollment. Generally, students are expected to complete at least 12 credit hours per semester. However, part-time students may be eligible for scholarship assistance on a pro-rated basis: 25% (1-5 hours), 50% (6-8 hours), or 75% (9-11 hours). All pro-rated scholarships must be approved in advance by the dean or associate dean.

Attendance, due dates, civility, and course policies. Please make yourself aware of all individual course policies, which can be found on all course syllabi. It is very important that you attend class meetings, participate civilly and respectfully in discussions, submit work on-time, and follow all policies outlined on your syllabi.

Plagiarism. Plagiarism is a serious offense. Presenting others’ work or ideas as if they were your own is an act of intellectual dishonesty, as is failure to document sources. Plagiarized work will result in an F for the assignment. Cases of suspected plagiarism will be reported to the associate dean and may also be reported to the Office of Academic Integrity.

Grievances. The Honors College follows all campus policies regarding academic and other grievances. In general, we advocate for individual meetings between student and instructor as the most important and first step. In any situation where you feel that step was not helpful or is inappropriate, be sure to make an appointment with the associate dean or dean, who can assist with additional procedures. They are also available to assist you with campus policies for any other types of grievance concerns.
FINAL THOUGHTS AND ADDITIONAL OPPORTUNITIES
We encourage everyone to do much more than what was just outlined. Honors is about adding value to your education, and that doesn’t happen through course work alone. UMSL and the Honors College offer so many more opportunities than what we are able to discuss in this Handbook. Some things to consider as you continue on your educational journey…

Peer mentors. Interested in helping new students? Interested in helping to recruit new students? Honors has numerous mentor programs. Applications usually come out in January. For more information, contact Kim Baldus about First Year Experience mentoring and Jenna Haddock about our Student Mentor Advisory and Recruitment Team.

Pierre Laclede Honors College Student Association. Did you know that you’re already a member? Plus, you are invited to all executive board meetings and events. Among other things, PLHCSA holds regular meetings, organizes and funds social and cultural activities, performs charitable work, and supports the Honors College student body. Contact PLHCSA president Alex Entwistle to learn how you can be involved in this organization. The faculty advisor for PLHCSA is Ann Torrusio.

Alpha Phi Omega. Join a co-ed service fraternity with low dues, an open door policy, and a commitment to service, leadership, and friendship by pledging with APO. For questions, please contact Bella DeArmitt, President, or Rob Wilson, Faculty Advisor.

Bellerive. Do you write, draw, take pictures, or make music? Our annual literary anthology is taking submissions through October 1. Contact Audri Adams for more information. And don’t forget to sign up to take the Bellerive class next fall, so you can select submissions and help produce next year’s edition.

Brain Stew. The official student newsletter of Honors, Brain Stew, is an editorial based publication that accepts articles on any topic. You can submit to one of the student editors: Mva Horn, Cullen Landolt, Kenny Miller, and Aimee Pieper. Or you can email your submission to brainstew@umsl.edu. You can also read back issues online.

Celebrating the Arts. Do you paint, draw, sculpt, or take pictures? We have a student-faculty-alumni art show each spring, including voting for top submissions and prizes. Contact Kate Votaw to learn more.

Study abroad. UMSL offers many wonderful study abroad opportunities, and one of them allows you to also receive credit for an Honors seminar or independent study. For information about the Honors summer study abroad class in Germany, please contact Christoph Schiessl.

Undergraduate Research. Learn more about the many ways that Honors students can participate in research in their departments and in the Honors College. Kate Votaw is UMSL’s Undergraduate Research Coordinator and can tell you about all the opportunities to present student research at events like the Undergraduate Research Symposium, an UMSL spring tradition.

Additional scholarships. UMSL and Honors have merit scholarships that you can apply for in addition to the admissions scholarships you may have already received. These scholarships usually close in January and April. Application openings will be announced in email. Please click here for more information about our named scholarships.

Additional honors. There are a lot more honors for you to take advantage of! UMSL offers departmental honors, honors societies, Latin honors upon graduation, and degrees with distinction. In many cases, if you’re in good standing in the PLHC, you are likely to meet requirements for these additional honors already. We have cataloged some of these opportunities for you on our website. Contact Ed Munn Sanchez to discuss additional ways to enrich your experience.

Please use the spaces provided overleaf to list any additional or optional Honors courses you have taken, and to explain any exceptions from or substitutions to the Honors program requirements.

¹ Please note that you must normally achieve a grade not lower than C- for each honors course in order for it to receive Honors program credit.

² Please note that Honors 3100, Writing the City, Honors 3120, Business Writing, or Honors 3160, Writing in the Sciences is a required element of the Honors program for all transfer students unless a major dictates otherwise. It is not a requirement of the four-year program. However, Four-year program students are welcome, indeed encouraged, to take this course, which meets the University’s graduation requirement for advanced composition for most majors and in most divisions, and for four-year students, Honors 3100/20/60 may replace one of the required seminars. Please note that some majors are required to take a particular course. (For example, Engineering and Computer Science require students to take Honors 3160.) Please see your Honors advisor for more information.
APPENDIX B: HONORS COLLEGE ADVISING MISSION STATEMENT

The Pierre Laclede Honors College Advising Program recognizes that academic advising is an essential element of a student’s college experience. Students and their assigned Honors faculty advisors work collaboratively to explore, plan and implement programs for potential majors, minors, the Honors Certificate and other certificate programs. Advisors encourage students to consider challenging academic options and programs that meet their interests, abilities, and short- and long-term goals. Through the Honors advising process and regular visits with advisors in their major departments, students develop the skills and knowledge they need to take responsibility for their academic development and success. This year-round advising program benefits students and faculty as it improves student retention and provides a platform for students to discuss challenges and concerns about their academic endeavors.

Each Honors advisor accepts these goals and

- Assists students to meet their educational objectives by providing information and resources regarding degree requirements, Honors Certificate requirements and possible minors and other certificates available.

- Offers individual pre-registration and registration services to help students plan and enroll in courses they need to achieve their short- and long-term goals.

- Helps students correctly interpret and apply degree audit information and successfully navigate both the DARS and MyView systems.

- Encourages students to work with major advisors and form a network with faculty in their disciplines and in the Honors College.

- Monitors student progress against students’ degree programs, minors and the Honors College Certificate requirements and keeps the Honors College Associate Dean informed of significant inconsistencies in terms of the Honors Certificate.

- Facilitates the selection and completion of independent study and internship projects.

- Clarifies campus and Honors College policies for students and models problem-solving strategies for academic and related difficulties.

- Provides referrals to students regarding Campus Support Services such as Financial Aid, International Study, National Student Exchange, Lab and Tutoring Programs, Counseling Assistance, etc.

- Discusses student involvement in extra- and co-curricular activities.

- Encourages inquiries about graduate programs and career options.

- Reinforces student responsibility for achieving individual academic goals in a realistic timeline, and encourages students to consider their academic plans as an integral part of their lives beyond the University.
APPENDIX C.1: THE HONORS COLLEGE WRITING PROGRAM AND PORTFOLIO

Authentic review and assessment of students’ writing is central to the purposes of the Honors College, its students, its faculty, and the university. According to recent research in rhetoric and academic discourse, one of the best methods of authentic and meaningful assessment is the construction of a writing portfolio in which students review, with independent guidance and evaluation, their course essays and papers. This process of evaluative review and, where necessary, revision, is the essence of our Writing Program.

The Portfolio begins with the writing samples submitted for admission into the Honors College. Once admitted, students submit one essay each semester to their Honors Portfolio by emailing umslhonorsportfolio@umsl.edu. Selection criteria will vary from student to student, but it is generally recommended that the student choose essays which they regard as important in terms of developing intellectual and/or career interests.

The Honors Portfolio will serve many key purposes for PLHC, for faculty, and above all for students. For Honors College students, the writing portfolio will chart their personal progress as writers and provide a basis for discussion of major techniques of academic discourse and intellectual inquiry. The portfolios in progress help students take fuller advantage of their undergraduate opportunities; the portfolios completed will aid them in their search for appropriate and rewarding graduate work and/or career opportunities.

The Writing Program’s capstone is Honors 4100, a course typically completed during the senior year for one or two credit hours. Failure to satisfactorily complete the student’s writing portfolio may affect the grade earned in 4100.

For questions about the Writing Program, please contact Kim Baldus.
APPENDIX C.2: HONORS Writing Portfolio Frequently Asked Questions

Frequently, Honors College students ask questions about the required Writing Portfolio. Below are some important questions and answers regarding the portfolio and Honors 4100, the Writing Portfolio course that is taken during your senior year. After you have read this, if you have any questions, please contact Audri Adams at (314) 516-4890 or adamsaud@umsl.edu.

1. What is the purpose of my Writing Portfolio? There are many positive reasons for maintaining a writing portfolio. One reason is that the portfolio charts your progress as a writer. Another positive reason for building one is its use for your future. Many graduate applications require sample essays you have written, and the portfolio requirement helps answer this need. And lastly, it will give you the opportunity to discuss your writing development one-on-one with a member of the Honors faculty when you take Honors 4100, the required Writing Portfolio class.

2. How do I begin my Writing Portfolio? It has been started for you with your assistance. When you submitted essays for admissions into the Honors College, your portfolio was opened. The graded essays are in your portfolio.

3. What am I required to do to maintain and build my portfolio? You should submit two essays each year (one per semester or two per year). These essays may be whatever you select. You may submit graded copies or clean copies, though graded ones are more helpful in tracking how your writing is progressing. They may be research or non-research papers, depending on what you have been assigned to write, and they may be from honors or non-honors classes. You may submit MORE than two each year if you wish.

4. How do I submit them? Papers should be submitted via email to umslhonorsportfolio@umsl.edu.

5. Will my portfolio be returned to me and will my completion of my portfolio be noted in any way? First of all, you will receive your portfolio when you earn your certificate from the Honors College and complete Honors 4100, the “Writing Portfolio” class (one- to two-hours credit). During that independent study course with one of our faculty members, you will review your portfolio. The satisfactory completion of your portfolio will be part of your grade evaluation for Honors 4100. Once you complete 4100, you will be given your portfolio. If you should, for any reason, withdraw from the Honors College or transfer to another university before taking Honors 4100, you may take your portfolio with you. Please contact Audri Adams.

6. What if I would like to see what is in my portfolio or request a copy of an essay in my portfolio? How do I arrange to do that? Please contact Audri Adams.

7. What if I have neglected to turn in the required number of papers during the last few semesters? This is not a huge problem, and it can be easily solved. You may submit essays for your portfolio at any time. You may always submit more than the two per year minimum, and if you are behind on submissions, you may add essays to catch up.

8. May I put creative writing samples in my portfolio? You do need to place essays in your portfolio, but if you are writing fiction or poetry, you may submit samples of them for your portfolio in addition to your non-fiction essays.

9. Lastly, whom may I contact with questions regarding the Writing Portfolio? Please contact Audri Adams.

- Senior Thesis (in major)

FIELD EXPERIENCES

- On-Off Campus Internship (in academic interest)
- Clinicals or Student Teaching (as required by major)

COURSEWORK OPTIONS

- Capstone Course (in major area)
- Approved Courses in Honors and/or in major
- 5000 Level Graduate Course (if permitted in major)

STUDY ABROAD & NATIONAL STUDENT EXCHANGE

(WITH PLHC APPROVAL ON INDIVIDUAL BASIS)

*Enrollment in individual learning opportunities requires the approval of appropriate instructor(s) and advisor(s).

+Six credit hours are required by the Honors Program.

For more information about Independent Study Opportunities contact:
Kim Baldus or Ed Munn Sanchez
E-Mail: balduski@umsl.edu or munne@umsl.edu

On Canvas, go to Honors Internship and Independent Study

Independent Studies Detailed by Category
To meet the graduation requirements of the Honors College, each student must fulfill at least six hours of Independent Study. While the chart above provides a quick overview of options to choose from, this page (below) explains in more detail how each option works. If students have questions about these options, please see your Honors advisor, Ed Munn Sanchez, or Kim Baldus.

Directed Studies, Writing and Research Projects
You may undertake an Individual Project in your major, your minor, or in the Honors College. To do so, you must find an UMSL faculty member who is willing to supervise your project. As you approach faculty members, please understand that their time for Independent Study projects is limited in any given semester. Your chances of finding a supervisor increase if they know you and your work from a previous class. Once you have a supervisor, you must jointly define your project. Be sure to consult with your supervisor as you outline the steps you are planning to take, set realistic goals, define objectives, and prepare a syllabus for your Individual Project. To receive academic credit for your project, you need to register for Honors 4900 (Independent Study in Honors) or for the appropriate course in your supervisor’s department. Most departments include Independent Study courses in their course listings, usually identified as Special/Directed Studies or Undergraduate Research, and these require permission to satisfy the Honors requirement. Please see your Honors advisor for details.
Senior Thesis
If your major department offers this option, you will sign up for it and receive supervision through your department. The number of credit hours you receive for your Senior Thesis will also count towards your honors independent study requirement. Please see both your Honors advisor and your major advisor.

Field Experiences
On-Off Campus Internship or Practicum
If the requirements for your major include an internship or practicum, you must check with your department before signing up for an internship. There is usually an internship coordinator who will advise you and help you register for the right course (see Communication, for example). If your department has no such requirement, you may register for Honors 4910: Internship in Honors. Please see Kim Baldus, Dan Gerth, or Ed Munn Sanchez.

Nursing Clinicals or Student Teaching
Both options are administered through your major school or department. Please see your major advisor for details.

Coursework Options

Capstone Course
If your major department offers a Capstone Course or Senior Seminar, then the number of credit hours you receive for this course might also fulfill an equal number of hours for the Honors Independent Study Requirement. If, for example, you are taking Biology 4889, the Senior Seminar required for all Biology majors, then this 2-hour class also fulfills two hours of your Honors IS requirement. Please contact your Honors advisor for any questions.

Approved Course in Honors
The Honors College occasionally offers a course that may be taken as a seminar OR as Independent Study (not both!) Offerings vary from semester to semester. Please check course listings for details or see your Honors advisor.

Graduate Course in Major
If you are preparing to go to graduate school, you might want to ask your advisor in your major department whether this is an option for you. Not all departments permit this. You will need to get special permission from your department and the Honors College to pursue this option.

Studying on Exchange (Study Abroad)
If you plan to use study abroad or study on exchange to fulfill part of your Honors Independent Study Requirement, you must make arrangements to do so before you leave the campus. Normally, you will need to register for Honors 4900 for this requirement. For more information, please begin by chatting with your Honors advisor and UMSL Global.
APPENDIX D.2: INTERNSHIPS FOR INDEPENDENT STUDY

Internship Option
Honors students may choose this option to fulfill 1-6 hours of the Honors Independent Study requirement. They may register for their internship through the Honors College or through their academic department.

To earn academic credit for an internship through Honors, students must register for Honors 4910. They may register for 1 to 6 credit hours after getting approval from the Internship Coordinator or one of the Honors College advisors.

To earn academic credit for an internship through an academic department, students must register for appropriate course number within the department. They will need to obtain special consent from the department.

Requirements
Students will
- Work approximately 50 hours at the internship site for every academic credit hour
- Maintain a daily/weekly journal recording the internship experience
- Write a detailed internship report that describes and reflects on your experience
- Insure that the site supervisor complete, review with the student, and submit to the Honors College the Intern Performance Evaluation Form.

After student and supervisor have submitted these documents, the Honors Internship Coordinator will review them and assign the appropriate grade.

Internship Report Guidelines
This report should
1. Recreate as fully as possible your internship experience for your reader
2. Reflect critically on the value of this learning experience
   (Length will vary. Aim for a minimum of 8-10 pages for three credit hours)

It should contain information on the following:
- The company or organization you worked for and number of hours
- Your site supervisor (name, title, contact info)
- Your internship duties (daily/weekly in detail), role in your unit, and mentoring you received
- The strengths and weaknesses of your internship experience (be specific!)
- Your reflections on the value of this experience within your program of study. Did you feel well prepared for your internship and the duties you were asked to perform? Did you feel sufficiently challenged? Did you receive appropriate guidance to help you learn and develop?
- Your sense of how this experience will affect your future career choices. Did it reinforce your desire to work in this field? Did it teach you that you must change careers?
- Conclusions, recommendations, suggestions

For more information, please contact Kim Baldus, Dan Gerth, or Ed Munn Sanchez.
APPENDIX D.3: INTERN PERFORMANCE EVALUATION

Pierre Laclede Honors College

UMSL

Intern Performance Evaluation

Use this form to evaluate your UMSL internship student according to these guidelines:

1. Please ask a supervisor who has had considerable (preferably day-to-day) contact with the student to complete this evaluation. The more direct the contact, the more valuable the performance evaluation.

2. Please ensure that the supervisor completing the form discusses the evaluation with the student. The internship is a learning experience, and the student needs to know their strengths and weaknesses as an intern. An accurate evaluation helps the student to grow personally and professionally.
