

Celebrating Literacy Leaders

You are invited to a celebration in recognition of your work as a literacy leader and educator

For 8 years, St. Louis Public Schools and the University of Missouri–St. Louis have grown a literacy partnership rooted in community. This is a unique, embedded professional development initiative that prepares cohorts of literacy teachers, coaches, and leaders.

Your dedication to the profession, passion for engaging readers and writers in meaningful, joyful, and evidence-based practices and your contributions to the cohorts and your school communities have made all the difference.

Please join us to celebrate YOU and this remarkable network of literacy educators, leaders, and coaches from across grade levels, positions, and schools in the district. Together, we will network, share wisdom from our practice, and imagine our futurity as literacy leaders making impactful change with our students. Enjoy complimentary beverages and heavy appetizers.
